

METROPOLITAN PHILATELIST. New York, 1890- The second word of the title in the "Supplement to the Catalogue" is misspelt "Philaelist."

MONTHLY ADVERTISER. The monthly advertiser.

Liverpool, Edward Moore and Co., 1862.

8" 8 in. No. 1, December 15th, 1862.

Add to note. Copies of the number were also issued with the title reading "The Stamp Collector's Monthly Advertiser," as on No. 2 of the journal. Both varieties of No. 1 were printed from the same setting-up of the type, all the broken type-letters throughout each of them occupying corresponding positions, and beyond the addition of the words "The Stamp Collectors'" to the title the only slight difference between them consists in the imprint at the foot of the last page—"Liverpool:—Printed by T. S. McGhie & Co., 12 Cable-street"—having shifted a little to the right in the last variety.

This was the first journal entirely devoted to Philately that was published in any country. Much has been written by collectors of philatelic literature concerning this epoch-making publication, but no one has ever mentioned that No. 1 existed with two different titles. It was a great surprise, therefore, when I recently found an example with the form of title the publishers adopted for No. 2. This was in a copy of Vol I of the journal in the cloth binding provided by the publishers.

— The stamp collector's review and monthly advertiser.

Liverpool, Edward Moore and Co., etc., 1863-64.

Add to note. Some copies of the title-page to Vol. I have an error in the imprint at the back, the word "Printers" being misspelt "Prnters." A combined index and notes to the nineteen numbers of the journal was compiled by Mr. William R. Ricketts, F.R.P.S.L., and was published as a supplement to the Collectors Club Philatelist, New York, in April, 1927.

PERFORATOR. Hartford, Conn., etc., 1897-1901. Add to note in the "Supplement to the Catalogue." Vol. II, No. 9, is numbered "Old series, volume XIV, number 6" and there is no No. 5 of that volume of the "old series." Vol. XXIV, No. 1, is found on yellowish paper as well as on white.

PHILATELIC CRITIC. London, 1887-88. Add to note in the "Supplement to the Catalogue." No. 1 is wrongly dated "April, 1886," instead of "April, 1887," but the wrapper has the correct date.

PHILATELIC ERA. Portland, Me., 1889-94. Add to note. Vol. VII, Nos. 1-9, are numbered Vol. VI, but the wrappers are numbered correctly.

PHILATELIC INTER-OCEAN. Watertown, Ia., 1899-1907. Add to note. Vol. V, No. 2, is numbered "No. 1" in error. Nos. 62-90 have the word "The" preceding the title.

PHILATELIC REVIEW. Huddersfield, Yorks., 1890. The first word of the title in the "Catalogue" is misspelt "Phlatelic."

PHILATELIQUE ORIENTAL. Carfax, 1905. Add to note. The word "La" before the title should read "Le."

POSTA MONDIALE. Livorno, 1873-74. Add to note. No. 1, dated July, 1873, was not published until August 1st, hence No. 2 was dated September. No. 4 has the heading inverted.
