The board reconsidered the claim of Henry Berthelot, (No. 665,) which was postponed on the 4th December, 1809.

And thereupon it doth appear to the commissioners that the claimant is not entitled to the said tract of land; and that therefore his claim be rejected.

No. 737. JOSEPH DESCHATELET.—The board took into consideration the claim of Joseph Deschatelet to a tract of land, situate at Plaisance, and the notice filed by Antoine Guy in his behalf, on the 23d December, 1808, was read in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Register of the Land Office at Detroit.

DETROIT, December 23, 1808.

SIR: Take notice that I claim title to a tract of land, situate at Plaisance, near River Raisins, containing five acres in front, more or less, by about twenty-five in depth, bounded in front by La Grande Coulée, and in rear by l'Isle aux Féliers, on one side by Pierre Fournier, and on the other side by Lake Erie. I claim by virtue of possession, occupancy, and improvements made by me or those from whom I derive title.

For JOSEPH DESCHATELET,

ANTOINE GUY, his x mark.

Witness, PETER AUDRAIN.

This tract contains, and is bounded as in the above notice.

Whereupon, Pierre Bourdeaux was brought forward as a witness in behalf of the claimant, who, being duly sworn, deposed and said, that, on the 1st July, 1796, this tract was in possession of a person whose name he doth not recollect, and who sold, as the deponent was informed, to Baptiste Leduc, from whom the claimant has purchased, and who has lived on the premises these seven years, and has cultivated the same: about two or three arpents are under cultivation, and a dwelling-house is erected thereon.—Postponed.

And then the board adjourned to Monday next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon.

The board met at nine o'clock in the forenoon, pursuant to adjournment.

No. 738. JAMES MAY, Esq.—The board took into consideration the claim of James May, esq. to a tract of land, situate on the River Aux Ecorces, which was entered with the former commissioners of the land office at Detroit, in vol. 2, page 97, under the date of 19th February, 1805.

This tract contains three hundred and sixty acres, it being six acres in front by sixty in depth, bounded in front by the rear of the farms of Baptiste Rousson, Louis Bourrasa, and Joseph Bondi, and in rear by unconceded lands. This tract was formerly part of the said three farms sold by said James May to said Rousson, Bourrasa, and Bondi.—See Nos. 62, 46, and 65.

The claimant, in support of his claim, exhibited three deeds, which were read in the words and figures following, to wit:

DETROIT:

Par devant François Desruisseaux Bellecour, notaire au Detroit, y résidant, et témoins soussignés, furent présents les Sieurs Amable St. Cosme, Jean Baptiste Pitre, comme ayant épousé feue Demoiselle Marie St. Cosme, faisant et agissant pour ses enfants mineurs; Antoine Beaubien, tuteur, et pour Pierre Dejean, fils de feue Demoiselle Theatiste St. Cosme, et le notaire soussigné, représentant et faisant aussi pour Charles Courtois, absent de cette province, lesquels et aux dits noms reconnoissent par ces présentes avoir vendu, cédé, quitté, transporté, et délaissé, dès maintenant et à toujours, au Sieur James May, demeurant en cette ville, à ce présent et acceptant acquéreur, pour lui, ses hoirs, et ayant cause à l'avenir, tous les droits successifs mobiliers et immobiliers, fruits, et revenus d'iceux, droits, noms, raisons, actions, rescindants et rescisoires, à eux appartenants, qui leur sont échés par les décès de feu Pierre St. Cosme et de Dame Catherine Barois St. Cosme, leur père et mère, en quelques lieux et endroits que les dits biens et droits successifs se trouvent dus et situés, en quoyqu'ils puissent consister, sans aucune reserve, encore qu'ils ne soient ici particulièrement exprimés ny déclarés; voulant les dits vendeurs que le dit acquéreur, ses dits hoirs, et ayant cause à l'avenir, jouisse et dispose de tout ce qu'il pourra retirer et recevoir de leurs dits droits successifs, comme de choses à lui appartenantes, au moyen des dites présentes, promettant pour eux et aux dits noms ne jamais inquerer le dit acquéreur dans la paisible possession et jouissance des dits biens et revenus d'iceux.

Cette vente, cession, transport, et délaissement, ainsi fait pour et moyennant la somme de quatre-vingt pounds, cours de la Nouvelle York, pour les quatre présents vendeurs, dont chacun d'eux reconnoit en son particulier avoir reçu vingt pounds pour sa part, disant être content et satisfait, en tenant quitte et déchargé le dit acquéreur, qui s'oblige d'acquiescer toutes les dettes qui pourraient être demandées par qui que ce soit aux dits vendeurs à cause des dites successions. Et au moyen de ce, et aux conditions susdites, les dits vendeurs et aux dits noms ont en outre transporté et transportent au dit acquéreur, ses dits hoirs, et ayant cause à l'avenir, tous et tels droits de propriété, fonds, noms, raisons, actions, seizure, possession, et autres choses généralement quelconques, qu'ils avaient et pouvoient prétendre sur les dits droits successifs, dont ils se sont par ces présentes dessaisis, pour et au profit du dit Sieur James May, qui fera à ses fraix les poursuites nécessaires pour le recouvrement des dits biens. Car ainsi sont convenues les parties de bonne foy, promettant, &c. obligant, &c. renonçant, &c. Fait et passé au dit Detroit, en l'étude du dit notaire, le 18ème jour de Février, 1796, avant midi; et ont les parties signé, ou fait leurs marques ordinaires, et scellé à la minute, apres lecture faite, suivant l'ordonnance.

DETROIT:

Par devant François Desruisseaux Bellecour, notaire au Detroit, y résidant, et témoin soussigné, fut présent de Sieur Dominique Ste. Cosme, lequel reconnoit par ces présentes avoir de son bon gré, et sans aucune contrainte, vendu, cédé, quitté, transporté, et délaissé, dès maintenant et à toujours, au Sieur James May, demeurant en cette ville, à ce présent et acceptant acquéreur, pour lui, ses hoirs, et ayant cause à l'avenir, tous les droits successifs, mobiliers et immobiliers, fruits et revenus d'iceux, droits, noms, raisons, et actions, rescindants et rescissoires à lui appartenants, et qui lui sont échus par les décès de feu Sieur et Dame Ste. Cosme, ses père et mère, en quelques lieux et endroits que les dits biens et droits successifs se trouvent d'us et situés, en quoy qu'ils puissent consister, sans aucune reserve, encore qu'ils ne soient ici particulièrement exprimés ni déclarés (excepté les droits du dit Dominique St. Cosme sur l'isle aux Daindes, et sur une terre qui avait été vendu à Antoine Robert, à la rivière aux Ecorces, qu'il se reserve, pour en avoir sa part suivant ses droits;) voulant le dit vendeur que le dit sieur acquereur, ses dits hoirs, et ayant cause à l'avenir, jouisse et dispose de tout ce qu'il pourra retirer et recevoir des dits droits successifs, comme de choses à lui appartenantes, au moyen des dites présentes. En outre, le dit Dominique St. Cosme cède et abandonne pour toujours au dit James May tout ce qui lui est du par Pierre Michel Campeau, de la ditte rivière aux Ecorces, par une obligation en date du 17 Oct. 1787, laquelle il a remis au dit acquereur, pour en faire son profit; promettant le dit Dominique St. Cosme ne jamais inquiéter le dit James May dans la paisible possession et jouissance des dits biens et revenus d'iceux.

Cette vente, cession, transport, et délaissement, ainsy fait pour et moyennant le prix et somme de deux cent pounds cours de la Nouvelle York, que le dit acquereur promet et s'oblige de payer au dit vendeur, comme suit, savoir: soixante-six pounds, treize shillings, et quatre pence, à mesure qu'il en aura besoin, d'ici au 1er d'Aout de l'année 1797; la meme somme l'année suivante, et la dernière somme de soixante-six pounds, trize shillings, et quatre pence, pour dernier et parfait payement, aussi à mesure qu'il aura besoin du second terme, au 1er d'Aout de l'an 1799, et d'acquitter toutes les dettes qui pourraient être demandées au dit vendeur, à cause et concernant les dites successions. Et au moyen de ce, et aux conditions susdittes, le dit Dominique St. Cosme a transporté et transporté au dit James May, ses dits hoirs, et ayant cause à l'avenir, tous et tels droits de propriété, fonds, noms, raisons, actions, seizine, possession, et autres choses généralement quelconques, qu'il avait et pouvait prétendre sur les dits droits successifs par héritage, donaison, legs, ou autrement, dont il s'est par ces présentes déssaisi, pour et au profit du dit James May, qui fera à ses fraix les poursuites nécessaires pour le recouvrement des dits biens, excepté pour l'isle aux Daindes et la terre du dit Robert, comme il est dit cy-devant. Car ainsy sont convenues les parties de bonne foy, promettant, &c. obligeant, &c. Fait et passé au dit Detroit, paroisse de St. Antoine, en l'étude du dit notaire, le 30 jour de Juillet l'an 1796, et ont signé et scellé, après lecture faite suivant l'ordonnance.

F. D. BELLECOUR, Not. Pub.

L'an 1797, le 4 May, fut présent Amable St. Cosme, lequel a reconnu avoir vendu, cédé, transporté, et délaissé, dès à présent et à toujours, à Jacques May, écuyer, à cet acceptant, pour lui, ses hoirs, et ayant cause à l'avenir, une terre de quatre arpents de front à la rivière aux Ecorces, et cent arpents de profondeur, bornée à l'est par Joseph Bondi, fils, et à l'ouest par Joseph Bondi, père; tel que la ditte terre de quatre arpents se poursuit et comporte, sans par le dit vendeur en rien excepter, reserver, ni retenir, et dont le dit acquereur se tient content et satisfait. Cette vente, cession, transport, et délaissement, ainsy fait pour et moyennant la somme de deux mille livres, argent du pays, égale à la somme de trois cent trente-trois dollars et un tiers, monnoye légale des Etats Unis, que le dit vendeur reconnoit avoir reçue, et dont il est content et satisfait. Au moyen de quoy, le dit vendeur a transporté au dit acquereur tous et tels droits de propriété, noms, raisons, actions, qu'il pouvait avoir et prétendre sur la ditte terre, dont il se déssaisit et dévet en faveur du dit acquereur, ses hoirs, et ayant cause, pour lui faire jour comme de chose à lui appartenante, voulant et entendant que le dit acquereur en demeure saisi, et mis en bonne possession et seizine, ainsy et par qu'il appartiendra en vertu des présentes. Et pour l'exécution des présentes, les parties ont élu leurs domiciles au Detroit, et entendent que le présent acte soit enregistré au greffe du comté de Wayne, ou partout où besoin sera. Fait et passé au Detroit le jour et an que-dessus, et les parties ont signé et scellé les présentes.

AMABLE St. COSME, sa + marque. [L. s.]

En présence de PETER AUDRAIN.

Personally came before me, Nathan Williams, esq., one of the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas, Amable St. Cosme, who acknowledged the foregoing to be his deed and act, and that, as such, it may be recorded. In testimony whereof, I have hereto subscribed my name, at Detroit, the 4th May, 1797.

NATHAN WILLIAMS, J. C. C. P. W. C.

The claimant relies on the testimony given respecting the claims of Jean Baptiste Rousson, (No. 62;) of Louis Bourassa, (No. 46;) and Joseph Bondi, (No. 65)—this claim being the back of the three tracts claimed by them.

And thereupon it doth appear to the commissioners that the claimant is not entitled to the said tract of land; and that, therefore, this claim be rejected.

And then the board adjourned to Monday next, at nine in the forenoon.

MONDAY, February 25, 1811.

The board met at nine in the forenoon, pursuant to adjournment; and, there being no business, adjourned to Thursday next, at nine in the forenoon.

THURSDAY, February 28, 1811.

The board met at nine in the forenoon, pursuant to adjournment.

The board reconsidered the claim of Gabriel Godfroy, (No. 727,) which was postponed on the 24th December last.

And thereupon it doth appear to the commissioners that the claimant is entitled to the said tract of land, and that he have a certificate thereof, which certificate shall be No. 727; and that he cause the same to be surveyed, and a plot of the survey, with the quantity of land therein contained, to be returned to the register of the land office at Detroit.

The board reconsidered the claim of the legal heirs of Jacques Godfroy, (No. 728,) which was postponed on the 24th December last.

And thereupon it doth appear to the commissioners that the claimants are entitled to the said tract of land, and that they have a certificate thereof, which certificate shall be No. 728; and that they cause the same to be surveyed, and a plot of the survey, with the quantity of land therein contained, to be returned to the register of the land office at Detroit.

The board reconsidered the claim of Gabriel Godfroy, (No. 729,) which was postponed on the 24th December last.

The claimant, in support of his claim, exhibited a deed, which was read in the words and figures following, to wit:

TERRITOIRE DE MICHIGAN, District du Detroit, ss.

Par devant moy, George McDougall, notaire public pour le district cy-dessus, dûment commissionné et sermenté selon la loi, et témoins soussignés, fut présent Madame Marianne Campeau, veuve de feu Alexis Bienvenu, dit Delille; laquelle dame a reconnu, et par ces présentes reconnoit avoir vendu, cédé, transporté, et délaissé, dès maintenant et à toujours, promet faire jouir et garantir de tous troubles, dons, douaires, dettes, hypothèques, évictions, aliénations, substitutions, et de tout empêchement généralement quelconque, aux Sieurs Gabriel Godfroy, père, et Jean Batiste Beaugrand, négociants, dans le dit territoire de Michigan, à ce présents acceptants acquereurs, pour eux, leurs hoirs, et ayant cause à l'avenir, un emplacement situé sur la terre à présent occupée par la ditte dame, veuve Delille, vendeuse, dans le côté au sud-ouest de la ville du Detroit, et surnommé le côté des Poutoutamis, contenant cent quatre-vingt-douze pieds de largeur, sur trois cent dix pieds de profondeur, plus ou moins, s'ils se trouve, tenant le dit emplacement d'un côté, sud-ouest, à la terre du dit acquereur, et de l'autre côté, au nord-est, au reste de la terre appartenante à la susdite dame vendeuse, à prendre aussi le dit emplacement sur le bord de la rivière Detroit, et borné sur le derrière par une clôture de pieux de bout actuellement existante; laquelle partage son verger d'avec le dit emplacement, tel et ainsy que le dit emplacement se poursuit et comporte de toutes parts, circonstances, et dépendances, avec les bâtimens susconstruits, clôtures, &c. que les dits acquereurs disent bien savoir et connoître, et dont ils sont contents et satisfaites.

Cette vente, cession, transport, et délaissement, ainsy fait pour et moyennant la somme de trente-six pounds treize shillings et six pence, cours de la Nouvelle York, égale à quatre-vingt-onze piastres ou dollars, et huit centièmes et trois quarts, monnoye légale des Etats Unis, que la ditte dame vendeuse reconnoit avoir reçu comptant des dits acquéreurs, lors et avant la passation des présentes, et dont elle les tient quitte, et les décharge, ainsy que tous autres. Au moyen de quoy, la ditte vendeuse a de ce moment transporté, et par ces présentes transportent aux dits acquéreurs, leurs hoirs, et ayant cause à l'avenir, tous et tels droits de propriété, noms, raisons, et actions, et tous autres droits qu'elle a et pouvait avoir sur le dit emplacement, s'en démettant et déssaisissant à leur profit; voulant et entendant qu'ils en soient mis et demeurent en bonne et suffisante possession et seizine, par qui et ainsy qu'il appartiendra en vertu des présentes. Fait et passé au Detroit, dans le susdit district du Detroit, et territoire de Michigan, le 31 jour de Juillet, de l'an de notre Seigneur mil huit cent six; et la ditte dame veuve vendeuse ayant déclaré ne savoir signer, a faite sa marque ordinaire, et a scellé en présence de témoins, après lecture faite.

2d Session.

LAND CLAIMS IN THE DISTRICT OF VINCENNES.

COMMUNICATED TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES JANUARY 3, 1807.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, January 3, 1807.

SIR: I have the honor to enclose a supplementary report of the commissioners appointed to investigate the claim to land in the district of Vincennes.

In this they have inserted nearly the whole of their former report, with the addition of the situation of the several tracts of land, so far as the same has been ascertained, and have introduced some new matter, which seems to consist of the following points:

1st. They have confirmed two claims for four hundred acres each, which had not, at the date of their first report, been supported by sufficient evidence.

2d. They have positively rejected a number of claims which were, in their former report, stated as entered, but unsupported by any evidence whatever. In these cases, the evidence adduced is now transmitted.

3d. The act of 1791 had authorized the Governors to decide on certain claims. The third section of the act of March 26, 1804, and the fifth section of the act of March 3, 1805, virtually declare that persons having claims of that description should forfeit the same, unless they were entered with the register and submitted to the commissioners. The commissioners have thought themselves bound, unless there was a suspicion of fraud by the decision of the Governors, and have confirmed all the claims approved by said Governors, which have been entered with the Register. A number of perfectly similar claims have, from various causes, not been thus entered and submitted to the Board. The commissioners have in this supplementary report given a list of all the claims not entered with them, which can be ascertained from the territorial records to have been ratified by the Governors; for it appears very doubtful, from an examination of the act of 1791, whether Congress had a right to pronounce a forfeiture in relation to that description of claims, in case the claimants did not perform a certain subsequent act.

4th. Some additional papers respecting Judge Vanderburgh's claim are added to this report; and a representation, together with some documents transmitted by that gentleman to the treasury, are also enclosed.

I have the honor to be, respectfully, sir,

Your obedient servant,

ALBERT GALLATIN.

Hon. Mr. BOYLE, Chairman of the Land Committee.

COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE, VINCENNES,

November 27, 1806.

SIR: We have the honor of transmitting you a supplement to our report of the 25th of March, 1806.*

The paper entitled supplement to document A and C, is a duplicate of the same to which we have annexed the situation of each tract, already surveyed under the authority of the Governors.

As to the claims designated therein as unsurveyed, some are specific, and the description of the spot granted is annexed to each of them: the others, which are without specification of place, remain yet to be located, and have obtained here the denomination of floating rights. To the same are also added certain corrections therein specified.

As the donation tracts are all laid out in a body, of which a map has been transmitted to you, we have thought it superfluous to make out a new list. We must, however, notice an error which seems to have taken place in transcribing the donation list. There is but one donation tract granted to one Gabriel Custon, now claimed by William Bullett. Those names we find erroneously inserted in the above mentioned document a second time.

The paper entitled supplement to document D, is a duplicate of confirmations made by the commissioners, wherein we state the situation of each tract granted upon a claim of improvement, and whether the land confirmed has been already appropriated or not. Additions have also been made thereto, as therein specified.

The paper entitled supplement to document E, contains certain rejections made since our report of March 25, 1806.

The paper entitled supplement to No. 1 of document H, contains a further illustration of the case of Henry Vanderburgh, esq.

A number of claims appear in our returns, as confirmed by the Governors, but not entered in the Register's office by the persons to whom they belong. Upon which we will beg leave to observe, that a considerable time elapsed before the act of Congress of March, 1804, as far as it related to land claims in this territory, was fairly understood; that an opinion generally prevailed, that grants or confirmations made by the Governors, under the authority of law, did not require any further step on the part of the grantees to be valid.

That the absence of some, the under age or absolute ignorance of others, did not permit them to conform to the requisitions of the said act. Under the impression that these circumstances plead strongly in behalf of persons so situated, and that Congress may have a full knowledge of the extent of the grants made by the different Governors in this district, we have, as far as we were able to ascertain from the territorial records, returned every grant thus made, with the addition of the words not entered, where a notice of the claim has not been filed in the Register's office.

We have the honor to be, respectfully, sir,

Your most obedient servants,

JOHN BADOLLET,

NATHANIEL EWING.

In our former list of confirmed improvement rights; (document A.) is to be found the quantity of three hundred and six acres confirmed to Pierre Perron, with the name of Toussaint Dubois as present claimant. That appears to have been a mistake in transcribing. We have, therefore, in this supplementary list, omitted the same, and rectified the mistake in our own books.

There appears in the same document, a grant of one hundred and thirty-six acres to Francis Vigo, in right of Louis Bergeron: in the territorial records Jean Baptiste Chartier appears to be the original claimant, and Louis Bergeron must have been only an intermediate assignee. We have also in this list made the necessary correction.

The name of Louis Delaurier is wanting in our former list as grantee of one hundred and thirty-six acres in the prairie of the Horse shoe swamp. He has neglected entering notice of his claim; but we found the grant in the records of the territory. We have added his name to the present list, noting, as we have formerly done, that the claim has not been entered.

To the class of improvement rights we have added, as above, the confirmation of the claim of the heirs of Nancy Levins, rejected before (document E) for want of sufficient proof.

We have also added to the class of donations to the heads of families, the claim of John Harbin and Henry Vanderburgh, Esq. in right of Joseph Hamelin, Jun. which we have confirmed to the heirs of the said Joseph Hamelin; John Harbin and Henry Vanderburgh having produced no evidence of transfer.

This case had been before rejected, (see document H, No. 2.)

SUPPLEMENT TO DOCUMENT E.

STACE McDONOUGH, ASSIGNEE OF ANTHONY FORNEY.—The board this day resumed the consideration of the claim of Stace McDonough, assignee, &c., rejected before for want of evidence, (see document E, accompanying their former report.) This claim was for four hundred acres, in right of improvement alleged to have been made by a certain Anthony Forney, on Patoka creek, in the winter of 1789 and 1790. In support of the aforesaid claim, the deposition of Solomon Thorn, taken before Pierre Menard and George Fisher, of Kaskaskias, Randolph county, has been exhibited, (recorded book A, page 327) stating that deponent, in the winter 1789 and 1790, saw at the slaty ford of Patoka creek, on the trace from Vincennes to Red Banks, an improvement, consisting of a cabin, wherein said Anthony Forney then lived, and a small field cleared of about half or three quarters of an acre; and that deponent in the summer following, saw the said field planted in corn, which was then in a flourishing condition. That Forney lived in Vincennes and neighborhood about eight or nine years, and then went away. It being known to one of the members of this Board, then in this country, that Anthony Forney was, in the year 1791, a boatman in the contractor's employ, and that the danger from the Indians was at that period such that it is hardly probable that any man would venture to make a settlement twenty miles from Vincennes, (the real distance of the slaty ford) and could remain there unmolested. This circumstance gave rise to a strong suspicion of the truth of the statement made by said Solomon Thorn.

With a view to throw some light on the subject, the commissioners summoned Colonel John Small, who, being duly sworn, made the following deposition:

As to the improvement alluded to in the forementioned deposition, I have no knowledge of, neither do I think there was any such as stated by Thorn at that early date. My reasons for making this statement is, from the hostile disposition of the Indians at that period. At that time said Thorn was an apprentice of mine; about which time I took occasion to send him, in company with others, to Patoka, on a hunting party; at which time they took an alarm of being about to be attacked by the Indians at their camp. The apprehension of danger was so great, that they decamped so precipitately as to leave a horse of mine near the camp, (this, I believe, was in the month of August,) which horse I never got till December following, at which time I went in company with Thorn in quest of him, into the neighborhood of Potoka. At which time I found the whole country, as far as I went, in a wild uncultivated state, not a vestige of improvement, neither do I recollect of ever having heard of any in that quarter at that date. Thorn at that time was about from the age of fifteen to eighteen years, and those two forementioned trips all the opportunity he had of visiting that quarter about that time. As to Forney's residence at Vincennes I have no knowledge of, further than I believe he had the superintendence of a boat for the contractor about that time, and frequented Vincennes occasionally. Thorn served me about the forementioned period five years; I myself have resided in this country ever since the year 1785.

JOHN SMALL,

From the circumstances stated in the above deposition, and the result of the commissioners' inquiries of the ancient inhabitants of this place, who never knew of any such man residing here, further than is stated by John Small, and from the improbability of any man venturing so far from Vincennes, and remaining for such a space of time unmolested, the commissioners feel themselves under a strong impression that Solomon Thorn's deposition is untrue, and cannot deem themselves justifiable in confirming the present claim; they do, therefore, reject it.

STACE McDONOUGH, ASSIGNEE OF THOMAS HILL.—A claim for four hundred acres in right of improvement, stated to have been made by Thomas Hill at the Beech Bottom, (see document E.) The deposition of the same Solomon Thorn, taken before the abovenamed Pierre Menard and George Fisher, states that said Thomas Hill, in the winter of 1789 and 1790, made an improvement and cultivation at Beech Bottom, one mile above Anthony Forney's, similar in every respect to said Forney's, and that Hill remained in the country till deponent's departure from Vincennes, which was about four years afterwards. Solomon Thorn's deposition in this case does not appear to be entitled to more credit than in the former. Except in Thomas Hill's not appearing to have been a boatman, every circumstance inducing suspicions in the former case obtrudes itself to the mind here, and the commissioners, under such an impression, cannot confirm this claim; they, therefore, reject it.

RICHARD SINNET AND PATRICK CARMICHAEL.—Each claim one hundred and thirty-six acres, in right of improvement, opposite the old fort of Vincennes, rejected before for want of evidence, (see document F accompanying their former report.)

The following depositions, taken before Joseph Morgan and Jesse Hale, Esquires, of Mercer county, Kentucky, appointed for that purpose by the commissioners, were exhibited, viz:

The deposition of William Hall, in support of the claim of Patrick Carmichael and Richard Sinnet.

The deposition of Thomas Wilson, in support of the same.

The deposition of Richard Sinnet, in support of the claim of Patrick Carmichael.

The first two depositions agree in stating that Patrick Carmichael and Richard Sennet were soldiers under General Clark; went to Vincennes with him in the year 1779; that they applied to the Court for a grant of land; that the same was granted to each of them to the amount, as William Hall says, of one hundred and sixty arpents, opposite the fort; that they cut timber thereon, and sawed planks for the use of the garrison, and made some brush heaps; that they could not raise corn there for the Indians. William Hall states that they were obliged to move over the river, within the French limits, to raise corn; and Thomas Wilson, that he understood they had raised corn elsewhere.

Richard Sennet, in support of Patrick Carmichael's claim, states nearly the same circumstances.

Here appears neither improvement nor cultivation, nor does it appear that the claimants were ever residents in the country. The above claims are, therefore, rejected.

ROBERT REYNOLDS, ASSIGNEE OF JOHN AND MATTHEW GARLAND, MOSES AND ADAM ORTH.—Claims of four hundred acres, by virtue of improvements, in right of each of the several persons above mentioned. In support of these four claims were exhibited the depositions of Solomon and Daniel Thorn, stating the improvements and cultivation of John and Matthew Garland, Adam and Moses Orth, taken before George Fisher, of Kaskaskias, appointed by the commissioners to take depositions in the county of Randolph.

The said claims were rejected as founded on spurious testimony; by reference to the rejected cases, (document E.) may be seen the reasons which induced the commissioners' decision.

They remain in the same opinion, still more convinced than ever that the deponent's statements are untrue. In justification of their perseverance in that opinion, they will observe, that the same Daniel Thorn who swore before the commissioners that the former depositions signed by his brother Solomon and himself were false, that he never knew either of the above original claimants, comes again as an evidence in the same cases, and has made oath before George Fisher to establish the same facts he denied to have any knowledge of before.

They will observe, also, that none of the depositions taken before the said George Fisher, and exhibited to the commissioners, are signed by either Solomon or Daniel Thorn; they, therefore, reject them.

On the 17th day of November, 1806, the board went into the reconsideration of the claim of James Gilbreath for four hundred acres of land, by virtue of improvement, as assignee of James Strong. This claim had been rejected for want of sufficient evidence, (see document E of rejected claims accompanying their former report.)

In support of the said claim were exhibited the depositions of Solomon and Daniel Thorn, taken before George Fisher, Esquire, of Kaskaskias, authorized by the commissioners for that purpose, stating the building of a cabin in the year 1787, fencing about one acre of ground, the planting and cultivating corn thereon for two years. The land is situate on Mehl's run, on waters of river Des Chis, and the residence of said Strong in the country till the year 1792.

By reference to the document mentioned above, it will be seen, that, though the former and present depositions agree in stating improvements and cultivation, yet they differ materially respecting the continuance of Strong in this country. That variation in the depositions of Daniel Thorn would be sufficient to invalidate his testimony; but Solomon and Daniel Thorn's veracity appears very doubtful in the case of James Reynolds and Stace McDonough, rejected above: the commissioners viewing them both, but especially Daniel, as not entitled to credit, reject the present claims.

On the 18th day of November took into consideration the claim of Jean Baptiste L'Esperance for a militia donation, which was rejected for want of evidence.

As the commissioners had established as a rule to admit as conducive testimony no deposition filed and recorded in the register's office before their sittings began, except the deponent was dead, or such deposition operated against the claimant, and to have every witness examined before them, or, if at a distance, before persons by them appointed, they see themselves under the necessity of taking notice of this claim which had in their former report been improperly classed amongst those rejected for want of evidence.

Jean Baptiste L'Esperance had filed the deposition of Pierre Bonneau and Louis Boyer, stating that claimant had lived in Vincennes from the year 1782 to the year 1786, and performed militia duty during the said period.

This case does not come under the act of Congress of 1791; the claim is therefore rejected.

SUPPLEMENT TO No. 1 OF DOCUMENT H.

With a view to invalidate the statement of the commissioners, respecting the identity of the Cote à Beauchêne and the Big Hill, (Grande Cote) Henry Vanderburgh, Esq. brought forward Pierre Querre, alias Latulippe, who, being sworn, made the following statement:

That he knew Mrs. Cornoyer's father, his name was Racine, called Beauchêne; he is not sure what his Christian name was, but that he believed it to be Francois; that he knows that when the bans of matrimony were published between Mrs. Cornoyer, his only daughter, and her husband, Pierre Cornoyer, now deceased, she was therein called Angelique, the daughter of Francois Racine; that the hill now in or near the donation on the Fort Apparent old road, and about three miles eastward of Vincennes, has always been called the Big Hill; and that he, said Racine, dit Beauchêne, made a house there and cultivated some land thereon; that deponent himself gathered melons therefrom in Racine's lifetime, who died in 1764; that he can now show the spot, or very near to it; that the hill called Beauchêne's Cote is situate to the northeast of Vincennes, near the Wabash, about a league back of Snapp's mill; that Beauchêne's Cote is a bigger hill than the one called the Big Hill; that the Big Hill and Cote à Beauchêne bear nearly north and south, about a league apart from each other, and are entirely different spots; that the said Racine, dit Beauchêne, when he took up the Cote à Beauchêne, rented the Grande Cote tract; that both were merely sugar camps, excepting the cultivation above mentioned; that he knew Jean Baptiste Racine, called St. Marie, who was late commandant at this place; that he never was called Beauchêne, but was cousin-german of Racine, called Beauchêne.

Here it is to be observed, that the above deponent had said before, in the commissioners' office, that Grande Cote and Cote a Beauchene were the same hill, but requested not to be brought as an evidence for some prudential reasons which he then mentioned, but which are not now perfectly recollected.

That, notwithstanding the above deposition, the Cote a Beauchene and Big Hill, (Grande Côte) are the same place, as the following extract from the orders of survey of Winthrop Sargent, then acting as Governor, book C, page 25, and the subjoined depositions, will fully demonstrate.

"Robert Buntin claims four hundred acres on the Big Hill, about three miles to the northeast of Vincennes, on the road leading to the Lick, by purchase from Jacques Cardinal. By the oath of Esquire Edeline, it is proved that Jacques Cardinal had permission to take up this land; and that, in 1782 and 1791, there were upon it twenty acres under good cultivation, to be satisfied by four hundred arpents."

Instead of a reference to our former report, (document H, No. 1.) we insert here the order of survey granted to Angelique Racine, quoted therein and marked G.

"Angelique Racine four arpents by forty at the Big Hill, granted and allotted to her father, François Racine, upwards of thirty years ago, about three miles eastward of Vincennes."

It must be observed here, that the interference of the grant made to Robert Buntin at the Big Hill, in right of Jacques Cardinal, with the one made at the same place to Angelique Racine, in right of her father, François Racine, and the last being partly included within the lines of the donation, prevented, as will be seen hereafter, the surveying of her claim, which to this day has remained unsurveyed.

Deposition of John Small.

"I recollect having been called upon by Mrs. Cornoyer, I think four years since, as surveyor, to lay off a tract of land granted to the heirs of François Racine by the Governor. I accordingly went to the place appointed, which, as I have understood, has formerly been known by the name of Côte à Beauchène; Mr. Pierre Querré, dit Latulippe, being called upon, and then present, to point out and make known the improvement, in consequence of which the grant was made. I did not proceed to make the survey: the reasons why not are these: In the first place, the place pointed out by Latulippe was within the lines of the old donation tract, No. 24, then held and occupied by Jeremiah Claypole; and, secondly, Robert Buntin, Esq. and Joseph Baird both protested against the surveys being made, insinuating that such a survey as was then and there required would eventually run through lands of theirs that were legally granted and regularly surveyed, and returned some time previous to that period. Upon which reasons I declined making the survey. The forementioned spot of land alluded to within lies near the Chemin Laglaize, or Lick road, so called, about three and four miles from Vincennes, on the west side of Mill creek.

"JOHN SMALL."

Robert Buntin's deposition.

"Some time in the year 1802, I was called upon by Mrs. Cornoyer to survey a tract of land of four arpents by forty, situate on the Big Hill, granted to Angelique Racine, in right of her father, François Racine. As this tract was said to interfere with a piece of land which I purchased from Jacques Cardinal, I declined acting as surveyor, and gave a copy of the order of survey to John Small, who had then been appointed surveyor by Governor Harrison, and accompanied him, together with the claimant, Toussaint Dubois, Joseph Baird, and Pierre Querré, dit Latulippe. Mr. Baird went with an intention of preventing the survey to be made, as he expected it would interfere with a tract of land claimed by him; and Querré went to show the precise spot where the improvement of the said François Racine was made. On our arrival at the place showed by Querré, (which is about three miles northeast of Vincennes,) it was found to be within the tract laid off and surveyed for donations to the heads of families at Vincennes; in consequence of which the survey was not made.

"ROBERT BUNTIN."

Deposition of Toussaint Dubois.

"I was with Robert Buntin, John Small, Joseph Baird, Mrs. Cornoyer, and Pierre Querré, dit Latulippe, at the time stated by Mr. Buntin, and saw the place pointed out by said Querré as the spot called for in the grant made to the father of Mrs. Cornoyer; it was on the Grande Côte, (Big Hill) called the Cote a Beauchene

"DUBOIS."

Thus it appears that Mrs. Cornoyer, formerly Angelique Racine, herself, and her witness, Pierre Querré, dit Latulippe, when they went to show the place called for in the grant made to her, and the improvement made thereon, at the Big Hill, (Grande Côte) showed indeed a Big Hill, but which was also called the Cote a Beauchene.

As to the deposition of Pierre Querré, (inserted above) the circumstance of his showing for the Big Hill the Cote a Beauchene, and now swearing that they are two distinct places, evinces the perversion of his morals, or derangement of his understanding, and effectually destroys the credibility of his testimony.

The commissioners deem it superfluous to make any further comment on this business, and adhere to the opinion expressed in their former report.

VINCENNES, November 21, 1806.

SIR: I do myself the honor of enclosing to you, by the Honorable Benjamin Parke, a statement of the matter in dispute between the Commissioners of the land office for the district of Vincennes and myself, respecting the one hundred and thirty-six acres of land, which they say ought to be vacated, together with sundry depositions and certificates, which I hope will remove from your mind any unfavorable impression which the report was calculated to produce, and at the same time to request that this statement, with all the other documents herewith enclosed, may accompany the report of the commissioners, when it is laid before the Committee of Congress.

I have the honor to be, with sentiments of respect and regard, sir, &c.

HENRY VANDERBURGH.

The Hon. ALBERT GALLATIN,

Secretary of the Treasury of the United States.

GENTLEMEN: I beg leave to trespass a few moments on your patience, and to address you on a subject, which to me is of the most interesting nature. With all the confidence which arises from conscious innocence, and with a firm reliance on your justice and impartiality, I will proceed to make my statement.

In the year 1797, Winthrop Sargent, then acting as Governor of the territory, authorized James Johnson, François Vigo, Robert Buntin, and myself, as a Board of Commissioners to take in the inhabitants' claims to land, to examine the evidence produced in support of them, and make a report thereof to him, which was accordingly done. In taking down these claims, which were very numerous, a considerable time was consumed; most of them were given in under French names, many of whom had nick or war names, by which they were better known than by their real names; and the board understanding very little French, except Col. Vigo, who could not write, it seems, from the testimony herewith transmitted, as well as from Judge Johnson's certificate, one of the board, that the commissioners committed the trival error of putting down, by mistake, the name of a certain person called Racine, more commonly known by the nick-name of Beauchène, under a wrong Christian name; they entered him by the name of Jean Baptiste Beauchène, whereas it ought to have been François Racine, called Beauchène. In consequence of this trival error, and of a similar one which took place in the secretary's office in obtaining a certificate, which will hereafter appear, Nathaniel Ewing and John Badollet, commissioners of the land office for the district of Vincennes, in a very extraordinary and unjustifiable report by them made out and forwarded to the Secretary of the Treasury on this subject, have, in a most shameful manner, and in open violation of every principle of justice and right, impeached my character, slandered my reputation, and decided my cause, not only without a hearing, but without my having any sort of knowledge whatever of their proceeding. During the whole time they were engaged in this scheme, they found means to conduct it in such a manner as to conceal it effectually from my knowledge until the 2d day of September last, upwards of six months after it had been made out and transmitted to the Secretary of the Treasury, when it was disclosed to me by Henry Hurst, clerk to the General Court, in a very confidential manner, at whose house the commissioners lived during the whole time they were engaged in this oppressive act. To ensure success to a scheme on which they had set their hearts, Nathaniel Ewing, one of the commissioners, set out from this place in March last, for the city of Washington, charged with this report. Whether it was for the purpose of getting it before Congress previous to its coming to my knowledge or not, is not for me to say; but so is the fact, that it was made out and carried from the country without my knowing any thing of it.

I was never called upon by the commissioners, or by any person on their behalf, to produce testimony, which might have done away the doubts and difficulties which they allege existed. Nor was I ever present or had any knowledge of the evidence they examined on the subject, though they appear to have had it a long time under consideration, during the whole of which I lived within fifty steps of their quarters. The claim being one which had been confirmed by the Governor of the territory, the regular authorized agent of the United States, nine years ago, and had been surveyed and actually settled upon eight years since, and is now under cultivation, as appears by Pierre Querré's testimony, No. 1, I therefore had no idea that claims of this description were to be again agitated, and undergo a second confirmation by the commissioners after such a lapse of time; and when it was known, too, that all three of the witnesses, by whose testimony the claim was established in 1797, were dead.

So soon as this very extraordinary transaction came to my knowledge, I waited forthwith on the commissioners, and asked them whether they would receive testimony, which would explain away the difficulties they had stated in their report unknown to me. They told me they would hear testimony, but that the report which they had sent on to the Secretary of the Treasury, they were determined, whatever testimony I might offer, should not be altered. I then asked them whether they would transmit the testimony to the seat of Government; they said they would: upon which I brought Pierre Querré before them, whom they examined in part only, as will appear by No. 1, and gave me a copy of his testimony, which I herewith transmit (No. 2.) By looking into the deposition of the said Querré, taken before Justice Wallace, it will appear that the commissioners refused, in the most peremptory manner to ask, or permit me to ask, such questions of the said Querré, when upon his oath before them, as I conceived essential to justice and truth; and this undeniable right, unaccountable as it may appear, was, in a very positive and peremptory manner, refused by the said commissioners, when acting in their official capacity, under the authority of a law of the United States, without assigning any reason whatever for this unprecedented decision, except by Mr. Ewing, who appeared to be peculiarly tenacious, and, if my recollection serves me right, mentioned that he thought it would be admitting parol testimony to contradict a record, which they had already made out and sent forward to the Secretary of the Treasury. Here I forbear to inquire into the motives of the commissioners for refusing this constitutional right, by which they deprived me effectually of affording them such information as must have removed from any reasonable mind those doubts and difficulties which they say exist.

Seeing the temper and the manifest intention of the commissioners, and that they were determined that I should not be permitted to ask such questions as I thought essential to the matter in dispute, I resolved, under these circumstances, not to go to the office with any further testimony, but to take it in the manner herewith certified. The law, under which they were solemnly sworn to act, requires of them to examine and decide upon the land claims of the people of this country according to the rules of justice and equity. How far their conduct in my case comports with these principles is for the honorable committee to decide, and not me. In looking over the report, I observe they called before them, unknown to me, François Racine, son of the late commandant, who is forty-eight years old, to give evidence in a transaction that happened in the lifetime of Mr. Beauchene, who has been dead, as proved before the commissioners themselves, forty-two years, so that the witness, from his tender age, cannot possibly know any thing about François Racine, called Beauchène, or the land which he may have claimed in the country.

The witness is stated, in the report, to have said that the hill above A. Snapp's mill was called a Grande Cote, and Cote a Beauchene, and was one and the same place; whereas, he has been heard to say since that he told the commissioners the hill above A. Snapp's mill was a

Grande Cote, and was called the Cote a Beauchene: in putting down his testimony, this mistake might very easily have been made. (No. 3.)

With respect to the malicious and unfounded accusation of my having obtained a certificate surreptitiously from the secretary's office, I can only lament that men advanced to high office should be capable of such injustice and oppression; they have not a shadow of proof before them to authorize censure, much less a criminal charge of so high a nature. General Gibson's certificate is perfectly true: he certifies that the error which was committed was done through a mistake, but he does not explain in what that mistake consisted, which was nothing more than the mere writing Jean Baptiste, instead of François. This was done, too, at a late hour of the night, when the time for giving in the claims under the law had nearly expired. I gave in nearly forty of my own, and a much greater number for others, mostly French names, many of whom had nick-names; and that such a simple and trivial error should bring down such a heavy censure against a citizen, and a high officer of this Government, appears to me, though I may be a bad judge in my own case, to carry with it more acrimony than a fair and impartial view of the circumstance will authorize. Another accusation, equally malicious and unfounded, waged against me is, that of my having united the Christian name of old Mr. St. Marie, whose surname was Racine, with Beauchene, in order to procure one hundred and sixty arpents, equal to one hundred and thirty-six acres of land, from the United States, fraudulently. Here I am at a loss to express what I feel towards the authors of this unjust and oppressive attack. This is merely a surmise of their own ill-designing hearts, unsupported by any sort of testimony whatever. I shall, therefore, say nothing more in reply to it.

I think I shall stand justified when I say that the commissioners, in their report, have endeavoured as much as lay in their power, to darken and perplex the question in dispute, and to render it as complicated as possible; they very artfully mention that I wrote for the commissioners in the year 1797; and because I wrote for the commissioners in 1797, by the request of all of them, as appears from Judge Johnson's certificate, (No. 4,) and because there appears to have been a misnomer committed by that Board in writing Jean Baptiste instead of François, (the error which occasions the whole dispute,) this, in the opinion of the commissioners, is conclusive evidence of fraud and corruption on my part, but not on the part of any of my colleagues. Here let me ask, in the name of common sense, what is there in all this which fixes any criminality on me, or which indicates, on my part, any disposition to defraud the United States of this one hundred and thirty-six acres of land, to which I never had any claim until the day on which I entered my claims in the commissioner's office, when I bargained with Angelique Racine, at her earnest request for it, and gave her in exchange one hundred and sixty arpents of land, equally valuable, although the commissioners labor hard in their report to impress an idea that it cost me nothing, but that I had obtained it fraudulently: at the same time, they knew of the exchange. Mr. Jones, who served as clerk to the commissioners, was the attorney whom I employed to draw the deed of exchange between Angelique Racine and Desnoyer, her present husband, and myself, for this land; and, in furnishing him with the names of the parties, I made the same error, which I never discovered until to-day, and called Beauchène Jean Baptiste, instead of François; a stronger evidence cannot possibly exist of my innocence, and that the whole transaction proceeded from a mere mistake.

It will clearly appear, from an accurate examination of the Governor's record, by which this land was granted, that the commissioners were so little acquainted with it, and understood the case so imperfectly, that the tract which they say in their report ought to be vacated is the very tract granted to Angelique Racine, in right of her father, François Racine at the Big Hill, where the said François Racine made the improvement, which was proved on the oaths of Pierre Cartier, Jean Baptiste Potvan, and Ducouttee, before the commissioners, in the year 1797, (No. 5;) and, in support of their testimony, Pierre Querré proves, before the present commissioners on the 19th of September last, at the time they refused me the right of asking such questions of the witness as I thought essential, that he, the said François Racine, called Beauchène, occupied the land at the Big Hill upwards of forty years ago. That he had a house and an actual cultivation there. That he afterwards took up the land at the hill called Cote a Beauchene, and rented out the tract at the Big Hill. That they are three miles apart, and are separate and distinct tracts. The one at the Big Hill lies east of the village, and the other northeast; and that he, the said Racine, called Beauchène, was the father of Angelique, his only child and heir, under whom I claim (No. 2.) This witness, who is one of the most respectable Frenchmen in the country, and upon whose testimony alone the commissioners have granted a great deal of land, as will appear by looking into their proceedings, is, nevertheless, supported by two other respectable and disinterested witnesses, Joseph Chartier, and Josette Entire, who prove nearly the same thing (Nos. 6 and 7). It will appear, by examining the record No. 5, that the surveyor, who had the Governor's order to survey both tracts, must have made a mistake, and marked Beauchène on the plot made out, and returned of the tract at the Big Hill, which, most decidedly, is the one granted to Angelique Racine, in right of her father, François Racine, as expressed on the record itself, and where she, the said Angelique, settled with her family in the year 1793, one year after the land was confirmed and granted by the Governor, as appears by No. 1. This mistake of the surveyor occasioned the commissioners, in their report, to say that the first order of survey, marked G, has not been executed: but the fact is otherwise; it has been executed, and the land settled on for eight years. The commissioners have thought proper, in a very insidious manner, to introduce into their report my marriage with the daughter of Angelique Racine, for the insidious purpose, no doubt, of heightening suspicion and establishing inferences unfavorable to my character. How far this ungentlemanly conduct ought to be commended, I leave to the honorable committee to decide; my confidence in the justice and discernment of this honorable body forbids me to apprehend that it can be successful. They also say, with a view of making the same unfavorable impressions, that I could not be supposed ignorant of the name of my wife's grandfather, (on the female side they must mean,) who had been dead nearly thirty years before I became acquainted with the family. In reply to this insidious surmise, (for it is no more,) I can most solemnly declare that I never knew his real name until the present dispute, although it must have been presented to the board in '97, of which I was a member, but I had totally forgotten it, as must clearly and unequivocally appear by the mistake which I made, as stated by Mr. Jones's certificate, (No. 8.) The claimant having stated to the commissioners, in the year 1797, that Beauchène died in the country, and never owned any other land, must, I suppose, in the opinion of the Governor, have alluded to the two tracts, both of which amounting to no more than two hundred and seventy-two English acres, and which was the usual quantity given to a man of a family under the French Government. The Governor, however, under the law of Congress of the 3d of March, 1791, is authorized to give as far as four hundred acres for a cultivation.

But these claims, I presume, were considered by him as belonging to a different class. They were such as had been confirmed by treaty, as well as by the State of Virginia, in her act of cession to the United States, wherein she reserves to the inhabitants of this country all their "possessions and titles;" and the resolution of Congress of 29th August, 1788, makes the same provision. I should, therefore, suppose, after seeing the testimony, that the Governor considered them as old claims, arising under the French Government, prior to the treaty of Paris of 1763, the quantity tallying with what was usually allotted by the French commandant to a married man, and as such confirmed and granted them.

I will now bring my observations to a close: and I think I may fairly say, that it is demonstrated by indisputable testimony that the Big Hill and Côte à Beauchène are two separate and distinct places, lying three miles apart, one on the Fort Apparent road, three miles east of Vincennes, and the other five miles northeast of the same place; and that they are not one and the same place as stated by the commissioners. It is also clearly and undeniably proved, on the solemn oaths of three respectable and disinterested witnesses, Querré, Chartier, and Entire, who were all intimately acquainted with François Racine called Beauchène, that he occupied both places upwards of forty years ago. That there never was any other person in this country called Beauchène but himself, and that Angelique Racine is his only child and heir. I therefore flatter myself that there is neither uncertainty nor doubt as to the facts, and it may reasonably be concluded, that François Racine called Beauchène, having been entered by the name of Jean Baptiste instead of François, proceeded from a mistake, and it must be admitted that such a mistake might have been made very innocently. If any doubt can yet remain on the minds of the honorable committee with regard to this dispute, it must be entirely removed by reading the certificate of Judge Johnson, one of the most respectable and independent men in the territory, who has been nearly sixteen years on the bench of the Common Pleas, most of the time as presiding Judge, and who says that the two claims were considered by the board of Commissioners in 1797, of which he was a member himself, as two separate and distinct claims, calling for two separate and distinct spots of ground, and as belonging to the same person, viz. the father of Angelique Racine.

Before I close, permit me to ask whether any virtuous mind can, for a moment, conceive that a man in my situation, whose prospects, to be sure, are not very great, but whose circumstances are far from being clouded, who has been thirty years out of forty-seven in public employ, served during the whole of the Revolutionary struggle, and who is married and has a numerous family of children, could be so lost, abandoned, and depraved, as to practise the vile, the base, and criminal plan pointed out in the report of the commissioners, to procure one hundred and thirty-six acres of land from the United States, not for himself, but for his mother-in-law, who had then, and has now, eight children, all of whom, under the laws of this territory, would come in for an equal share of this accession of wealth with his own wife, and which land he does most solemnly declare, by all his hopes of happiness hereafter, might have been purchased for less than fifty dollars after it had been confirmed by the Governor.

I must now beg the honorable committee's pardon for occupying so much of their time on this question, and of soliciting their forgiveness of all the errors and indiscretions which this statement may be found to contain; at the same time, to express to them the unbounded confidence I feel in their justice and impartiality.

Permit me here to add, the commissioners take this ground, that, as there never was a person in the country called Jean Baptiste Beauchène, fraud was intended; and have reported against the claim.

It is admitted that there never was such a person, and the contrary never was contended for by me; but I always contended, and do now, that the two tracts were granted and confirmed to the father of Angelique Racine; and I have adduced sufficient proof to establish it beyond a doubt, and that the insertion of Jean Baptiste instead of François was an inadvertence of the board in 1797.

Suppose he had been entered by the name François Beauchène; in that case there could have been no sort of difficulty, for it is demonstrated, and the commissioners admit it as a fact, that he was more generally known by the name of Beauchène than Racine. The error of writing his name Jean Baptiste instead of François is, surely, neither in law or equity, sufficient to destroy a claim so well supported in every other respect.

Had the commissioners, at the time they received from General Gibson the letter spread on their report, acquainted me with the perplexity in which they say the case is involved, a measure observed by them to others in doubtful points, such explanations would have taken place as must have removed all their suspicions. This omission, together with other circumstances of a personal nature, afforded strong grounds to believe that it was a premeditated scheme to injure me.

What evinces sufficiently that I had no intention to defraud the Government of the land, and my innocence in the transaction, is, that to draw the deed of exchange between my mother-in-law and me, about seven years after the two tracts had been confirmed to her, I furnished the conveyancer with the name of a person, viz. Jean Baptiste Racine, to whom no land had been granted, as will appear by a reference to the record No. 5, as well as Mr. Jones's certificate, No. 8; and, consequently, that I was a very innocent purchaser, contrary to the assertions of the commissioners stated in their report; and, therefore, hope that the ultimate decision will be in favor of the claim and fairness of my conduct, which, in this case, was not otherwise influenced than that of the other members of the board; for the claimant appeared in person, and supported her claims like other applicants, as appears by No. 4.

I have the honor to be, with sentiments of the highest consideration and respect,

Your most obedient humble servant,

HENRY VANDERBURGH.

INDIANA TERRITORY, Knox County:

The deposition of Pierre Querré, called Latulippe, taken before me, the subscriber, one of the Justices of the Peace in and for the county aforesaid, this 25th day of October, 1806. The said deponent, being duly sworn, deposes and saith, that, on the 19th of September last, he was called upon by Judge Vanderburgh to go before the commissioners of the land office to give evidence respecting two tracts of land, of one hundred and sixty arpents each, claimed under a grant made by Winthrop Sargent, acting as Governor, in the year 1797, to Angelique Racine, as heir to her father, François Racine, more commonly known by the name of Beauchêne; the other to the heirs of Jean Baptiste Beauchêne; that the said Judge Vanderburgh desired the commissioners to ask me, on my oath, whether I had ever known or heard of any other person in this country being called Beauchêne than the said François Racine, and whether he was not the ancestor of Angelique, his only daughter and heir; when the commissioners peremptorily refused to ask the question, or suffer it to be asked by the Judge. And this deponent further saith, that the said François Racine was more known by the nick-name of Beauchêne than by Racine, and that he never knew or heard of any other person in this country being called Beauchêne; that he was the ancestor of Angelique, his only child and heir, and that he was the same person who occupied the land at the place called Côte de Beauchêne, as well as at the Big Hill on the Fort Apparent road. And this deponent further saith, that the Côte de Beauchêne is at least five miles to the northeast of the village of Vincennes, being three miles back of Abraham Snapp's mill, which is two miles from town. This deponent further saith, that he believes the tract three miles to the east of the village was surveyed in the year 1798, by Robert Bunter, Esq. one year after the grant was made by the Governor; and in the same year Angelique Racine, with all her family, moved on the said tract, where she built a house and barn, and continued to live on it with her family until the year 1803, when she rented it out; and the tract has been under cultivation ever since. The deponent, being asked his age, says he is sixty-nine years old.

KNOX COUNTY, ss.

I, James Johnson, presiding Judge of the court of common pleas of the county aforesaid, do certify that I have been well acquainted with Pierre Querré, the witness, for more than twenty years, during part of which time he has filled the office of major of the militia, and that he has always supported a good character as an honest man and a good citizen.

Given under my hand at Vincennes, this 27th of October, 1806.

JAMES JOHNSON.

SEPTEMBER 19, 1806.

Pierre Querré, on his oath, saith, that he knew Mrs. Cornoyer's father; his name was Racine, called Beauchêne; is not sure what was his christian name, but believes it was François, and he knows that Mrs. Cornoyer his only daughter, when the bans of matrimony were published between her and her after husband, Peter Cornoyer, was therein called Angelique, the daughter of François Racine; that the hill now in or near the donation tract, on the Fort Apparent road, and about three miles eastward of Vincennes, has always been called the Big Hill; and that the said Racine, called Beauchêne, made a house and cultivated some land thereon; that deponent himself gathered melons therefrom in Racine's lifetime, who died in 1764; that he can now show the spot, or very near to it; that the Hill called Beauchêne's Côte is situated to the northeast of Vincennes near the Wabash, about a league back of Snapp's mill; that Beauchêne's Côte is a bigger hill than the one called the Big Hill; that the Big Hill and Côte à Beauchêne bear nearly north and south, and are about a league apart from each other, and are entirely different spots; that the said Racine, called Beauchêne, when he took up the Côte à Beauchêne, rented the Grande Côte tract; that both of them were merely sugar camps, excepting the cultivation above mentioned; that he knew Jean Baptiste Racine, called St. Marie, who was late commandant at this place; that he was never called Beauchêne, but was cousin german of the said Racine, called Beauchêne.

A copy from the records.

JOHN R. JONES,

Clerk to the Commissioners of the Land Office at Vincennes District.

I do certify that François Racine, called St. Marie, (son of the late commandant,) who was examined by the Commissioners of the district of Vincennes, on the subject of the real and nick-name of François Racine, called Beauchêne, as well as on the subject of the Côte à Beauchêne, (as appears by and in their report) told me, a few days since, in a conversation which I had with him on those subjects, "that he had informed the commissioners that the hill above A. Snapp's mill (about five miles northeast of Vincennes) was a Grande Côte, and was called Côte à Beauchêne. That he never said, or intended to say, any thing which might prejudice Beauchêne's claim to land at the Big Hill, (on the Fort Apparent road) because he was too young at the death of Beauchêne to know any thing about it.

Given under my hand, at Vincennes, the 3d of November, A. D. 1806.

GEN. W. JOHNSTON.

VINCENNES, November 19, 1806.

I, James Johnson, presiding Judge of the court of common pleas for the county of Knox, and Treasurer of the Indiana territory, do hereby certify, that, some time in the year 1797, Winthrop Sargent, Esq., acting as Governor of the territory, appointed Henry Vanderburgh, François Vigo, Robert Buntin, Esquires, and myself, commissioners to take down the claims to land of the inhabitants of this place, to examine the evidence produced in support of the same, and make a report thereof to him; which was accordingly done. That I well recollect the two claims exhibited to the Board for one hundred and sixty arpents each, by Angelique Racine, who prosecuted the same in proper person; and that Henry Vanderburgh appeared to me to take no more interest in them than the other members of the board, one of which claims called for a situation named the Big Hill, and the other a place called the Côte à Beauchêne. That the board considered them as two distinct and separate claims, supported by very different testimony, as will appear by inspecting the record. That during the time we were engaged in this business, there was not a single claim to land passed the board without the unanimous approbation of the commissioners, which likewise appears by their own certificate annexed to their report made to the Governor. That Henry Vanderburgh, at the request of the commissioners, wrote down the proceedings of the Board. That there was nothing transacted on his part which was not consistent with the rules of justice and propriety. I do further certify that most of the old French inhabitants of this country have nick-names, by which they are more commonly known than by their real names. That François Racine is said by all the old settlers of this country to have been called Beauchêne, which I believe to be true; and that the writing of Jean Baptiste, instead of François, in taking down a multitude of French names, might very reasonably have proceeded from a mistake. And I do further certify, that, shortly after the commissioners delivered their report to Colonel Sargent, I was present at a conversation which passed between him and Judge Vanderburgh, respecting his powers to grant two tracts of land to one person; and that after deliberation, he afterwards confirmed both, on the principle that the quantity did not exceed four hundred acres, which, by law, he was authorised to make. Motives of justice and impartiality induce me to give to Judge Vanderburgh the foregoing certificate.

JAMES JOHNSON.

N. B. Since giving the foregoing certificate, I have been asked whether I understood the two claims mentioned in the said report and certificate belonged to the same person. In answer thereto, I can say that the impression now on my mind is, that they did.

JAMES JOHNSON.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, VINCENNES, November 14, 1806.

Angelique Racine, four arpents by forty, at the Big Hill, which was granted and allotted to her father, François Racine, upwards of thirty years ago. Pierre Cartier and Jean Baptiste Potvan prove the grant, allotment, and cultivation, in which they aided, in company with the said Racine. The land is three miles east of the village of Vincennes. Decotteaux also proves the above.

Governor Sargent says:

"Angelique Racine, four arpents by forty, at the Big Hill, granted and allotted to her father, François Racine upwards of thirty years ago, about three miles east of Vincennes."

The heirs of Jean Baptiste Beauchêne, one of the first settlers of this country, claims one hundred and sixty arpents of land, joining the donation. The land has been called, for more than forty years, Beauchêne's Côte, after the owner's name. This land, from the best information, though not positively proven, seems to have been assigned him by the Government of this place, upwards of forty years ago; the claim, therefore, appears to have gained strength from its great antiquity, and, from this consideration, we are induced to recommend it to your particular attention. Beauchêne died in the country, and never owned any other land.

Governor Sargent says:

"The heirs of Jean Baptiste Beauchêne, one hundred and sixty arpents of land, joining the donation. Survey the same agreeably to old boundaries; it appearing to have been very early with the family."

JN. GIBSON, Secretary Indiana Territory.

INDIANA TERRITORY, ss.

Personally appeared before me, the subscriber, one of the Judges in and over the said territory, Joseph Chartier, an ancient inhabitant of Vincennes, who after being duly sworn on the Holy Evangelists of Almighty God, deposed and saith, that there is a big hill, or côte, situate about three miles east of the village of Vincennes on the road leading to Fort Apparent, and which has always been called the "Grande Côte," or Big Hill, and which lies about three miles from the hill called the Côte à Beauchêne, which is likewise a big hill; at the former of these places François Racine, called Beauchêne, occupied a sugar camp, about forty years ago, and which joined old Mr. Delaurier on one side, and Dequeint on the other. Further, that there never was, to this deponent's knowledge, any other Beauchêne in this country than the one named François Racine, who was the ancestor of Angelique Racine, his daughter and only heir. This deponent further saith, that he could at this day show the place where the said Beauchêne's sugar camp was; being asked his age, this deponent says he is sixty years old. The witness not understanding the English language, General W. Johnston, attorney and counsellor at law, was duly sworn to interpret the foregoing deposition.

WALLER TAYLOR. [L. s.]

After the foregoing deposition was signed, the witness was asked by his honor Judge Taylor, whether François Racine, called Beauchêne, did not likewise occupy the land at the place called the Côte of Beauchêne, who answered, that to his knowledge, he did, after the Big Hill: for the deponent saw Beauchêne's wife aiding in making sugar. The foregoing question was put, and the answer rendered through the same sworn interpreter.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, on the same day the foregoing deposition was taken.

KNOX COUNTY, ss.

I, James Johnson, presiding judge of the court of common pleas of the county aforesaid, do certify that I have been acquainted with Joseph Chartier, the above witness, an ancient inhabitant of this place, for more than twenty years; that he has always conducted himself as a good citizen, and supported an honest character.

Given under my hand at Vincennes, this 27th October, 1806.

INDIANA TERRITORY, Knox county, ss.

The deposition of Josette Entire, an ancient inhabitant of Post Vincennes, taken before me, the subscriber, one of the Justices of the Peace in and for the said county, this 27th day of October, 1806.

The said deponent, being duly sworn, deposed and saith, that she was well acquainted with François Racine, more commonly known by the nickname of Beauchêne, upwards of forty years ago, and she never knew or heard of any other person called Beauchêne in this country than the said Racine, and that he was the ancestor of Angelique Racine, his only child and heir.

And the deponent further saith, that the said François Racine, called Beauchêne, occupied a piece of land upwards of forty years ago, at a place called the Big Hill, on the Fort Apparent road, about three miles to the east of this village, where the deponent has frequently seen him at work; that this hill is about three miles from the hill called Beauchêne's côte, where he also claimed a tract of land, and which is at least five miles to the northeast of this village. The deponent, being asked her age, says she is about fifty-seven years old. The deponent not understanding the English language, the contents of the foregoing deposition was interpreted to her in the French language, previous to her being sworn.

JOSETTE ENTIRE, her x mark.

Sworn, and subscribed before me, at Vincennes, the 27th October, 1806.

GEORGE WALLACE, Jun.; J. P. K. C.

KNOX COUNTY, ss.

I, James Johnson, presiding Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the county aforesaid, do certify that I have been acquainted with Josette Entire, the within witness, and an ancient inhabitant of this country, for more than twenty years, during which time she has always supported a good character.

Given under my hand, at Vincennes, 27th October, 1806.

JAMES JOHNSON.

I certify, that some time towards the latter end of the year 1804, I was requested by Judge Vanderburgh to draw a deed of exchange between him and Louis Denoyon and wife, formerly Angelique Racine; that I did so, and delivered the deed to the Judge. By it Mr. Denoyon and wife, therein described as the only daughter and heir-at-law of Jean Baptiste Racine, called Beauchêne, convey to the Judge one hundred and sixty arpents of land, being the same now in dispute between him and the commissioners of the land office for the district of Vincennes; in exchange for which the Judge conveys to Mr. and Mrs. Denoyon the like quantity of land, part of the donation tract No. 22. That the description of Mrs. Denoyon, as heir to her father, Jean Baptiste, was made according to the instructions given me at the time, which, it now appears, must have been done through mistake, and the same which was made in the original entry in the Governor's book, in 1797.

I further certify, that Mrs. Denoyon frequently informed me, as well before the drawing of the deed as afterwards, prior to any dispute on the subject, that this exchange was agreed to by the Judge, at her repeated solicitations, in order to accommodate her family with a plantation of sugar-trees growing on the tract exchanged for, her land having none on it.

And I further certify that the land given by Judge Vanderburgh is, in my opinion, fully adequate in value to the tract he got in exchange for it.

JOHN RICE JONES.

VINCENNES, November 12, 1806.

VINCENNES, November 27, 1806.

We understand that Judge Vanderburgh has gone into an elaborate vindication of his conduct, with respect to his claim as assignee of Jean Baptiste Beauchêne, in which he no doubt endeavours to invalidate the correctness of our conclusions. With this view he has, as we have been informed, obtained from James Johnson, Esq. one of the commissioners appointed by Winthrop Sargent, to receive land claims in his absence, and report thereon, purporting that he, James Johnson, considered François Racine and Jean Baptiste Beauchêne as the same man. That this was perfectly well known to Mr. Vanderburgh we have no hesitation in believing, and the changing the name of François Racine into that of Jean Baptiste Beauchêne, to create an impression in the mind of the Governor that those two names designated two different persons, forms one of the most exceptionable parts of Mr. Vanderburgh's conduct in this business.

That James Johnson should have understood so at that time may have been the case, though the last line of the entry of the heirs of Beauchêne, (No. 129,) to which we refer you, renders it totally unaccountable, and the character he has to this day maintained will hardly permit us to harbour the idea of his being in the secret. We will not attempt to account for such a palpable inconsistency, but enclose you a copy of the reports of those commissioners to the Governor, from No. 51, inclusive, to the end, on which those two claims, with sundry others therein contained, were afterwards granted. We also send you the certificate of the other two commissioners, showing how they understood them when they recommended them to the Governor.

Mr. Vanderburgh has insinuated that he had no notice of the discovery of his mistakes, as he terms them; we do not know what formal way we might have used, as we had no serjeant-at-arms, but the enclosed certificate of General Gibson will prove that he was sufficiently informed of the circumstance.

We have the honor to be, respectfully,

Your most obedient servants,

JOHN BADOLLET.

NATHANIEL EWING.

ALBERT GALLATIN, Esq.

NOVEMBER 19, 1806.

We the undersigned, being appointed commissioners, in conjunction with James Johnson and Henry Vanderburgh, Esqrs. by Winthrop Sargent, Esq. then acting as Governor of the Northwestern territory, for the purpose of examining and reporting to him such claims to land as we should find just, amongst the claims thus reported by us were the two following:

No. 51. "Angelique Racine four arpents by forty, at the Big Hill, which was granted and allotted to her father, François Racine, upwards of thirty years ago. Pierre Cartier and Jean Baptiste Potwin prove the grant, allotment, and cultivation, in which they aided, in company with the said Racine. The land is three miles east of the village, or thereabouts. Decotteaux also proves the above."

No. 129. The heirs of Jean Baptiste Beauchêne, one of the first settlers of this country, claim one hundred and sixty arpents of land joining the donation. The land has been called for more than forty years Beauchêne's Côte, after the owner's name. This land, from the best information, though not positively proven, seems to have been assigned him by the Government of this place upwards of forty years ago. The claim, therefore, appears to have gained strength from its great antiquity; and, from this consideration, we are induced to recommend it to your particular attention. Beauchêne died in the country, and never owned any other land.

The above two claims we considered as the claims of two distinct persons, and reported them as such to the Governor.

SECRETARY'S OFFICE, VINCENNES, November 19, 1806.

I do certify, that, shortly after the mistake was discovered by the commissioners of the land office, respecting two claims laid before them for land by Henry Vanderburgh, Esq. I informed him that a mistake had been made in his entries; and, to the best of my recollection, I told him it would be necessary for him to go to the commissioners' office to have it rectified: the answer he gave was, that if he was called on he would go, or words to that effect.

APPLICATION FOR AN EXCHANGE OF CERTAIN SCHOOL LANDS IN OHIO.

COMMUNICATED TO THE SENATE JANUARY 15, 1807.

DECEMBER 25, 1806.

Whereas by an act of Congress entitled "An act in addition to, and in modification of, the propositions contained in the act entitled An act to enable the people of the eastern division of the territory northwest of the River Ohio to form a constitution and State Government, and for the admission of such State into the Union, on an equal footing with the original States, and for other purposes, it is provided, that so much of that tract, commonly called the Virginia military reservation, as will amount to one thirty-sixth part of the whole tract, is granted for the use of schools within the same, and to be selected by the Legislature of the State of Ohio out of the unlocated lands in that tract, after the warrants issued from the State of Virginia shall have been satisfied." And whereas it is represented that there will be, after the 22d of March next, upwards of one hundred thousand acres of legal Virginia military warrants unsatisfied, besides nearly half the quantity of resolution warrants, and that the persons holding those warrants do not consider themselves bound by the act of Congress passed the 23d of March, 1804, prohibiting the location of Virginia military warrants between the Scioto and Little Miami rivers, after three years from the passage of said act, there being no limitation mentioned in the act of the Legislature of Virginia granting lands to her officers and soldiers, nor in her reservation, for satisfying those claims when she ceded her territory northwest of the River Ohio to the United States, which may cause much difficulty, litigation, and expense, should the Legislature of this State adopt measures for ascertaining and disposing of said surplus lands, agreeably to the provisions of the above recited act; and, as the quantity of land, after satisfying said warrants, will probably be deficient, and the quality much inferior to any land in the State, the expense of ascertaining and laying off such detached fractions will nearly amount to the value of the surplus land: therefore, Resolved, by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, that our Senators and Representatives in the Congress of the United States be requested to use their exertions to obtain a grant from Congress for a tract of land, equal to the one thirty-sixth part of the land between the Scioto and Little Miami rivers, in any part of the unappropriated lands of the United States within this state, for the use of schools within the Virginia military district, in lieu of the donation heretofore granted by Congress for that purpose; and that the Governor be, and is hereby requested to transmit copies of the foregoing resolution to our Senators and Representatives in Congress.

RECOGNITION OF CERTAIN GRANTS OF LANDS MADE BY VIRGINIA.

COMMUNICATED TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES JANUARY 27, 1807.

Mr. BOYLE, from the Committee on Public Lands, to whom was referred the petition of Thomas Rogers, made the following report:

That two tracts of land, of five thousand acres each, lying on the north side of the Tennessee river, near its confluence with the Ohio, were granted by the State of Virginia, by patents bearing date the 12th of October, 1788, to John Rogers, deceased, under whom the petitioner claims for himself and others. When granted, these lands were within the limits of Virginia, and are now within the limits of Kentucky. Prior to the emanation of the patents, but subsequent to the location and survey of the lands, thus granted, the United States, by a treaty concluded at Hopewell, with the Chickasaw nation of Indians, acknowledged their title to extend to the ridge between the Tennessee and Cumberland rivers, including within the Indian boundary the two tracts above mentioned. The Chickasaws having by a late treaty with the United States relinquished their title to these lands, the petitioner prays that the claimants, under the grantee from the State of Virginia, may be confirmed in their right, or that other lands equal in value may be given to them.

The necessity of this application must have been suggested by an idea that the grants from Virginia were vi-tiated by the treaty of Hopewell. But this idea does not appear to the committee to be correct; they do not conceive that the species of title which is acknowledged by the treaties of the United States to be vested in the Indians, annihilates the sovereignty of the State on their right of soil, in those portions of territory which, within their respective limits, are covered by Indian titles. The right which the Indian derives from nature must, from his vagrant hunting state of society, be confined to the temporary use of the land, except to those of which he is in the actual possession. This, it is believed, is the extent to which the Indian title is acknowledged by the treaties of the United States, while the permanent fee simple is vested in, and remains with, the States, respectively; or, in the United States, where the States have ceded to them.

It is the opinion of the committee that the grants made by the State of Virginia to John Rogers, deceased, vested in him and his heirs the fee simple estate in the land, subject to the incumbrance of the Indian title; and that no act of Congress is necessary to guaranty the right.

Resolved, therefore, That the petitioner have leave to withdraw his petition.

2d SESSION:

LAND CLAIMANTS UNDER A PROCLAMATION OF THE KING OF GREAT BRITAIN OF 1763.

COMMUNICATED TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES FEBRUARY 3, 1807.

Mr. BOYLE, from the Committee on the Public Lands, to whom was referred the petition of sundry officers who served in America during the war between France and Great Britain, made the following report:

That the petitioners, for themselves and others, claim of the United States certain lands, by virtue of a proclamation of the King of Great Britain, issued on the 7th of October, 1763. An authenticated copy of the proclamation has been referred to the committee, by which it appears that the King, to testify his approbation of the conduct and bravery of the officers and soldiers of his armies, and to reward the same, commanded and empowered the Governors of his three new colonies, and all other Governors of the several provinces of the continent of North America, to grant, without fee or reward, to such reduced officers as had served in North America during the then late war, and to such private soldiers as had been, or thereafter should be, disbanded in America, and were then actually residing there, and should personally apply for the same, the several quantities of land specified in the said proclamation, subject, at the expiration of ten years, to the same quit-rents as other lands are subject to in the province within which they are granted; as also subject to the same conditions of cultivation and improvement.

It further appears, as stated by the petitioners, that a number of officers of the Pennsylvania battalion met at Lancaster, in Pennsylvania, in the year 1773; and, in order to avail themselves of the provisions of the proclamation, deputed the late General Thompson to locate, in one of the royal governments, the quantities of land to which they conceived themselves entitled by the proclamation.

It appears by an original document in possession of the committee, that, on the 16th of December, 1773, an order was made by the Governor and council of Virginia, permitting officers and soldiers to locate their lands wheresoever they should think proper, so as not to interfere with legal surveys or actual settlements.

The committee cannot determine whether this order was considered as extending to all officers and soldiers entitled under the said proclamation, or only to such as had served in the Virginia line. The general terms in which the order is expressed would seem to warrant the former construction; but, from a report made by a committee of the Virginia Legislature, in the year 1783, it appears that application was made to the Governor and council of Virginia, in 1774, by the agent of these associated officers, for leave and permission to survey and lay off the portions of land which they were respectively entitled to under the proclamation of 1763. That the Governor and council were of opinion that the claim of the said officers was well founded, and a commission was thereupon granted by the masters of William and Mary college, to Captain William Thompson, appointing him either a principal or deputy-surveyor for the purpose of making the said surveys within Virginia. The said Thompson, being duly authorized, proceeded to make the surveys, and, as stated by the petitioners, did actually make and complete them on Salt Lick river, then in Virginia, now in Kentucky. The committee, without suggesting a doubt as to the surveys being actually made, will only remark, that the only evidence of the fact produced to them is a plot said to be a copy from the original, (which has been lost) on which is designated the several sections allotted to the respective officers; and such survey seems to be recognized by the report to the Virginia Legislature above referred to.

It is further stated by the petitioners, and also appears by the report already referred to, that the said William Thompson, when he had completed a draft of the surveys, and made the necessary arrangements with the associated officers for the completion of the titles, proceeded, in the year 1775, to the office in Virginia, for the purpose of returning the said surveys, and having them duly accepted; but, as a previous condition to their acceptance, it was required of him that he should take an oath of allegiance to the King of Great Britain, which, as a patriot, from principles of attachment to his country, he refused to take, and, consequently, the surveys were not accepted, and the patents were not issued.

Captain Thompson and a number of the said officers joined the American armies, and the claims of the said officers were not further prosecuted till after the return of peace in the year 1783.

By an act of the Legislature of Virginia, passed in the year 1779, it is provided, that "no claim within this commonwealth for military services, founded on the King of Great Britain's proclamation, shall hereafter be allowed, except a warrant for the same shall have been obtained from the Governor of Virginia, during the former Government, or where such services were performed by an inhabitant of Virginia, or in some regiment or corps actually raised within the same; in either of which cases, the claimant making due proof in any court of record, and producing a certificate thereof to the Register of the Land Office, within the term of twelve months."

It appears that the said officers made application to the Legislature of Virginia, in the year 1763, by their agent, Dr. John Morgan, for redress.

Their memorial and petition was referred to a committee, who reported a resolution adverse to their claims; which report is said to have been agreed to by the house.

The committee have detailed the principal facts that have come to their knowledge, relative to the claims of these officers; which statement of facts they believe is materially correct.

They now proceed to the consideration of the merits of the claims as made against the United States.

The committee would think themselves warranted in recommending to the House, "That leave be given the petitioners to withdraw their petition," on the ground that they have failed to produce sufficient evidence that any of the persons for whom they claim come fairly within the provisions of the proclamation; but, under the impression that possibly such evidence may be obtained, they have thought it their duty to examine the subject on the general principle.

The committee do not consider the King's proclamation as a grant, but only as a conditional promise to grant lands to these officers and soldiers on more favorable terms than those on which the crown lands were generally offered; such of these officers and soldiers as did not avail themselves of that promise and of those favorable terms, while the property proposed to be granted rested in the crown, cannot, after the property has passed to another sovereignty, legally plead the promise of the former for a grant from the latter. If a contrary principle should be established, the several States, and the United States, now vested with the property of lands formerly belonging to the King of Great Britain, would be under obligations to dispose of it on the same terms as formerly offered under the colonial Government, at least to those who were inhabitants of the colonies.

Had those claimants applied for their lands within a reasonable time after the proclamation issued, it is evident no obstacle would have lain in the way of the completion of their titles. It appears that many who were entitled, under the proclamation, never did apply for their lands; that others did after a lapse of ten years: this extraordinary neglect and delay, whilst it appears to have been the sole cause of their eventually failing to obtain their grants, must be wholly ascribable to themselves, and that circumstance must have a direct bearing on any equitable considerations that may be urged in their favor.

In regard to that class of claimants who deputed General Thompson, and for whom regular location and surveys were made, under an order of the Governor and council of Virginia, your committee are of opinion that the location and survey fixed the claim, and identified the lands claimed by the persons for whom they were made; and as no part of the lands so located and surveyed is now, or ever was, the property of the United States, and as the inability of the claimants to perfect their titles to such lands did not result from any act of the General Government, the committee are unable to discover any principle, either legal or equitable, on which redress can be claimed of the United States. If an inceptive title to the lands so located and surveyed had at all vested, it must, if at all, be perfected to those identical lands; if such title never did vest, the claimants are thrown back to the situation of those who never did apply; and, with them, are precluded from a compensation in lands from the United States, by the terms of the several acts of cession of the individual States, and by the general principles and practice of the Federal Government.

The General Government has been considered, and the committee believe correctly, as a new sovereignty, erected by a confederacy of States; its powers and property were not derived from the King of Great Britain; and, not being successor to him in the property he lost in America, cannot be liable to the payment of his debts, to perfect his gratuitous offers, or be under obligations to fulfil his promises. The faith of the General Government is not pledged for satisfying demands which have originated previous to its own existence; it is only bound for the payment of debts created by its authority, and debts incurred in the common defence by individual States, which may have been assumed by the United States.

The proceeds of the public lands are solemnly pledged as a fund for the payment of the public debts, not only by act of Congress, but by compacts entered into with the individual states who have made cessions of territory. The several deeds of cession, though differing in form, do all specially provide for the claims and classes of claims which shall be satisfied in lands, and then explicitly stipulate that the residue of the lands "shall be considered as a common fund for the use and benefit of the United States of America," and "shall be faithfully and bona fide disposed of for that purpose, and for no other use or purpose whatsoever." Congress, by accepting the cessions on these terms, become specially bound as to the application of the proceeds, and are not at liberty to divert the fund from the uses to which it has been solemnly pledged.

From the view the committee have taken of the subject, they are of opinion that the claimants, under the proclamation of 1763, have no claim on the United States. They, therefore, respectfully submit the following resolution:

Resolved, That the prayer of the petitioners ought not to be granted.

APPLICATION TO CONFIRM AN INDIAN GRANT.

COMMUNICATED TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES FEBRUARY 17, 1807.

Mr. JEREMIAH MORROW, from the Committee on the Public Lands, to whom was referred the petition of George Ash, made the following report:

It appears that the petitioner was made a prisoner by the Indians in the early part of his life, and remained with them until the treaty of Greenville; that the Indians had promised to give him a tract of land of four square miles, on the west side of the Ohio, opposite the mouth of Kentucky river, and for which tract they have since given him a conveyance in regular form; that he has settled and made improvements on the said land, and prays that Congress will confirm to him the Indian grant.

It appears the Delawares and Shawanees claimed to be the proprietors of the land in which the petitioner's grant is included. The conveyance is signed by seven Indians, styling themselves chiefs of the Delaware and Shawanee nations, and was made subsequent to the treaty of Greenville, to which those nations were parties. By that treaty, the Indians have strictly bound themselves not to dispose of or sell their lands, or any part of them, to any but the United States.

The grant having been made contrary to law and the express provision of the treaty, is, of course void. The committee cannot recommend a confirmation of the grant; they believe it might encourage intriguing and unprincipled men in serious abuses, and in future be a source of much evil: but, from the peculiar circumstances of the case, the petitioner having been deprived of his liberty in early life, and, consequently, of an opportunity of acquiring property by his industry; and that the principal part of his labour, since he has been restored to liberty, has been employed in making improvements on the land, probably under an idea that the Indian grant vested him with a title, they think that he is in justice entitled to a preference in purchasing the land on which he has settled. They, therefore, submit the following resolution:

Resolved, That George Ash be entitled to a right of pre-emption for six hundred and forty acres of land, including his improvement, and the same shall be granted to him on his payment of the purchase money, agreeably to the provisions made by law for lands sold at private sale.

CLAIM OF THE UNITED STATES TO LANDS IN TENNESSEE.

COMMUNICATED TO THE SENATE FEBRUARY 17, 1807.

Mr. BRADLEY, from the committee appointed to inquire whether any, and if any, what further proceeding is necessary to carry into effect the provisions of an act, entitled "An act to authorize the State of Tennessee to issue grants and perfect titles to certain lands therein described, and to settle the claims to the vacant and unappropriated lands within the same," reported:

That, in the absence of the Honorable Joseph Anderson, one of the Senators from the State of Tennessee, who has not attended Congress during the present session, the committee proceeded to examine the act of the State of Tennessee, entitled "An act to appoint agents to settle the dispute existing between this State and the United States, relative to the vacant and unappropriated lands within this State, and to procure the relinquishment of the claim of the United States to the same," passed November 14th, 1801; and find that, in and by said act, the State of Tennessee did authorize their Senators and Representatives, or their successors, or a majority of them, to procure from the United States a relinquishment of their claim to the lands in the State of Tennessee, in such manner, and upon such terms, as to the said agents might seem proper; and, being fully satisfied that the powers vested in the Senators and Representatives from the State of Tennessee, signers of the hereinafter recited instrument, are ample and sufficient to carry into effect, on the part of the State of Tennessee, the provisions of the aforesaid act of Congress, the committee have received from them the following instrument, signed and sealed by them respectively, to wit:

"Be it remembered, that we, the undersigned, Senators and Representatives in the Congress of the United States, from the State of Tennessee, do hereby make known, that, in pursuance of the power in us vested, by an act of the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee, entitled "An act to appoint agents to settle the dispute between this State and the United States, relative to the vacant and unappropriated lands within this State, and to procure the relinquishment of the claim of the United States to the same;" and by a resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Tennessee, passed in the year one thousand eight hundred and two, as instructions therein; we do, in consideration of the provisions made in the act of Congress, entitled "An act to authorize the State of Tennessee to issue grants and perfect titles to certain lands therein described, and to settle the claims to the vacant and unappropriated lands within the same," for and in behalf of the state of Tennessee, agree and declare, that all right, title, and claim, which the State of Tennessee hath to the lands lying west and south of the following line, to wit: beginning at the place where the eastern or main branch of Elk river shall intersect the southern boundary line of the State of Tennessee; from thence, running due north, until said line shall intersect the northern or main branch of Duck river; thence down the waters of Duck river, to the military boundary line, as established by the seventh section of the act of North Carolina, entitled "An act for the relief of the officers and soldiers of the continental line, and for other purposes," passed in the year one thousand seven hundred and eighty-three; thence with the military boundary line, west, to the place where it intersects the Tennessee river; thence down the waters of the Tennessee river, to the place where the same intersects the northern boundary line of the State of Tennessee, shall hereafter forever cease; and the lands aforesaid lying south and west of the line aforesaid, within the limits of the State of Tennessee, shall be and remain at the sole and entire disposition of the United States, and shall be exempted from every disposition or tax made by order, or under the authority of, the State of Tennessee, while the same shall remain the property of the United States, and for the term of five years after the same shall be sold.

In testimony whereof, we have hereunto signed our names, and affixed our seals.

Done at the city of Washington, this twenty-third day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seven.

REFUGEES FROM CANADA AND NOVA SCOTIA.

COMMUNICATED TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES DECEMBER 22, 1807.

Mr. THOMAS, from the committee to whom were referred two reports of the Secretary of War, the Secretary and Comptroller of the Treasury, commissioners under the act of Congress, passed the 7th April, 1798, entitled "An act for the relief of the refugees from the British provinces of Canada and Nova Scotia," made the following report:

That, when the American people formed the intention of throwing off their allegiance to the King of Great Britain, and to establish an independent Government, they contemplated including those of the provinces of Canada and Nova Scotia, as well as those of the other States; and, with this view, endeavoured to unite the people of those provinces in the common cause. No doubt from a persuasion that the whole would stand or fall together, a number of the inhabitants of these provinces, which were, for the most part of the Revolutionary war, in the possession of the enemy, abandoned their homes, fled to the other States, and joined their efforts with the friends of the Revolution.

That, when peace was concluded in 1783, and the independence of these States acknowledged by Great Britain, these provinces were not included, but left under the power of the British King, and, consequently, the property of all such as had taken a part against him in the war was of course confiscated.

That Congress, from a just sense of the distressed situation of those who had emigrated from those provinces to join the standard of American freedom, and thereby had provoked the vengeance of their King, did, by a resolution, the same year peace was concluded, pledge the faith of the nation to remunerate, by a grant of land, these people for their losses and sufferings.

That nothing further, however, was done respecting it, under the old Confederated Government, nor until 1798, when an act was passed setting apart a tract of land for the purpose of compensating those sufferers, prescribing the mode in which proof of their services, sacrifices and sufferings should be exhibited, and appointing the Secretary of War, the Secretary and Comptroller of the Treasury, commissioners to examine those claims and report on the same to congress; allowing to those of the first class a quantity not exceeding one thousand acres; and, to the last class, a quantity not exceeding one hundred; making such intermediate classes as the resolutions aforesaid, and distributive justice, might, in their judgment, require, and that, in case any such claimant should have sustained such losses and sufferings, or performed such services for the United States, that he could not justly be classed in any one general class, a separate report should be made of his circumstances, together with the quantity of land that ought to be allowed him, having reference to the foregoing rates. The period for exhibiting such claims was, by this act, limited to two years; but, by another act of March 6, 1804, the first mentioned act was revived, and continued in force for two years.

Under these acts, the said commissioners have made the two reports in question; one in favor of the following persons, to wit: the widow of the late General Moses Hazen, one thousand six hundred acres; Elijah Ayre, senior, one thousand acres; Elijah Ayre, junior, three hundred and twenty acres; and Anthony Burk, two hundred and fifty acres; all of which are included in one general report. The other report in favor of two others, to wit: Chloe Shannon, the wife of James Noble Shannon, and relict of Obadiah Ayre, deceased, one thousand two hundred and eighty acres; and to James Rue-land, nine hundred and sixty acres, also in one general report, without, in either of the two reports, any specification of the particular circumstances attending the two cases, in which the claimants are allowed more than one thousand acres each.

Upon a view of these facts, the committee doubt whether it will be consistent with the provisions of the said act, or a due exercise of that discretion which seems thereby to have been reserved to Congress, under a view of the special circumstances of the case, when spread before them by a special report of the commissioners, to allow to any one claimant a larger quantity than one thousand acres, when no such special report has been made in his favor.

Being, however, of opinion that the aforesaid report furnished sufficient evidence that the two persons to whom more than one thousand acres are allowed are fairly entitled to at least one thousand acres each, being the greatest quantity which the commissioners could allow to any one claimant in such general report, the committee, therefore, submit a bill, conformably to that opinion, and confirming the grants to the other claimants, agreeably to the said reports.

QUANTITY AND QUALITY OF PUBLIC LANDS IN THE ORLEANS TERRITORY.

COMMUNICATED TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES JANUARY 23, 1808.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, January 23, 1808.

SIR: I had the honor to receive your letter of the 20th inst. requesting such information as may be in the Treasury Department, relative to the quantity and quality of lands belonging to the United States in the Orleans territory.

It is understood that the eastern district of that territory, included between the Iberville and the lakes, the sea and the Chafalaya, or western arm of the Mississippi, is every year overflowed, with the exception of a narrow strip on the banks of the Mississippi, and of the several creeks or bayous which intersect the country. Although the greater and most valuable portion of the land, bordering on the water-courses, and fit for cultivation, belongs to individuals, it has been stated that there still remained on the Chafalaya, and several of the bayous, many unappropriated, and, although narrow, yet very valuable tracts. The remainder is at present an immense swamp, the greater part of which cannot be recovered without much labor and capital.

It is well known that the western boundaries of the western district are not ascertained; and the president has, for the present, directed that the surveys should not be extended west of a meridian passing by Natchitoches.

The Surveyor General has reported that the tract included between that meridian and the Chafalaya, and bounded on the north by the Red river, and on the south by the sea, would probably contain from one hundred and eighty to two hundred townships, or about four millions and five hundred thousand acres; from which quantity must be deducted the settlements of Attacapas and Opelousas, and those bordering on Red river. It is probable that this will leave near four millions of acres of public lands. The returns of ten townships only have been received at the treasury; and the enclosed memorandum, extracted from the field notes, will show the general quality of the land contained in them.

I have no information relative either to the quantity or quality of the lands north of Red river; but I beg leave to refer you to the papers which I put in your hands on the subject of Bapstrop's and Grand Maison's grants.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, sir,

Your obedient servant,

ALBERT GALLATIN.

Honorable JOHN BOYLE,

Chairman Land Committee in Congress.

The returns of townships surveyed in the Orleans territory, together with the field notes, received at the treasury, are:

Ranges west of basis meridian.	Townships north or south of latitude 31°	Predominant quality from the field notes.
1	1 north,	Excepting a small quantity of rich land, mostly poor sandy pine land.
2	1 north,	In hickory and oak woods, rich; in pine, lands poor; pine predominant.
2	2 north,	With some exception, sandy and broken land.
2	3 north,	Nearly equal proportions of poor, broken, hilly, middling, and rich lands.
3	3 north,	All pine land, some poor, some middling, some broken and hilly.
4	3 north,	Some rich bottom; middling and poor land nearly equal; pine.
3	5 south,	With small exception, nearly equal part of poor level land and prairie.
4	5 south,	Generally poor level lands, and prairies, interspersed with pine woods.
5	5 south,	Generally rich lands, the rest level sandy land in lofty pines.
6	5 south,	Level land of middle quality; good pine timber.

The whole containing,	231,894 acres.
Mr. Pease, in his letter of 5th November, 1807, on the authority of Mr. Fitz, states that the territory contains one hundred and eighty or two hundred townships, from which deduct the above ten townships, and between one hundred and seventy or one hundred and ninety remain to be surveyed,

CLAIMANTS UNDER THE GEORGIA GRANTS.

COMMUNICATED TO THE SENATE FEBRUARY 5, 1808.

To the honorable the Senate and the honorable House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled: the respectful memorial and petition of the subscribers, citizens of the State of New York, sheweth:

That they became purchasers under various circumstances, and at different times and prices, of large tracts of land, within the limits of the lands granted by the State of Georgia to sundry companies, lying in the waters of Tennessee, Tombigbee, and Mississippi rivers; that your memorialists, confiding in the validity of the grants of said State, and having no knowledge or suspicion of any matter or cause that could affect the title founded thereon, paid large sums of money for the lands thus purchased by them; that, after the said grants had been declared void by a subsequent Legislature of the said State of Georgia, and after that State had made a cession to the United States, with a reservation of five millions of acres of the said land to be applied, as your memorialists understood at the time, to the satisfaction of their claims on the said land, on the ground of a reasonable and equitable compromise, they have waited for several years in the hope and expectation that some such compromise would have been made, but have hitherto been disappointed: on the contrary, the United States are proceeding to sell certain parts of the said lands, and Congress have passed an act or acts making it unlawful for your memorialists and others claiming under the original grants of the said State of Georgia, to exert those acts of ownership which would have led to a regular judicial examination and decision of their right, and which the laws permit in ordinary cases.

Your memorialists were, and still are, desirous of submitting their rights to a regular examination, in any tribunal competent to give a final judgment: this they respectfully solicit, and claim as a right founded on natural justice, and the sacred principles of our free constitution declaring to your honorable body that they are still willing, as they have always been, to submit to any reasonable terms of compromise, on an agreement for that purpose, or to submit their claims to the arbitration of honorable and intelligent men.

Your memorialists appeal with confidence to your honorable body, as the guardians of the public liberty, and the just rights of the citizens, that you will in your wisdom provide a method by which they may bring their claims before the Supreme Court of the United States, who alone have cognizance of controversies where the United States are a party, in order to a definitive judgment thereon; or that you will authorize an equitable compensation to be made to them by agreement, arbitration, or otherwise, in lieu thereof; and your memorialists will ever pray.

ALTERATION PROPOSED IN SURVEYING THE PUBLIC LANDS IN ORLEANS TERRITORY.

COMMUNICATED TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES FEBRUARY 22, 1808.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, December 19, 1807.

SIR: I understand that there is a considerable quantity of valuable vacant land in the territory of Orleans, lying in narrow strips along the margins of rivers and bayous, and surrounded by extensive tracts of inundated land, which cannot at present be sold. The laws have directed that the public lands of that territory should be surveyed and divided, as nearly as the nature of the country will admit, in the same manner as is provided by law in relation to the other public lands. And neither Mr. Briggs nor Mr. Pease have thought themselves under that clause at liberty to adopt a different mode of surveying; that of regular townships and sections, divided by north and south, and east and west lines, being practicable, although inconvenient, and attended with the useless expense of dividing an un-saleable swamp into sections.

Permit me, therefore, to suggest the propriety of authorizing the surveying of such lands within the alluvial country as may be now inhabited, into tracts not exceeding a certain number of acres, but without restrictions of shape, or obligation of surveying the adjacent lands.

I enclose copies of the correspondence on that subject. I have the honor to be, respectfully, sir, your obedient servant,

ALBERT GALLATIN.

Honorable JOHN BOYLE, Chairman Land Committee.

Extract of a letter from the Secretary of the Treasury to Isaac Briggs, Esquire, surveyor, &c. Washington, M. T., dated TREASURY DEPARTMENT, May 27, 1805.

The obstacles which an alluvial and inundated country offers to cultivation and surveying will undoubtedly render many deviations from the usual method necessary; and, before any plan whatever shall be adopted, your opinion, founded on such local information as you may have obtained, is requested. It appears to me that, in the alluvial country, those parts only which now are, or by a low levée may immediately be rendered fit for cultivation, ought to be surveyed. This will confine us to the banks of rivers, bayous, and lakes; but a fixed average depth, perhaps, of one mile, though extending within the inundated country, may be given to each tract; and however partial or irregular the surveys, they should be connected one with another, and all of them with some correctly ascertained basis. I throw, for the present, those hints merely for your consideration; and I will also beg leave to suggest, that a basis, which would connect the surveys west of the Mississippi with those in the Mississippi territory, would be the most eligible. As the Chafalaya begins about three miles below the mouth of Red river, the latitude and longitude of which are astronomically ascertained, a due west line from some point on the Mississippi, between those two points, say at 31°, seems to be recommended as a proper basis, from the consideration of its keeping more clear of the alluvial country than any other direction. A meridian, extending from the Red river to the seashore, sufficiently west to be clear of the Mississippi inundations, might afterwards be run. The most eligible spot, exclusively of local considerations, from which to begin that meridian on Red river, would be Natchitoches, and, next to it, the Rapids.

Extract of a letter from the Secretary of the Treasury to Isaac Briggs, Esq., Surveyor General, Washington, M. T.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, July 2, 1805.

3dly. So much of the alluvial or inundated country, lying between the Mississippi and the Fourche on the east, and the Chafalaya on the west, and also west of Chafalaya, as may be considered at present to be fit for cultivation. It is believed that no part of that large extent can now be inhabited, except some margins along the several streams or bayous, as is the case along the Mississippi and the Fourche. The best mode, therefore, which presents itself, is to meander the principal streams, and particularly the Chafalaya, from its commencement to its discharge into the sea, and its water communications with the rivers Opelousa, Attacapa, and Feche, surveying, at the same time, on each margin, and in the best manner which the nature of the country will admit, tracts of one hundred and sixty acres, and having as much front, in proportion to their depth, as has been usual in Lower Louisiana. But the best method of executing this part of the work, is nevertheless, left discretionary with you, only observing that, although townships cannot be laid out, yet the surveys executed there should be connected in some manner with some known point on the Mississippi, and with some part of the ranges of townships hereafter mentioned. I will also add, that, as the mouth of the river Feche is understood to afford the best harbor between the mouth of the Mississippi and that of the Trinity river, a survey of the Chafalaya, from its commencement (in or about thirty-one degrees north latitude,) to the place where it is said to communicate with the Feche, and thence by such communication, and down the Feche, to the seashore, is considered as important, and the first part of the work to be executed. I say nothing of the Mississippi itself, nor of the lands lying either in the island of New Orleans, or on the opposite side of the river east of the Fourche, on a presumption that no body of land remains there vacant which would defray the expense of a general survey. If you shall think, however, that the margin of the Mississippi, at least from Concord to the settlements of Pointe Coupée, is susceptible of immediate cultivation, you may survey the same as the other rivers of that alluvial tract.

4thly. As many ranges of township to be laid out west of Chafalaya, and of its inundation, and from Red river to the seashore, as the funds appropriated by Congress will permit us to survey, not going, however, further west than the meridian of Natchitoches. In relation to this last part of the work, you will be pleased to attend to the following circumstances: 1st. Although those townships must commence at some distance from the Mississippi, it is necessary, nevertheless, that they should be connected by a line running due east and west, and accurately surveyed, with some known point on that river; and the 31st degree of latitude, as a continuation of Mr. Elliott's boundary line seems the most eligible. 2dly. In that part of the country which has already been granted to individuals, and is actually inhabited, including the several districts of Attacapas, Opelousa, Ayoyette, and Rapids, the exterior lines only of the townships should be run, until the claims shall have been ascertained according to law, when the subdivisions will, of course, be made: and it will be necessary to inform both the white inhabitants and several small tribes of Indians, who are scattered through that territory, that the running of such lines will not in the least affect their rightful claims, and that the object is only to ascertain the vacant land, and to connect the whole together.

The country is yet so little known here, that, notwithstanding the discretion vested in you, it will, perhaps, be found that some of the above instructions, which you might consider as imperative, cannot be carried into effect. In points which will not to yourself appear very important, and may not admit of delay, you may make such alterations as you will think necessary. But it will be more acceptable, in essential points, that you should state the objections and propose a substitute. In whatever manner the surveys may be executed, your assistants must be directed to make a very correct return of the nature and growth of the soil, of the depth of the rivers or bayous, of the elevation of the waters during the inundation, and of their greatest depression, and particularly of the depth of the lands not liable to be inundated, or which may be protected by a low levée.

Extract of a letter from Isaac Briggs, Esquire, late Surveyor General of the United States' lands south of the Tennessee, to the Secretary of the Treasury, dated WASHINGTON, M. T., 31st of the 8th month, 1805.

In obedience to thy request, in thy letter of May 27, I now offer an opinion, founded on such local information as I have been able to obtain, of the method of survey best adapted to the alluvial country on the Mississippi river. My idea coincides with thine, "that those parts only which now are, or by a low levée may immediately be rendered fit for cultivation, ought to be surveyed." And, although "this will confine us to the banks of rivers, bayous, and lakes," it is my opinion that the lines of division ought still to be in the direction of meridians and parallels of latitude, and situated where they would be if the township and section lines were traced throughout. In this way, the forms of the several parcels of land would be less irregular, and a general connexion with any well ascertained point or basis more easily obtained than by the method adopted by the former Government. In the way proposed, no front could have to the side lines a greater obliquity than forty-five degrees; and if, at any time hereafter, the swamps should be reclaimed, simply producing the lines will connect the surveys in a regular manner with those in such parts as are at present capable of cultivation. The principle on which surveys were made under the preceding Government, seems to be a front on some water-course, and side lines at right angles from the extremities of that front. Those side lines often converge to a point, and frequently diverge to a great extent, as the front happens to be convex or concave. The average depth allowed by grants from the Spanish Government is, I am informed, forty arpents, equal to one English mile and five-elevenths. This is supposed to be generally the direct distance from the water-course back to the swamp.

As there must be, for many years to come, extensive intervals of inundated and uninhabitable swamp between the habitable margins of the rivers, bayous, and lakes south of Baton Rouge, and east of a meridian fifteen or twenty miles west of Chafalaya, the best chains of connexion with any well ascertained basis will, in my estimation, be a careful and accurate survey of each river, bayou, and lake, in the alluvial country. On this survey, as many observations for determining latitudes and longitudes as circumstances will admit should be taken, and the calculations referred to the Surveyor General's office.

Extract of a letter from Seth Pease, Esquire, Surveyor General, to the Secretary of the Treasury, dated WASHINGTON, M. T., June 30, 1807.

I find in your letters of the 27th May and 2d July, 1805, and in Mr. Briggs's letter of the 31st of the 8th month, of the same year, some remarks on the most eligible mode of surveying that part of the alluvial country between the Mississippi and the Fourche on the east, and the Chafalaya on the west, and also west of the Chafalaya, as may be considered at present fit for cultivation. As this will become a matter of considerable importance, I take the liberty of making the following remarks:

1st. That the mode you have pointed out appears to be the [most] eligible of the two, as it divides the front of the tract more equally than that proposed by Mr. Briggs, which, in my opinion, will greatly enhance the average value of the tracts.

2dly. The remaining part will probably remain unsurveyed and unsold for many years, and, when sold, it will probably be purchased by companies (possessed of large capitals) in large tracts, in order to enable them to reclaim the land from the sea, or inundation of the Mississippi; the timber, however, may soon become a sufficient object to individuals to induce them to purchase, where it can be managed to advantage.

I do not see that the law authorizes any other mode than the one advised by Mr. Briggs, unless you have a discretionary power to order it otherwise.

PRE-EMPTION RIGHTS WEST OF PEARL RIVER.

COMMUNICATED TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES ON THE 27th FEBRUARY, 1808.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, February 27, 1808.

Sir: I have received by last mail the list of permissions granted by the register of the land office west of Pearl river, to settlers on lands of the United States, under the act to prevent settlements, passed 3d March, 1807. The result is as followeth:

Number of settlers	Number of acres applied for by each.	Total number of acres.
230	320	73,600
76	160	12,160
2	200	400
1	197½	197½
Total, 310		86,457½

These settlers are, therefore, entitled to a right of pre-emption by virtue of the act passed this session. But a difficulty will attend the execution of the law, which seems to require a legislative explanation. By the act of last session, the permissions were limited to three hundred and twenty acres for each settler; and it appears that eighty of these have applied for less quantities. By the act of this session, this right of pre-emption is given for the tract on which such settlers had received permission to remain; and yet it is provided, that such right of pre-emption shall not be for a quantity greater than six hundred and forty acres. I do not understand whether it be intended still to confine the pre-emption to the quantity for which the permission was given, or whether the party shall have a right of preference to purchase six hundred and forty acres; and if no explanatory act be passed, I will, of course, take the opinion of the attorney general. Should that opinion limit the pre-emption to the quantity for which the permission was granted, it may create discontents, inasmuch as the parties may give a different construction to the law. Should it, however, be decided, or positively enacted, that the right of pre-emption may extend to six hundred and forty acres, it will be necessary to provide a mode of deciding between conflicting pretensions: for, in many instances, there will be vacant land between the permitted settlements, though not sufficient to give to each the full quantity. Thus, if half a section of vacant land lies between two half sections, both settled by persons having a right of pre-emption, to which of the two shall the right of purchasing be given, if both shall claim it? There is no officer designated by the act for deciding in such and other doubtful cases.

Your obedient servant,

PUBLIC GROUND IN AND ADJACENT TO THE CITY OF NEW ORLEANS.

COMMUNICATED TO CONGRESS MARCH 7, 1808.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States.

In the city of New Orleans, and adjacent to it, are sundry parcels of ground, some of them with buildings and other improvements on them, which it is my duty to present to the attention of the Legislature. The title to these grounds appears to have been retained in the former Sovereigns of the province of Louisiana, as public fiduciaries, and for the purposes of the province. Some of them were used for the residence of the Governor, for public offices, hospitals, barracks, magazines, fortifications, levées, &c.; others for the town-house, schools, markets, landings, and other purposes of the city of New Orleans. Some were held by religious corporations, or persons; others seem to have been reserved for future disposition. To these must be added a parcel called the Batture, which requires more particular description. It is understood to have been a shoal or elevation of the bottom of the river, adjacent to the bank of the suburbs of St. Mary, produced by the successive depositions of mud during the annual inundations of the river, and covered with water only during those inundations. At all other seasons it has been used by the city immemorably to furnish earth for raising their streets and court-yards, for mortar, and other necessary purposes, and as a landing or quay for unloading fire-wood, lumber, and other articles brought by water. This having been lately claimed by a private individual, the city opposed the claim on a supposed legal title in itself; but it has been adjudged that the legal title was not in the city. It is, however, alleged, that that title, originally in the former Sovereigns, was never parted with by them; but was retained in them for the uses of the city and province, and consequently, has now passed over to the United States. Until this question can be decided under legislative authority, measures have been taken according to law, to prevent any change in the state of things, and to keep the ground clear of intruders. The settlement of this title, the appropriation of the grounds and improvements, formerly occupied for provincial purposes, to the same or such other objects as may be better suited to present circumstances, the confirmation of the uses in other parcels to such bodies, corporate or private, as may of right, or on other reasonable considerations, expect them, are matters now submitted to the determination of the Legislature.

The papers and plans now transmitted will give them such information on the subject as I possess, and, being mostly originals, I must request that they may be communicated from the one to the other House, to answer the purposes of both.

LAND CLAIMS IN THE DISTRICT OF KASKASKIAS.

COMMUNICATED TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES MARCH 7, 1808.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, March 7, 1808.

SIR: I have the honor to transmit the copy of a letter from the land commissioners of Kaskaskias, with sundry enclosures.

The power of laying out two tracts for locating recognised claims is already vested in the register, with the approbation of the secretary of treasury, but will not be exercised until the amount of claims to be located shall have been better ascertained.

I doubt the propriety of dispensing with the copy of the evidence on which claims may be rejected. The expense of transcribing cannot be put in competition with the advantages resulting from having at the seat of government documents necessary to repel unfounded claims.

Considering the great and unexpected mass of business which has come before the commissioners, and how moderate their compensation, I think a further allowance reasonable. It is not their interest to delay the settlement of claims, as their commission on sales will probably exceed the five hundred dollars they receive as commissioners.

I have the honor to be, respectfully, sir,
Your obedient servant,

ALBERT GALLATIN.

Hon. JOHN BOYLE,
Chairman of the Land Committee in Congress.

COMMISSIONERS' OFFICE, KASKASKIAS,

December 1, 1807.

SIR: This is the third annual communication we have made to our government, giving the same information, viz., that we have not finished our business. We have not finished it yet. Since the return of Mr. Backus from Washington, we have taken up the immense mass of suspicious evidence given in before the clerk of the court of the district of St. Charles, in Upper Louisiana, who has authorised, with another person, to receive it,

To our astonishment we find more than seven hundred depositions there given to be perjuries; most of these depositions have been given in by persons assuming the names of certain ancient and respectable settlers in this country; by calling them forward (for most of them still reside in Upper Louisiana) we have discovered the truth, but a truth most embarrassing to us: we have been obliged to reject nearly forty claims to four hundred acres each, which we had confirmed to one man on this evidence, and caused to be recorded by our clerk as ultimately decided; our records are everywhere to be altered.

Besides more than two hundred depositions have been given in before this board by persons who have since acknowledged their falsity: they found themselves entrapped.

In reading this detail, sir, you are doubtless surprised at two circumstances: that this board has been so much imposed upon, and that it has permitted the taking of depositions abroad: for the first, it has been impossible to avoid it; it has been by a slow and cautious comparison of facts which, from time to time, have dropped out in evidence, that we have been able to come at that truth which will save to the United States so extensive a property: for the second, from our instructions, from the precedent set and followed by the two governors who have preceded us in this business, we have been impelled, though very unwillingly, to adopt this practice. Yet it has been fortunate that we have done so; the rogues, in roaming around the circle of our agents, have found a hole in which we have caught them.

But the most difficult part of this business has been the decision on claims, supported by evidence which we could not legally find fault with, but which we could not readily believe; we have here thought proper on the part of the United States, to call on a number of the oldest and most respectable inhabitants of the country; the expense will be something to the Government, but it will be infinitely overbalanced by the saving which it will make. We have called on these persons for two reasons; first, to get information; and, secondly, to enlist the sound part of this community with the Government: we have succeeded. These men, as we expected, have been abused, and we are disposed to think it a matter of some merit that we have preserved, and shall preserve, the peace of this country.

The tract which we last year designated to you, on which to locate the claims of this district, we are now satisfied is too large; we were ignorant where the north and south line we mentioned would run. We enclose a petition from the principal claimants, which we think reasonable, as the setting apart two tracts would better accommodate the two counties than one; yet, we are ignorant what amount of claims to land will be confirmed; much less, however, than we imagined.

We enclose a sample of our decisions, as they will appear in our abstracts transmitted to Government, and, of consequence, of the difficulties with which we have to struggle; but is it indeed necessary we should send on in our report the statement of evidence in all the rejected claims? You will see, by the specimen, that the writing in a thousand rejected claims must be very voluminous; whenever an appeal from our decisions is made to Congress, (which may not happen in many cases,) cannot the statement of evidence be called from our records at any time?

From the loose manner in which this business has been managed by the Governors and the surveyors, and the loose mode of entry by the claimants with the Register, it will necessarily happen that there will be much clashing between the claimants, as it respects their boundaries; by whom is this difficulty to be settled? By the decision of the surveyor, or by an appeal to the Board? We mention this, as we are ambitious to leave this country, by way of exception, in a state of quietude.

We shall certainly be able to make our returns to Congress at this session, provided it does not rise early; but a law will be absolutely necessary to extend our powers; more especially, as we shall be obliged, in some important cases, to call out evidence, on the part of the United States, who will not obey our call unless we are legally authorized.

We presume it will not be thought that we are mean enough to procrastinate, in order to get such further trivial sum as we shall be likely to get from Government, which, for a business almost as extensive, equally delicate, and far more perplexed, has paid us our five hundred dollars, and to the commissioners of Upper Louisiana, two thousand.

We shall, indeed, sir, think ourselves abused if a further allowance is not made to men, who have been so long and so patiently struggling for so paltry a consideration in the very mire and filth of corruption, when, by catching the Louisiana gale of last year, we might have rushed through our business, much to the injury of our country, in one season.

To you, sir, in this point, as our protector and our friend, we appeal with confidence.

We have the honor to be, sir,

Your most obedient servants,
MICHAEL JONES,
E. BACKUS.

Honorable ALBERT GALLATIN,
Secretary of the Treasury.

KASKASKIAS, November 5, 1807.

GENTLEMEN:

The subscribers, claimants to a large portion of the unlocated claims to land in the district of Kaskaskias, beg you to propose the following tracts for the locating of the said claims, viz., beginning on the Mississippi, at the southern extremity of range thirteen west, thence east to the meridian line, thence north thirty miles, thence west to the Mississippi, at the western extremity of the range No. 9, and thence by the Mississippi to the beginning.

Another tract, beginning at the mouth of Prairie de Long Creek, a branch of the river Kaskaskias, thence east ten miles, thence north to the Indian boundary line, thence west with that line to the Mississippi, at the mouth of the Illinois river, thence down the Mississippi river, until it strikes a line drawn west from the mouth of Prairie de Long Creek, the place of beginning. The first above mentioned tract contains about fifteen townships; the contents of latter tract is not known, but it is believed it will contain about thirty miles square; but in this tract, it will be observed, almost all of the settlements in St. Clair county have been made, which will considerably reduce the quantity opened for location.

On the presumption that there are about five hundred thousand acres to be located in your district, and that a very great part of the above tracts are prairies, and without water or timber, they flatter themselves that your influence and recommendation will be made use of in their favor, with the Secretary of the Treasury, and, more especially, as they have been so long deprived of their donation lands, which ought to have been delivered to them twenty years ago.

To the Board of Commissioners at Kaskaskias.

ST. CLAIR COUNTY, July 29, 1807.

SIRS: The memorial of the undersigned, as agent for the settlement on Richland creek, (so called,) states, that the said settlement is situated in the hilly country, at the distance of about fourteen miles from the Mississippi river, eastwardly, and about sixty miles south of the Illinois river. That it is composed of the persons mentioned in the within plot,* who are settled in the order there noted; that those persons whose names are enclosed in said plot, within surveyed lines, have confirmed and located rights, amounting to three thousand seven hundred and seventy-five acres; that the residue of the said settlers, occupying about six thousand acres of land, whose names are marked on said plot, have, without any right, settled upon the public land; but, under the engagement of the Governor of the territory that they might procure confirmed rights which were not located, and locate the same upon their said settlements: that, with this assurance, many of them have made large improvements; that the said settlers have lived in harmony, and are desirous of living in the same neighborhood.— Under these circumstances, they request from your board that you would be pleased to recommend to the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States that a survey, bounded by regular lines, may be made, to include the said settlements, and contain about—acres of land; and that the said settlers, without any present right, may be permitted to fill up and locate the interstices in the said general tract, with confirmed claims not located, which they have, or may hereafter require, in such a manner as to cover their said improvements. It is presumed that the Government can have no objection to this measure, as the land in the intervals between the said surveys already made is generally of an inferior quality.

J. MESSENGER, Agent for said Settlement.

SIR:

If this request could be granted, it would certainly conduce to the tranquillity of a respectable settlement. This land lies within the tract last mentioned in the petition of Edgar and others. The vacant tracts between the several locations are generally, we are told, of an inferior quality, and desirable only to condense the settlement.

We find the surveys here, in a great many instances, to be vilely made, and the descriptions in the patents to be very vague; no topographical description being ever given by which it may be known in what part of the country the lands lie. The patents ought, in our opinion, to be retained, and new ones ought to be issued after the re-surveys have been made.

As these lands have not been surveyed; as the entries of them by the claimants are, in almost all cases, vague; and as the patents must be grounded on the surveys, when they shall be made; we have thought it would be of no use to the Government to give any description till the plots themselves should be sent on. Are we correct? The surveyor will be furnished with a description from our general record.

We hope that a description is unnecessary, as the lands are not surveyed. The entries are vague and the claims rejected. They are described at length on our record.

*See plot annexed.

Robert Reynolds claims four hundred acres, as assignee of Drusilla Turcourt, administratrix of the estate of Joseph Turcourt, deceased, by deed, 10th of June, 1803, in virtue of an improvement by the said Turcourt made, situate on the east bank of the Mississippi, below the mouth of the river Marie, in Randolph county. Witnesses, James Kinkead, Daniel Smith.

Proof. That the said Turcourt occupied this place, being about two miles below the mouth of Cape Cinquehome's creek, from 1784 to 1794, principally for making sugar; that he built a cabin, cleared about two acres of land, and planted about half an acre of corn, &c.

Remarks. The apparent grantor in this case, Drusilla Turcourt, came forward and denied having executed the above recited conveyance now on file, and said that the deceased (her husband) never intended to set up any such claim.

The board having, in consequence, summoned James Cooper, one of the subscribing witnesses to said conveyance, he, on oath, utterly denied having ever subscribed his name as a witness to said conveyance, or having any knowledge of such an instrument. Pierre Menard, one of the Justices of Court of Common Pleas for the said county, before whom the execution of said deed appeared to be proved by the evidence of a certain Comixxon, apparently a subscribing witness to the same, appeared, and on oath stated, that he had never taken the evidence of the said Comixxon relative to the execution of the said instrument; and that his name, subscribed to a certificate on the back of said instrument, stating that such evidence had been taken before him, was not written by him; and that he never knew any such transaction.

The board reject this claim.

LAND CLAIMS IN THE MICHIGAN TERRITORY.

COMMUNICATED TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES MARCH 7, 1808.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, January 5, 1808.

SIR:

I have the honor to enclose a representation from the commissioners appointed to investigate the claims to land in the territory of Michigan. It embraces four points, viz.:

- 1st. An extension of time for entering claims.
- 2d. A repeal of the provision by which no grant can be confirmed to one person for more than one tract of land.
- 3d. A grant in all cases of what is called double concession, or continuation, viz.: by allowing eighty arpents in depth, instead of forty.
- 4th. A provision in favor of actual settlers subsequent to the 1st of July, 1796, when possession was obtained by the United States.

I have the honor to be, respectfully, sir,

Your obedient servant,

ALBERT GALLATIN.

HON. JOHN BOYLE, Chairman of the Land Committee in Congress.

LAND OFFICE, DETROIT, September 1, 1807.

We, the undersigned Commissioners of the land board, established for the district of Detroit, in the territory of Michigan, take the liberty to submit the following representations, to wit:

1st. That an extent of time be granted for entries of claims to lands in the district of Detroit; because the inhabitants who have neglected to enter their claims with the former Commissioners of the land office at Detroit are poor, illiterate, and uninformed men, many of whom can neither read nor write, and, consequently, have never been acquainted with their danger in not entering their claims in due time: with a view to prevent such neglect in future, we have not only advertised in English, and French, in every part of this district, but we have obtained from the priest of the parish, to read and explain to his Canadian parishoners the absolute necessity for them to apply to our board to have their claims examined and adjusted; in consequence of which a great number of them have come before us, whose claims we cannot take cognizance of, because they had not been entered with the former commissioners. They now see their unhappy situation, and are wishing and willing to make all necessary entries, and fully to comply with the law, if Congress, in their benevolence, were willing to grant a further time. We have taken every pains in our power to find out the reasons of their non-compliance with the act of Congress, and we are happy to have it in our power to assure you that their neglect proceeds entirely from ignorance and want of information. If one year, or even six months, after the rising of Congress, were granted for new entries, we truly believe that not a single individual would neglect to secure his claim by an entry with the register. Unfortunately, one third of the inhabitants are in that predicament. We beg leave to observe, sir, that, in case Congress should refuse to grant that extent of time, those people will be completely ruined, and would be compelled to leave the country and cross over to the British side, where each of them may receive, gratis, from that Government, two hundred acres of land in fee simple. Indeed, we know that already offers of this nature have been made to them, which hitherto they have refused, and which they never will accept, if by a new act of Congress they are allowed to enter their claims, and keep their farms, on proving their title to the same, agreeably to the act of Congress of the 3d of March, 1807. We have conversed with a great number of them, have advised them to remain quiet, and have taken upon ourselves to assure them that, in all probability, you would patronize their prayer, and that they would be made happy.

2d. That any claimant possessing more than one farm be entitled to receive a patent for each separate tract he claims, on proving possession and occupancy previous to the 1st of July, 1796, in conformity to the act of Congress of the 3d of March, 1807. We are fully and unanimously of opinion that this prayer ought to be granted, on the ground of strict justice and equity, especially in cases where the claimant can justify a full consideration paid for each and every farm, and that no one single farm doth contain more than six hundred and forty acres: from every information we have been able to obtain from the record of the former commissioners, and from the best informed and most respectable people in this district, we find that few farms claimed exceed four hundred and eighty arpents; that very few contain that quantity, and that the greatest number of them are considerably under. Our representation at this time does not embrace large tracts granted by the Indian chiefs, on which there are hardly any improvements, and some of which are still in a state of wilderness; this species of grants will be the subject of a future communication: our object, at present, is to recommend the granting of farms, which bona fide are improved, built upon, and occupied, and were so previous to the 1st of July, 1796, and for which valuable considerations have been paid.

3d. That the old farms on the river Detroit, the greatest number of which contain two or three arpents in front by forty in depth, be extended to an equal depth, to wit, eighty arpents.

In examining with the minutest attention the records of the former commissioners, we find that all the old farms on that river were mostly granted by the French Government, and that, with very few exceptions, they generally extend to forty arpents in depth, having two or three arpents in front; in examining and adjusting such of the claims as have come before us, we are confirmed in that opinion. We think it our duty to observe, that those farms have been in cultivation from forty to one hundred years; that the arable land is entirely exhausted, and that most of them are without timber for making fences, and even for fire-wood; that, hitherto, the inhabitants have supplied themselves with that essential part of their yearly wants on the lands back of their farms; and that, if Congress should refuse to extend their farms to eighty acres in depth, they cannot continue to live on the old ground, and support themselves and their families. We will further observe, that, on the other side of the river, the British Government have not only confirmed to the inhabitants the possession of their lands, held under an Indian title, but has uniformly granted to each of them what is commonly called the continuation, that is, forty arpents in depth, in addition to the first forty arpents they had in possession. It appears to us, that it would be a matter of justice and equity in our Government to grant that additional quantity of land to the descendants of first French settlers, who otherwise would not reap an equal advantage under our Government with the new settlers on river aux Raisins, river aux Sables, river aux Roches, river aux Ecorces, and river Rouge, below the city of Detroit, and on river aux Hurons, and river St. Clair, above. In granting this, Congress will establish a uniform line back of the farms now settled, and parallel with the river Detroit, and thereby distinguish in a clear manner the boundaries of the lands, remaining the property of the United States, which may be offered for sale on a future day. We confidently hope that our Government will not do less for its citizens than the British Government has done for its subjects.

Another article of minor consideration, indeed, but still of importance to several individuals, is, that persons possessing no other improvements than such as have been made since the 1st July, 1796, shall be confirmed in one tract not exceeding—acres, which has been occupied and improved previous to the year 1800, or a later period, if thought proper by Congress. It is found that some valuable farmers commenced their improvements soon after the Americans took possession of this country, in 1796, and have bestowed on them much labor, who must be ruined if they cannot be permitted to hold them. These appear not to have purchased directly of the Indians, nor with a knowledge of contravening the laws of the United States, but they purchased of men who showed them Indian deeds, and they gave to these men valuable considerations. Some are the sons of the old Canadian settlers, who were obliged to provide for themselves elsewhere than on their paternal farms, which were too small to admit of division. As no land office existed here that was authorized to sell, they had no opportunity to provide for themselves, but to purchase or take up lands in this manner.

1st SESSION:

CLAIMS OF CERTAIN SUBJECTS OF GREAT BRITAIN TO LANDS IN THE TERRITORY OF MISSISSIPPI.

COMMUNICATED TO CONGRESS APRIL 22, 1808.

To the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States.

I transmit to both Houses of Congress a letter from the Envoy of His Britannic Majesty, at this place, to the Secretary of State, on the subject of certain British claims to lands in the territory of Mississippi, relative to which several acts have been heretofore passed by the Legislature.

TH: JEFFERSON.

WASHINGTON, April 10, 1808.

SIR: I have the honor to lay before the Government of the United States, by His Majesty's commands, a copy of a memorial which has been presented to Mr. Canning, His Majesty's principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, by several British subjects, proprietors of lands in His Majesty's late province of West Florida.

As I have already had the honor of explaining to you the well founded claims which the memorialists have upon the justice and liberality of the United States, for some remedy against the effects of a certain act of Congress, which was passed on the 2d of March, 1805, entitled "An act further to amend an act entitled An act regulating the grants of land, and providing for the disposal of the lands of the United States, south of the State of Tennessee;" and as the enclosed memorial, and the documents accompanying it, most fully and clearly exhibit the injury which the provisions of that act occasion to their rights and equitable claims upon some of the lands in His Majesty's late province of West Florida therein comprehended:

I will, therefore, only beg leave to repeat my request that the Government of the United States will be pleased to pay a serious and early attention to these facts, now stated and laid before them, fully relying upon the known principles of equity and liberality which govern the conduct of nations in amity with each other, that some effectual relief will be afforded to the complainants by the timely intervention, in their favor, by the Government of the United States.

I have the honor to be, sir, with very great respect,

Your most obedient, humble servant,

D. M. ERSKINE.

The Hon. JAMES MADISON, &c.

A.

To the Right Honorable Lord Hawkesbury, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, &c. &c.

The memorial of the undersigned, proprietors of land in His Majesty's late province of West Florida, respectfully sheweth:

That your memorialists have, with extreme surprise and mortification, recently received the printed paper annexed, purporting to be an act of the United States of America, in which the interests of your memorialists, and of many other British subjects in various parts of the world, are deeply involved.

That the said act effectually precludes your memorialists from the possibility of substantiating their claims after a very limited period, inasmuch as the 5th section thereof compels them to register their vouchers at Natchez, before the last day of March, 1804.

That your memorialists will then be dispossessed of property which they had acquired by public services, by inheritance, or by purchase, in consequence of a proviso, which, if it were practicable on their part, would expose them to the loss of their documents.

That the Legislature of America do not appear to have been fully aware of the injurious effect of the said section with respect to your memorialists; for it cannot be conceived they had it in contemplation without some imputed misconduct to deprive individuals of their property, in consequence of having obtained the sovereignty of the country.

Wherefore, your memorialists most earnestly entreat your lordship's interference in their behalf, humbly praying that you will take their case into consideration, and represent the fatal tendency of the said act, suggesting, as the means of affording the most complete redress, that the British records of West Florida, which have been delivered to the minister of the United States, should be adopted and acted upon as valid and decisive in all cases whatsoever, and the rights of the various claimants established accordingly, or affording such other relief as your lordship, in your wisdom, shall deem adequate, and your memorialists, as in duty bound, will ever pray, &c.

WASHINGTON, March 31, 1804.

MY LORD: I had the honor to receive, in the evening of the 22d instant, your lordship's separate despatches of the 9th of February, transmitting to me the copy of a memorial which you had received from several proprietors of lands in His Majesty's late province of West Florida, complaining of the injury which they are likely to sustain from the provisions of an act of the American Congress which passed in the course of their last session, and instructing me to lose no time in representing the circumstances of the case to the American Government, and to use every exertion in my power for the purpose of obtaining redress for those persons.

I accordingly delivered to Mr. Madison a representation on this subject, of which I have the honor to transmit a copy enclosed; accompanying it with a suggestion, that the President should give every possible weight to the object, by sending a message respecting it to the Congress. This measure proved, however, to be impracticable, from the circumstance of that body having agreed to rise on the 20th, whilst the Sunday which intervened rendered the time for business still shorter. All, then, that this government could possibly do, as the Secretary of State has assured me, was to cause an amendment to take place, to the effect conceived to be desired by the British claimants, to a bill which was already pending before the Legislature supplementary to the act in question passed in the last session.

Your lordship will find enclosed, together with a copy of Mr. Madison's answer to me, an extract of the above mentioned supplementary act, by which you will perceive that the term for the admission of claims has been prolonged to the last day of November next, (this measure had been already proposed in the bill before my representation had been delivered,) and that the twelfth section, by providing for the admission as evidence of transcripts of the records of His Majesty's late province of West Florida, contains precisely what the British claimants stated in their memorial to your lordship would be the means of affording the most complete redress. At all events the prolongation of the term now affords them an opportunity of seeing what further provisions may be necessary for securing to them their property and interests; which additional provisions may be made before the expiration of the new term given, because the Congress is to meet again on the first Monday in November, whilst, from the proof which the American Government have given on the present occasion, of their readiness to afford every assistance to the British claimants, there can be no doubt of their manifesting a similar friendly disposition on any further application which may be made to them.

It may be proper I should add, for the information of the persons concerned, that Mr. Madison acquainted me yesterday, with his having just received notice of the arrival at Baltimore, from London, of the records above alluded to, and that he had given orders for the safe conveyance of them to his office.

I have the honor to be, &c.

ANT. MERRY.

The Right Honorable Lord HAWKESBURY, &c. &c.

To the Right Honorable George Canning, one of His Majesty's principal Secretaries of State, the memorial of the undersigned, in behalf of themselves, and other proprietors of lands in His Majesty's late province of West Florida, respectfully sheweth:

That, in consequence of a former memorial, of which a copy (A) is annexed, instructions were transmitted to His Majesty's envoy in America, for the purpose of redressing the grievance therein represented.

That His Majesty's envoy, by a prompt application to the American Government, as appears by the correspondence, (B,) prevailed on them to repeal the obnoxious act, by passing an act supplementary, by which it is enacted, that "Transcripts of the records of the British province of West Florida, to claims for lands therein, and which have been delivered to the Government of the United States, may be produced as evidence, and shall be entitled to the same weight in any court of the United States as if the same had been delivered, or shall be delivered, either to the registers of the land offices in the Mississippi territory, before the last of March, one thousand eight hundred and four, any thing in this act, or in the fifth section of the act to which this is a supplement, to the contrary notwithstanding."

That your memorialists, firmly believing their claims to have been thus incontrovertibly and definitely established, reposed in perfect security, under the persuasion that their lands would forever remain protected by the above recited act, till a fit opportunity should occur of settling or disposing of them.

That your memorialists, while they conceived their property to be thus completely protected, have recently been alarmed by a new act of Congress, (which they have just received from America, and of which a copy (C) is annexed,) dated 2d March, 1805, by which the holders of lands under British grants are entirely divested of such property, without resource, the time therein allowed for fulfilling the required conditions being already elapsed.

Under these circumstances, your memorialists earnestly entreat that some speedy and effectual remedy may be applied for their relief, either by an application for the repeal of the said act, or by obtaining a just compensation.

And your memorialists, &c.

WASHINGTON, March 23, 1804.

Sir: I have the honor to lay before you the enclosed copy of a memorial, which has been presented to Lord Hawkesbury, His Majesty's principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, by several of the King's subjects, proprietors of land in that part of the territory of the United States which formerly belonged to His Majesty, under the title of the province of West Florida, respecting an act, which passed in the last session of Congress of the United States, entitled "An act regulating the grants of land, and providing for the disposal of the lands of the United States south of the Tennessee;" the provisions of which act the memorialists represent as precluding them effectually from the possibility of substantiating their claims within the time limited, and, consequently, as tending to deprive them of their property.

I flatter myself, sir, that it will be perceived, upon a reconsideration of the law in question, that the fifth section of it will, in fact, produce the effect which is apprehended by the proprietors inevitably, in as far as regards the period assigned for the admission of their claims, and, eventually, in case their documents should be lost, in the transmission of them to this country, particularly in time of war.

It is, sir, by the express orders of my Government that I have the honor to represent these circumstances to you, and to solicit of the Government of the United States their timely interference to prevent the injury which will otherwise ensue to several of his Majesty's subjects, in the cases above explained, either by referring to the suggestion this subject stated by the memorialists, or by adopting such other measures as in their wisdom shall appear more convenient.

It is probable that the injurious consequences of the provisions of the act, with respect to claimants in the situation of the memorialists, had escaped the notice of the American Legislature, and it is, therefore, to be hoped that it will be sufficient to point them out, to obtain a remedy for the evil. At all events, His Majesty's Government confide in the friendship and justice of the Government of the United States to take such measures in this case as shall appear to them the most effectual for affording redress to his Majesty's subjects.

I have the honor to be, &c.

ANTHONY MERRY.

The Honorable JAMES MADISON.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, March 29, 1804.

SIR: I have had the honor to receive your letter of the 23d instant, enclosing a copy of a memorial, stating certain inconveniences to which its subscribers, who are British subjects, have represented themselves as being exposed by the operation of an act of Congress in the act passed on the 27th instant, of which a copy is now enclosed. I flatter myself you will see those inconveniences removed. I have the honor to be, &c.

JAMES MADISON.

ANTHONY MERRY, Esq.

Extract from "An act supplementary to an act, entitled An act regulating the grants of land and providing for the disposal of the lands of the United States south of the State of Tennessee," passed 27th March, 1804.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That persons claiming lands in the Mississippi territory, by virtue of any British or Spanish grant, or by virtue of the three first sections of the act to which this is a supplement, or the articles of agreement and cession with the State of Georgia, may, after the last day of March, in the year 1804, and until the last day of November then next following, give notice in writing of their claims to the register of the land office, for the lands lying west of Pearl river, and have the same recorded in the manner prescribed by the fifth section of the act to which this is a supplement: Provided, however, That, where lands are claimed by virtue of a complete Spanish or British grant, in conformity with the articles of agreement and cession between the United States, and the State of Georgia, it shall not be necessary for the claimant to have any other evidence of his claim recorded, except the original grant or patent, together with the warrant or order of survey and the plot; but all the subsequent conveyances or deeds shall be deposited with the register, to be by him laid before the commissioners, when they shall take the claim into consideration, &c. Section 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11.

SECTION 12. And be it further enacted, That transcripts of the records of the British province of West Florida, to claims for land therein, and which have been delivered to the Government of the United States, may be produced as evidence, and shall be entitled to the same weight in any court of the United States, as if the same had been delivered, or shall be delivered either to the registers of the land offices in the Mississippi territory, before the last of March, 1804, any thing in this act, or in the fifth section of the act to which this is a supplement, to the contrary notwithstanding.

C.

"An act further to amend an act, entitled, An act regulating the grants of land and providing for the disposal of the lands of the United States, south of the State of Tennessee."

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That persons who may have obtained, or shall obtain certificates from the board of commissioners appointed to ascertain the claims to lands in the Mississippi territory, shall be allowed three months after the respective date of such certificates, for entering the same with the register of the proper land office; and certificates thus entered shall have the same force and effect, as if they had been duly entered with the said register on or before the first day of January, 1805.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the commissioners appointed to ascertain the claims to lands in the above mentioned territory, east of Pearl river, shall be authorised to grant certificates for lands lying in the island known by the name of Nannce Hubba, formed by the cut off of the rivers Tombigbee and Alabama; and persons having claim for lands lying either in the said island, or east of the Tombigbee and Alabama rivers, shall be permitted to fill the same with the register of the land office, until the first day of May, one thousand eight hundred and five; and commissioners shall decide on the same in the same manner as if they had been presented before the thirty-first day of March, one thousand eight hundred and four.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That each of the last mentioned commissioners shall be allowed at the rate of six dollars a day for every day he shall attend, subsequent to the first day of April, one thousand eight hundred and five: Provided, That such additional allowance shall not exceed five hundred dollars for each commissioner.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That the clerks of each of the boards of commissioners appointed to ascertain the claims to lands, in the above mentioned territory, shall be allowed at the rate of seven hundred and fifty dollars a year, from the time when he entered on the duties of his office, to the time when the board shall adjourn sine die.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That persons claiming lands in the Mississippi territory, by virtue of any British grants legally and fully completed, who may not have filed their claims with the proper Register of the land office, in conformity with the provisions heretofore made for that purpose, may, until the first day of December one thousand eight hundred and five, file such claims with the register of the land office west of Pearl river, and have the same recorded. And said register shall on or before the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and six, make to the Secretary of the Treasury a full report of all British grants thus recorded; which report shall immediately be laid before Congress. The lands contained in such grants shall not be otherwise disposed of until the end of one year after that time; and if any such persons shall neglect to file such British grants, and to have the same recorded in the manner and time hereby provided, neither such grants or any other evidence of such claim which shall not have been recorded as above directed, shall ever after be considered or admitted as evidence in any court of the United States, or against any title legally and fully executed, derived from the Spanish Government, any act or acts to the contrary notwithstanding.

Speaker of the House of Representatives.

CLAIM TO BOUNTY LAND FOR MILITARY SERVICE RENDERED TO THE STATE OF VIRGINIA.

COMMUNICATED TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES APRIL 23, 1808.

Mr. JEREMIAH MORROW, from the Committee on the Public Lands, to whom was referred the petition of William Biggs, made the following report:

The petitioner states that he was a lieutenant in the regiment commanded by General George Rogers Clark, in the service of the State of Virginia, and, as such, was entitled, under an act of Assembly of the said State, to a share in the one hundred and fifty thousand acres of land granted by that State to the officers and soldiers of the said regiment, and reserved by Virginia for that purpose, in her cession of the Western territory to the United States. That, at the time the distribution of the lands was made, the petitioner was a prisoner to the Wabash Indians; his name was not inserted on the list among those entitled to a share; that, on his release from captivity, which he procured by the payment of a sum of money, he made application to the commissioners appointed to make distribution of the lands, for his proportional share; but was informed that the whole of the land had been distributed among the other officers and soldiers.

He prays that two thousand acres of land (being the quantity he was entitled to,) be granted to him in the Illinois country, or adjoining the tract reserved for the officers and soldiers of the regiment.

The committee, on examining the subject, are of opinion that the petitioner has no just claim on the United States, arising out of any error or injustice in the distribution of land reserved by the State of Virginia for a regiment of her State troops. The distribution was not made under the authority of the United States. The reserve was special, and it is not alleged that the quantity reserved has not been appropriated. The United States are bound by the act of cession faithfully to dispose of the residue of the lands to the general benefit of the Union; therefore, they are not at liberty to make gratuitous grants. The committee respectfully submit the following resolution:

Resolved, That the petitioner have leave to withdraw his petition.

PRE-EMPTION TITLES IN THE MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY.*

COMMUNICATED TO THE SENATE NOVEMBER 7, 1808.

To the President, Senate, and House of Representatives in Congress assembled, the memorial of the House of Representatives of the Mississippi territory.

Your memorialists, impressed with a deep concern for a certain description of the people of the territory, beg leave to represent, that, by the law of the last Congress, the first instalment for pre-emption title is due on the first day of January, 1809; to meet this payment every exertion has been made, and the result of the planters' labor, although more than usually abundant, will not be able to meet the requisition of the law. Cotton is the staple commodity of our country; on it alone we depend for cash. For this reason, every planter directs his efforts to that particular article. With this medium in our barns, we were prepared to meet the demands of Government, and take one more step towards a fee simple title. But these pleasing anticipations have been foiled, and our fellow citizens have been cut off from every hope of payment, by an act of that Government to which they are indebted. It has been deemed expedient to suspend, by embargo, our mercantile operations, and thereby our produce lies, unsold and unsaleable, in our barns. The policy of this measure is nowhere admired more than by the people of this territory. The promptitude with which it was adopted, and the energy with which it is maintained, merit their fullest approbation and support; but, at the same time we admire the wisdom, policy, and energy of the measure, we deplore the severe and destructive effects which will inevitably accompany the operation of the law, if the payments due to the United States are rigidly exacted. We, therefore, humbly solicit the parental interposition of the General Government, and in the warmth of our highest confidence, ask of the Government an extension of the time for the payment of the first instalment. And your memorialists further represent unto your honorable bodies, that a great number of persons, many of whom are the heads of families, have emigrated to the Mississippi territory within the last twelve months, under a full expectation that, on their arrival, lands of the United States would be exposed to public sale, and that they would have the opportunity of procuring so much land as their funds would allow. But they, sorry to find that the public lands were not exposed to sale, or likely to be within a short time, were constrained either to settle on the lands of the United States, or to seek a residence within the Spanish lines. Their attachments to the laws and constitution of their native country precluded such a step. Wherefore, your memorialists pray that a law may be passed, extending to those settlers the preference in becoming the purchasers of such lands, or so much thereof as may be proper, as they may have settled and improved. And your memorialists further solicit that, for reasons before stated, the time of paying the first instalment on the sales of public land to be made in the month of January next, be extended to such period as will enable the citizens of this territory to realize their object of emigration. Your memorialists also most seriously wish to call the attention of the Congress of the United States to the great inconvenience and utter ruin which might be drawn on the citizens of this territory, if a bill, which was under the consideration of the House of Representatives of the United States at their last session, for the establishment of a federal court in this territory, should pass into a law. If the non-resident British claimants, who hold large grants for lands within this territory, should, by the establishment of such a court, be enabled to bring suit therein, and to take an appeal therefrom to the supreme Federal Court, the great injury and inconvenience which would result therefrom to the citizens of our country must be self-evident to your honorable bodies.

And your memorialists will ever pray, &c.

FERDINAND S. CLAIBORNE,

Speaker of the House of Representatives.

2d SESSION.

PRE-EMPTION TITLES IN THE MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY.

COMMUNICATED TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES NOVEMBER 21, 1808.

Mr. JEREMIAH MORROW, from the Committee on the Public Lands, to whom was referred the memorial* of the House of Representatives of the Mississippi territory, made the following report:

The memorial presents three subjects for consideration:

1st. The expediency of giving a right to pre-emption to persons for lands settled on, and improved subsequent to, the 3d of March, 1807.

2d. The expediency of extending the time for making the first payment on pre-emption rights, granted under an act of the last session of Congress; and

3d. A remonstrance against a bill introduced the last session of Congress for establishing a federal court in that territory.

It is stated in the memorial, in favor of the first proposition, that a great number of persons, many of whom are heads of families, have emigrated to that territory within the last twelve months, under an expectation that, on their arrival, lands of the United States might be procured by purchase; but the sales being protracted, and the lands not likely to be exposed to sale within a short time, they were constrained either to settle on the lands of the United States, or seek a residence within the Spanish lines.

The committee do not impute to these settlers the improper intention of violating the laws of their country, but are of opinion that, to give a right of pre-emption to persons who have settled on the lands of the United States contrary to law, would be indirectly rewarding a direct violation of those laws, would be offering an inducement to future intrusion, and be giving support to a practice liable to many abuses, and which, if encouraged, must destroy all competition in the public sales, and eventually defeat the object of drawing a revenue from the sale of lands.

The considerations adduced by the memorial, in support of the second proposition, are, the difficulty or impossibility of commanding money for their produce, owing to the stagnation of commerce, and the consequent inability of the claimants to make their first payment at the time directed by law.

The committee are not insensible to their situation; but, when they consider that most of these claimants emigrated to that territory with the declared intention of becoming purchasers of public lands, that many of them may have had possession since early in the year 1803, and none of them but must have cultivated and actually inhabited the tracts which they respectively claim before the 3d of March, 1807; if public lands had been open for sale, and they had made purchase at the time of their respective settlements, the first payment under the law must have become due long before the time fixed by the law giving them a right of pre-emption; that they have already had a longer term for making their first payment, from the time of filing the notice of their claim, than other purchasers have from the time of their contracts; and that these claimants have had the selection of the best lands and most eligible situations, without any competition in the market; they cannot recommend an extension of the time of payment. Another consideration, which had influence with the committee in estimating the merits of the claim for indulgence, was the public convenience. Perhaps public convenience ought not to be opposed to a claim of strict right; but, in a case like the present, they think it should, in some measure, be consulted. The 1st of January next is the time fixed by law for making the first payment on the pre-emption claims. By proclamation, the public sales of the lands in that territory (with some exceptions) are to commence in the same month. If the time for making the first payment on pre-emptions should be extended beyond the period fixed for the public sales, then any lands which should become forfeited by the claimant's failure to make payment could not be sold until a public sale, for these particular tracts were directed by proclamation.

The third subject of the memorial, viz., the establishment of a federal court in that territory, the committee have not taken into consideration, as there is not now any proposition or bill having that in view before Congress.

The committee, therefore, recommend to the House the adoption of the following resolutions:

1st. Resolved, That a right of pre-emption ought not to be given to persons who have settled on the public lands, for land which they cultivate and inhabit.

2d. Resolved, That it is inexpedient to extend the time for making the first payment on pre-emption claims granted under an act of the last session of Congress.

2d SESSION.

LAND CLAIMS IN THE MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY.

COMMUNICATED TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES JANUARY 5, 1809.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, January 2, 1809.

SIR: I have the honor, in conformity with the several provisions of the laws providing for the sale of public lands south of the State of Tennessee, to transmit the transcripts of decisions received from the commissioners appointed to settle claims to lands in the Mississippi territory, in the following cases, viz.:

A. British patents disallowed by the commissioners west of Pearl river; the claimants not being residents.

a. British patents disallowed by the commissioners east of Pearl river, for the same reason.

A. 2. British patents filed with the commissioners west of Pearl river, under the fifth section of the act of the 2d March, 1805.

B. Claims disallowed, as antedated, by the commissioners west of Pearl river.

D. British and Spanish warrants, or orders of survey, disallowed by the commissioners west of Pearl river.

d. Spanish warrants, or orders of survey, disallowed by the commissioners east of Pearl river.

I have the honor to be, with great respect,

Your obedient servant,

ALBERT GALLATIN.

To the Honorable the SPEAKER of the House of Representatives.

MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY,
TOWN OF WASHINGTON, July 3, 1807.

SIR: The Board of Commissioners west of Pearl river, established by a law of Congress regulating the grants of land, and providing for the disposal of the lands of the United States south of the State of Tennessee, respectfully report:

That, having finished the business assigned them, so far as related to decisions, on the 15th ultimo proceeded to the execution of that part of their duty required by the seventh section of the said act, and find that it is not practicable to comply with the requisitions thereof, to the extent originally contemplated: because a survey of the lands has not, as yet, been made and returned, agreeably to the act aforesaid, by which the Board can know and ascertain the British claims required to be reported, and their conflicts with other claims, and also their present situation. They, therefore, are under the necessity of submitting the following, as the only report which, at this time, can be made, to wit:

The annexed abstract, marked (A) contains all the claims to lands held under "British grants, legally and fully executed, which have been duly recorded, the title of which is not confirmed to the holders thereof.

The conditions annexed to those grants are numerous, and may be classed under four heads: those denominated mandamus grants, those to officers of the army and navy, and those to any other description of persons; the conditions of which vary, as will be seen by a reference to a copy of each, which is contained in the annexed sheets, numbered 1, 2, 3, and 4.

As to the performance of any of the conditions of those grants, no evidence has been given or offered to the Board relative thereto: in fact, they seem to have been considered more as matter of form than substance, and to have become obsolete.

Abstract (B) contains such claims as have been disallowed by the Board, on suspicion of their being antedated; but to be reported to the Secretary of the Treasury, in conformity to the third section of an act supplementary to the before recited law.

Abstract (C) contains claims of minors, founded on warrants of survey, &c. and disallowed by the Board, and also required to be reported by the ninth section of said supplemental act. As to the circumstances which occasioned the issuing these warrants, and the validity attached to them, the commissioners observe that it seems to have been the policy of the Spanish Government to guard against monopolies of landed property: hence, it frequently happened that, in allotting lands to men with numerous families of children, certain portions were granted to their children, or some of them, in their own right, which, by the Spanish laws, had the same validity as if granted to persons of full age; that, under this character of title, the parties were in the habit of considering themselves as secure as if they had gone on to perfect their rights to complete patent, and especially as the powers of the Spanish Government to revoke the complete as well as the incomplete titles were the same; added to which, it was very expensive, by reason of the extortion and high fees of the Spanish officers, for the poor, or common class of people, to carry their claims through all the grades of title.

ROBERT WILLIAMS,

CONDITIONS.

1. Let a patent be prepared and engrossed, to pass the great seal of this province, importing His Majesty's most gracious grant unto Captain Amos Ogden, his heirs and assigns, of a plantation or tract of land, containing twenty five thousand acres, situate southwesterly about twenty-one miles from the old Natchez fort, bounded southerly by a creek called Homochitto creek, and about one-quarter of a mile east of a tract of one thousand acres, granted to Colin Graham, Esq. on said creek, about half a mile south from land granted to Junis Hooper, on a creek called Second creek, and on the other side by vacant land; together with all rights, members, privileges, and appurtenances to the same, being or in anywise belonging, upon the following terms, conditions, and reservations, viz.: That the said Amos Ogden do settle the said lands with foreign Protestants, or persons that shall be brought from His Majesty's other colonies in North America, within ten years from the date of the grant, in the proportion of one person for every hundred acres. That if one-third of the land is not settled with foreign Protestants, or persons that shall be brought from His Majesty's other colonies in North America, in the above mentioned proportion, within three years from the date of the grant, the whole to be forfeited to His Majesty, his heirs and successors.

That such part of the whole tract as is not settled with foreign Protestants, or persons that shall be brought from His Majesty's other colonies in North America, at the expiration of ten years from the date of the grant, do revert to His Majesty, his heirs, and successors. That an annual quit-rent of one halfpenny sterling per acre be reserved to His Majesty, his heirs, and successors, payable on the feast of St. Michael in every year, to commence and become payable upon one-half of the said land, on the feast of St. Michael which shall first happen after the expiration of five years from the date of the grant, and to be payable on every ensuing feast of St. Michael, or within fourteen days after; and the whole quantity to be subject in like manner to the like quit-rents, at the expiration of ten years. That there be a reservation in the said grant to His Majesty, his heirs, and successors, of all those parts of the land which the surveyor shall, upon the return of the survey, report to be proper for erecting fortifications, public wharfs, and naval yards, or for other military purposes. That there be a reservation to His Majesty, his heirs, and successors, of all mines of gold, silver, copper, lead, and coals. That, if any part of the land shall appear, by the surveyor's report, to be well adapted to the growth of hemp or flax, it shall be a condition of the grant that the grantee shall sow, and continue annually to cultivate, a due proportion of the land, not less than one acre in every thousand, with that beneficial article of produce; the same terms, conditions, and reservations above mentioned being conformable to His Majesty's order in council to me directed, bearing date the thirteenth day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and sixty-seven, and with the other usual clauses, reservations, provisoes, restrictions, and limitations, as contained in His Majesty's instructions; and, for so doing, this shall be your sufficient warrant.

2. To have and to hold the said tract of land, and all and singular the premises hereby granted, with the appurtenances, unto the said Daniel Clark, his heirs, and assigns, forever, in free and common soccage, yielding and paying unto us, our heirs, and successors, or to the Receiver General of our quit-rents for the time being, or to such other officer as shall be appointed to receive the same, a quit-rent of one halfpenny sterling per acre, at the feast of St. Michael every year, the first payment to commence on the said feast of St. Michael, which shall first happen after the expiration of ten years from the date hereof, or within fourteen days after the said feast, annually: Provided, always, and this present grant is upon condition, nevertheless, that the said Daniel Clark, his heirs, and assigns, shall and do, within three years after the expiration of the term of ten years aforesaid, for every fifty acres of plantable land hereby granted, clear and cultivate three acres, at least, in that part thereof which he or they shall judge most convenient and advantageous, or else do clear and drain three acres of swampy or sunken ground, or do drain three acres of marsh, if any such shall be contained therein; and shall further, within the time aforesaid, put and keep upon every fifty acres thereof, accounted barren, three neat cattle, and continue the same thereon, until three acres, for every fifty acres, be fully cleared and improved: and if it shall so happen that there be no part of the said tract of land fit for cultivation within the time aforesaid, without manuring and improving the same, if the said Daniel Clark, his heirs, and assigns, shall, within three years after the expiration of the ten years, as aforesaid, erect on some part of the said tract of land one good dwelling-house, to contain at least twenty feet in length, and sixteen feet in breadth, and put on his said land the like number of three neat cattle, as aforesaid, for every fifty acres therein contained; or otherwise, if any part of the said tract of land shall be stony or rocky ground, not fit for culture or pasture, shall and do, within three years, as aforesaid, besides erecting the said house, begin to employ thereon, and continue to work, for three years, then next ensuing, in digging any stone quarry or mine, one good and able hand for every hundred acres thereof, it shall be accounted a sufficient cultivation and improvement: Provided, also, that every three acres which shall be cleared and worked, or cleared and drained, as aforesaid, shall further be accounted a sufficient seating, planting, cultivation, and improvement, to save forever from forfeiture fifty acres of land in any part of the tract hereby granted; and the said Daniel Clark, his heirs, and assigns, shall be at liberty to withdraw his or their stock, or to forbear working in any quarry or mine, in proportion to such cultivation and improvements aforesaid, as shall be made upon the plantable lands, swampy, sunken grounds, or marshes therein contained: Provided, also, that this grant shall be duly registered in the Register's Office of this province, within six months from the date hereof; and, also, that a docket thereof shall be entered in the Auditor's Office within the same time, if any such establishment shall take place in this province: Provided, always, that the said Daniel Clark, his heirs, and assigns, at any time hereafter, having seated, planted, cultivated, and improved the said tract, or any part thereof, according to the directions and conditions above mentioned, may make proof of such seating, planting, cultivation, and improvement, in the general court, or in the court of the county district or precinct where the said land lieth, and have such proof certified to the Register's Office, and there entered with the record of this grant, a copy of which, duly attested, shall be admitted on any trial to prove the seating and planting of said land: Provided, always, nevertheless, that if the said Daniel Clark, his heirs and assigns, do not in all things fully comply with, and fulfil, the respective directions and conditions herein set forth, for the proper cultivation of the said land, within the time herein above limited for the completion thereof; or if the said Daniel Clark, his heirs, or assigns, shall not pay to us, our heirs, and successors, or to the Receiver General of our quit-rents, or to the proper officer appointed to receive the same, the said quit-rent of one halfpenny sterling per acre, on the said feast of St. Michael, or within fourteen days after, annually, for every acre contained in this grant, that then, and in either of these cases, respectively, this grant shall be void, any thing herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding; and the said lands, tenements, hereditaments, and premises hereby specified, and every part and parcel thereof, shall revert to us, our heirs and successors, fully and absolutely, as if the same had never been granted.

3. To have and to hold the said tract of land, and all and singular the premises hereby granted, with the appurtenances, unto the said Christopher Guice, his heirs, and assigns, forever, in free and common soccage, yielding and paying unto us, our heirs, and successors, or to the Receiver General of our quit-rents for the time being, or to such other officer as shall be appointed to receive the same quit-rent of one halfpenny per acre, at the feast of St. Michael, every year, the first payment to commence on the said feast of St. Michael which shall first happen after the expiration of two years from the date hereof, or within fourteen days after the feast, annually: Provided, always, and this present grant is upon condition, nevertheless, that the said Christopher Guice, his heirs, or assigns, shall and do, within three years after the date hereof, for every fifty acres of plantable land hereby granted, clear and cultivate three acres, at least, in that part thereof which he or they shall judge most convenient and advantageous, or else do clear and drain three acres of swampy or sunken ground, or do drain three acres of marsh, if any such shall be contained therein, and shall further, within the time aforesaid, put and keep upon every fifty acres thereof accounted barren, three neat cattle, and continue the same thereon, until three acres, for every fifty acres, be fully cleared and improved; and if it shall so happen that there be no part of the said tract of land fit for present cultivation, without manuring and improving the same, if the said Christopher Guice, his heirs, or assigns, shall, within three years from the date hereof, erect on some part of the said tract of land one good dwelling-house, to contain at least twenty feet in length and sixteen feet in breadth, and put on his said land the like number of three neat cattle as aforesaid, on every fifty acres therein contained; or, otherwise, if any part of the said tract of land shall be stony or rocky ground, not fit for culture or pasture, shall and do, within three years, as aforesaid, besides erecting the said house, begin to employ thereon, and continue to work fourteen years then next ensuing, in digging any stone quarry or mine, one good and able hand for every hundred acres thereof, it shall be accounted a sufficient cultivation and improvement: Provided, also, that every three acres which shall be cleared and worked, or cleared and drained as aforesaid, shall further be accounted a sufficient seating, planting, cultivation, and improvement, to save forever from forfeiture fifty acres of land, in any part of the tract hereby granted: And the said Christopher Guice, his heirs, and assigns, shall be at liberty to withdraw his or their stock, or to forbear working in any quarry or mine, in proportion to such cultivation and improvements aforesaid, as shall be made upon the plantable lands, swamps, sunken grounds, or marshes therein: Provided, also, that this grant shall be duly registered in the Register's office of this province, within six months from the date thereof, and, also, that a docket thereof shall be entered in the Auditor's Office, within the same time, if such establishment shall take place in this province: Provided, always, that the said Christopher Guice, his heirs, and assigns, at any time hereafter having seated, planted, cultivated, and improved the said land, or any part thereof, according to the directions and conditions above mentioned, may make proof of such seating, planting, cultivation, and improvement in the general court, or in the court of the county, district, or province where the said land lieth, and have such proof certified to the Register's Office, and there entered with the record of this grant, a copy of which, duly attested, shall be admitted on trial, to prove the seating and planting of the said land: Provided, always, nevertheless, that if the said Christopher Guice, his heirs, and assigns, do not in all things fully comply with and fulfil the respective directions and conditions herein above set forth, for the proper cultivation of the said land, within the time herein above limited for the completion thereof; or if the said Christopher Guice, his heirs, and assigns, shall not pay to us, our heirs, and successors, or to the Receiver General of our quit-rents, or to the proper officer appointed to receive the same, the said quit-rent of one halfpenny sterling per acre, on the said feast of St. Michael, or within fourteen days after, annually, for every acre contained in this grant; that then, and in either of these cases, respectively, this grant shall be void, any thing contained herein to the contrary notwithstanding; and the said lands, tenements, hereditaments, and premises hereby specified, and every part or parcel thereof, shall revert to us, our heirs, and successors, fully and absolutely, as if the same had never been granted.

4. To have and to hold the said tract of land, and all and singular the premises hereby granted, with the appurtenances, unto the said William Bay, his heirs, and assigns, forever, in free and common soccage, yielding and paying unto us, our heirs, and successors, or to the Receiver General of our quit-rents for the time being, or to such other officer as shall be appointed to receive the same, a quit-rent of one halfpenny sterling per acre, at the feast of St. Michael every year; the first payment to commence on the said feast of St. Michael which shall first happen after the expiration of ten years from the date hereof, or within fourteen days after the said feast, annually: Provided, always, and this present grant is upon condition, nevertheless, that this grant shall be duly registered in the Register's Office of this province, within six months from the date hereof; and, also, that a docket thereof shall be entered in the Auditor's Office, within the same time, if such establishment shall take place in this province: And provided, also, that if the said William Bay, his heirs, and assigns, do not in all things fully comply with and fulfil the conditions herein above set forth for the registering of this grant, within the time herein above limited for the completion thereof, or if the said William Bay, his heirs, or assigns, shall not pay to us, our heirs, and successors, or to the Receiver General of our quit-rents, or to the proper officer appointed to receive the same, the said quit-rent of one halfpenny sterling per acre, on the said feast of St. Michael, or within fourteen days after, annually, for every acre contained in this grant; that then, and in either of these cases, respectively, this grant shall be void, any thing herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding; and the said lands, tenements, hereditaments, and premises hereby specified, and every part and parcel thereof, shall revert to us, our heirs, and successors, fully and absolutely, as if the same had never been granted.

2083	Thomas Davy - - - -	Weston Varlo - - - -	1,000	On the waters of the Bayou Pierre,	The original patents to Weston Varlo for these three tracts have never been filed in this office; deeds of lease and release being the only evidence of title exhibited. 27th September, 1773. 17th October, 1774. 24th March, 1777.—Part of a grant of 1000 acres. The residue of the tract is claimed by William McCaleb and F. Bremarr, by whom the original patent was filed, under the act of 1803, and reported by the Commissioners, and numbered 120. 13th September, 1775.—The original patent is for 1000 acres, filed by E. H. Bay and J. A. W. Lloyd. See Commissioner's Nos. 216 and 775. This land is also claimed by William Johnson: see No. 1024. Deeds of conveyance, however, for the quantity here claimed, have been filed by the present claimant. 8th November, 1777.—The original patent for 2000 acres, filed by A. Macullagh and Daniel Ward's heirs: See Nos. 19 and 1954, who claim one moiety of the entire tract: there appears to be 500 acres for which no claim has been set up. 23d April, 1777.—No conveyance from the patentee produced. 22d October, 1779. 29th December, 1778.—No conveyance from the patentee produced. The above three tracts lie in the district east of Pearl river. There are no papers filed in these three claims. Halderman's attorney has presented unauthenticated plots of the land, stated to be copies from the original plots of the Surveyor General. 2d February, 1775.—Part of Lyman's mandamus, which was confiscated by the Spanish Government, and has been confirmed to the present settlers in possession, by the Board of Commissioners. A transcript from the British records, stating that a grant had issued to the Earl of Eglinton for this land, is the only evidence of title exhibited. This was presented by John McCaleb, in behalf of the heirs, but no power of attorney, or other document, proving him to be invested with authority to act, was ever shown. The land is entirely covered by Spanish patents, being one of the most flourishing settlements in this district.

Report of Claims founded on British and Spanish Warrants of Survey within the District west of Pearl River, disallowed by the Board of Commissioners; made in pursuance of the fourth section of an act entitled "An act concerning the sales of the lands of the United States, and for other purposes," passed March 31, 1808.

Regis-ter's No.	Claimant's name.	Name of the original claimant.	Situation.	Quantity.	Title.		Remarks, &c.
					Whence derived.	Date.
4 25	William Conway Thomas Green	Maurice Conway Thomas Green	Buffalo creek Near Natchez	800f. 100f.	Spanish Do	Oct. 1, 1788 Sept. 1, 1782	No evidence offered. This land was regranted by the Spanish Government, and a patent issued to Peter Piernas, February 24, 1783. The claim was confirmed by the Board to Robert Cochran, assignee of the patentee. Tho. M. Green says, "that he was present, and saw the Spanish surveyor run the two first lines the length and breadth of said land, beginning at a stake, a made corner. The surveyor marked the name of the claimant in initials on one of the corner trees, and delivered possession of the land to the claimant; and then the said deponent left the ground. The said deponent says, that the said Tho. Green was twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family, on the 1st September, 1782." William Barland says, "that he was present, to wit, in the fall of 1782, when the survey of said land was about to be run. He saw the stake and a made corner stuck in the ground, and saw the surveyor start; and then he went away. The next day he attended, and saw the survey finished. The said deponent further says, that he understood, by common report, that the Spanish commandant had rented, or had obtained leave of said Thomas Green to use said land as a pasture; and the said deponent saw the Spanish troops putting a fence round said premises for said commandant. A few days after the said survey was made the same surveyor run out a tract of land for said witness, and made one of said Thomas Green's lines a boundary for this deponent's line." Palser Shilling says, "that he was in the surveyor's office, where they showed him the plan or plot of the tract of land in question, included in a general map of the lands granted or surveyed in this country by the Spanish Government. This deponent further says, that he knows that the said Thomas Green and all his slaves, property, and papers were seized upon by the Spanish commandant, and sent to New Orleans; and that it was a general practice with said commandant to seize upon papers in particular, and to select and destroy such as he thought proper." Stephen Minor says, "that the claimant was the head of a family at the date of the warrant; that he never inhabited or cultivated this land; that, on the arrival of Peter Piernas, Lieutenant Governor under the Spanish Government, at Natchez, on or about the year 1784, he requested the witness to apply to the claimant to let him have a part of the land in question, to make a pasture for his horses, who consented, and a parcel thereon was fenced in accordingly by the said Piernas, and used as such; and the witness saw the surveyor general, Charles Trudeau, go out with the claimant to survey the said tract of land, and believes he did survey it for the said Green."

* This warrant was issued by the local governor of the district, and not by the governor-general of the province. Catura Wallis says, "that soon after the grant was obtained, the grantee died, and left a wife and five small children. The witness heard his wife complain, at the time of his decease, that he had made a small improvement on the land, and that she was left unable to continue it. Harrison Person says, "that, about two years ago, (October, 1803,) the claimant sent for the witness to get him to endeavor to save this land for her; and proposed to him, that, if he could save it, he should have one-half of it, or, that if he chose to purchase, he might have the whole for five hundred dollars. The witness took time to consider of said proposition, and, before he returned to her again, she had received a better offer from Thomas Evans, who lived nigh the premises, and refused to comply with the offer she had made to the witness, and required a return of the petition or title papers, which the witness returned about ten days afterwards. In the course of the conversation between the witness and the claimant, she acknowledged that no improvement had been made on the premises." Cyrus Hamilton says, "that Robert Cloyd landed in the Mississippi territory in the year 1796, some time about the month of July; and the witness does not know that he was ever in the country before, as the witness lived in the territory before and after that period, and never knew him, or heard of him, before that time."

stolen out of the house, among which might have been the grant belonging or issued to Steuart." Richard King says, "that he commanded the company of horse above mentioned, and that James Steuart was one of the company, and was entitled to the two hundred arpents aforesaid; that he received a grant from Governor Gayoso for the same, which the witness supposes is lost, with a number of others that were lodged with Stephen Minor, and that the warrants were generally issued to the company."

Adam Lanehart says, "that Hugh Matthews was the head of a family at the date of the warrant, or order of survey, and that he has been an actual settler in the Mississippi territory ever since, and before that time."

Prosper King says, "that John Montgomery was the head of a family at the date of the warrant; and the claimant made a small improvement on the premises in the year 1798."

The land was sold by Sanders to Henry Willis in 1791; and Willis, on the 24th September, 1794, devised these two tracts, with others, to his wife, now Sarah F. Chotard, and his son, Lewis Willis, who died; whereupon, his mother became possessed of his part of the property, who, together with her husband, John Chotard La Place, conveyed, by deed, to the claimant, 1st September, 1803. William McIntosh says, "that Henry Willis, in the year 1792, was an actual settler in the Mississippi territory, who left the country, with the permission of the Spanish Government, on necessary business, with the intention of returning; that Willis and Sanders (the original warrantees) were heads of families at the date of the warrants." Mary Conner says, "that Henry Willis, when he went to the State of Georgia, about the year 1791, left papers of considerable value, and also horses and cattle, his right to which has not been disputed by any person, in the possession of Mrs. Ann Savage, who also paid several debts for the said Willis during his absence; and further saith, that when she was in Georgia, in the year 1796, and in the neighborhood in which Willis resided after he left this country, she understood that he had prepared to return to this country as soon as he could go to Charleston in South Carolina, and return; at which place, she understood, he died in the year 1794." Abram Ellis says, "that shortly before Henry Willis left this country to go to Georgia, having a note of said Willis's, applied to him for payment, and was informed by him that Mrs. Savage would pay it for him, and that she was to attend to his business during his absence; and also, that the said Willis informed him that he intended to return to this country." William Conner says, "that all the patents of the lands in the Mississippi territory, of Henry Willis, deceased, now claimed by James Williams, as purchaser under the said Henry Willis, were among the papers of Mrs. Savage when her papers came into the hands of the witness, in the year 1798; also several other papers of the said Henry Willis, which showed that Mrs. Savage paid large sums of money towards the consideration money of the said lands during the absence of the said Henry Willis from this territory."

No evidence.

William Atchison says, "that Elias Bonnell was upwards of twenty-one years of age at the date of the warrant, and that he, the witness, surveyed the land in question about the year 1791."

No evidence.

William Thomas says, "that Martin Carney was twenty-one years of age at the date of the warrant, and inhabited the land before and at the date of the warrant, by living in a house he had built, but never cultivated it, and then sold it to the claimant; and there has never been any cultivation or habitation of it since Carney sold it," (13th March, 1797.)

No order of survey has been produced, and the only evidence that such a document ever existed is contained in a certificate signed in 1803 by William Atchison, formerly a deputy surveyor, stating, in substance, that he had surveyed the land in question for the claimant by virtue of an order from Manuel Gayoso, in 1793, (who was then the Governor of this district,) that every person should enjoy the swamp in front of their land. William Roach says, "that the land in question is swamp land, on the Buffalo creek, near the mouth, and that the claimant lived on bluff land adjoining it in the year 1787, and for twelve or fourteen years following; during the whole time the claimant got boards, shingles, and rails off the premises in question; no other use was ever made of it, except for getting timber."

* The act of Congress, passed on the 3d of March, 1823, "For the relief of the heirs and representatives of Alex. Montgomery, dec'd," authorizes them to locate other lands in lieu of those contained in this order of survey.

wards he heard from others that Garret Rapalje was gone to the States for his family, and died there; that he knows four of his sons, to wit, George, Isaac, Jacques, and Garret; Jacques was in this country in the year 1789, and continued here until he died, in 1797; George came in 1796, and this has been his place of residence ever since; Isaac was here, and several times back and forward to the Walnut hills before his father, Garret, went away; Garret, the younger, has lived, and does live, below the line. The heirs aforesaid have never been in possession of the premises claimed that the witness knows of." John Girault, a witness introduced by Elihu Hall Bay, a conflicting claimant, says, "that, early in the year 1791, he attended Governor Gayoso on a visit to the Walnut hills, to view the place where the Governor intended to erect a fortification; that, on their arrival at Watkin's creek, they found a small cabin on the lower side of it, where they encamped all night; after the Governor had been informed that the cabin was erected by Garret Rapalje, he appeared surprised that Rapalje should have persisted in erecting it after being forbidden by him; the Governor then took possession of it in the name of the King, and wrote on one side of the joists, 'Casa Gayoso;' there was no person at or about the place, nor any appearance of recent cultivation, but there was an old field which the witness took to be the settlement of Watkins, as he, the witness, had been there in 1775, and, from information, understood that Watkins lived there at that time. In the latter part of the month of March following, the Governor returned to erect the fortification he had before proposed, and, on the 1st of April, arrived at the same cabin, which was still uninhabited, and stopped and dined there; that a number of artificers were present for the purpose of erecting the fort, among whom was John Shackler. Afterwards Rapalje made application to permit him to return and inhabit the house, which the Governor positively refused; the witness knows that several other applications were made to settle the Walnut hills, which were also refused; the witness was frequently at the Walnut hills afterwards, and never saw Rapalje or any of his family, inhabiting or cultivating the tenement; but the witness does not know, of his own knowledge, whether Rapalje cultivated the premises or not, but rather thinks he did not."

Joshua Howard says, "that William Vardiman was a resident in the Mississippi territory on the 27th October, 1795, and was twenty-one years of age at the date of the warrant."

No evidence.

John Collins says, "that the claimant was a resident in the Mississippi territory on the 27th October, 1795."

Bennet Truly says, "that Thomas Green was an actual settler in the Mississippi territory on the 27th October, 1795, and that he was then the head of a family." Ferdinand L. Claiborne says, "that he paid for the claimant, Col. John Ellis, to Col. Thomas Green, two thousand dollars, being the consideration money for a tract of land lying on the bayou Sara, which the said John Ellis had purchased of the said Green, which tract contained eight hundred arpents."

John Roberts says, "that Francis Jones came into the country in the year 1788, to look for land, and procured a warrant of survey from the Spanish Government, and left it in the hands of Henry Green, to have it laid and surveyed, who did the same on the land now claimed; in the mean time, to wit, in the fall of 1788, Jones went to the States to fetch his family, and brought them to the neighborhood, and went on the land with his negroes in May, 1798, and began improving, and cleared trees and cane off of about four or five acres, and prepared timber for a house, and then sold it to Ferguson, Wooley, & Co. who sold to the claimant." Henry Green's deposition: "I do certify, that, in the year 1789, to the best of my recollection, Francis Jones petitioned to the Spanish Government for a certain tract of land, containing four hundred arpents, joining the land I now cultivate; the abovementioned tract was granted to the said Jones, and surveyed by my direction in the year 1791, as agent for Mr. Jones, and kept in possession for said Jones by me, as his agent, until 1798, when said Jones removed to the country, took possession, and improved, and planted fruit trees on said tract." William Thomas says, "that the premises in question were improved either in the year 1790 or 1791, but the witness does not recollect by whom, nor whether the improvement was continued, not having been that way since."

813	Robert Dunbar	Robert Dunbar	Bayou Pierre	250	British	Feb. 12, 1778.	Benjamin Bealk says, "that the claimant was an actual settler, and the head of a family, in the Mississippi territory, in the year 1781, to the best of his knowledge and belief, and was previous to that time." James Truly says, "that Robert Dunbar was an actual settler in the Mississippi territory on and before the date of the warrant, to wit, on the 12th February, 1788, and was then the head of a family; that the said order of survey did not come to the hands of the said Robert, in consequence, as he believes, of the war which prevailed at that time between the British and Spanish Governments, until about the summer of 1803, when it was found among the papers of one Richard Harrison, after his death: said Dunbar being entitled to so much land, as a head right, under the British Government, and expecting a confirmation of his title, disposed of it to said Harrison, and gave his obligation to said Harrison to confirm the same to him when the titles should be fully completed. This deponent further says, that one Philip Barber, the uncle and co-partner in trade of the said Harrison, was taken by the Spaniards on his way from Pensacola to this country, about the year 1778, and, with his papers, was carried to New Orleans; and that this deponent believes the above mentioned warrant of survey to have been among them, as he, this deponent, afterwards found it in a trunk of the said Harrison, after his death, with other papers of a like description." No warrant produced.
889	John Crunkleton	James Crunkleton	Bayou Pierre	640	British	-	Patrick Cogan says, "he has been acquainted fourteen years with the land in question, and seven years with the claimant. The land, when he was first acquainted with it, appeared to have been formerly settled by some person; and he understood, in the neighborhood, that it belonged to the father of the claimant, and that he formerly resided on it. He understood, also, that the father left the country on account of war in it between the Indians and Spaniards, or at least on account of public troubles." Zachariah Kirkland says, "that, about two years ago, the claimant came to him and offered him lands for sale on James's creek, which he believes to be the land now claimed; that the claimant then showed him a part of a British warrant granted to his father, the other part being lost, but knows not what land it was for; that he has heard John Staybraker say, that he had been at the house of the claimant's father, when he lived upon the land in question." Joseph Dyson says, "that a certain Thomas James went to Pensacola, in the year 1778, to get a warrant for James Symmons, and another for James Crunkleton, the father of the claimant; and, after said Thomas James returned, he saw the warrant in Crunkleton's hands, which he understood was for the land in question, and that Crunkleton settled on the land immediately, and cultivated it for about two years, and then went to the States on account of the rebellion here. In about three or four years, Crunkleton returned with an intention to settle on the land again, but was taken sick and died. The present claimant, immediately after he got married, settled on the land in question, as the witness believes, and has continued to inhabit and cultivate the same ever since; that it is the same place his father formerly settled on as before mentioned, and there are about six acres or more cleared, and a dwelling house and out-houses." On cross-examination, he does not know what quantity of land the warrant called for. No warrant produced. Stated to be lost.

The witness does not know whether Adam Cloud resided in the Mississippi territory on the 27th October, 1795. Cloud was sent out of the territory by order of the Spanish Government, and left Colonel Forman as his attorney."
924	William Clare	William Clare	Cole's creek	240f.	do.	-	No warrant produced; but a survey made by William Thomas, dated 20th February, 1795, by an order of William Dunbar, dated February 13, 1795. Henry Stampley says, "that the claimant was about twenty years of age at the date of the survey. About four years ago, (1801,) the claimant cleared and cultivated about six acres, and made a crop on it, and has done nothing since that the witness knows of."
937 1,372	Catherine Surget Charles Surget	Peter Surget Charles Surget,	Feliciana creek Feliciana creek	800f. 500f.	do. do.	Nov. 13, 1794 Dec. 13, 1794	William Atchison says, "that Peter Surget and Charles Surget severally inhabited and cultivated these two tracts on the 27th October, 1795, and that the former was the head of a family, and the latter twenty-one years of age at the date of the warrant." Samuel Stockett says, "that, in the year 1802, in the month of March, he came to this country for the purpose of settling, and intended doing so on vacant land, by which intention he had occasion to travel over the land claimed as above stated, and that there was no settlement, or appearance of cultivation, on any part of the above tract; after which, he, this deponent, returned to the State of Tennessee, and came back in the fall following 1802, and traversed said tracts, with other lands, and still discovered no settlement on the said tract; but in consequence of seeing some old marked lines, he did not settle on said lands."
							Isaac Johnson says, "that he is well acquainted with the land in question, (to wit: No. 1,372;) that he came to this country in the year 1800, and that he went over this tract, and another tract adjoining to, and belonging to the brother of the claimant, (to wit: No. 937,) with an intention of purchasing. In the year 1800, at the time he called on Mr. Surget to make a purchase of it, Mr. Surget informed him that a part of the lands, containing thirteen hundred acres, belonged to him, and a part to his brother; that these two tracts were in one survey, one of eight hundred arpents, and the other of five hundred arpents, but that there were two rights for them. On his return to this country, in the year 1801, he went over these two tracts, and observed the lines, and three or four corner trees marked with the name of Surget; that he travelled over the greater part, if not all the lands in these two tracts, in the spring of 1801, and that there was not then the least evidence of any improvement or cultivation, as the witness observed, on either of the tracts."
							Moses Starnes says, "that he is acquainted with the premises in question, as he has been frequently over them. In February, 1801, he moved to this country, and settled within a mile or a mile and a half of the premises. He very often travelled over the tract of five hundred arpents, and another tract adjoining thereto, which was claimed by the Surgets, and which he understood were all one claim; that he believes there are not one hundred yards square of both these tracts that he has not travelled over. At the time this deponent first went over these tracts of land, in March 1801, and to the present day, he never discovered the least evidence of an improvement or cultivation on either of the tracts. The only evidence which he discovered, was some marked corner trees, which marks appeared not to be more than two or three years standing."

No warrant was produced, but a certificate by William Vousdan that a survey was made on the 11th November, 1788. William Thomas says, "that the claimant obtained a warrant from the Spanish Government for eight hundred arpents, upwards of fourteen years ago; that the witness acted as deputy surveyor to William Vousdan, who was surveyor for this district at that time; and, in virtue of said warrant or order, surveyed a tract of land of eight hundred arpents, on the north side of the north fork of the bayou Pierre, which survey included a place called the White Ground Lick, near to which a certain Benjamin Foy resided in what is called a camp, near the centre of the land; that the present claim of three hundred arpents is included in the John Girault says, "that after William Vousdan resigned, William Dunbar was appointed the surveyor of Natchez district by the Spanish Government, and that he, the witness, acting as deputy surveyor under him, surveyed a tract of land, by order of the Spanish Government, of three hundred and twenty arpents, for the above mentioned Benjamin Foy, within the survey of eight hundred arpents aforesaid; that the said Foy, being interpreter to the Spanish Government, was favored by them, and had a grant for five hundred arpents, as the witness understood; but, as Mrs. Brashears had a prior right, he agreed to take only three hundred and twenty arpents out of the eight hundred arpents aforesaid, which the witness surveyed for him as aforesaid, and left the residue for Mrs. Brashears; that said survey was made on the upper end of said eight hundred acre tract." Major Stephen Minor says, "that he, the witness, knows that a warrant of survey issued from the Spanish Government to the claimant for eight hundred arpents, about fourteen or fifteen years ago," (1790.) No warrant produced. William Silkrigs, sworn on the voire dire , says, "that he is in no instance interested in this claim at present; that he, the witness, in the year 1777, began to improve this land, and built him a house, and cleared and fenced in about three acres; and the next year lived as overseer to one of his neighbors, yet cultivated a crop on the same place, and gathered it in, and hauled it to the house of the person where he lived, and then went off and staid about two months, and returned to his land again, and the Americans took him as a prisoner, and carried him down the river in the year 1779, and remained with the Americans some time, and was afterwards retaken by the British. By this time the Indians had plundered his place, and was thereby prevented from returning to it, and he continued down in the settled parts of the country, and continued there until lately, and obtained a Spanish grant in Adams county; that he, the witness, had a British warrant for the land in question; that under that warrant Mr. Vousdan surveyed the land; that he, the witness, sent the warrant and survey to Pensacola to get a patent, but they never were returned; and that the premises were surveyed in the month of August, 1777; the witness says he was twenty-one years of age in the year 1774."

1367	Heirs of Hiram Swayze	Hiram Swayze	Near Natchez	164	Spanish	Jan. 18, 1793	This warrant was granted by Governor Gayoso, and not by the Governor General. Richard King says, "that the grantee was twenty-one years of age at the date of the warrant, and the land was granted him as a bounty for military services. The claimants resided in the Mississippi territory on the 27th October, 1795. Hiram Swayze lived on or near the land in question from the year 1782 until he died, which was some time in the year 1794." Prosper King says, "that Hiram Swayze inhabited and cultivated the land in question at the time of his death, and his family continued to live on it, and cultivated for about two years afterwards." This land was regranted, and a patent issued, which has been confirmed by the commissioners.

MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY, *Washington county:*FORT STODDERT, Thursday, February 2, 1804.

Be it remembered that, in pursuance of an act of the seventh Congress of the United States, passed on the third of March, one thousand eight hundred and three, entitled, "An act regulating the grants of land, and providing for the disposal of the lands of the United States south of the State of Tennessee," and in virtue of commissions, by Thomas Jefferson, President of the United States, to Ephraim Kirby, and Robert Carter Nicholas, to wit:

THOMAS JEFFERSON, President of the United States of America: To all who shall see these presents, greeting:

Know ye, that, reposing special trust and confidence in the integrity, diligence, and discretion of Ephraim Kirby, of Connecticut, and Robert Carter Nicholas, of Kentucky, I do appoint them commissioners of the United States in Washington county, in the Mississippi territory, for the purpose of ascertaining the rights of persons claiming lands in the said territory east of Pearl river, in pursuance of the articles of agreement and cession between the United States and Georgia, of the three first sections of the act of Congress, entitled, "An act regulating the grants of land, and providing for the disposal of the lands of the United States south of the State of Tennessee;" and do authorize and empower them to execute and fulfil the duties of their respective offices, according to law: and to have and to hold the same, with all the rights and emoluments thereunto legally appertaining unto them, the said Ephraim Kirby, and Robert Carter Nicholas, during the pleasure of the President of the United States for the time being, as to both or either of them.

In testimony whereof, I have caused these letters to be made patent, and the seal of the United States to be hereunto affixed.

Given under my hand, at the city of Washington, the twelfth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and three, and of the Independence of the United States of America the twenty-eighth.

THOMAS JEFFERSON.

By the President:

JAMES MADISON, Secretary of State.

Who, in conformity thereto, severally took and subscribed the following oath, to wit:

I, Ephraim Kirby, do solemnly swear that I will impartially exercise and discharge the duties imposed upon me, by an act of Congress, entitled, "An act regulating the grants of land, and providing for the disposal of the lands of the United States south of the State of Tennessee," to the best of my skill and judgment.

EPHRAIM KIRBY.

Sworn and subscribed before me, Andrew Richardson, a Justice of the Peace for the county Alleghany, in the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in due form, at Pittsburg, this seventeenth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and three.

ANDREW RICHARDSON.

PENNSYLVANIA, Alleghany county, to wit:

I, Tarlton Bates, Prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas for the said county, do hereby certify that the above is the proper signature of Andrew Richardson; that the said Andrew Richardson is one of the commonwealth's Justices of the Peace in and for the said county, duly appointed, commissioned, and acting; and that full and entire faith and credit are and ought to be given to all his acts as such.

In testimony of which I have hereto set my hand, and the seal of the said court, at Pittsburg, this seventeenth day of October, in the twenty-eighth year of Independence, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and three.

T. BATES.

I, Robert Carter Nicholas, do solemnly swear that I will impartially exercise and discharge the duties imposed upon me by an act of Congress, entitled, "An act regulating the grants of land, and providing for the disposal of the lands of the United States south of the State of Tennessee," to the best of my skill and judgment.

ROBERT C. NICHOLAS.

Subscribed, and sworn before me, James Caller, a Justice of the Peace for the county of Washington, in the Mississippi territory, in due form, at Fort Stoddert, in said county, this first day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and four.

JAMES CALLER, J. P.

And also, in pursuance of a commission to Joseph Chambers, by the President of the United States, as follows, to wit:

THOMAS JEFFERSON, President of the United States of America: To all who shall see these presents, greeting:

Know ye, that, reposing special trust and confidence in the integrity, diligence, and discretion of Joseph Chambers, of the Mississippi territory, I do appoint him register of the land office of the United States in the county of Washington, in the Mississippi territory, for the lands lying east of Pearl river; and do authorize him to execute and fulfil the duties of that office according to law: and to have and to hold the said office, with all the rights and emoluments thereunto legally appertaining unto him, the said Joseph Chambers, during the pleasure of the President of the United States for the time being, and until the end of the next session of the Senate of the United States, and no longer.

In testimony whereof, I have caused these letters to be made patent, and the seal of the United States to be hereunto affixed.

Given under my hand, at the city of Washington, the twelfth day of July, in the year of our Lord [L. s.] one thousand eight hundred and three; and of the Independence of the United States of America the twenty-eighth.

THOMAS JEFFERSON.

By the President:

JAMES MADISON, Secretary of State.

Who also took and subscribed the following oath, to wit: I, Joseph Chambers, do solemnly swear that I will impartially exercise and discharge the duties imposed upon me, by an act of Congress, entitled, "An act regulating the grants of land, and providing for the disposal of the lands of the United States south of the State of Tennessee," to the best of my skill and judgment.

JOSEPH CHAMBERS.

Subscribed and sworn before me, James Caller, a Justice of the Peace for the county of Washington, Mississippi territory, in due form, at Fort Stoddert, this second day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and four.

JAMES CALLER, J. P.

The said Ephraim Kirby, Robert Carter Nicholas, and Joseph Chambers, met and formed the board, and the board then proceeded to the choice of a clerk: whereupon, David Parmelee 2d was unanimously appointed, who, being notified of his appointment, accepted the same, and appeared, took and subscribed the oath required by law, to wit:

I, David Parmelee 2d, do solemnly swear, that I will truly and faithfully enter and record all minutes, proceedings, and decisions of the board of commissioners for the county of Washington, appointed under, and by virtue of an act of the United States, entitled "An act regulating the grants, and providing for the disposal of the lands of the United States south of the State of Tennessee, and will and faithfully do and perform all other acts and things in said act pointed out as the duty of a clerk of the said board.

DAVID PARMELEE, 2d.

Sworn, and subscribed in presence of the board of commissioners, February 2, 1804.

ISAAC RYAN'S case, No. 1 on the docket of the board, and No. 4 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and thirty-five acres, under the second section of the act.

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress, passed the third day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claim to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the waters of Bassett's creek, bounded as follows: beginning at a black gum, south, eighty-six degrees west, thirty-three chains; south, twenty-two degrees west, thirty-two chains; south, fifty-eight degrees east, eighty chains; north fifty-three degrees east, fifty chains, to a gum; north seven degrees west, seventy chains; to a beach on the side of Bassett's creek; thence to the beginning; containing six hundred thirty-five acres, having such forms and marks, natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed; which said tract of land is claimed under and in virtue of the second section of the aforesaid act of Congress as a donation, and is now exhibited under the register of the land office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot* hereunto annexed.

ISAAC RYAN.

JAMES MORGAN'S case, No 2 on the docket of the board, and No. 5 on the books of the register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of three hundred and twenty acres and five-eighths of an acre, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the waters of House's mill creek, beginning at a lightwood stake, and running north, sixteen and a half degrees, east, one hundred and ninety poles, to a stake and pine; thence, north, seventy-three and a half degrees west, two hundred and seventy poles, to a small post oak; thence, south, sixteen and a half degrees west, one hundred and ninety poles, to a pine; thence, in a direct line to the beginning; containing three hundred and twenty acres and five-eighths of an acre, having such marks, natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed; which is claimed under and by virtue of the third section of the said act of Congress as a pre-emption, and is now exhibited to the register of the land office east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot hereunto annexed.

JAMES MORGAN,

Legal representative of John Burney.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed for James Morgan a tract of land containing three hundred and twenty and five-eighths acres, lying in Washington county, on one of the head branches of House's mill creek, beginning at a lightwood stake near the branch, and runs north, sixteen and a half degrees east, one hundred and ninety poles, to a stake and pine corner: thence, north, seventy-three and a half degrees west, two hundred and seventy poles, to a small post oak corner; thence, south, sixteen and a half degrees west, one hundred and ninety poles, across the branch, to a pine corner; from thence, a direct line to the place of beginning. Surveyed 1st February, 1804, by J. Malone.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 21, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

In support of the right of representation, the said James Morgan produced a deed of conveyance from John Burney, bearing date the 4th day of December, 1803, duly executed, assigning, relinquishing, and conveying to the said James Morgan all the said Burney's right and claim to the land described.

Edward Lloyd Wailes, of the county of Washington, in the Mississippi territory, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn before the board, did depose, that John Burney, the person on whose right the present claimant appears, did, on the 3d day of March last, inhabit and cultivate the land now claimed by the said Morgan, as his legal representative; and that the said Burney was at that time the head of a family, and that he had heard and believed that the said James Morgan, since he purchased the said right or improvement of the said Burney, had resided, and still did reside, on the premises; and that he had no knowledge that the same land was claimed by virtue of any British or Spanish grant, warrant, or order of survey.

The board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM MORGAN's case, No. 3 on the docket of the board, and No. 8 on the books of the register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of three hundred and nineteen acres, and nine-fortieths of an acre, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

WASHINGTON COUNTY, February 26, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the waters of Bassett's creek, in Washington county, beginning at a small pine, and running south, sixty and a half degrees west, two hundred and twenty-six poles, to a small black jack corner; thence, south, twenty-seven and a half degrees east, two hundred and twenty-six poles, to a lightwood stake corner; thence, north, sixty and a half degrees east, two hundred and twenty-six poles, to a post oak corner; thence, in a direct line to the place of beginning; containing three hundred and nineteen acres and nine-fortieths of an acre: having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, which is claimed under and by virtue of the third section of the said act of Congress as a pre-emption, and now exhibited to the register of the land office east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith annexed.

WILLIAM MORGAN.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed for William Morgan a tract of land, containing three hundred and nineteen and nine-fortieths acres, lying in the county of Washington, on a branch of Bassett's creek. Beginning at a small pine, running south sixty and a half degrees, west two hundred and twenty-six poles, to a small black jack corner; thence, south twenty-seven and a half degrees, east two hundred and twenty-six poles, to a light wood stake corner; thence, north sixty and a half degrees, east two hundred and twenty-six poles, to a post-oak and two pines, marked as corner trees; thence, a direct line to the beginning. Surveyed 30th January, 1804, by J. Malone.

Entered in the record of claims, vol. 1, page 38, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

James Morgan, of the county of Washington, in the Mississippi territory, was produced as a witness, and being duly sworn before the board, did depose, that William Morgan, the present claimant, did, on the 3d day of March last, inhabit and cultivate the lands now by him claimed, and still continues to inhabit and cultivate the same: and that the said William was at that time the head of a family, and that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the said land was not claimed by virtue of any British or Spanish grant, orders, or warrants of survey, or elder possession than that of the said William.

The board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration, and adjourned until Wednesday, the 29th instant.

FEBRUARY 18, 1804.

Entered in record of claims vol. 1, page 44, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Adam Hollinger, of the county Washington, in the Mississippi territory, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn before the board, did depose, that Nathan Blackwell, the present claimant, was in possession of the land now claimed in the year 1795, and has continued to inhabit and cultivate the same ever since; and that he was also at that time the head of a family, and of full age.

Young Gains, of the county of Washington, in the Mississippi territory, was also produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn before the board, deposed, that Nathan Blackwell did inhabit and cultivate the tract of land, represented by the plot annexed to his notice now presented to the board of commissioners, previous to the 27th of October, 1797, and had continued to inhabit and cultivate the same ever since; and that he was at that time the head of a family, and of full age. He also said that he did not know that the land claimed by said Blackwell is claimed by any British or Spanish grant, warrant, or order of survey, except a small part by Francis Boykin, under a Spanish warrant of survey, as he believed.

The board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration; then adjourned until Monday, the 5th instant.

JAMES GRIFFIN'S case, No. 6 on the docket of the board, and No. 9 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and eighteen acres, under the second section of the act.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the waters of Smith's creek, in the county of Washington, beginning at a pine stake, and running thence south, fifty degrees east, sixty-eight chains fifty links, to a black oak; thence, south, forty degrees west, ninety chains, to a pine; thence north, fifty degrees west, sixty-eight chains fifty links, to a stake; thence, north, forty degrees east, ninety chains, to the beginning; containing six hundred and eighteen acres, having such forms and marks, natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed: which said tract of land is claimed by James Griffin, in and by virtue of the second section of the said act of Congress as a donation; and is now exhibited to the register of the land office east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

JAMES GRIFFIN, his x mark.

FEBRUARY 28, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

The above plot is truly surveyed and made out by me, Robert Ligon, this 14th day of February, Anno Domini 1804. Beginning at or near the house that Thomas Baker evacuated some days since; beginning on a stake and running south, fifty degrees east; thence, south, forty degrees west; thence, north, fifty degrees west; thence, north, forty degrees east, to the beginning; including in the above lines six hundred and eighteen acres.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 39, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

John McGrew, senior, of the county of Washington, in the Mississippi territory, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn before the board, deposed, that James Griffin moved, settled upon, and cultivated the land now claimed, and represented by the plot presented to the board of commissioners, before the year 1797, and has continued to inhabit and cultivate the same ever since; that he then was, has continued to be, and now is, the head of a family, and of full age.

Question. Do you know whether this land is claimed by any British or Spanish claim?

Answer. I have understood that there is both a British and Spanish claim for this land, but I have never seen either.

Question. Do you know whether James Griffin, the claimant, claims any other lands in this territory in virtue of any British or Spanish title?

Answer. I do not know that he does, but believe that he does not.

Robert Ligon, of the county of Washington, in said territory, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn before the board, did depose, that the plot of James Griffin's donation claim is a true and correct representation, natural and artificial, of the land claimed; and that the claimant resides within the limits of this claim.

Question. Do you know and believe the chain carriers to be men of credibility?

Answer. I believe they are, but am not well acquainted with them, and cannot therefore answer positively that they are.

The board ordered that the case be adjourned for consideration.

ELISHA SIMMONS's case, No. 7 on the docket of the board, and No. 19 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of four hundred and fifty-four acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, lying on the west side of Tombigbee river, consisting of four hundred and fifty-four acres, is claimed by Elisha Simmons, of Washington county, and Mississippi territory, under and in virtue of an improvement and actual cultivation made previous to, and had and continued on, the third day of March, 1803, to the date hereof; which claim to the aforesaid four hundred and fifty-four acres is now delivered unto the register of the land office to be established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the plot thereof, herewith filed.

ELISHA SIMMONS.

FEBRUARY 24th, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Made out the 9th day of February, 1804, by me, Robert Ligon. Chain carriers, Rolly Green, Reuben Westmolan.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 52, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

William Rogers, of the county of Washington, in the Mississippi territory, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn before the board, deposed, that Elisha Simmons moved, lived, built a house on the place represented by the plot now presented to the commissioners, in the month of February, 1801, and has lived on the same ever since; and that he had then, and now has, a wife and two children.

Question. Do you know whether this land is claimed by any British or Spanish grants?

Answer. I do not know.

Question. Do you know of any other claims for this land than pre-emptions?

Answer. I do not.

Robert Ligon of said county, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn before the board, deposed:

Question. Is the plot now presented by Elisha Simmons, for a claim of pre-emption of four hundred and fifty-four acres of land, a true and correct one of the land thereby represented?

Answer. It is.

Question. Are the chain carriers men of credibility?

Answer. I believe they are

John McGrew, senior, of the county aforesaid, was also produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn before the board, deposed, that he believes that the claimant settled and lived on the land claimed about the time mentioned by William Rogers, and has continued on the same ever since, that he is the head of a family, and was so at that time.

Question. Is there any British or Spanish grants for this land?

Answer. There is a Spanish grant in the name of James Frazier, which I believe will be presented.

The board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM ROGERS's case, No. 8 on the docket of the board, and No. 25 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of three hundred and eighty-eight acres, under the third section of the act.

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of the Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee river, Washington county, butted on said river, and bounded on the southwest by Kirkland's old line beginning at a sassafras, his old corner, and runs with the old line south, seventy degrees west, fifty-five chains, to a small pine corner; on the northwest, by lands within Kirkland's survey, running north, twenty degrees west, fifty-five chains, to a small yellow leaf and whortleberry corner; on the northeast by said survey, and runs north, seventy degrees east, ninety two chains fifty links, to a stooping maple on the river bank; and from thence, the meanders of the river to the place of the beginning; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing three hundred and eighty-eight acres; is claimed by William Rogers, under and by virtue of a settlement, bearing date the 7th day of February, 1800, and now exhibited to the register of the land office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY, Washington County:

MARCH 10, 1804.

Hartwell Hardaway and Richard S. Bryan came personally before me, John Murrell, and made oath that they carried the chain in surveying a tract of land, by Thomas Malone, for James Caller, on Smith creek, on one side, and Tombigbee river on the other, to the best of their skill and judgment.

Sworn to before me, JOHN MURRELL, *J. P.*HARTWELL HARDAWAY, RICH. SMITH BRYAN.

In support of the right of representation, the said James Caller produced a deed of conveyance from Jesse Bryant, dated the 19th day of September, 1800, duly executed, assigning, relinquishing, and conveying, to Henry Snelgrove, all the said Bryant's right and claim to said land and the improvements made thereon; also, a deed of conveyance from said Henry Snelgrove, bearing date the 14th day of June, 1803, duly executed, assigning, relinquishing, and conveying, to the said James Caller, all the said Henry Snelgrove's right and claim to the said land, and the improvements made thereon.

Francis Boykin, of the county aforesaid, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn before the Board, deposed, that the land now claimed by James Caller was inhabited and cultivated by me, in the year 1795; that I removed from and abandoned the same, in the month of December of the same year; that Jesse Bryant occupied the same in the said month of December, 1795, and continued to inhabit and cultivate the same in the year 1798; and further, that the said land has been inhabited and cultivated by the said Bryant, or Henry Snelgrove, ever since the month of December, 1795; and that Jesse Bryant was, at that time, head of a family; that the plot, now exhibited by the said Caller to the Board, represents a correct view of the land claimed.

George Brewer was also produced as a witness, and being duly sworn before the Board, deposed, that Jesse Bryant inhabited and cultivated the land, now claimed by James Caller, in the year 1797; and that the same land has continued to be inhabited and cultivated by the said Bryant or Henry Snelgrove ever since; and that Bryant and Snelgrove are the heads of families, and were at that time.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

ISAAC RYAN'S case.—The following certificate was exhibited, to wit:

MARCH 10, 1804.

This day came before me, Thomas Basset and James Finn, and, being duly sworn, say that they carried the chain for Isaac Ryan's land, to the best of their skill and ability, so help them God!

WILLIAM H. HARGROVE, *J. P.*ROBERT LIGON, Surveyor.

JAMES MORGAN'S case.—Sampson Mounger, George Brewer, and Micajah Wall, were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that John Burney, as the legal representative of whom James Morgan claims the right of preference to purchase the tract of land represented by a plot exhibited by the said Morgan to the Board, inhabited and cultivated on the same, before and on the 3d day of March, 1803, by his representative; and that the said Burney was the head of a family.

Question. Do you know of any British, Spanish, or donation claim for this land?

Sampson Mounger.—I do not know of any, but have heard that John McGrew claims the same in virtue of a donation.

George Brewer.—John McGrew has told me that he claims this land in virtue of a donation.

Micajah Wall.—John McGrew has told me that he claims this land in virtue of a donation, and have heard, and believe, that he has surveyed the same.

EPHRAIM BARKER'S case, No. 11 on the docket of the Board, and No. 34 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act. The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress, passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situate on Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning at a willow corner, and running thence, north, seventy-nine degrees west, fifty-five chains thirty-four links, to a small gum; thence, north, forty-five degrees east, one hundred and forty-four chains, to a tupelo gum; thence, south, seventy-seven degrees east, fifty-five chains, to a gum; thence, south, forty-five degrees west, seventy-nine chains, to the river; thence, with the river, to the beginning; containing six hundred and forty acres; is claimed by Ephraim Barker in and by virtue of the second section of the said act, as a donation; having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY, Washington county, ss:

This day personally came before me John Clark and William Barker, and made oath that they performed their duty faithfully and impartially in carrying the chain around a tract of land, surveyed by William Gilliam, surveyor, for Ephraim Barker, on the 18th of February, 1804, lying on the west side of Tombigbee river, and bounded partly on the bank of said river.

Given under my hand and seal this 12th of March, 1804.

FIGURES LEWIS, J. P.

John Brewer, Esquire, and Wiley Barber were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that Ephraim Barker commenced to cultivate the land now claimed by him in the fall of the year 1797, and has continued to cultivate the same ever since; and that he was, at that time, the head of a family.

The board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

HIRAM MOUNGER'S case, No. 12 on the docket of the board, and No. 33 on the books of the register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, beginning on a pine, and running south, forty-four degrees east, one hundred and forty-four chains, down the Sunflower creek, to a tupelo gum; and thence, south, forty-seven degrees west, twenty-three chains, to stake in fifteen feet from black gum; and thence, north, thirty five degrees west, fifty-four chains, to tupelo gum; and thence, north, sixty-five degrees west, twenty-five chains fifty links, to water oak, and thence, south, seventy degrees west, thirty-five chains, to swamp bush; and thence, north, forty degrees west, thirty-five chains, to willow oak; and thence, north, forty-six degrees east, seventy-two chains, to the beginning pine; including six hundred and forty acres, being vacant land, now delivered to the register of the land office to be established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot hereunto filed.

HIRAM MOUNGER.

MARCH 14, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

The above survey was surveyed on the last day of February, beginning as follows, viz: on a pine; and thence, south, forty-four degrees east, one hundred and forty-four chains, directly down the said creek, to tupelo gum; thence, south, forty-seven degrees west, twenty-three chains; thence, north, thirty-five degrees west, fifty-four chains; thence, north, sixty-five degrees west, twenty-five chains fifty links; thence, south, seventy degrees west, thirty-five chains to branch; and up the said branch, amounting to fifty-seven chains; and thence, north, forty-six degrees east, to the beginning; bounded on the opposite of the said creek by vacant land, and on the opposite side by Charles Brewer, deceased.

Surveyed by me, Robert Ligon.—Chain carriers, James Danly, George Dieke.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that the plot now exhibited by Hiram Mounger, for the land claimed by him, presents a correct description, natural and artificial, of the same.

MARCH 10, 1804.

This day came before me, James Danley, and George Dieke, and swore that they carried the chain, in surveying a tract of land for Hiram Mounger, without favor or affection, to the best of their skill and ability, so help them God.

WILLIAM H. HARGRAVE, J. P.

ROBERT LIGON, Surveyor.

John Brewer was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that Hezekiah Wheat inhabited and cultivated the land now claimed by Hiram Mounger, in the year 1796; and that the same has been cultivated ever since; and that he has heard Hezekiah Wheat say that he had exchanged this land with Hiram Mounger for other lands claimed and improved by said Mounger; and that said Hezekiah Wheat was, in the year 1796, above twenty-one years of age; and that the plot now exhibited by said Mounger presents a correct view of the land claimed by him; and that he lives within the limits of his claim and survey.

Question. Do you know of any British or Spanish claim?

Answer. Do not know of any.

Solomon Wheat was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that his brother, Hezekiah Wheat, and himself, inhabited and cultivated the land now claimed by Hiram Mounger, in the year 1795 or 1796, and that the same has been cultivated and inhabited ever since; that, in the year 1798, his brother, Hezekiah Wheat, exchanged this land with said Mounger for other lands claimed and improved by him, and that the plot, now presented by Hiram Mounger to the board, exhibits correct view of the land claimed by him, and that he lives within the limits of his claim and survey.

The board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SAMPSON MOUNGER'S case, No. 13 on the docket of the Board, and No. 35 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and thirty-four acres under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on Mill creek, bounded as follows, viz.: beginning at a red oak corner; thence, south, fifty-four degrees east, seventy chains; thence, south, thirty degrees west, eighty chains, to a pine corner; thence, north, fifty-four degrees west, eighty-three chains, to an oak corner; thence, north, thirty-six degrees east, fifty-three chains, to a pine corner; thence, south, sixty-four degrees east, thirteen chains; thence, north, thirty-two degrees east, twenty-five chains, to the beginning; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing six hundred and thirty-four acres; is claimed by Sampson Mounger, under and by virtue of the second section of the act, bearing date 3d March, 1803; the said Mounger claims no other lands in the territory, and now exhibited unto the register of the land office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

SAMPSON MOUNGER.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed by Thomas Bilbo for Sampson Mounger, 9th February, 1804. Chain carriers, George Brewer and Osburn Brewer.

THOMAS BILBO.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 91, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

John Brewer, George Brewer, Jun., and, Hiram Mounger, were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said John and Hiram deposed, that Sampson Mounger built upon the tract of land claimed and represented by the plot exhibited to the board, in the year 1797; and that he was at that time the head of a family.

Question. Do you know that this land is claimed by a British or Spanish claim?

Answer. We do not.

The said George deposed, that Sampson Mounger built upon the tract of land claimed in the fall of the year 1797, and that he planted and cultivated within the limits of the same in the year 1798.

GEORGE BREWER, Jun. attorney for the heirs or legal representatives of William Brewer, deceased; case No. 14 on the docket of the board, and No. 37 on the books of the register.

Claim.—A donation of five hundred and ninety-four acres under the second section of the act.

The claimant, as attorney aforesaid, presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress, passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of the Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the Tombigbee, beginning at a cypress corner, made conditional between Sullivant and the party, on a lake, known by Sullivant's landing, on the island by the name of the Three Rivers, and running south, eighty degrees east, seventy-nine chains fifty links; thence, north, ten degrees east, to Tombigbee, and up the said river to a cut-off; thence, with the cut-off to said lake, across on the west side of said lake; and thence, south, seventy degrees west, to an old line; and thence, south, fifty-one degrees west, with the said line to a black oak; thence, north, fifty-five degrees east, to the beginning cypress: having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing five hundred and ninety-four acres, and is claimed by the heirs of William Brewer, Sen. deceased, under and by virtue of the second section, to wit, a donation title; and now exhibited unto the register of the land office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which they beg leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

GEORGE BREWER, Jun.,

Attorney in fact for the heirs.

MARCH, 15, 1804.

The above survey was surveyed the 23d of February, in the year 1804, per me, Robert Ligon, for the heirs of William Brewer, deceased, beginning on a cypress, at a landing on the east side of said lake, known by the name of Sullivant's landing, in the island known by the name of the Three River island, and running south, eighty degrees east, seventy-nine chains and fifty links; thence, north, ten degrees east, to Tombigbee, and up the said river to a cut-off; thence with the cut-off to said lake, across on the west side of said lake; and thence, south, seventy degrees west, to an old line; and thence, south, fifty-one degrees west, with the said line, to black oak; thence, south, thirty-five degrees east, to white oak, on one of the small creeks; and thence, north, fifty-five degrees east, to the beginning cypress.

You, Wiley Barker and William Barker, do solemnly swear that you have faithfully executed the employment of chain-carriers, without favor or affection, to the best of your skill and ability: so help you God.

WILLIAM H. HARGRAVE, J. P.

For the Three River tract, for the heirs of William Brewer, deceased. ROBERT LIGON, Surveyor.

FEBRUARY 1st, 1793.

Articles of agreement made and agreed upon, by and between George Brewer and Owen Sullivan, respecting his lands and possessions in the island.

The said Brewer agrees, if the said Sullivan will go and take possession of his houses and cleared land, and keep possession until the said Brewer call for the same again for himself, to give the said Sullivan half the land in the island; Sullivan to begin at the lower end of Mr. Brewer's old clearing; the island to be divided in the middle; Brewer to keep the upper end, and Sullivan the lower end of the said island of lands, lying at the mouth of the Three Rivers, over the lake. The above conditions are agreed upon by us.

GEO. BREWER,
OWEN SULLIVEN, his × mark.

N. B. And further agrees that, let Sullivan build a house on any part of the land, he would not dispossess him.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 94, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Wiley Barker, Richard Brashears, and Robert Ligon, surveyor, were produced as witnesses; and, being duly sworn, the said Barker deposed, that William Brewer inhabited and cultivated the land now claimed in the year 1793 or 1794, and that he died previous to the year 1797, and that this land was not cultivated by any of his family in the year 1797, or since; and that he heard Owen Sullivan and George Brewer, Jun. for the representatives of William Brewer, deceased, agree upon a conditional line, mentioned in the notice, and upon a cypress for the corner tree to this line; and that said Sullivan and Brewer agreed that Brewer's heirs should have the land lying above, or on the north side of the conditional line; and that Owen Sullivan should have the land lying below, or on the south side of this line.

The said Brashears deposed, that William Brewer, deceased, inhabited and cultivated the land now claimed in the year 1792; that he died in the year 1793, or 1794; that Owen Sullivan inhabited and cultivated the same land for the representatives of William Brewer, deceased, as by an agreement between George Brewer and said Sullivan may more fully appear; and that Owen Sullivan continued to inhabit and cultivate this land until within one or two years last past, when he died; that he saw the articles of agreement, now presented to the board, between George Brewer and Owen Sullivan, signed and delivered for the purposes therein mentioned; and that he also saw James Bilbo subscribe the same as a witness.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, deposed, that the plot now exhibited by George Brewer for donation to the heirs of William Brewer, deceased, represents a correct view, natural and artificial, of the land so claimed.

The board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SOLOMON WHEAT's case, No. 15 on the docket of the board, and No. 36 on the books of the register.

Claim.—A donation of two hundred and fifty-seven acres and one hundred and thirty-eight poles, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the waters of Bassett's creek, in Washington county, beginning on a pine, and running north, sixty degrees east, twenty-five chains; thence, south, thirty degrees east, sixty chains, to a lake; thence, five chains, to a hackberry station, twenty-six chains and fifty links to a large sycamore, fifteen chains to the corner white oak; thence, south, sixty degrees west; twenty-three chains, to the beginning; containing two hundred and fifty-seven acres and one hundred and thirty-eight poles, having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot herewith filed; is claimed by Solomon Wheat, in and by virtue of the second section of said act, as a donation. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

SOLOMON WHEAT, his × mark.

MARCH 15, 1804.

FEBRUARY 22d, 1804.

Then surveyed for Solomon Wheat, of Washington county, Mississippi territory, under a donation claim of land, two hundred and fifty-seven acres and one hundred and thirty-eight poles: beginning at a pine running north, sixty degrees east, twenty-five chains, to a pine; thence, south, thirty degrees east, sixty-five chains, to a lake; thence, to a fore-and-aft hackberry, five chains; thence to a cypress, twenty-six chains and fifty links, to a cypress pond; thence, to a white oak corner, fifteen chains and fifty links; thence, south, sixty degrees west, ninety-seven chains to Scot's beginning corner; thence, north, forty-one degrees west, fifteen chains, to the beginning.

WILLIAM GILLIAM.

Chain carriers, Benjamin Harrison and Thomas Goodwin.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 93, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

This may certify that Benjamin Harrison and Thomas Goodwin came before me, and made oath that they were chain bearers to William Gilliam, on a survey of a tract of land surveyed for Solomon Wheat, and that they gave a true account of the admeasurement as such. Given under my hand, this 15th day of March, 1804.

JAMES CALLER, J. P.

Sampson Mounger, Hiram Mounger, Ephraim Barker, and Richard Brashear, were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Hiram deposed, that, in the year 1796, or 1797, he commenced to clear, and did clear, about two acres of land; and, on the 10th day of September, he went to the State of Georgia, for the purpose of assisting his father to remove to the settlement on the Tombigbee river; and, in October, 1797, he returned to this country; in the year 1798, he exchanged the land by him claimed, with Solomon and Hezekiah Wheat, for another tract of land claimed by them; and that the plot now exhibited by Solomon Wheat is a true representation of the land by him now claimed, also of a part of the land transferred by him to Solomon and Hezekiah Wheat; and that Solomon and Hezekiah Wheat have divided the improvement, by a conditional line made between them, as they have both told him; further, that they both intend claiming a donation under and in virtue of the labor and improvement made by him in 1796, or 1797; that he was at that time twenty-one years of age.

Question. Do you know of any British or Spanish claim for this land?

Answer. I do not.

The said Barker deposed, that Hiram Mounger did clear some land on the tract now claimed by Solomon Wheat, in the year 1797, and that he was at that time, and has continued to be, an inhabitant of this country, and was twenty-one years of age; and further, that he has heard said Mounger say that he exchanged said improvement and claim with Solomon and Hezekiah Wheat, for other lands claimed and improved by them.

The said Brashear deposed, that he saw Hiram Mounger clearing land, in the year 1797, on the tract now claimed by Solomon Wheat, and that said Mounger told him that he had exchanged this improvement and claim to this land with Solomon and Hezekiah Wheat, for other lands claimed and improved by them; and that Solomon Wheat now inhabits and cultivates within the limits of this claim and survey; further, that he believes that Hiram Mounger was, at the time of his settlement, twenty-one years of age.

The said Sampson Mounger deposed, that his son Hiram Mounger was born in the year 1772.

The board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

RICHARD BRASHEAR's case, No. 16 on the docket of the Board, and No. 55 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of act.

The claimant, as assignee and legal representative of Patrick Brewer, presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot, of the land claimed, in the words and figures following to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed, pursuant to the act of Congress, the 3d March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land is claimed by Richard Brashear, of Washington county, Mississippi territory, under and in virtue of a settlement made by Patrick Brewer, in June, 1797, transferred by said Brewer to Sampson Mounger, 1798, and by said Mounger to James Denley in the same year, and by said Denley to George Dickey, in 1799, and by said Dickey to this claimant in May, 1800, bounded as follows, to wit: beginning on a white oak, and running north, thirty degrees west, eighty chains, to a tupelo gum; thence, south, sixty degrees west, eighty chains to a pine; thence, south, thirty degrees east, eighty chains, to a pine; thence, north, sixty degrees east, eighty chains, to the beginning; including in said lines six hundred and forty acres, now delivered to the register of the land office to be established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

RICHARD BRASHEAR.

MARCH 15th, 1804.

The above is justly and truly laid off by me, ROBERT LIGON.

Laid off the 14th July, 1803, for Richard Brashear, beginning on a white oak, and running north, thirty degrees west, eighty chains, to a tupelo gum; and from thence, south, sixty degrees west, eighty chains, to a pine; and thence, south, thirty degrees east, eighty chains, to a pine; thence, north, sixty degrees east, eighty chains, to beginning; including in said lines six hundred and forty acres; at the time of the survey, it was bounded by adjacent and undefined claims, including part of a claim held by Watley, and also the public ground, as the place appointed for the seat of justice in Wahington county.

WILLIAM H. HARGRAVE, J. P.

MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY, Washington County, ss.

I, David Gains, do swear that I have faithfully executed the office of chain carrier, to a survey of land made by Robert Ligon, and claimed by Richard Brashear. Sworn before me, this 10th of March, 1804.

JOHN MURRELL, J. P.

ROBERT LIGON, Surveyor.

Sampson Mounger and Hiram Mounger were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Hiram deposed, that, in the year 1797, Patrick Brewer built upon the tract of land claimed and represented by the plot exhibited to the board, and cultivated upon the same. Knows that he was the head of a family previous to this time; and believes that he continued to be so in the year 1797, and that he was twenty-one years of age; that he has heard Patrick Brewer acknowledge that he transferred his right of claim to this land to Sampson Mounger, and Sampson Mounger that he transferred his right of claim to James Denley, and James Denley that he transferred his right to George Dickey, and George Dickey that he transferred his right of claim to Richard Brashear, at the several dates as specified in the notice of claim, now exhibited by the said Brashear for the said tract; and that the said Brashear has remained in the possession of the same ever since.

The said Sampson deposed, that he purchased from Patrick Brewer, in the year 1798, and, in the same year, transferred the same to James Denley; further, that I know the said Brewer to have been the head of a family, and twenty-one years of age.

Question. Do you know whether there is any British or Spanish claim for this land?

Answer. We do not know of any.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

MICAJAH WALL's case, No. 17 on the docket of the Board, and No. 39 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption to three hundred and twenty acres and five-eighths of an acre, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on Smith's creek, in the county of Washington, beginning at James Morgan's northeast corner stake and pine, and runs north, seventy-three and a half degrees west, two hundred and seventy poles, to a small post oak, James Morgan's northwest corner; thence, north, sixteen and a half degrees east, one hundred and ninety poles, crossing the spring branch to a small black-jack corner; thence, south, seventy-three and a half degrees east, crossing spring branch, two hundred and seventy poles, to a light wood stake corner; from thence, a direct line to the beginning, containing three hundred and twenty acres and five-eighths of an acre; is claimed by Micajah Wall, in and by virtue of the third section of the said act, as a pre-emption; having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, and is now exhibited to the register of the land office, established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

MICAJAH WALL.

MARCH 15, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed for Micajah Wall a tract of land, containing three hundred and twenty and five-eighths acres, lying in Washington county, on the waters of Smith's creek; beginning at James Morgan's northeast corner stake and pine corner; and runs north, seventy-three and a half degrees west, two hundred and seventy poles, to a small post oak, James Morgan's northwest corner; thence, north, sixteen and a half degrees east, one hundred and ninety poles, crossing his spring branch, to a small black-jack corner; thence, south, seventy-three and a half degrees east, crossing another spring branch, two hundred and seventy poles, to a light wood stake corner; and from thence a direct line to the beginning. Surveyed 1st February, 1804, by

J. MALONE.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 100, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Sampson Mounger and George Brewer were produced as witnesses, and being duly sworn, deposed, that Micajah Wall, the present claimant, has inhabited and cultivated the land represented by the plot now exhibited to the Board, more than two years last past; and, during this whole time, hath been at the head of a family.

Question. Do you know of any British, Spanish, or donation claim for this land?

Sampson Mounger.—I do not know of any, but have heard that John McGrew claims the same, in virtue of a donation.

George Brewer.—John McGrew has told me, that he claims this land by virtue of a donation.

The board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration; then adjourned until Friday, the 16th instant.

FRIDAY, March 16, 1804.

The board met according to adjournment. Present: Ephraim Kirby, Robert C. Nicholas, Joseph Chambers.

RICHARD LEE's case, No. 18 on the docket of the Board and No. 44 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, as assignee and legal representative of Jordan Morgan, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress, passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims south of the Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, beginning at a small hickory, upon a line run by Thomas Bilbo for James Denley, on his tract, lying above or north of Thomas Wheat's land; and running thence, south, eighty-five degrees west, seven chains, to a pine; thence, north, fifty-five degrees west, seventy-five chains, to a hickory; thence, north, twelve degrees west, sixty-four chains, to a water oak; thence, east, eighty chains, to a white oak; and thence, south, to the beginning, one hundred and four chains; including in said lines six hundred and forty acres of land; bounded on the east by lands of James Denley and John Brewer, on the south by lands of John Brewer, on all other sides by adjacent undefined claims. This land is claimed by Richard Lee, of Washington county, Mississippi territory, under and in virtue of a settlement made by Jordan Morgan, in the month of August, or early in September, 1797, and sold by said Morgan to William Vardeman in the year 1799, and by John Caller, Esq., in behalf of said Vardeman, to this reporter, in the year 1801, April 16th; now delivered to the register of the land office to be established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

MARCH 14, 1804.

R. LEE.

[Plot omitted.]

The annexed survey was made the 10th of March, 1804, by the undersigned, for Richard Lee, having such marks, natural and artificial, as the above plot represents, beginning at a small hickory, upon a line run by Thomas Bilbo for James Denley, on his tract lying above or north of Thomas Wheat's land; and running thence, south, eighty-five degrees west, seven chains, to a pine; thence, north, fifty-five degrees west, seventy-five chains, to a hickory; thence, north, twelve degrees west, sixty-four chains, to a water oak; thence, east, eighty chains to a white oak; and thence, south, to the beginning; one hundred and four chains, bounded on the east by lands of James Denley and John Brewer, on the south by lands of John Brewer, on all other sides by adjacent undefined claims. This land surveyed for a donation claim.

Sworn before me, this 10th day of March, 1804.

WILLIAM H. HARGRAVE, J. P.

ROBERT LIGON, Surveyor.

Richard Brashear, Ephraim Barker, and Solomon Wheat, were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Brashear deposed, that, in 1797, Jordan Morgan inhabited and cleared upon the land now claimed by Richard Lee, under and by virtue of a habitation and improvement made by the said Morgan; also, that said Morgan has told me that he had, for a valuable consideration, transferred the land to William Vardeman; and that, immediately upon Morgan's quitting the habitation and improvement of this land, William Vardeman entered upon the same; and that Morgan was at that time twenty-one years of age.

The said Barker deposed, that, he believed that, in the year 1797, Jordan Morgan inhabited and improved the land now claimed by Richard Lee, in virtue of a purchase under Morgan; and that said Morgan has told me he transferred his right to the land now claimed to William Vardeman for a valuable consideration; and that, immediately upon Morgan's quitting the said habitation and improvement, William Vardeman entered thereon; and that Jordan Morgan was at that time twenty-one years of age.

The said Wheat deposed, that, in the year 1797, Jordan Morgan inhabited and improved the land now claimed by Richard Lee, in virtue of a purchase under said Morgan.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILEY BARKER's case, No. 19 on the docket of the Board, and No. 56 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, as legal representative to Daniel Barker, deceased, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed pursuant to the act of Congress, passed the 3d of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of the Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land is claimed by Wiley Barker, of Washington county, Mississippi territory, by virtue of a legacy of Daniel Barker, deceased, to which the settlement was made by the said Daniel Barker, and held until 1803, and held in occupation until this period, to wit: beginning on a tupelo gum and conditional line made between James Coplen, deceased, and Daniel Barker, deceased, and running south, sixty degrees west, eighty chains and fifty links, to a sweet gum; and from thence, north, thirty degrees west, seventy-nine chains fifty links, to a post oak; and from thence, north, sixty degrees east, eighty chains fifty links, to an ash; and thence, south, thirty degrees east, seventy-nine chains fifty links, to the beginning tupelo gum; including in said lines six hundred and forty acres, now delivered to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot hereunto filed.

WILEY BARKER,
Legatee of Daniel Barker.

MARCH 15, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

The above survey was surveyed the 24th February, 1804, per me, Robert Ligon, for the legatees of Daniel Barker, deceased, beginning on a tupelo gum, and running south, sixty degrees west, eighty chains fifty links, to black gum; and thence, north, thirty degrees west, seventy-nine chains fifty links, to post oak; thence, north, sixty degrees east, eighty chains fifty links, ash; thence, to the beginning tupelo gum; lying on the northeast by lands called Caller's, and on the northwest, and northeast, and southeast, on vacant land. Surveyed by me,

ROBERT LIGON.

Chain carriers, John Brewer, William Barker.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 167, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for
JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

You, John Brewer and William Barker, do solemnly swear that you have executed the employment of chain carriers, without favor or affection, to the best of your skill and ability; so help you God.

WILLIAM H. HARGRAVE, J. P.

ROBERT LIGON, Surveyor.

John Brewer, Esq. Ephraim Barker, and Richard Brashear, were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Brewer and Brashear deposed, that Daniel Barker, in the year 1797, commenced to cultivate and improve the land now claimed by Wiley Barker, in virtue of a legacy, and that he continued to inhabit the same until the year 1803, when he died; also, that he cultivated the same from the year 1798, until his death; and that he was twenty-one years of age at the date of his settlement.

The said Ephraim Barker deposed, that he was present at the death of his son, Daniel Barker, and that he heard him give to Wiley Barker the land now claimed a short time previous to his decease; and that Daniel Barker then requested him particularly to take notice that it was his will and desire that all his right and interest in this land should be vested in Wiley Barker, and that he was twenty-one years of age at the time of his settlement, which was in the year 1797; and that Daniel Barker departed this life in the year 1803, and that the present claimant immediately entered into the possession and cultivation of this land, and has continued in the possession and cultivation thereof ever since.

The board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WYCHE WATLEY's case, No. 20 on the docket of the Board, and No. 54 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of one hundred and thirty-four acres, as assignee and legal representative of Rebecca Kimbre, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims south of the Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice that the following tract of land, situated on the east side of the Sunflower creek, near the seat of justice for Washington county, beginning on a black oak, and running south, twenty-three degrees west, fifty-four chains to a pine on the above creek; and thence, down the said creek, south, sixty-three degrees east, eight chains, to a pine, one-eighth of a mile from said seat of justice; and thence, north, fifty-two degrees east, thirty-six chains, to a pine; and thence, south, fifty-five degrees east, seven chains, to pine; thence, north, fifty-two degrees east, one chain, to a post oak, to a line of Richard Lee's, and with the said line four chains to the said Lee's corner; thence, north, twelve degrees west, thirty chains, to swamp on stake; thence, south, eighty-six degrees west, twenty-five chains, to the beginning black oak; including in said lines one hundred and thirty-four acres, and also the two improvements made by Mrs. Kimbre. This land is claimed by Wyche Watley, of Washington county, Mississippi territory, now delivered to the Register of the Land Office to be established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot hereunto filed.

WYCHE WATLEY.

MARCH 15, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

The above survey was completed the 9th day of March by me, Lobert Ligon, for Wyche Watley, claimed by pre-emption, having such forms and marks, natural and artificial, as the above plot represents; beginning on the lake on a black oak, and running south, twenty-three degrees west, fifty-four chains, near the Sunflower creek; and from thence, south, sixty-three degrees east, eight chains; and thence, north, fifty-two degrees east, thirty-six chains; south, fifty-five degrees east, seven chains; thence, north, fifty-two degrees east, nine chains; thence, north, sixty degrees west, four chains, with Lee's line; thence running north, twelve degrees west, thirty chains, with said Lee's line, to Cypress swamp; thence, south, eighty-six degrees west, twenty-five chains, to the beginning, running into Brashear's line.

MARCH 10, 1803.

This day came before me James Donley and James Danley, and swore that they faithfully and truly carried the chain for to survey a tract of land for Wyche Watley, without favor or affection, to the best of their skill and ability; so help them God.

WILLIAM H. HARGRAVE, J. P.

ROBERT LIGON, Surveyor.

The said Watley produced a deed of conveyance from Rebecca Kimbre, bearing date the 9th day of October, 1802, duly executed, assigning, relinquishing, and conveying to the said Watley all the said Kimbre's right, title, and claim to said tract of land and the improvements made thereon.

Hiram Mounger, Ephraim Barker, Wiley Barker, and Richard Brashears, were produced as witnesses, and being duly sworn, the said Mounger deposed, that Rebecca Kimbre, in the year 1802, inhabited and cultivated on the land now claimed by Wyche Watley, as her representative; that, in the fall or winter of the same year, Mrs. Kimbre removed from and ceased to cultivate this land; and that the said land and improvement remained uncultivated and unoccupied from the time that Mrs. Kimbre left the same, until the month of December or January, 1803, when the said Wyche Watley occupied and commenced the further cultivation thereof; and that Mrs. Kimbre was the head of a family.

Question. At what time did Mr. Watley set out for the purpose of removing his family to the settlements on the Tombigbee, and at what time did he return with them?

Answer. He set out in the spring of the year 1803, and returned to this settlement with them in the fall or winter of the same year.

The said Ephraim Barker deposed that he knew nothing about the settlement made by Mrs. Kimbre.

The said Wiley Barker deposed, that he knew nothing, of his own knowledge, of the settlement made by Mrs. Kimbre.

The said Brashear deposed, that Rebecca Kimbre inhabited and cultivated the land now claimed in the year 1802, and that she was at that time the head of a family.

Question. Did you see Rebecca Kimbre sign and deliver, for the purpose therein mentioned, the instrument now presented to the Board, purporting to be a transfer from Rebecca Kimbre to Wyche Watley of the land now claimed, and did you see John Denley subscribe to the same as a witness?

Answer. I did.

Question put to Hiram Mounger. Was the land delivered to Mr. Watley or his agent by Mrs. Kimbre, and at what time?

Answer. Rebecca Kimbre, in the month of October, 1802, delivered the land now claimed to me, as the agent of Wyche Watley, and for his use and benefit.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN BREWER'S case, No. 21 on the docket of the Board, and No. — on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

To the Commissioners appointed pursuant to the act of Congress passed on the 3d of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting of claims to lands south of the Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, to wit: beginning on an ironwood, upon a line of the heirs of Charles Brewer, and running south, seventy degrees east, forty chains; thence squaring the course each way, lying on the south side of the land claimed by said heirs, and the same distance on the north side of Johnson's creek; this land is claimed by John Brewer, of Washington county, Mississippi territory, under and by virtue of a settlement made by this claimant in June, 1797, now delivered to the Register of the Land Office to be established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer; as also to the plot herewith filed.

JNO. BREWER.

MARCH 15, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

The above admeasurement is truly taken and laid down per me, Robert Ligon, this 15th day of February, 1804, beginning on the corner of the orphans of Charles Brewer, and running eighty chains each way, lying on the south side of said tract, and on the north side of Johnson's creek.

Chain carriers, Wiley Barker, and William Barker. Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page —, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY, Washington County, ss:

This day came before me, Figures Lewis, one of the Justices of the Peace for said county, Wiley Barker, and William Barker, chain carriers, and made oath, that they would do justice, and render a true account of the outs in measuring round a tract of land surveyed by Mr. Gilliam for me. Given under my hand, this 2d of March, 1804.

FIGURES LEWIS, J. P.

Wiley Barker and Ephraim Barker were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, they deposed, that, in the month of December, 1803, Figures Lewis commenced to build and improve the land now claimed, and has inhabited and cultivated the same ever since; and that he was at that time the head of a family.

Question. Do you know whether this land is claimed by any British, Spanish, or donation claim?

Answer. We do not know of any British or Spanish claim, but do know that all, or the greater part thereof, is claimed by the representatives of William Brewer, deceased, in virtue of a donation claim.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

GEORGE BREWER, JUN., case, No. 23 on the docket of the Board, and No. 62 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and twenty acres, as assignee and legal representative of James Watkins under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d of March, 1803, to receive and adjust the claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY, Washington County:

March 6, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on Bassett's creek, butting and bounded as follows: beginning on a red oak corner, on the lower line of George Brewer's Spanish claim, south, fifty-four degrees east, seventy chains, to a corner pine, along Mr. Sampson Mounger's line; thence, south, thirty-six degrees west, forty-five chains, to a corner white oak, on said Mounger's line; thence, south, sixty degrees east, forty chains, to a corner pine; thence, north, thirty degrees east, ninety chains, to corner stake; thence, north, sixty degrees west, one hundred and ten chains, to a corner red oak; thence, to the beginning first mentioned, having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing six hundred and twenty acres, is claimed by George Brewer, Jun. as the legal representative of James Watkins and George Johnston, under and by virtue of occupancy; the said tract herein specified being inhabited and cultivated, the said claimants legally represented by George Brewer, Jun. on the day of the evacuation of the Spanish troops from this territory, agreeable to the second section of an act of Congress entitled an act, &c. and for a long time previous to that time; and the same does not appear to be claimed by virtue of any of the preceding provisions of the act, and the said claimant, legally represented by George Brewer, claims no other lands in the territory, and now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. All of which he begs leave to refer, as also to the plot hereto fixed.

MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY, Washington County:

Appeared before me, Wm. Pierce, one of the Justices for said county, John Hall and Sampson Mounger, and made oath that they rendered a true adjustment of the outs in a survey made by Thomas Bilbo, for Mr. Watkins, as donation right, to George Brewer, Jun., his representative: as witness my hand and seal.

Sworn before me, the 26th day of March, 1804.

WILLIAM PIERCE, J. P.

Sampson Mounger, and John Caller, Esq. were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Caller deposed, that James Watkins inhabited and improved upon the land now claimed, in the year 1797, and also in the months of March and April, 1798; and that James Watkins was, in the year 1797, twenty-one years of age.

The said Mounger deposed, that James Watkins inhabited and improved upon the land now claimed, in the year 1797, and also in the months of March and April, 1798; and that James Watkins was, in the year 1797, twenty-one years of age. That James Watkins told me that he had transferred his right to the land now claimed unto George Johnston for a valuable consideration, and that immediately after James Watkins quit the possession of the land, and George Johnston entered the possession thereof, that George Johnston has told me, that he had, for a valuable consideration, transferred his right to the land now in question to Alexander McGrew, and I know that said McGrew possessed himself of the same; I have heard Alexander McGrew say that he had, for a valuable consideration, transferred his claim to this land to Julian Castro, and do know that Julian Castro possessed himself thereof. Julian Castro has told me that he had transferred, for a valuable consideration, his right to the same land to George Brewer, Jun., and I do know that said Brewer took possession thereof, in the year 1800 or 1801, and has continued in the possession and improvement thereof ever since.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOSIAH SKINNER's case, No. 24 on the docket of the Board, and No. 67 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of one hundred and eighty-five acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the waters of Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning on a red oak, being Thomas's corner, and runs thence, south, eighty-six degrees west, forty chains, to a stake; thence, north, forty-five degrees west, fifty chains, to a lightwood stump; thence, south, forty degrees west, one chain and fifty links, to a pine corner; thence, south, thirty-eight degrees east, one hundred and five chains, to a gum corner; thence, south, eighty degrees east, forty chains, to the river; thence, with the river to the beginning; containing one hundred and eighty-five acres, having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial as are represented in the plot annexed, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed, March 16, 1804: the above land is claimed under and by virtue of the third section of said act, as a pre-emption.

JOSIAH SKINNER.

MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY, Washington County:

Appeared before me, William Pierce, one of the Justices for the said county, John Hall, and made oath that he rendered a true adjustment of the outs as chain carrier in a survey made by Thomas Bilbo for Anna Mounger as donation right: as witness my hand and seal. Sworn before me, this twenty-sixth day of March, 1804.

WILLIAM PIERCE, J. P.

MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY, Washington County:

Personally appeared before me George Brewer, and made oath, that he carried the chain for a tract of land, surveyed for Anna Mounger, to the best of his knowledge. Given under my hand, March 30th, 1804. Sworn to before

JON. CALLIER, J. P.

George Brewer, Jun., Francis Boykin, and James Caller, Esq. were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Brewer and Boykin testified, that Elijah Thompson, the late husband of Anna Mounger, inhabited and cultivated the land now claimed by Anna Mounger, in the year 1796, and part of the year 1797; some time in the first part of this year, Elijah Thompson died, without lawful issue; that Anna Mounger, his wife, continued to inhabit and cultivate the same land, until sometime in the month of December, 1793, when she intermarried with Sampson Mounger; and that Sampson Mounger continued, after his intermarriage, to cultivate the year following.

The said Caller testified, that in the year 1802, he came into the possession of the land now claimed by Anna Mounger, by authority of Joshua Howard, who claimed the same, under an English title, but finding that the present claimant asserted her right to the land, and not finding any satisfactory title in Howard, he gave up the possession.

Question to each of the witnesses. Do you know whether this land is claimed by any Spanish or English title?

Answer. We do not.

Question to each of the witnesses. Do you know whether the present claimant makes claim to any other lands in this territory, by force of any British or Spanish grant, warrant, or order of survey?

Answer. We do not.

The board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

THOMAS CARSON's case, No. 26 on the docket of the Board, and No. 38 on the books of the register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, as assignee and legal representative of John Jacob Abner, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the waters of the Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning at a stake at the mouth of the lake, called the Polbyu, and running south, eighty-six degrees west, eighty chains, to a pine corner; thence, south, eleven degrees east, eighty chains, to a pine corner; thence, north, eighty-six degrees east, eighty chains, to a red oak standing on the river; thence, up the river to the beginning; containing six hundred and forty acres; having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed; which said tract of land is claimed by Thomas Carson, legal representative of John Jacob Abner, in and by virtue of the second section of the said act, as a donation, and is now exhibited to the register of the land office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

THOMAS CARSON,

Legal representative of John Jacob Abner.

the plot directs, eighty chains, to a stake at the mouth of Polbyu; thence south, eighty-six degrees west, eighty chains, to a pine; thence, south, eleven degrees east, eighty chains to a pine; thence, to the beginning; containing six hundred and forty acres. Surveyed the 12th of March, 1804.

NATT. CHRISTMAS.

Chain bearers, John Barnett, Godwin Mirack.

Entered in record of claims, volume 1, pages 97 and 98, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

This day came John Barnett and Goodwin Mirack before me, and made oath that, in all cases where they have borne the chain, they have done it to the best of their knowledge, and rendered a true account of the measurement; and that they would, in all cases hereafter, do the same in like manner.

Sworn before me this 5th of March, 1804.

JOSEPH THOMPSON, J. P.

The said Thomas Carson, in support of the right of representation, produced a deed of conveyance from John Jacob Abner, bearing date the 31st day of July, 1803, duly executed, assigning, relinquishing, and conveying to the said Carson, his heirs and assigns, all the said Abner's right, title, interest, and claim to the said land, and the improvements made thereon.

Adam Hollinger, Francis Boykin, and Richard Barrow, were produced as witnesses, and being duly sworn, the said Hollinger deposed, that John Jacob Abner did, in the year 1797, and for many years before, inhabit and cultivate the land now claimed, and continued to inhabit and cultivate the same, until after he sold his right to Thomas Carson; that the said Abner was, in the year 1797, the head of a family; in the spring of the year 1803, Thomas Carson entered into possession of the premises, and has so continued ever since.

The said Boykin testified, that Abner was in possession of the land in the year 1792 or 1793, but does not know that he lived there in 1797.

The said Barrow testified, that John Jacob Abner did inhabit and cultivate the land in question in the year 1797, and has continued to cultivate the same until the last year; and that he was of full age, and the head of a family in year 1797.

The board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

The Heirs of CHARLES BREWER, case No. 27 on the docket of the Board, and No. 57 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of five hundred and eighty-two acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimants presented their claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress, passed the 3d of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of the river Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

MARCH 14, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, beginning on a tupelo gum near the bank of Sunflower creek, or on a stake in and about fifteen feet from said gum, and bounding on five lines of Hiram Mounger's survey, and cornering on a stake in the branch, and running south, twenty degrees west, forty-four chains; thence, south, seventy degrees east, one hundred and twenty-seven chains, to the beginning. This land is claimed by the heirs of Charles Brewer, late of Washington county, Mississippi territory, deceased, under, and by virtue of, a settlement made by the said Charles Brewer, in September, 1797, and now delivered to the register of the land office, to be recorded as directed by said act. To which they beg leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

MARCH 10, 1804.

This day came before me George Dickey and Stephen Williams, and swore that they had faithfully and truly carried the chain in surveying a tract of land for the heirs of Charles Brewer, deceased, without favor or affection, to the best of their skill and ability: so help them God.

WILLIAM H. HARGRAVE, J. P.

ROBERT LIGON, Surveyor.

John Brewer, Esq. and Hiram Mounger, were produced as witnesses, and being duly sworn, they deposed, that the deceased Charles Brewer commenced the improvement of the land in question, in the fall of the year 1797, by clearing a little land, &c.: his family being sickly, he did not make a crop on the land in the year 1798, but came on to the land with his family in the fall of the year 1793, and continued to inhabit and cultivate the same until his decease, which was in the year 1802; his family have since continued to inhabit and cultivate the same land until the present time. The said Charles Brewer was the head of a family in the year 1797.

The board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES CALLER, Esq., case No. 28 on the docket of the Board, and No. 40 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of five hundred and sixty-seven acres and six-tenths of an acre, as assignee and legal representative of Joseph Anderson, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of an act of Congress passed the 3d of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of the Tennessee river, and east of the Pearl river.

FORT STODDERT, March 15, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land lying west of the Tombigbee river, butting and bounding northwardly, beginning at a sycamore on the bank of said river, being the conditional corner between Joseph Anderson and Jacob Abner, running south, seventy-six degrees west, to another black jack corner, agreed upon by the said Anderson and Abner; thence, to a stake on the same course, distance seventy chains; thence, south, three degrees east, seventy-five chains, to a black gum on the side of a small branch; thence, north, eighty-seven degrees east, seventy chains, to a stake on the river bank at Rochon's corner; then up the meanders of said river to the beginning corner; bounded northwardly by Jacob Abner's land, and southeastwardly by Rochon's land, west by vacant land, and on the east by the Tombigbee river, lying in the county of Washington, Mississippi territory, about two miles above Nanna Hubbs bluff; is claimed by James Caller, the legal representative of Joseph Anderson, the said Joseph Anderson having settled thereon on the — day of — 1793; and conveyed by said Anderson to Seth Dean, on the 3d of December, 1803, and from said Dean conveyed to James Caller, on the 16th day of January, 1804, under and by virtue of the donation, agreeably to the second section of an act of Congress, passed the 3d of March, 1805, as may appear by that act, to all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot now handed or delivered to the register of the land office to be established east of Pearl river, and to be recorded agreeably to that act.

JAMES CALLER,
JOSEPH ANDERSON.

[Plot omitted.]

MARCH 14, 1804.

Surveyed for James Caller, the legal representative of Joseph Anderson, a tract of land on the west side of the river Tombigbee, containing five hundred and sixty-seven and six-tenths acres; beginning at a sycamore on the bank of said river, being the conditional corner between the said Anderson and Jacob Abner, running south, seventy-six degrees west, to another black jack corner agreed on by the said Anderson and Abner; then to a stake on the same course, distance seventy chains; thence, south, three degrees east, seventy-five chains, to a black gum on the side of a small branch; thence, north, eighty-seven degrees east, seventy chains, to a stake on the river bank, at Rochon's corner; then up the meanders of said river to the beginning corner; bounded northwardly by Jacob Abner's land, and south-eastwardly by Rochon's land, west by vacant land, and on the east by the Tombigbee river, lying in the county of Washington, Mississippi territory.

Surveyed by James Gordon. Chain bearers, Joseph Bates, Sen., William Weathers.

Entered in record of claims, volume 1, page 101, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

[Plot omitted.]

Joseph Bates, Sen. and William Weathers, made oath, as chain bearers to James Gordon, surveyor, they have given a true account of the lands they admeasured for him as such, to the best of their knowledge.

JAMES CALLER, J. P.

In support of the right of representation, the claimant exhibited a deed of conveyance from Joseph Anderson, bearing date the 3d day of December, 1803, assigning and conveying to Seth Dean all the said Anderson's right, claim, and interest in the said tract of land, and the improvements made thereon; also produced a deed of conveyance from said Dean, bearing date the 18th day of January, 1804, conveying and assigning to the said James Caller all the said Dean's right and claim to the said tract of land, and to the improvements made thereon.

Adam Hollinger was produced as a witness, and being duly sworn, deposed, That the said Joseph Anderson entered into the land in question early in the year 1798, (believes in the month of February,) and cultivated a small crop that season, and lived on the land in a school-house; that the year following he built a house on the land, and continued there to inhabit and cultivate until about this time last year; he then sold his improvement, and moved off. At the time when he first went on to said land, he had a wife and family of children.

Question by James Caller. Did you ever hear Jacob Abner say that he and Anderson had agreed upon a conditional line between their respective possessions?

Answer. I did hear Abner say so, but do not know where the line was.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration."

HOWEL DUPREE'S case, No. 29 on the docket of the Board, and No. 42 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and thirteen acres, as assignee and legal representative of William Hillis, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting of the claims of land south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land is claimed by Howel Dupree, of Washington county, Mississippi territory, under, and in virtue of, a settlement made by William Hillis in the year 1795, now delivered to the register of the land office to be established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

HOWEL DUPREE.

MARCH 15, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

The above survey is just and true as it stands stated, surveyed the 14th day of March, 1804, by me, Robert Ligon, and having such marks, natural and artificial, as the plot represents; beginning on a line run for Creighton's survey, and running north, thirty-four degrees west, seventeen chains, to a sassafras; and from thence north, thirty-seven degrees east, thirty-five chains to pine; and from thence south, eighty-five degrees east, to water oak; and from thence north, twenty degrees east, thirty-four chains, to swamp bush; and from thence, meandering the river, and on its west side, to where the rivers Tombigbee and Alabama intersect each other, and corner on a sweet gum on the bank of said river, and running south, eighty degrees west, one hundred and fifty-two chains, to the beginning stake, including, in said lines, the improvement made by Hillis and transferred to Dupree, to which the same implies the surveying.

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY, Washington County:

MARCH 30, 1804.

Personally appeared before me John Hines and Edmund Smith, and made oath on the Holy Evangelists of Almighty God, deposed, and said, that they carried the chain for a tract of land surveyed for Howel Dupree, and that they effected the duty to the best of their skill and judgment, as directed by the surveyor.

Given under my hand. Sworn to before me,

JON. CALLIER, J. P.

The claimant exhibited a deed of conveyance from William Hillis, bearing date the 9th day of November, 1801, assigning and conveying to the said Howel Dupree all the said Hillis's right, interest, and claim to the said tract of land, and to the improvements made thereon.

Richard Barrow was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that, in the year 1795, William Hillis commenced the improvement and cultivation of the land now claimed, and continued to inhabit and improve the same until he sold his right to Howel Dupree in the year 1801; the last part of the time the said Hillis rented the land. When Dupree purchased the right of Hillis, he took the possession, and has continued to inhabit and cultivate the same until this time; that the said Hillis, at the time of his inhabiting, as aforesaid, the said land, in the year 1797, was the head of a family.

Question. Were you present when the said Hillis assigned his right to the land in question to the said Dupree?

Answer. I was; it was done at my house.

Question. Did you see it executed and delivered by Hillis?

Answer. I did, and signed it myself as a witness.

The board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES SCOTT'S case, No. 30 on the docket of the Board, and No. 41 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of three hundred and seventy-five acres and twenty poles, as assignee and legal representative of Gabriel Burrows, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims of lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the waters of Bassett's creek, in the county of Washington, beginning at a pine and running south, thirty degrees east, one hundred and twenty-two chains, to a gum corner; thence south, sixty degrees west, twenty-five chains, to a gum corner; thence north, thirty degrees west, seventy-nine chains, to a cypress corner; thence north, sixty degrees west, twenty-five chains, to a red oak; thence north, forty-five degrees west, thirty chains fifty links, to red oak; thence north, sixty-seven degrees east, fifty chains thirty links, to the beginning; containing three hundred and seventy-five acres and twenty poles, having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot herewith annexed: is claimed by James Scott, legal representative of Gabriel Burrows, and is now exhibited to the register of the land office established east of Pearl river; to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

JAMES SCOTT,

Legal representative of Gabriel Burrows.

MARCH 15, 1804.

FEBRUARY 18, 1804.

I have surveyed, for James Scott, three hundred and seventy-five acres and twenty poles of land, on the west side of Tombigbee river; its buttings and boundaries are as hereafter set down: beginning at a pine, running south, thirty degrees east, to a sweet gum, seventy-five chains, to an open pond; thence, to a tupelo gum corner, forty-seven chains; thence south, sixty degrees west, twenty-five chains; thence north, thirty degrees west, to a black gum station on Lee's line, forty-seven chains; thence, to a cypress corner, thirty-three chains; thence north, sixty-five degrees west, to a forked red oak corner, twenty-five chains; thence north, forty-five degrees west, to a mulberry station, twelve chains, thence, to a red oak sapling corner, eighteen chains twenty-five links, to the beginning, north, sixty-seven degrees east, fifty chains thirty links.

MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY, Washington County:

MARCH 13, 1804.

This day came before me, one of the justices assigned to keep the peace in said county, Solomon Wheat and Benjamin Harrison, and did swear that they carried the chain round the land that was run for James Scott, to the best of their knowledge: so help them God.

WILLIAM H. HARGRAVE, J. P.

The claimant exhibited a deed of conveyance from Gabriel Burrows, bearing date the 19th day of September, 1799, relinquishing and conveying to the said Scott all the said Burrows's right, title, and claim, to the said tract of land, and the improvements made thereon.

Hiram Mounser was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that about Christmas, in the year 1797, Gabriel Burrows removed on to the land in question, with his family, erected a house, and commenced the clearing of the land, and raised a crop upon the same the following season; that he continued to inhabit and cultivate the same until he sold his possessions to James Scott; the said James Scott then came into the possession of the premises, and has continued to inhabit and cultivate the same until this time; that the said Burrows was, at the time of commencing his settlement, as aforesaid, the head of a family.

The board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration, and adjourned until Saturday, the 17th instant.

THOMAS BASSETT's case, No. 31 on the docket of the Board, and No. 49 on the books of the Register.

Claim—Of seven hundred and fifty acres, as administrator of Nathaniel Bassett, deceased, who was son and heir of Thomas Bassett, deceased, under a British grant, confirmed by a Spanish warrant of survey, under the first section of the act.

The claimant exhibited his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress, passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of the Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice that the following tract of land, situated on the river Tombigbee, in the county of Washington, beginning at a sassafras, running thence, north, eighty-two degrees west, one hundred and twenty-five chains and seventy-five links, to a pine corner; thence, south, eighty degrees west, fifty-nine chains and twenty-eight links, to a black jack; thence, south, eighty-two degrees east, ninety-two chains, to a white ash on the river; thence, with the river, to the beginning; containing seven hundred and fifty acres, is claimed by Thomas Bassett, administrator of Nathaniel Bassett, in and by virtue of a British and Spanish grant, having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, and is now exhibited to the register of the land office, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

THOMAS BASSETT,

Administrator of Nathaniel Bassett.

MARCH 19, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

The above survey was surveyed the 27th day of February, 1804, for Thomas Bassett, the representative of Thomas Bassett his brother, lying and situated on the upper end of Mackintosh bluff, partly surround the basin, beginning on a sassafras, on the west side of the above river, and running north, eighty-two degrees west, one hundred and twenty-five chains, seventy-five links; thence, south, eight degrees west, fifty-nine chains, twenty-eight links; thence, south, eighty-two degrees east, ninety-two chains, to the above river or basin, including Hinston and Powell within the survey, amounting, by estimation, to seven hundred and fifty acres.

N. B. The within survey was surveyed by me, Robert Ligon.

Chain carriers, Francis Stringer, William Barker.

You, Francis Stringer and William Barker, do swear and affirm, that you have justly and truly carried the chain, as directed by the surveyor, to the best of your skill and ability, for Thomas Bassett; land situated on M'Intosh bluff.

JOHN BREWER, J. P.

ROBERT LIGON, Surveyor.

In support of this claim, the following written documents were introduced, to wit:

I, Nathaniel Bassett, inhabitant of this city, in the best form of law, before your excellency, appear and say, that from my late father, both my brother Thomas and myself inherited a certain quantity of land, situated on the river Tombigbee, formerly in the district of Mobile, but now included in the American territory, according to the limits lately fixed, which land consists of a plantation of one thousand and fifty acres, possessed by my brother, and another of seven hundred and fifty, whereupon lives, with our consent, Mr. Powel; which possessions were the property of our father, who had the titles thereof, from the time they were under the English government, having since, and while they belonged to the Spanish dominions, presented the said original documents to his excellency Stephen Miro, formerly Governor General of these provinces, who was pleased to confirm us, by the title we obtained from him, in the legal possession which we enjoyed. But several accidents happened to my mother, Lucy Bassett, having caused the seizure of her property, and among other things of the said titles, which were put in the public deposit; they were destroyed there in the fire of the year 1794. It being now necessary to ascertain the loss, in order to prove, in the American territory, that I am the legal owner of the aforesaid lands, I beg your excellency to be pleased to order an information to be taken, without delay, and deposition to be received, as well of the persons who saw us in peaceable possession of them, when the said river and its lands were delivered to this Government, as of those who have seen, not only the English titles which we had got, but also the confirmation granted to us in virtue of them, by the aforesaid Governor Miro. And to that end I beg your excellency to admit the justification I offer, issuing order for the witnesses whom I will present to be examined according to the tenor of what I have heretofore exposed, and to deliver me the whole after its execution, to the use, and with reserve of my rights; which favor I solicit with justice; and swear, &c.

NATHANIEL BASSETT.

It being presented, the information solicited by the petitioner will be received. Mr. Peter Derbigny, interpreter public, being called, if necessary, with the usual formalities, the execution of the present order is committed to the Notary, who, after it is duly complied with, will deliver it as is solicited.

[Here follows the Civil Governor's half signature.] It is so ordered by his honor Don Nicholas Vidal, Lieutenant Governor, Auditor of War for the provinces of Louisiana and West Florida, and Civil Governor temporary of the same, since the death of the Governor General, vice Patron Royal, and sub-delegate of the posts revenues, for His Majesty, who signed it in the city of New Orleans, the seventh day of July, one thousand eight hundred.

NARC. BROUTIN, Notary Public.

The same day I informed Mr. Nathaniel Bassett of the above.

BROUTIN, Notary Public.

The same day I communicated the above to Mr. Peter Derbigny, who said he accepted of the commission of interpreting therein given to him, and swore in the name of Almighty God to fulfil it faithfully. In witness whereof he has set his signature to the present.

PETER DERBIGNY.

Before me: NARC. BROUTIN, Notary Public.

In the city of New Orleans, the seventh day of July, one thousand eight hundred, Mr. Nathaniel Bassett presented as a witness, in the information by him solicited, according to the order given for its execution, Mr. Augustin Rochon, inhabitant of the town of Mobile, actually in this city, and in virtue of the commission to me conferred by the foregoing decree, and through the interpretation of Mr. Peter Derbigny, I received the oath which he made by the Almighty God, and the Holy Cross, according to law, to declare the truth in what will be under his knowledge, and being interrogated agreeably to the tenor of the foregoing petition, he said, that it is certain, to him known and notorious, that Nathaniel Bassett and his parents possessed some lands on the river Tombigbee, in the district of Mobile; and that he, the deponent, saw the said Nathaniel and his parents in quiet and peaceable possession of the said lands, at the time that the said river, and lands belonging to it, were given up to this crown; and further, he affirms that his present deposition contains the truth, agreeably to his oath; and after it was read to him, he ratified and confirmed it; he is said to be twenty-seven years of age, and signed with the above named interpreter; which I do attest.

AUGUSTIN ROCHON,
PETER DERBIGNY.

Before me: NARC. BROUTIN, Notary Public.

In the city of New Orleans, the eighth day of July, one thousand eight hundred, Mr. Nathaniel Bassett, in the information by him solicited, according to the order given for its execution, presented as a witness Mr. Anthony Mendez, of whom, in virtue of a commission to me conferred by the foregoing decree, I received the oath which he made by the Almighty God, and the Holy Cross, according to law, to declare the truth in what will be under his knowledge; and being interrogated after the tenor of the foregoing petition, he said, that the contents of the said petition are the exact truth, for the deponent held in his own hands, the titles of property of the said lands, written in the English language; and he further affirms, that his present deposition is faithful and true, agreeably to his oath, and after it was read to him, he ratified and confirmed it; he is said to be above the age of majority, and signed it; which I do certify.

ANTHONY MENDEZ.

Before me: NARC. BROUTIN, Notary Public.

In the city of New Orleans, the ninth day of July, one thousand eight hundred, Mr. Nathaniel Bassett, in the information by him solicited, and ordered to be taken, presented as a witness Mr. Simon Favre, of whom, in virtue of the commission to me conferred by the foregoing decree, and through the interpretation of Mr. Peter Derbigny, I received the oath which he made, by the Almighty God, and the Holy Cross, according to law, to answer the truth in what will be under his knowledge; and being interrogated after the tenor of the foregoing petition, he said, that it is certain, and to him well known, that Mr. Thomas Bassett, father of the petitioner, since the time that the English Government was owning and had the effectual possession of the plantations situated on the river Tombigbee, one of them at a place called Thomas's Bluff, and the other at the place called Thichapataw, which now bears the name of Bayou Bassett, or Bassett's creek; that when the district of Mobile, wherein were included the said plantations, was given up to the crown, the sons of the said Thomas Bassett became Spanish subjects, and, as such, continued to possess the said lands; that the deponent also knows that one Stgoe Powel lives on one of the said plantations, although he is not informed for what motive. And he further says, that this is all that is known to him concerning this matter, and that it is the truth agreeably to the oath he has taken; and after it was read to him, he ratified and confirmed it. He is said to be forty years of age, and signed with the above named interpreter; which I do certify.

SIMON FAVRE.

Before me: NARC. BROUTIN, Notary Public.

In the city of New Orleans, the same day, month and year, Mr. Nathaniel Bassett, in the information by him solicited, and ordered accordingly to be taken, presented as a witness, Mr. Charles Parent, of whom, in virtue of the commission to me conferred by the foregoing decree, and through the interpretation of Mr. Peter Derbigny, I received the oath that he made by the Almighty God, and the Holy Cross, according to law, to declare the truth; and being interrogated after the tenor of the foregoing petition, he said, that he knows and heard that the father of the petitioner possessed two plantations on the river Tombigbee, in the district of Mobile, in the time of the English dominion; and that, when the district of Mobile was given up to this crown, the said Bassett, father and son, became Spanish subjects, and remained in possession of the said lands; he further says, that his present deposition contains the truth, agreeably to the oath he has taken; and after it was read to him, he ratified and confirmed it. He is said to be sixty-three years of age, and signed with the above named interpreter; which I do certify.

CHARLES PARENT,
PETER DERBIGNY.

Before me: NARC. BROUTIN, Notary Public.

In the city of New Orleans, the twelfth day of July, one thousand eight hundred, Mr. Nathaniel Bassett, in the information by him solicited, and ordered accordingly, presented as a witness Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, of whom, in virtue of the commission conferred to me, and through the public interpreter, I received the oath which she made, by the Almighty God, and the Holy Cross, according to law, to declare the truth; and being interrogated after the tenor of the foregoing petition, she said that the only thing she can declare is, that, before the last fire, she saw the titles of grant of the lands mentioned in said petition, written in the English language, in possession of the petitioner, and confirmed by his excellency Stephen Miro, formerly Governor of this province; and she further says that her present deposition contains the truth, agreeably to the oath she has made. Is said to be more than thirty years of age, and signed with the above named interpreter; which I do certify.

MARY FITZGERALD,
PETER DERBIGNY.

Before me: NARC. BROUTIN, Notary Public.

In the city of New Orleans, the fifteenth day of July, one thousand eight hundred, before me, the Notary, appeared James Lemaire, witness presented by Mr. Nathaniel Bassett, in the information by him solicited, of whom, in virtue of the commission to me conferred by the preceding decree, I received the oath which he made by Almighty God, and the Holy Cross, according to law, to declare the truth; and being interrogated after the tenor of the foregoing petition, he said, that about two years before the fire of 1794, the petitioner showed him two titles of grant of some lands, which his father possessed on the river Mobile, at the place called Tombigbee; the first in the English language, which his aforesaid father had since the time of the English dominion, and the others in Spanish, being given by his excellency Governor Stephen Miro, whereby he left the petitioner in peaceable possession of the said lands, because, when said territory was given up to Spain, he, the said petitioner, became a Spanish subject; that he cannot ascertain, with any degree of precision, what was the exact quantity of said lands, but believes that one tract contained above a thousand acres, and the other more than seven hundred of superficies; and he further says, that his present deposition contains the truth, agreeably to the oath he has taken, and after it was read to him, he ratified and confirmed it. Is said to be thirty years of age, and signed it; which I do certify.

JAMES LEMAIRE.

Before me: NARC. BROUTIN, Notary Public.

I, Nathaniel Bassett, inhabitant of this city, in pursuance of the instance by me moved, with a view of justifying that my brother Thomas and myself are truly the owners of two plantations, situated on the river Tombigbee, the one at a place called Thomas's bluff, and the other at Thichapataw, now known by the name of Bayou Bassett, or Bassett's creek; the first containing one thousand and fifty acres, and the other seven hundred and fifty, on one of which is now living, Mr. Powel, before your excellency appear and say, that I have sufficiently proved, by the depositions of Augustin Rochon, Anthony Mendez, Simon Favre, Charles Parent, James Lemaire, and Mary Fitzgerald, that we legally possess and own the said tracts of land, according to the titles of them, which the said witnesses have seen, as well as those granted by the English Government, as those granted by the Spanish, which titles perished in the fire of the year '94; in consequence of which, and to the end of justifying my right, and legal possession of the aforesaid lands, and that the said justification may be equivalent to the original titles destroyed by the fire, so that I may be acknowledged as legal owner of the said tracts, in the United States, in which territory they are now included, according to the late limits. I beg of your excellency to give your approbation to the said justification, as far as is by law required, giving it the necessary sanction by your decree, and the intervention of your royal authority; ordering, at the same time, that the original writings be delivered to me with such authenticated copies as I may want, to present myself where, and in the manner that will be convenient to my interest. And to that end, I entreat of your excellency to issue the orders I am soliciting with justice, swearing, &c.

NATHANIEL BASSETT.

Let the writings be brought before the tribunal: follows the Civil Governor's half signature.

It has been so ordered by his excellency Don Nicholas Maria Vidal, &c. the 24th of July, 1800.

NARC. BROUTIN, Not. Pub.

The same day, I, the notary, went to Mr. Nathaniel Bassett's lodgings, and notified him the foregoing decree.

BROUTIN, Not.

Having seen the information, made at the request of Mr. Nathaniel Bassett, we approve it, inasmuch as is by law required, ordering to deliver the original of it to said Bassett, agreeably to his petition, with such copies as he may want for the purposes to him convenient, he paying their amount, together with that of the costs of the present writings, according to their just tax.

NICHOLAS M. VIDAL.

It was so ordered by his excellency Don Nicholas Maria Vidal, &c. in New Orleans, the 4th day of August, 1800.

NARC. BROUTIN, Not. Pub.

The same day I communicated the contents of the foregoing decree to Mr. Nathaniel Bassett.

BROUTIN, Not.

[Here follows the taxation of the costs.]

I, Peter Derbigny, interpreter to His Catholic Majesty in and for the province of Louisiana, do certify that the above is a true and faithful translation from the original, written in Spanish. In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, the thirteenth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and one. (The 24th of July, 1800, interlined before signed.)

PETER DERBIGNY.

I, Nathaniel Bassett, inhabitant of this city, in the information which I have been permitted to give, to the end of justifying that my brother Thomas and myself are the only legal owners of the two plantations, one of which contains one thousand and fifty acres, and the other seven hundred and fifty, both granted to our father, with the usual titles, since the time of the English dominion in the river Tombigbee, formerly in the jurisdiction of Mobile, and now included within the American territory by the late limits; the said property having been confirmed to us by new titles under the Spanish Government, before your excellency appear and say: that, to the end of proving more fully the date of the Spanish titles which were destroyed in the fire that happened in this city in the year 1794, he wishes your excellency may be pleased to order that Mr. Bernard Molina, Mr. Anthony Mendez, and Mr. Augustin Camano, shall declare, upon oath, if they know and are assured that, before the said fire, they saw in my hands and possession the two above said titles, dated in June, 1787, by which his excellency Don Stephen Miro, then Governor of this province, confirmed to me the property and privilege which I had upon the said plantations or tracts of land; and, it being so done, in order to give more force and validity to these proofs, and hold them as a part and as the end of the present information. I beg of your excellency to approve them, so far as is by law required, and confirm them by your judicial decree, and the interposition of the authority which you represent, ordering the whole of the proceedings to be delivered to me original, with the copies which I will ask for the purposes that will tend to establish my rights; the costs of which I am ready to pay. I, therefore, beg of your excellency to be good enough to issue the order, which I solicit with justice; to which end I do swear, &c.

NATHANIEL BASSETT.

The persons named in the above shall swear and declare as is solicited before the notary to whom it is committed; and, after it shall be done, the papers will be brought before the tribunal.

[Here follow the signatures or flourishes of the Governor and Auditor.]

It is so ordered by his excellency Don Manuel de Salcedo, colonel of the royal armies, Civil and Military Governor of the provinces of Louisiana and West Florida, inspector of the troops and militia of the same, vice patron royal, and judge sub-delegate of the superintendency of the posts for His Majesty, who signed it with Don Nicholas Maria Vidal, lieutenant governor, high judge of the war in and for these provinces, and counsellor general of the government of the same, in the city of New Orleans, the 21st day of October, 1801.

NARCISSE BROUTIN, Not. Pub.

In the city of New Orleans, the 22d day of October, 1801, before me, the notary, appeared Don Augustin Camano, of whom, in virtue of the commission which is given to me by the foregoing decree, I received the oath which he made by the Almighty, and a sign of the Holy Cross, according to law, to answer the truth that will be laid before him, and being interrogated agreeably to the tenor of the preceding petition, he said it is true and certain that, before the fire which broke out in this city in the year 1794, he saw in the hands and possession of the petitioner the titles of two tracts of land situated on the river Tombigbee, formerly in the jurisdiction of Mobile; one of one thousand and fifty acres, the other of seven hundred and fifty; which titles were signed by his excellency Don Esteban Miro, Governor General of this province, under date of the month of June, 1787, and by them the aforesaid Governor confirmed the property and rights which the petitioner had upon the said tracts ever since the English dominion; and he further affirms that his present deposition contains the truth, agreeably to his oath, and, after it was read to him, he ratified and confirmed it: said to be of fifty-three years of age, and signed it, which I do attest.

AUGUSTIN CAMANO.

Before me: NARCISSE BROUTIN, Not. Pub.

In the same day, month, and year, I, the notary, in virtue of the commission which is conferred unto me by the foregoing decree, received the oath of Don Bernard Molina, sub-lieutenant of the armies, who took it by the Almighty God, the right hand laid on the hilt of his sword, swearing to answer the truth to the questions that will be asked of him; and, being interrogated after the tenor of the foregoing petition presented by Mr. Nathaniel Bassett, he said, that, before the fire which happened in this city in the year 1794, he saw in the hands and possession of said Bassett, two titles of two tracts of land or plantations, situated on the river Tombigbee, formerly in the jurisdiction of Mobile, one of one thousand and fifty acres, and the other of seven hundred and fifty; said titles bearing date of the month of June, 1787; signed by the then Governor General of this province, confirming thereby the property and rights which the said Bassett had to said lands, in the time of the English dominion; and he further affirms that his present deposition contains the truth, agreeably to his oath; and, after it was read to him, he ratified and confirmed it: said to be above the age of majority, and signed, which I do attest.

BERNARD MOLINA.

Before me: NARCISSE BROUTIN, Not. Pub.

In the city of New Orleans, the 30th day of October, 1801, before me, the notary, appeared Don Anthony Mendez, of whom, in virtue of the commission which is conferred unto me by the foregoing decree, I received the oath, which he made by the Almighty God and the Holy Cross, according to law, swearing to answer the truth to the questions that shall be asked of him, and, being interrogated after the tenor of the foregoing decree, he said, that he is certain and knows positively that, before the fire of the year 1794, Mr. Athanasius Bassett had in his possession the titles of property of the lands expressed in his foregoing petition, and that the deponent himself kept in his hands the primitive titles in English in the year 1780, being at Mobile, which titles were destroyed, by the same fire, with those granted by his excellency Don Stephen Miro, former Governor of this province; and he said that what he has declared is the truth, agreeably to the oath which he has taken; that he is forty-nine years of age; and he signed it; which I do attest.

ANTHONY MENDEZ.

Before me:

NARCISSE BROUTIN, Not. Pub.

The whole being seen, we approve, as far as the law admits it, the information received at the request of Mr. Nathaniel Bassett, and order it to be delivered to him original, with such copies as he will ask for the purposes which may be convenient to him, he paying the amount and the costs, according to a just tax.

I, Thomas Price, of the post of Mobile, English interpreter for his Majesty the King of Spain, do solemnly swear by the Almighty God, and by the Holy Cross, that this is a true and faithful translation of the Spanish writings hereto annexed.

THOMAS PRICE.

Subscribed and sworn before the Board, March 20, 1804.

Attest: DAVID PARMELEE 2d, Clerk.

The following depositions were exhibited, to wit:

The deposition of Wilford Hocket, who deposeth and says, that, at the time the British exercised jurisdiction on and about the river Tombigbee, he lived there, and that he knew Thomas Bassett to live and be in possession of a tract of land, said to contain five hundred acres, on the Tombigbee river, at the upper end of what was called Macintosh's bluff; and that, when the Spanish came to exercise jurisdiction there, the family of Bassetts went to New Orleans; some time after, say in the year 1788, the deponent being in company with Nathaniel Bassett, a Mr. Powel applied to said Bassett to purchase said land, but said Bassett refused selling it, saying he intended to return to and live on it as soon as he could arrange his business at New Orleans. After this, Mr. Powel requested liberty to live on said land: Bassett observed he might, on condition that he would leave it when thereunto requested.

WILFORD HOGGATT.

NATCHEZ, November 12, 1801.

Sworn to and subscribed before me,

SAMUEL BROOKS, Justice Peace.

The deposition of Anthony Hocket, Esquire, who deposeth and says, that, some time in the year 1788, the deponent being in company with Nathaniel Bassett, a Mr. Powel applied to said Bassett, and requested liberty to go on to a tract of land, belonging to said Bassett, at M'Intosh's bluff, until he could supply himself elsewhere: said Bassett replied that he might, if he would, leave or deliver it to him whenever he, the said Bassett, should request it.

ANTHONY HOGGATT.

NATCHEZ, November 12, 1801.

Sworn to and subscribed before me,

SAMUEL BROOKS, Justice Peace.

Young Gains and James Dean were produced as witnesses, and being duly sworn, the said Gains deposeth:

Question. Do you believe that the land now claimed by Thomas Bassett, as the legal representative of Nathaniel Bassett, lying on Thomas's bluff, was inhabited and cultivated on the 27th day of October, 1795?

Answer. I do believe that this land or some part thereof, was cultivated by William Powel, his sons, or widow, on the 27th day of October, 1795.

The said Dean deposeth:

In the latter part of the year 1788, I heard William Powel ask of Nathaniel Bassett, the brother of the present claimant, leave to settle upon and cultivate the land now in question; and that Nathaniel Bassett told William Powel that he might settle upon and cultivate the same, provided he, Powel, would deliver to him, Nathaniel Bassett, possession when he should require him, Powel, so to do; to which Powel assented, but said that he expected that Bassett would not want the possession within a short time. Bassett then told Powel he could not certainly say: for he might want it shortly, or perhaps not within two or three years; and this was previous to Powel's taking possession of the land.

Question. Do you know whether this land was inhabited and cultivated by William Powel, his widow, or sons, on the 27th day of October, 1795?

Answer. It was cultivated by them, or some of them, on the 27th day of October, 1795.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

THOMAS BASSETT's case, No 32 on the docket of the Board, and No. 48 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—Of one thousand and fifty acres, as son and heir of Thomas Bassett, deceased, under a British grant, confirmed by a Spanish warrant of survey, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the waters of Bassett's creek, in the county of Washington, beginning at a cotton tree, running thence, north, sixty-seven degrees west, ninety-seven chains and fifty links, to a pine; thence, south, twenty-three degrees west, eighty-three chains and sixteen links to a pine; thence, south, sixty-seven degrees east, two hundred and twenty-three chains, to Tombigbee river, a maple corner; thence, with the river, as the same meanders, to the beginning; containing one thousand and fifty acres, having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by Thomas Bassett, in and by virtue of a British grant and a Spanish grant; and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

THOMAS BASSETT.

MARCH 19, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

The above survey was surveyed the 2d day of March, 1804, by me, Robert Ligon, for Thomas Bassett, an inhabitant of this county, having such marks, forms, and boundaries, natural and artificial, as will hereafter be described, as follows, viz: beginning on the west side of the above river, and crossing the same, for compliment, on the front line, and extends north, sixty-seven degrees west, one hundred and fifty-seven chains, to a large lake or swamp, impassable; thence, striking a square, north, twenty-three degrees east, eighty-three chains sixteen links to old British survey, said to be done for the father of Thomas Bassett, and following the said line, ninety-seven chains fifty links, to a pine; south, twenty-three degrees west, eighty-three chains sixteen links, to a pine; thence, aiming to butt said line, to the aforesaid swamp; including, in said lines, by estimation, one thousand and fifty acres.

This day came before me Isaac Rains and Joel Walker, and swore that they faithfully and truly carried the chain, to the best of their skill and ability, without favor or affection: so help them God.

ROBERT LIGON, Surveyor.

In support of this claim, the same written documents recorded in the preceding case, excepting the two depositions, were applied; also, Young Gains, Francis Stringer, and James Dean, were introduced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Gains deposed, that I saw Thomas Bassett, the father of the present claimant, in the occupancy and cultivation of the tract of land now claimed, before the year 1781, and during the dominion of the British Government over this country, having large improvements thereon, it being the same tract whereon the present claimant has lived, lying above the mouth of Bassett's creek; and I always understood and believed that Thomas Bassett's father had obtained a grant from the British Government of West Florida for the same tract of land; and that the said Thomas Bassett, the father of the present claimant, as I was informed and do believe, was murdered by the Indians, in or before the year 1781.

Question. Do you know that Thomas Bassett, the present claimant, inhabited and cultivated the land now in question on the 27th day of October, 1795?

Answer. He did inhabit and cultivate the same on the 27th day of October, 1795.

Question. Of what age was Thomas Bassett at the time he was murdered?

Answer. He was about thirty-seven years of age, or upwards.

Question. Which is the true Bassett's creek, the one that runs into the Tombigbee river on its eastern or left bank, or that which empties itself into the same river on the western or right bank?

Answer. I believe they are both properly called by the name of Bassett's creek; the one on the right bank of the Tombigbee, from his having lived on or near the same, and the one on the left from Thomas Bassett's having been murdered thereon; and that the tract of land now in question lies on the west bank of the Tombigbee.

Question put to the said Dean. Do you know that Thomas Bassett, the present claimant, inhabited and cultivated the land now in question on the 27th day of October, 1795, and has continued to inhabit and cultivate the same ever since?

Answer. I do know that he did cultivate and inhabit the same on the 27th day of October, 1795, and has continued to do so until this time.

Question 2d. Do you know whether or not Thomas Bassett, the present claimant, was twenty-one years of age in the month of June, 1787?

Answer. I do not certainly know, but believe that he was twenty-one years of age at that time.

The said Stringer deposed:

I do believe that Thomas Bassett, the present claimant, inhabited and cultivated the land now claimed on the 27th day of October, 1795, and do know that he has continued to have the same land inhabited and cultivated ever since.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

CORNELIUS McCURTIN's case, No. 33 on the docket of the Board, and No. 53 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—Of four hundred and eighty acres, by virtue of a Spanish grant or order of survey, under the first section of the act.

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of an act of Congress passed the 3d of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to land south of the Tennessee river and east of the Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, lying west of the river Tombigbee, beginning on the bank of the river, at a sycamore corner, standing at the mouth of a gut on George Brewer's line, running up the river north eighty-six degrees west, thirty-eight chains, to a swamp oak bush on the bank of the river, thence, south, thirty degrees west, one hundred and twenty-six chains and forty-nine links, to a pine; thence, south, eighty-six degrees east, thirty-eight chains, to a pine; thence, north, thirty degrees west, one hundred and twenty-six chains and forty-nine links, to the beginning; bounded on the north by land of John Arnot, and on the south by John Stelly's land, near to Fort St. Stephen's: is claimed by Cornelius McCurtin, under and by virtue of a Spanish grant or order of survey, granted to Cornelius McCurtin, as may appear by the original grant now delivered to the Register of the Land Office (to be established east of Pearl river,) to be recorded as directed by that act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

CORNELIUS McCURTIN.

Surveyed 23d February, 1804. Chain bearers, John Dease and John Dean.

The above plot represents a tract of land surveyed for Cornelius McCurtin, beginning on the west bank of Tombigbee river, on a sycamore corner, standing at the mouth of a gut, on George Brewer's line, running up the river north, eighty-six degrees west, thirty-eight chains, to a swamp oak bush on the bank of the river; thence, south, thirty degrees west, one hundred and twenty-six chains and forty-nine links, to a pine; thence, south, eighty-six degrees east, thirty-eight chains, to a pine; thence, north, thirty degrees west, one hundred and twenty-six chains and forty-nine links, to the beginning; containing four hundred and eighty acres.

MARCH 24, 1804.

In support of this claim, the following deed of conveyance and order of survey were exhibited, to wit:

TOMBIGBEE RIVER, July 19, 1790.

Know all men, by these presents: That I, Edward Lucas, have bargained and sold, unto Cornelius McCurtin, all my right and title of a tract of land, my property, bounding on the north side by John Arnot, and on the south by John Stilly, for the sum of fifty silver dollars, to me paid in hand, the receipt whereof I do hereby acknowledge.

Given under my hand, before witnesses, this day and date above mentioned.

JOHN ARNOT,

Ante mi en et fuese, St. Estevan 19 de Julio, de 1790,

JOSEF DEVILLE DEGOUTIN.

His Excellency the GOVERNOR GENERAL of W. Florida:

Mr. Cornelius McCurtin, lieutenant of militia at Pensacola, and at present resident in Mobile, with the greatest respect, presents, and says, that, in the year of '90, he bought of Edward Lucas, in district of St. Stephen, twelve acres front of land, and forty back, bounded on the north by land of John Arnot's, and on the south by land of John Steely, (this is in that time,) which I bought for fifty Spanish milled dollars, and part at bill of sale, in consequence, that was authorized by Captain Josef Deville Degoutin, commandant at that time; and, not finding any document of grant in this office, in favor of Lucas, as at that time the Government was favorable to inhabitants, and did not exact the usual custom established; and, desiring the deponent to claim the same land as his property, he prays your excellency, in consideration of what he has said, that, by the Secretary of State, they may deliver him the titles of grant that correspond in good terms what he expects to receive from your excellency's goodness.

CORNELIUS McCURTIN.

MOBILE, 18th December, 1793.

His Excellency the GOVERNOR GENERAL of this province:

It is very true what the deponent declares in his petition; and, being informed by the inhabitants that, before the said McCurtin went to Pensacola, he always made his crops on said land, without molestation: in consequence of which, I think he can obtain the grant that he petitions for, detaining the originals in this office, and deliver in a copy of the same, in order that I should make known that said land is his property. Your excellency may use your pleasure.

MANUEL DE LANZOS.

MOBILE, December 20, 1793.

NEW ORLEANS, January 26, 1794.

The Surveyor General of this province, or his deputy, shall establish this individual upon the twelve acres front, and forty back, that he bought, situated on the place that he mentions in his petition, and not causing prejudices to his neighbors, remitting the original diligence, in order that I may furnish him with the titles of grant.

R. HARWELL, J. P.

In support of this claim, a Spanish grant or warrant of survey was exhibited, in the words and figures following, to wit:

MOBILE, December 28, 1794.

His Excellency the GOVERNOR GENERAL:

Don John Chastang, inhabitant established on Tombigbee river, with the greatest respects due to his excellency, represents, these five years past he has been established on a tract of land, which contains twelve acres front, with its corresponding profounder, limited on the north by land appertaining to the parish of this post, and on the south by land of John Talley; the same never had any proprietor, unless the petitioner, who is established thereon; and, being established thereon without the corresponding titles of concession, he humbly begs your excellency to order the Secretary of General Government to despatch the corresponding title of concession, in form, to the end that he may prove, at all times that he is the real proprietor of said land; which favor he expects from the great justification of your excellency.

JOHN CHASTANG.

MOBILE, December 28, 1794.

His Excellency the GOVERNOR GENERAL

of these provinces:

With the greatest confidence I can assure it to be the truth what the petitioner solicits above, having myself seen the place whereon he was established, which was granted to him when he was a resident on the same place, whereon Fort St. Stephens now stands; and, by informations taken by me from the eldest inhabitants of this river, the land he solicits doth not appertain to any person; in consequence of which, it appears that it may be granted. The concession the above petitioner solicits, he having a sufficient number of negroes to cultivate the same, your excellency may dispose as it may seem best.

MANUEL DE LANZOS.

NEW ORLEANS, January 30, 1795.

The Surveyor General of this province, or some individual named by him, shall establish the petitioner on the twelve acres front of land, with its profounder of forty, as customary, as it is vacant, not causing prejudice to any neighbors, at the same place mentioned in the above petition, with the precise conditions of making the road, and clearing regularly, in the peremptory space of one year; and if, at the precise space of three years, the land is not settled, after which period it cannot be established, this grant to remain null: under which supposition, the business of settling the limits will be carried on in the tract and remitted me, to provide the interested party with titles in form.

Subscribed and sworn before the Board, March 20, 1804.—Attest: DAVID PARMELEE 2d, Clerk.

A bill of sale.—To all to whom these may come: I, John Talley, inhabitant on Tombigbee river, in St. Stephen's jurisdiction, have really and effectually sold to Don John Chastang, doctor, and inhabitant on the same river, a plantation situate one quarter of a league distance from the fort St. Stephen's, and half-quarter of a league from the same river, limited, on the north side by the said Don John Chastang, and on the south by the heirs of Charles Stewart, containing twelve acres front, with its profunder as customary, of forty; the same that was granted to me by his excellency the Governor General of this province, which the copy of concession will prove, dated the 27th of November, in the year 1787, signed by his excellency Estevan Miro, the copy of which is signed by Santiago de la Saussaye, Public Notary of Mobile: said copy I deliver to the purchaser, together with the above plantation, including a house thereon, and every thing else thereunto belonging, and eleven head of cattle, for and in consideration of eighty-five silver dollars to me in hand paid, in the presence of the commandant and the witnesses undersigned; renouncing all rights and claims to said land and cattle above mentioned, by giving up full possession to the purchaser, or any other person for him: which sale I warrant and defend from any claimers, by all the laws of justice, established by His Catholic Majesty: and being present, Don John Chastang accepted this bill of sale in his favor, for the above sum mentioned, for him to use as real proprietor of the same land, which I proved to be my own by the above titles mentioned; which titles may serve for him and his heirs. I, Don Pedro Rola, lieutenant in Louisiana regiment, commandant civil and military of said fort and its jurisdictions, accompanied with the evidence of assistance, knowing both parties contracting, and sign these presents with the two evidences, at Fort St. Stephen's the 23d of December, 1794.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 149, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited a writing, by him subscribed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Board of Commissioners.

FORT STODDERT, March 20, 1804.

Whereas I, John Chastang, have laid in claims before the commissioners, for lands at Fort Stephen's, the survey of which includes that garrison: Be it known to the said commissioners now in session at Fort Stoddert, that I, the said John Chastang, am not disposed to claim any land that my titles do not fully represent; should I have claimed or had surveyed any land at the above mentioned place, that the said commissioners may think proper to hold for public use or benefit, they are perfectly at liberty to deduct it, and it is my sincere wish that they should do so; was the said land at this time entirely at my disposal, as a good citizen of the United States, it would give me great pleasure to accommodate that Government with so much as might be thought necessary for public use.

CHASTANG.

John Baker and Robert Welch were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, they deposed:

Question put to said Baker. Do the lands now in question join the land belonging to Doctor Chastang?

Answer. It does.

Question to both of said witnesses. Did Doctor John Chastang inhabit and cultivate the land now claimed on the 27th day of October, 1795?

Answer. He had improvements on the tract now claimed, as we believe, in October, 1795.

Question to the same witness. Was John Talley twenty-one years of age in the year 1787?

Answer. He was above forty years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN CHASTANG'S case, No. 36 on the docket of the Board, and No. 52 on the books of the Register.

Claim—Of nineteen hundred and thirty-eight and four-tenths acres, by virtue of a Spanish grant, or order of survey, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of an act of Congress passed the 3d of March, 1803, receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of the Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

FORT STODDERT.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, lying west of the Mobile river, butting and bounding on the south by Grog Hall creek, on the north by Cedar creek, on the east by said river, and on the other side by vacant land, is claimed by John Chastang, under and by virtue of a Spanish grant or order of survey, granted to the said John Chastang, as may appear by the original grant now delivered to the Register of the Land Office, (to be established east of Pearl river,) to be recorded as directed by that act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

CHASTANG JEUNE.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed for John Chastang a tract of land on the west side of the Mobile river, containing one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight and four-tenths acres, beginning at the mouth of Grog Hall creek, on the north side thereof, at a water oak, running due west seventy-nine chains to a black jack; thence, due north, one hundred and ninety-five chains, to a laurel on the bank of Cedar creek, the course to the river being impassable; but beginning a second time at the mouth of Grog Hall creek, and taking the meanders of said river Mobile by course and distance, as nearly as the nature of the way would admit, to a sycamore tree, I find the laurel on Cedar creek bank to be one hundred and forty-seven chains, bearing north, sixty-one degrees east, to the said sycamore, bounded eastwardly by the said Mobile river, on all other sides by vacant land; lying in the county of Washington, Mississippi territory.

MARCH 17, 1804.

This day came James Callier, and made oath, before the Holy Evangelists of Almighty God, deposes and saith, that he carried the chain for a tract of land surveyed for Doctor John Chastang, the premises that he now resides on, and that he effected the duty to the best of his skill and judgment, as directed by the surveyor.

Given under my hand. Sworn to before

JOHN CALLIER, J. P.

In support of this claim a Spanish grant, or order of survey, was exhibited, in the following words and figures, to wit:

His Excellency Don HENRIQUE GRIMAREST, Lieutenant Colonel of the royal army, Governor civil and military of Mobile, and its jurisdiction, &c., with the humblest supplication, Mr. Chastang, (youngest.)

Should your excellency please to grant him a tract of land, situate on Mobile river, about twelve leagues distance from this place, bounded, on the one side, by a creek that separates said land from Grog Hall, and, on the other side, by another called Cedar creek, which separates it from that of Cambey, with the profounder, as customary; with the old fields belonging to said tract, which is situate on the other side the river; for which favor I shall be forever thankful.

With the profoundest respects,

I am your most obedient and most humble servant,
CHASTANG, (youngest.)

MOBILE, December 23, 1784.

Shall be examined the above land the petitioner demands; and should there be found in the last treaty between the Spanish and the King & Great Britain no opposition, or nothing found contrary to said treaty, and not causing prejudice to any person, he may be provided with titles, in form, to take possession of said land.

GRIMAREST.

MOBILE, January 18, 1785.

DON PEDRO FAVROT, Commandant of Mobile, and its district.

We give to Mr. Chastang, (youngest,) the contents of his request to enjoy and cultivate said land, as though it had been granted him, until the ratification. The same will be forwarded to him by his excellency Don Estevan Miro, Governor of this province.

PEDRO FAVROT.

MOBILE, June 20, 1798.

Don Manuel De Lanzos, captain in the royal army, retired commandant civil and military of Mobile and its jurisdiction, certifies that Don John Chastang, neighbor of this jurisdiction, and as inhabitant of said jurisdiction, solicits me for the concession original, from his excellency the Governor General of these provinces, given in favor, the above land mentioned in the petition, and the decisions of the commandants of this place. Said concession was certainly granted, but they do not exist in these archives; no doubt they have been mislaid and cannot be found: notwithstanding, by the informations I have taken, I am convinced that it is legally his, in consequence of the original document which he presents; which is returned to him for his security.

Claim—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, as assignee and legal representative of Zadock Brashear, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of the Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee river, bounded on the southwest by lands claimed by Young Gains, on the southeast by vacant land, and on the northeast by the claim of John Cozby: beginning on a large sycamore, on the river bank, and runs south, sixty degrees west, fifty chains, to a red oak; thence, south, thirty degrees east, one hundred and fifteen chains, to a black gum; thence, north, sixty degrees east, sixty chains, to an elm on the river bank; and from thence, the meanders of the river, to the place of beginning; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing six hundred and forty acres; is claimed by George Robbins, legal representative of Zadock Brashear, under and by virtue of a settlement, bearing date in the year one thousand seven hundred and eighty-four, and now exhibited unto the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

Bilbo, while he was surveying a tract of land for George Robbins, to their best skill and judgment, this tenth day of March, 1801.

JOSEPH LAWRENCE,
WILLIAM SHAW.

Sworn to before me, JOHN MURRELL, J. P.

The claimant exhibited a deed of conveyance from Zadock Brashear, bearing date the 14th day of April, 1799, assigning and conveying to the said Robbins, all the said Brashear's right and title to the improvements which he had made on said tract of land.

Young Gains, Sen. and Robert Welch were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Gains deposed, that Zadock Brashear did inhabit and cultivate the land now in question about the years 1791, 1792, and 1793, and then moved out of this territory into the Spanish country, and had lived there ever since; that Brashear's cultivation and improvement was considerably large, and after he went off the place was possessed by the Indians; but how long he could not say.

The said Welch deposed, that he agrees with the testimony given by Young Gains, Senior; and further, that Indians, who were the relations of Zadock Brashear's wife, inhabited and cultivated on the land now claimed, in the years 1797 and 1798; and that Zadock Brashear was in the year 1797 twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Claim—Of three hundred and twenty-seven acres, one rood, and fifteen poles, by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, under the first section of the act.

The claimant exhibited his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, viz.:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the Mobile river, in the county of Washington, beginning at the mouth of Grog Hall creek, on a water oak; running thence, due west, one hundred and twenty-six chains, fifty-three links, to a stake corner; thence, south, forty-five degrees east, forty-seven chains fifty links, to a stake; thence, due east, one hundred and twenty-six chains fifty-three links, to a stake on the river bank; thence, the meanders of the river, to the mouth of the creek to the beginning; containing three hundred and twenty-seven acres, one rood, and fifteen poles, having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot hereunto annexed; is claimed by Nicholas Weeks, attorney for John Baptist Trenier, in and by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot annexed.

NICHOLAS WEEKS,
Attorney for Baptist Trenier.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed for Baptist Trenier a tract of land on the west side of the Mobile river, containing three hundred and twenty-seven acres, one rood, and fifteen poles; beginning at the mouth of Grog Hall creek, on a water oak, running due west one hundred and twenty-six chains fifty-three links, on John Chastang's line, to a stake corner; thence south, forty-five degrees east, forty-seven chains fifty links, to a stake; thence, due east, one hundred and twenty-six chains fifty-three links, to a stake on the river bank; thence, the meanders of the river, to the mouth of Grog Hall creek, the beginning corner; bounded northwardly by John Chastang's land, and eastwardly by said river, lying in Washington county, Mississippi territory. MARCH 29, 1804.

In support of this claim, a Spanish warrant of survey was exhibited, in the words and figures following, viz.:

His Excellency DON ESTEVAN MIRO, Colonel of the royal army, Governor General of the city and province of Louisiana, &c.

John Baptist Trenier, inhabitant of Mobile jurisdiction, with the greatest respect lays before your excellency, and says, that, having a small stock, and no range for them of his own, he prays your excellency's goodness in granting him a concession of land of twenty acres front, situate on Tombigbee river, called Grog Hall, bounded on the north by land the property of Don John Chastang, and on the south by land the property of Simon Andry; the above land, evacuated by Mr. Magilivrey these seven years past, and until now never has been claimed by the proprietor, nor any other person empowered for him: he begs your excellency to grant him the above petition, with papers of titles necessary from the Secretary of Government which may correspond with the concession; for which favor from your excellency he will be forever thankful.

JOHN BAPTIST TRENIER.

MOBILE, July 27, 1787.

His Excellency ESTEVAN MIRO, Colonel of the royal armies, civil and military Governor of the city and province of Louisiana, &c.

Anthony Hoggatt, inhabitant of the jurisdiction of Mobile, with the most profound respect declares to your excellency, that there is found on this river of Tombigbee twenty acres of vacant land, the which, until the present, has not had a proprietor; in attention to this, and with the view of cultivating tobacco, he hopes from the generosity of your excellency, to grant him the proprietary in them, with those of the ordinary depth, and that your excellency may order the corresponding titles of concession to be delivered by the Secretary's office of Government for so much: he solicits your excellency that it may be ordered as asked for; in the which he will receive favor.

ANTONIO HOGGATT,

MOBILE, January 21, 1788.

Don Vicente Folch, captain of the fixed regiment of Louisiana, commandant civil and military of the aforementioned place and district, certifies, that the land that the petitioner solicits for is found vacant, according to information taken (to this effect) from several inhabitants who have knowledge of it; and that it may be plain and evident, these presents are given in the said place. Fecit ut supra.

VICENTE FOLCH.

NEW ORLEANS, February 9, 1788.

The Surveyor General of this province, Don Carlos Laveau Trudeau, will establish this petitioner upon the twenty acres of land in front that he solicits for, with the ordinary depth of forty, in the place indicated in the preceding memorial, being vacant, and not causing prejudice to any, with the precise conditions of making the road and clearing in the term of one year; and to remain null this concession if, at the expiration of three, the land will not be found established, this grant to remain null; under which supposition, the business of settling the limits will be carried on in the tract, and remitted me, to provide the interested party with titles in form.

Adjourned until Wednesday, the 21st instant.

WEDNESDAY, March 21, 1804.

The board met according to adjournment. Present: Ephraim Kirby, Robert C. Nicholas, Joseph Chambers.

JAMES CALLIER's case, representative of Anthony Hoggatt. Thomas Price, Robert Welch, and Young Gains, were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Price deposed, that Robert Welch settled upon and cultivated the land now in question in the year 1791 or 1792, and that the same land was previously inhabited and cultivated by Anthony Hoggatt; that Robert Welch inhabited and cultivated this land on the 27th day of October, 1795, and continued in the habitation and cultivation of the same, from the said year 1791 or 1792, until the latter part of the year 1798, or the commencement of the year 1799; and that, on the 9th of February, 1788, Anthony Hoggatt was upwards of twenty-five years of age.

Question. Do you know the time that Anthony Hoggatt first settled upon the land now in question, and whether he inhabited, cultivated, or claimed any land other than this on the Tombigbee river?

Answer. He settled upon this land in the year 1786 or 1787, and continued to inhabit the same until the year 1791 or 1792, when, as I understood, he transferred the same to Robert Welch; and I never understood that he claimed any other land on the river Tombigbee than that now claimed by James Callier.

The said Gains deposed, I saw Anthony Hoggatt in the habitation and cultivation of the land now claimed in the year 1788 or 1789, and do know that he continued there until the year 1792 or 1793, when, as I was informed, and did believe, he transferred the same to Robert Welch; and that Robert Welch settled upon the land immediately after Anthony Hoggatt quitted the same, and continued to inhabit and cultivate thereon, until after the year 1795; and that he, Welch, did actually inhabit and cultivate the same on the 27th day of October, 1795; and that Anthony Hoggatt was, as I believe, on the 7th day of February, 1788, upwards of twenty-five years of age.

Question. Do you know whether Anthony Hoggatt claimed or inhabited any other land on the Tombigbee river, than this now claimed by James Callier?

Answer. I do believe he did not.

The said Welch deposed: I settled upon the land now in question, in virtue of a purchase from Anthony Hoggatt, in the year 1792 or 1793, and continued to inhabit and cultivate the same until the year 1799; and that I did actually inhabit and cultivate the same on the 27th of October, 1795; that, in the year 1799, I was engaged as an interpreter of the Choctaw language for American garrison of Fort Stoddert, to which post I removed in this year, and left my wife and family on the land now in question; that, in the winter of the year 1799, my wife and family quitted the possession of this land; but, previous to her doing so, she did rent the same to William Vardeman, upon his agreeing to pay her annually, for the use of the same, thirty barrels of corn, Spanish measure, and to keep the house and fences in good repair; that, in pursuance of said agreement between my wife and said Vardeman, I received from him thirty barrels of corn, for the first year's rent; and that he afterwards refused to pay me rent, or to go off, alleging, as the reason, that he had a British grant for the same, and I do acknowledge I did transfer my right to this land, agreeably to the true intent and meaning of the endorsement on the original warrant of survey.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

CORNELIUS McCURTIN'S CASE. Doctor John Chastang and Wilson Carman, Esq. were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, Chastang deposed, that, by recurring to a correspondence between Cornelius McCurtin and himself, he finds that, in September, 1791, Mr. McCurtin requested him to take care of the plantation, being the land now in question, and that he did do the same until the year 1796; that, in November, 1791, a man by the name of Stewart was in possession of the house and improvements which were on the land, of which he advised Mr. McCurtin by letter, and he, Stewart, continued there some time, but does not know when he left it, nor how far he considered himself the tenant of McCurtin; that, in the year 1792, Barton Hanna applied to me, as the agent of McCurtin, to rent the plantation, but we did not agree upon the rent, and I referred him to Mr. McCurtin, but do not know what agreement was eventually made between them, but believe he lived on the land a short time.

Question. Did Cornelius McCurtin, or any person in his behalf, inhabit and cultivate the lands now claimed in the year 1795, or on the 27th of October, in that year?

Answer. Not to my knowledge.

The said Carman deposed, that, in the month of November, 1800, Cornelius McCurtin constituted me his agent or attorney, and committed to me the charge of this land, with power to rent or sell it; and, subsequent to this time, an application was made to me to purchase the same, but we did not agree on the price.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOSEPH HOUSE'S CASE, No. 40 on the docket of the Board, and No. 65 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant exhibited his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, viz.:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress, passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

MARCH 16, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situate on the west side of Tombigbee river, beginning at a branch of Bassett's creek, on a pine, running south, fifty degrees east, eighty chains, to a corner pine; thence, south, thirty-two degrees west, to a corner stake, eighty chains; thence, north, fifty-eight degrees west, eighty chains, to a corner pine; thence, north, thirty-two degrees east, eighty chains, to the beginning: containing six hundred and forty acres: is claimed by Joseph House, of Washington county, having such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed; the said land is claimed in and by virtue of the second section of the said act of Congress, by a donation, bearing date in the year 1797, and now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot hereunto annexed.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed for Joseph House, six hundred and forty acres of land lying in the pine woods.

THOMAS BILBO.

Chain carriers, David Gains, Jun. and Joseph Lawrence. March 16, 1804.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 187, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Francis Stringer and Thomas Bassett were produced as witnesses, and being duly sworn, they deposed:

Question. Have you or do you expect any interest, either directly or indirectly, by the establishment of Joseph House in this donation?

Both answered. We have no interest, nor do we expect any.

Question. Do you know whether Joseph House, the claimant, has any British or Spanish grant, warrant, or order of survey, in his own name for land in this territory?

Answer. We believe he has not.

Said witnesses also deposed, that, in the winter of the year 1799, Robert House, the father of Joseph House, the claimant, entered upon the land now claimed in virtue of an agreement between him and Thomas Bassett, for the purpose of taking care of and attending a mill; and that Joseph House entered upon the same in the year 1800, and continued thereon until the year 1801, when he purchased Thomas Bassett's right to this mill.

The said Stringer further testified, that he believed that Solomon Boykin had or intended to present a claim for a right of preference to purchase a tract of land, in virtue of a settlement made by Joseph House, the present claimant.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

FRANCIS STRINGER'S CASE, No. 41 on the docket of the Board, and No. 45 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

MARCH 19, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on Stringer's mill branch, on Tombigbee, in the county of Washington, beginning at a stake, running north, forty-seven degrees east, one hundred and twenty-seven chains and fifty links to a water oak; thence, south, forty-three degrees east, thirty chains, to a stake; thence, north, sixty-two degrees east, forty-one chains fifty links, to an ash; thence, with the meanders of the river, thirty-five chains fifty links, to a maple; thence, south, sixty-two degrees west, thirty chains fifty links, to a bay; thence, north, forty-three degrees west, twenty-four chains, to a stake; thence, south, forty-seven degrees west, one hundred and fourteen chains fifty links, to a stake; thence, with a straight line to the beginning: containing six hundred and forty acres, having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by Francis Stringer, in and by virtue of the second section of the said act as a donation, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office, to be recorded as directed. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

FRANCIS STRINGER.

Surveyed 12th March, 1804, by J. Malone.—Chain carriers, John Holleway and John Dunn.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 117, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Thomas Bassett was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, did depose:

Question. Have you or do you expect any interest, either directly or indirectly, by the establishment of this claim?

Answer. I have not any interest, nor do I expect any.

He further deposed, that Francis Stringer settled and built upon the land now claimed in the month of February, of the year 1798: I do not recollect that he made a crop on the premises in that year; but that he cleared some land; that, from the year 1798 until the present time, he continued to cultivate and inhabit the land now in question.

Question. Do you know whether Francis Stringer was, in the year 1798, the head of a family?

Answer. I believe at that time he was more than twenty-one years of age, and he was the head of a family.

Question. Do you know whether Francis Stringer has either a British or Spanish claim for land in this territory?

Answer. I do not certainly know, but believe he has not.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN HINSON, administrator of the estate of Owen Sullivant, deceased, case No. 42 on the docket of the Board, and No. 43 on the books of the Register.

Claim—Of four hundred acres, by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on an island, opposite the Three Rivers, beginning at a hickory on the banks of Tombigbee, and running thence, up the river, the various courses as plotted, to a gum, at Baker's cut off; thence, with Baker's cut off, the courses as plotted, to a willow, at the mouth of the Three River lake; thence, with the east bank of the Three River lake; thence, down the Three River lake, the courses plotted, sixty-six chains and fifty links, to a hickory; thence, north, thirty-eight degrees east, thirty-seven chains, to a stake; thence, south, sixty-four degrees east, seventy-six chains, to a stake; thence, as plotted, to the beginning; containing four hundred acres, and has such marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by John Hinson, administrator of Owen Sullivant; and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot within.

FORT ST. STEPHEN'S, April 12, 1795.

His Excellency the GOVERNOR GENERAL:

Owen Sullivant, inhabitant in the jurisdiction of St. Stephen's, with the greatest respect due to your excellency, represents and lays before your excellency, and says, that, about sixteen leagues from St. Stephen's, there is a tract of land vacant, containing about ten acres front, with corresponding profounder, of forty back; situate at the Three Rivers; beginning at the mouth, running upwards until bounded by vacant land; he is desirous of peaceable possession, without causing prejudice to any person whatever: he begs your excellency to grant him the above petition, with papers necessary from the Secretary of Government, which may correspond with the cession: for which favor he will be forever thankful.

OWEN SULLIVANT.

FORT ST. STEPHEN'S, May 12, 1795.

His Excellency the GOVERNOR GENERAL:

By the best information from the inhabitants of this post, that the land the above demands is King's commons, therefore, cannot cause any prejudice to any neighbors, your excellency may dispose as it may seem best.

ANTONIO PALAO.

NEW ORLEANS, June 10, 1795.

The Surveyor General of this province, or some other individual named by him for that business, shall establish that part of land of ten acres front, with its profounder of forty acres back, as customary, at the same place mentioned in the above petition; with the precise conditions of making the road and clearing regularly in the peremptory space of one year; and if at the precise space of three years the land is not settled, during which period it cannot be alienated, this grant to remain null; under which supposition, the business of settling the limits will be carried on in the tract, and remitted me to provide the interested party with titles in form.

DON ESTEVAN MIRO, colonel of His Majesty's royal troops, Governor of the city and province of Louisiana, &c. &c.

MOBILE, June 6, 1787.

James Frazier, inhabitant in the jurisdiction of Mobile, with profoundest respect to your excellency, petitions and says, that existeth and is on Tombigbee river forty acres of land, formerly the property of Mr. Farmer, limited on the east side by a tract of land the property of John Turnbull, and on the west side by another of the same, which was forsaken by the widow Farmer, in the year 1780, and until this present has never been claimed by the proprietor, nor any other person for him empowered; and as the attention of the above petitioner is to cultivate tobacco and Indian corn, he begs your excellency to grant him the above petition, with papers necessary from the Secretary of Government, which may correspond with the same.

JAMES FRAZIER.

Don Pedro Favrot, captain in Louisiana regiment, commandant civil and military at this place, certifieth, by information from four of the inhabitants of character of this place, the land above mentioned was forsaken by the same individuals as above mentioned, and at the same time as specified above; and as it may be credited at any time, I give these presents at Mobile, this 7th June, 1787.

PEDRO FAVROT.

NEW ORLEANS, July 31, 1787.

The Surveyor General of this province, Don Carlos Laveau Trudeau, shall establish the petitioner on that part of land of forty acres front by its profounder of forty back, as customary, at the same place mentioned in the above petition, not causing prejudice to any person whatsoever, with the precise conditions of making the road and clearing regularly in the peremptory space of one year; and if at the precise space of three years the land is not settled, during which period it cannot be alienated, this grant to remain null; under which supposition, the business of settling the limits will be carried on in the tract, and remitted me, to provide the interested party with titles in form.

JAMES POWELL, executor of William Powell, deceased, case No. 48 on the docket of the Board, and No. 63 on the books of the Register.

Claim—Of four hundred acres, by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, under the first section of the act.

The claimant exhibited his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit :

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee river, butting and bounding on the east by said river, to the south by John Johnson's land, beginning on a red oak, west by vacant land, and north by James Powell's land, containing four hundred acres; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by James Powell, executor for the estate of William Powell, in and by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leaves to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

Surveyed 22d ———, 1804, by John Dease. Chain carriers, James Dean and Amos Read.

In support of this claim, a Spanish warrant of survey was exhibited, in the following words and figures, viz.

FORT ST. STEPHEN'S, 11th May, 1795.

To his Excellency the GOVERNOR GENERAL:

William Powell, inhabitant in the jurisdiction of St. Stephen's, with the greatest respect, represents and lays before your excellency, that having been settled on a tract of land these ten years past, situate in distance about eighteen leagues from this Fort St. Stephen's, on up-land, the same leads down to Mobile, which contains about ten acres front, bounded on the south by John Johnson, and on the north by Owen Sullivant; the land being vacant, begs your excellency to grant him the titles of cession: for which favor from your excellency he will be forever thankful.

WILLIAM POWELL.

FORT ST. STEPHEN'S, 11th May, 1795.

To His Excellency the GOVERNOR GENERAL:

By information from the different inhabitants of this post, it appears that the land is vacant, and within the King's dominion; therefore, cannot cause any prejudice to any.

ANTONIO PALAO.

NEW ORLEANS, 10th June, 1795.

The Surveyor of the province shall establish that part of ten acres of land front, the same that solicits the petitioner, with forty back, as customary, as it appears to be vacant land, and not causing any prejudice to the neighbors, with the precise conditions of making the road, and clearing regularly, in the peremptory space of one year; and if at the precise space of three years the land is not settled, during which period it cannot be alienated, this grant to lay null, under which supposition, the business of settling the limits will be carried on in the tract, and remitted me, to provide the interested party with titles in form.

Surveyed, 20 h March, 1804, by James Gordon. Chain bearers, Gabriel Tissrah and William Weathers.

In support of this claim, a Spanish warrant of survey was exhibited in the words and figures following, viz.:

MOBILE, April 13, 1787.

Senor Don ESTEVAN MIRO, colonel of the royal troops, and Governor of civil and military in the province of the Louisiana, &c.:

Simon Andrey, inhabitant of Mobile jurisdiction, with the greatest submission and respect, says, that on the river Tombigbee, there is forty acres of land that has been evacuated by Mr. Magillivrey these eight years past, lying and situate between the property of Mr. Chastang on the southeast side, and on the northeast side by a place called Grog Hall, so named by said Mr. Magillivrey, above mentioned, comprehending both sides of the river; and that the petitioner having slaves in number sufficient to cultivate the above mentioned lands, humbly begs your excellency to favor him with a grant for the same, having paid due attention that no person whatever hath laid any claims since the evacuation of the above mentioned lands; he therefore begs your excellency to favor him of being proprietor of the above mentioned forty acres of land front, with its profunder, that corresponds, as customary; and begs your excellency would give directions to the secretary of despatches for the same.

God preserve you many years.

Signed for

SIMON ANDREY.

Don Pedro Favrot, captain in the Louisiana regiment of fixo, and commandant of civil and military of Mobile, &c. certifieth, that having taken a second information from four credible inhabitants, who declare, that the above mentioned forty acres of land, front on the river, at the place above named, have been abandoned or evacuated by the same person above named, as long as the same term of time of eight years past, as above mentioned; and being convinced of the fact of the above information, I have signed these presents, the 13th of April, 1787.

PEDRO FAVROT.

NEW ORLEANS, May 14, 1787.

The commandant of Mobile post shall establish the petitioner on twelve acres of land only, front on the river, and forty acres back in the profunder, as customary, without causing any detriment; the petitioner may have choice of the above twelve acres front on the river within the boundary of the above mentioned forty acres front on the river, by him petitioned for, with these express obligations: that, within the term of one year, he shall make roads and lawful improvements; and if neglected for the term of three years, the same land shall become vacant; observing these express conditions, that, during the above mentioned term of three years, he, the petitioner, shall not convey, bargain for, or sell, or cause it to be done, any part of the above mentioned twelve acres of lands front on the river, until intelligence shall be given of the above obligation being completed, which may correspond with the titles in due form.

In support of this claim, the following written documents were produced, viz.:

To Monsieur BOBE DESCLOUSEAUX, King's Counsellor, Commissary of the Marine, and Judge of the royal jurisdiction of Mobile.

Humbly prays Guillaume Marcellin, substitute procurator for the vacant estates of this town, acting for and in the name of the succession of the late Barthelemy Montclair whilst living, merchant of this town, setting forth his desire to arrive before you at the sale of the estate, moveables, and immoveables of the said succession contained in the inventory taken after his decease, as well as the plantation of the said succession, in partnership with the named Louis Flandrin, inhabitant of this town, that the whole should be judicially sold to the highest and last bidder; the purchasers paying the costs of the said adjudication.

The petitioner further begs, as it is time to transmit to the hands of the procurator, for vacant estates at New Orleans, the amount of the said succession, that a dividend thereof may be made to the creditors of the same by the superior council, and that there may be in this town some that would be adjudicators at the sale, and who would purpose to retain for their debts the amount of the articles that might be adjudged to them, which cannot be done but for ready money:

May it please you to order that, notwithstanding there may be among the adjudicators at the said sale creditors of that succession; that, notwithstanding their debts, they may be obliged to pay into my hands, at the expiration of the term, you will please to limit the amount of their adjudication; and of which ordinance a mention shall be made in the publications and advertisements, that they may not plead ignorance thereof; and you will do justice.

MARCELLIN.

At MOBILE, July 22, 1756.

ADVERTISEMENT BY THE KING.

Judicial sale of Plantation.

It is made known to all it may concern: That, on the petition of the substitute procurator for vacant estates, in virtue of our ordinance at the foot of the said petition, that it shall be proceeded to the sale and adjudication of a plantation, situate on the river of Mobile, eleven leagues from Mobile, the half of which belongs to the succession of late Barthelemy Montclair, on account of his partnership with the named Louis Flandrin, in the said plantation, which consists as follows:

First, the place formerly called the plantation of Madame le Sueur, whereon is built a new house, thirty feet long, on twenty wide posts in the ground, covered with bark, clayed between said posts, with six windows and two doors, with a clayed chimney in the said house, and a piazza on one side, to the gable end whereof is an appentis, with a chimney, serving as a kitchen; beside said house is another small building, with posts in the ground, enclosed with stakes, serving as a fowl-house. To the right, in the entrance of the said plantation, is a great building sixty feet long, on thirteen wide, closed in with stakes, posts in the ground, and bark covered, serving for a negro house; to the left is a barn of twenty-five feet long, on eighteen wide posts in the ground, and enclosed with pallisadoes, to the gable end whereof is an appentis, with a chimney; all which buildings are enclosed with stakes set upright, which form a yard of twenty-five toises square. Aside of said plantation, on the river, to the left going up, is a desert of fifteen arpents in front on the river, on two in depth; on the other side, to the right, is another desert of ten arpents, on two of depth. The which sale of plantation, with its circumstances and dependencies above mentioned, shall be made by public sale, for three Sundays running, at the door of this parish church, at the going out of the mass, to be definitively adjudged at the said fifteenth day to the highest and last bidder, in paying the costs of his adjudication; the purchaser whereof may enter in possession. But, in the course of the month of January of the next year, on account of the crop and other effects of which it cannot be cleared before that time, the purchaser is likewise to observe that, in case he should be a creditor of the said succession, he will be obliged, notwithstanding his credit, to pay the price of the said plantation into the hands of the said substitute.

BOBE DESCLOUSEAUX.

MARCELLIN, Notary or Register.

At MOBILE, July 23, 1756.

Adjudication of the plantation of the partnership of late Montclair with the named Flandrin.

In the year 1756, Sunday, the 24th of July of the said year, at the request of Mr. Guillaume Marcellin, substitute to the procurator for vacant estates in this town, acting for and in the name of the succession of the late Barthelemy Montclair, whilst living, merchant of this town, tending to his grant that sale should be made before us in a judicial manner, of the effects of the said deceased, and that proclamations should be made, and advertisements set up, to arrive at the sale of the immoveables thereof in the usual and accustomed house; in consequence whereof, and according to our ordinance, the plantation that the said deceased had on the river of Mobile, in partnership with the named Louis Flandrin, inhabitant of this place, the half of which is belonging to his succession, had been published and advertised to be entirely sold, with its buildings and its deserts, such as they are specified by the publications and advertisements set up by the adjudication, to the highest and last bidder, subject to the charges, clauses, and conditions mentioned in the advertisements.

Whereon, we, Jean Baptiste Claude Bobé Descloseaux, King's Counsellor, Commissary of the Marine, and Judge of the royal jurisdiction of Mobile, accompanied with Mr. Francis Cæsar Bernoudy, deputy King's Attorney General, and of our Register, at the door of this parish church, at the going out of the great mass, after having caused the said advertisement to be publicly read and proclaimed aloud by Cerinque, the crier, the judiciary sale of said plantation warranted against all trouble, debts, hypothecations, and other hindrances that might be thereon, advertising that he may not enter in possession but in the course of the month of January of the ensuing year 1757, on account of the crop and other effects of which the plantation cannot be cleared but at the time; and a sufficient number of people being assembled, and none opposing, we have proceeded, in presence of the said Flandrin, to the first adjudication as follows:

First, after many publications, the said plantation has been set up by Mr. Oliver to the sum of eight hundred livres; and, after many outcries on the said price of eight hundred livres, and that none bid higher, we have adjourned to Sunday next, the second adjudication, and have for that purpose ordered new proclamations and fixings as where it may be needful. Done the day, month, and year as above.

FLANDRIN,

BOBE DESCLOUSEAUX,

MARCELLIN, Notary or Register.

MARCELLIN, Notary or Register.

And Sunday, the 1st of August, of the said year, after the proclamations and setting up of advertisements, we have order to the proceeding to the second adjudication of the sale of the said plantation; and after having caused de nouveau the reading of the said advertisement to be made aloud by the said crier, the judicial sale thereof at the door of this parish church, at the going out of the great mass, with a sufficient number of persons present, and the calling out of the price of eight hundred livres of the first and present adjudication; and Monsieur Aubert has appeared, who bid up to the sum of nine hundred livres; and after many callings out of the bidding of nine hundred livres by Mr. Aubert, and that none offered that bid higher, we have referred to next Sunday to proceed to the third and last adjudication of the said plantation, and have ordered for that purpose new publications and setting up of advertisements, where may be needful. Done the day, month, and year as above.

BOBE DESCLOUSEAUX,
MARCELLIN, Register.

MARCELLIN, Register.

And Sunday, the 8th of August, of the said year 1756, after the proclamations and setting up of advertisements, ordered to proceed to the adjudication, simple and definitive, of the sale of said plantation; at the church door of this parish, at the going out of high mass, where we again ordered new proclamations by Cerinque, the crier; and, a sufficient number of people having assembled, we proceeded as follows, subject to the charges, clauses, and conditions mentioned in the advertisement; and after many publications of the price of nine hundred livres of Sunday last, appeared Mr. Bobé, who bid up to the sum of one thousand livres.

By Mr. Chastang, to that of twelve hundred livres;
By Mr. Bonville, to that of twelve hundred and twenty livres;

By Flandrin, to that of fifteen hundred livres;

By Mr. Aubert, to that of seventeen hundred livres;
 By Mr. Chastang, to that of eighteen hundred livres;
 By Flandrin, to that of two thousand livres;
 By Mr. Bobé, to that of two thousand two hundred livres;
 By Mr. Bonnille, to that of two thousand four hundred livres.
 By Flandrin, to that of two thousand four hundred and fifty livres;
 By Monsieur Bonnille, to that of two thousand five hundred livres;
 By Flandrin, to that of two thousand five hundred and twenty livres;

And as none offered to bid higher on the price of two thousand five hundred and twenty livres, after having got the said highest offer, and that the said Flandrin required of us to adjudge him the said plantation, purely and simply:

Whereon, we, King's Counsellor and Judge as above said, have, to Flandrin, as highest and last bidder, adjudged, and do adjudge, purely and simply, the said plantation above mentioned in the advertisement, with its circumstances and dependencies, to be enjoyed by him, his heirs, &c. in all property, in consideration of the sum of twelve hundred and sixty livres, which he shall pay to the succession of said deceased Barthelemy Montclair, for the half of the price of his bidding, on account of the partnership with him therein, at the end of the present year; for which purpose, the said Flandrin has affected and hypothecated all his goods and has signed.

Done the day, month, and year as above signed.

MARCELLIN, Register.

I, the subscribing Notary and Register of the jurisdiction of Mobile, and deputy procurator for vacant estates in said place, acknowledge to have received of Louis Flandrin, inhabitant, the sum of twelve hundred and sixty livres for the one half of the sale, by adjudication of the plantation of the partnership of the late Montclair with him, and of which, in my said capacity as procurator for vacant estates, I acquit and discharge him of the sum of twelve hundred and sixty livres, to be accounted for to the profit of the succession of the said deceased, in the account which I shall render of the said succession. Done at Mobile, 28th December, 1756.

[REGISTERED No. 2.]

We, Pierre Annibal Deville, Knight of the royal and military order of St. Louis, ancient King's Lieutenant of Mobile, do certify that Mr. Francois and Bernard Bernoudy, brothers, and Flandrin, hold and possess, since about seven years and a half, a plantation of twenty arpents in front on the usual depth, seated on the river of Mobile, eleven leagues above and of the same side as the town, at the bluff formerly called the Plantation of Mr. Lesueur, as well as a desert; also of twenty arpents front on the usual depths, where they make provisions for their negroes of the other side of the river facing the said plantation; the which plantations and deserts, partly proceeding from the succession of late Montclair, have been adjudged the 8th of August, 1756, to the said Flandrin, who has ceded the one half of both to the said Messrs. Francois and Bernard Bernoudy.
 In testimony whereof, we have delivered to the said
 Messrs. Francois and Bernard Bernoudy, and Flandrin, the present certificate, to serve and avail to confirm their titles of property to the said plantations and deserts, as well as their dependencies.
 At MOBILE, Dec. 21, 1763.

DEVILLE.

We, the Director General commanding for the King at New Orleans, do certify that the plantation and desert, and their dependencies, mentioned at the other side, are to belong in full property to the said Francois and Bernard Bernoudy, and Flandrin, conformable to the intentions of His M. C. M., and to the power by him given to his governors and ordonators, to permit his subjects to settle in this department of Mobile, where they thought fit.

In testimony whereof, we have signed the present certificate, and caused our seal at arms to be set thereto, and countersigned by our Secretary, at Mobile, 24th December, 1763.

DABBADIE.

No. 3.

I, the underwritten Francis Bernoudy, acknowledge to have this day sold, yielded, quitted, transferred, and made over, from henceforth and forever, with promise to warrant from all trouble and hindrance generally, whatsoever, Mr. Anthony Narbon, inhabitant of this city, the half of a plantation to me belonging, and that I had in partnership with the deceased Mr. Flandrin, spouse of the wife of said Narbon; the said plantation situated upon the river of Mobile, about eleven leagues above, upon the same side of this city.

[torn*] bluff called formerly the plantation of Mrs.
 [torn*] as well as the half of a desert, also of twenty arpents of front, with the accustomed depth this sale made paying the price and sum of four hundred dollars, money of Spain, that the said Mr. Narbon has paid me in his obligation one half payable on the tenth of January next, and the other half in the course of the month of August of the year one thousand seven hundred and sixty-five; for which payment, the said plantation shall continue made over and mortgaged even until the perfect payment thereof; after which I consent that the said Mr. Narbon enjoys the said plantation as of a property belonging to him, having delivered to him, for that effect, the titles concerning the said plantation.

Done and passed at the seventh of September, one thousand seven hundred and sixty-four, in presence of the witnesses under written; thus signs:

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS, WASHINGTON COUNTY,
 Thursday, March 22, 1804.

James Callier, Esquire, one of the executors of the last will and testament of Maria Josephia Narbon, having appeared before the Board, and on solemn oath declared that there is a claim now depending before said Board by said executors, for and in behalf of the legatees of said deceased, for fifteen hundred and ninety-nine acres and three-tenths of an acre, on the west side of Mobile or Tombigbee river, founded upon a title derived under the French Government of Louisiana, in the year 1756; and that Simon Andrey, of the county of Washington, is deemed to be an important witness in support of said claim, and that he is now confined by severe sickness, and in such a state of health that it is impracticable to have him before said Board, to give his testimony in the premises:

Whereupon, it is ordered by the Board that the said
 Simon Andrey be duly qualified before some lawful magistrate of said county to give true and correct answers to the interrogatories hereto subjoined, and to such other interrogatories as shall be proposed to him; and that his answers shall be certified to this Board by the magistrate taking the same, in due form of law.

Attest: DAVID PARMELEE 2d, Clerk.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOSIAH SKINNER's case: Edward Gatlan was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed:

Question. Have you, or do you expect any interest from this claim?

Answer. I have no interest, nor do I expect any in virtue thereof.

Josiah Skinner did inhabit and cultivate the land now in question on the third day of March, 1803, and before and since that time; and that, on the third day of March, 1803, Josiah Skinner was the head of a family.

*The original MS. is here defective.

Question. Do you know whether this land is claimed in virtue of any British, Spanish, or donation claim?

Answer. I do not certainly know by what species of claim; but both James Callier and Thomas Carson have surveyed a part of this land.

Question. Has Skinner removed from the land now claimed, and if so, about what time?

Answer. He did remove from the same, and his removal took place after the 11th day of March, 1803; for I well recollect, from writings and other circumstances, that he was living on this land on the said 11th day of March; his removal, therefore, took place soon after this day, but do not recollect the particular day.

Question. To what place did Skinner remove, and for what purpose?

Answer. He removed from the land now in question to the pine woods, for the benefit of range for his own stock, and to take care of the cattle of Adam Hollinger; but, by an advertisement which I saw posted on the side of the house at the place now claimed, signed by Josiah Skinner, he forbade any person entering into the houses or premises he had quitted, for that he meant to continue his claim to this land.

Question. Did Josiah Skinner cultivate any land on that part of the tract now claimed, which lies next adjoining the Tombigbee river, on the 3d day of March, 1803?

Answer. He did not cultivate on that part of the tract now claimed on the 3d day of March, 1803, but had cleared land, and made preparations to cultivate.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

EDWARD CREIGHTON'S case, No. 68 on the docket of the Board, and No. 91 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of thirty-two acres and six-tenths, as assignee and legal representative of Benjamin King, under the third section of the act.

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act passed the 3d of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims south of Tennessee and east of the Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, beginning on a water oak, and running south, twenty-seven degrees west, five chains seventy-two links, to a stake; and from thence, south, eighty degrees west, fifteen chains, to an unknown bush; thence, north, seventeen degrees west, five chains, to a pine; and from thence, north, two degrees west, twelve chains, to a stake on the creek; and from thence, meandering the creek, to the beginning: this small tract of land is claimed by Edward Creighton in virtue of Benjamin King's improvement, and erecting thereon a cotton ginn, as described in the plot annexed, about the year 1800, transferred by the said Benjamin King to this reporter, who claims by right of pre-emption; John Callier, Esq. being a witness to the declaration of Joseph Bates, Senior, of the said tract of land, as plotted, being unclaimed or vacant land, now delivered to the Register of the Land Office to be established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

EDWARD CREIGHTON,
Representative of Benjamin King.

MARCH 14, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed by Robert Ligon.

The claimant produced a deed of conveyance from Benjamin King bearing date the 11th day of March, 1803, duly executed and duly proven before James Farr, Justice of the Peace, relinquishing and conveying to the said Edward Creighton, in consideration of five hundred dollars, all his, the said King's, right, title, and interest to the said tract of land, and the buildings and improvements made thereon.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 261, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

John Hinds, chain carrier for the preceding survey, was sworn before John Brewer, Esquire, Justice of Peace.

Wilson Carman, and Andrew Barnard, were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Carman deposed, in answer to a question put to him by the Board, that he had no interest in, nor did he expect any, by the establishment of this claim.

That Benjamin King inhabited and improved upon the land now claimed in the month of June, 1801; but how long after he continued to inhabit the same, he did not know.

Question. Do you know whether this land was inhabited or cultivated on the 3d day of March, 1803, either by Benjamin King or Edward Creighton?

Answer. I do not know that either of them did inhabit the land in question on that day.

Question. Do you know whether this land is claimed by any British, Spanish, or donation claim?

Answer. I do not know that it is.

The said Barnard deposed:

Question. Have you or do you expect any interest in and by virtue of this claim?

Answer. I have not, nor do I expect any interest.

That Benjamin King built upon the land now in question, two years and half before he conveyed the same to Edward Creighton, and part of the said time cultivated a garden; and that said King did inhabit and cultivate the same on the 3d of March, 1803; that he put Creighton in possession of the premises in the month of April, 1803; and that Creighton has continued to inhabit and cultivate the same ever since; and that Benjamin King was on the 3d day of March, 1803, above twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Adjourned until Friday the 23d instant.

FRIDAY, March 23, 1804.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Ephraim Kirby, Robert C. Nicholas.

EDWIN LEWIS'S case, No. 69 on the docket of the Board, and No. 109 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of six hundred and ninety-six acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress, passed the 3d day of March, 1803, to receive and adjust the claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

WASHINGTON COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY,
March 16, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situate on the west side of the river Tombigbee, butting and bounded as follows: beginning above Dr. Chastang's upper corner, and below Edwin Lewis's cotton house, above the first bayou above the Fort St. Stephen's, on the river bank, on an old line run by John Baker and Peter Malone; thence, runs the course of said line along the same, supposed to be forty-two degrees west, forty chains, to a corner stake; thence, north, forty-eight degrees west, one hundred and twenty chains, to a corner stake; thence, north, forty-two degrees east, one hundred and twelve chains, to a corner stake, on the river bank; thence, down the meanders of the river to the first station; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing six hundred and ninety-six acres; is claimed by Edwin Lewis, under and in virtue of a settlement or occupancy, he, the said claimant, having inhabited and cultivated the tract herein specified, agreeable to the third section of the act of Congress, entitled "An act regulating the grants of lands, and providing for the disposal of the lands of the United States south of the State of Tennessee," and the same does not appear to be claimed by any of the preceding provisions of the act; and the same was not inhabited nor cultivated, agreeable to the requisitions of said act, by any other person, &c.

This claimant further setteth forth, that he settled the same by consent of John Baker, in December, 1802, and he does not set forth this claim to injure or to impede said John Baker's right; but in case the same proves insufficient, then this claimant claims the first right to purchase the same, or any part thereof, to which there are no legal and superior claims, all of which are now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as is directed by said act. All of which he begs leave to refer, as also to the plot herewith filed, &c. &c.

EDWIN LEWIS.

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Thomas Price was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, did depose:

Question. Have you any interest, direct or indirect, in the establishment of this claim?

Answer. I have none.

Question. Did Edwin Lewis, the present claimant, inhabit and cultivate the land in question on the 3d of March last?

Answer. I do not know.

Question. Was he twenty-one years of age at that time?

Answer. I do not know.

Question. Is the land now in question claimed by virtue of any British or Spanish title?

Answer. I understand that it is claimed by the heirs of one Stewart, under an English title, but have no particular knowledge of the fact.

Question. Who inhabited this land at the evacuation of Fort St. Stephen's?

Answer. On part of the tract, there lived a man by the name of John Woods, and on another part a man by the name of John Berry; these were the only men living on the land at that time to my knowledge.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

RICHARD BARROW's case, No. 70 on the docket of the Board, and No. 28 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

MARCH 7, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the Mobile river, in the county of Washington, beginning at a gum corner, on the edge of Barrow's swamp, on the lake, running thence, south, seventy-seven degrees east, one hundred and fifty-five chains, to a willow corner, standing near two hickories on the bank of Mobile river, at the point of a sand bar, seven chains from the southern point of Joney's island, thence, north, forty degrees east, seven chains, to a cotton tree on the lower part of said island; thence, up the west side of said island, north, ten degrees east, thirty-two chains and fifty links, to a willow corner; thence, west, five chains, to a birch corner; thence, north, ten degrees east, three chains, to a stake corner on Helverston's line, to the bank of the river; thence, north, seventy-seven degrees west, one hundred and fifty-five chains with Helverston's line, to a pine corner; thence, south, ten degrees west, forty chains, to the beginning, containing six hundred and forty acres; is claimed by Richard Barrow, in and by virtue of the second section of the said act, as a donation, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith.

The said chain bearers were sworn before James Callier, J. P.

Joseph Bates and Thomas Bates were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, they did depose:

Question to said witnesses. Are you directly or indirectly interested in the establishment of this claim?

Answer. We are not.

Both testified, that Richard Barrow, the present claimant, did, antecedent to the year 1797, during that year, and subsequent thereto, inhabit and cultivate the land now by him claimed, and that he was at that time an aged man, and the head of a family.

Question to both witnesses. Is this land claimed by any British or Spanish grant, warrant, or order of survey?

Answer. Not to our knowledge.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

RACHEL HELVERSTON, in behalf of the heirs of Godfrey Helverston, deceased, case No. 71 on the docket of the Board, and No. 27 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimants presented their claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

MARCH 7, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the waters of Alabama river, on the west side, in the county of Washington, beginning at a cypress, and running thence, north, seventy-seven degrees west, one hundred and sixty chains, to a pine; thence, south, ten degrees west, forty chains, to a pine, it being Richard Barrow's corner; thence, south, seventy-seven degrees east, one hundred and sixty chains, along Richard Barrow's line, to a stake on the bank of Mobile river; thence, up the said river, north, ten degrees east, forty chains, to the beginning, containing six hundred and forty acres, having such shape, forms, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed; which said tract of land is claimed by Rachel Helverston, for the heirs of Godfrey Helverston, deceased, in and by virtue of a donation, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which they beg leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

Richard Barrow and Joseph Bates were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, deposed:

Question. Are you directly or indirectly interested in the establishment of this claim?

Answer by each witness. I am not.

Both testified, that Godfrey Helverston, now deceased, commenced his improvements, on the land in question, in the year 1795, by building a house, and the following year by raising of crops, and that he continued to inhabit and cultivate the same from that time until the time of his death, which was in June last; and that, during said whole period, he was the head of a family, and twenty-one years of age; and that his widow and orphan children have lived on and cultivated the same land since the death of the said Godfrey.

Question to both witnesses. Is this land claimed by virtue of any British or Spanish grant, order, or warrant of survey?

Answer. Not to our knowledge.

Question. Do you know whether the deceased claimed or held any lands in this territory, by virtue of any English or Spanish grant, order, or warrant of survey?

Answer by both. He did not.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

PETER MALONE's case, No. 72 on the docket of the Board, and No. 47 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of two hundred and seventy-eight acres, two roods, and eight poles, as assignee and legal representative of John Woods, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of the Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

WASHINGTON COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY,
February 21, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the southwest side of Tombigbee river, butting and bounded as follows: by a line commencing on a cedar bush on the river bank, about five chains above the Fort St. Stephen's; thence, south, forty-seven degrees west, thirty-one chains seventy links, to a corner pine; thence, south, sixty-four degrees west, fifteen chains fifty links, to a red oak corner; thence, north, twenty-two degrees west, twenty-five chains, to a red bush; thence, north, fifty-four degrees west, eleven chains fifty links, to a small sassafras corner; thence, north, twenty-one degrees west, twenty-six chains fifty links, to a hickory corner; thence, north, fifty degrees east, thirty-eight chains, to a maple on the bank of the river; thence, the meanders of the river, to the beginning; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed; containing two hundred and seventy-eight acres, two roads, and eight poles; is claimed by Peter Malone, the legal representative of John Woods, under and by virtue of the second section of the act, he, the said claimant, Peter Malone, having (as representative of said Wood,) no other claim to land in the territory; and that the same was cultivated and inhabited agreeable to the act of Congress entitled "An act, &c.;" and likewise, the said land does not appear to be claimed by virtue of the preceding provisions of the act, &c.

PETER MALONE.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 13th February, 1804, by J. Malone. Chain carriers, Peter Malone and Colonel Josiah Bullock.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 120, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited a writing in the words and figures following, to wit:

ST. ESTEVAN, March 25, 1800.

This is to certify, that I have delivered my house and rails to Mr. Andres, according to Mr. Callier's letter to me. Given from under my hand, the day and date above written.

JOHN WOODS.

On the back of which writing is an endorsement in the words and figures following, viz.:

I endorse this instrument of writing over to Peter Malone, this 11th day of March, 1804.

ANDRAIS BARNAUD.

Josiah Bullock, one of the chain carriers for the preceding survey, was sworn, as such, before William Pierce, Justice of Peace.

Thomas Price was produced as a witness, and being duly sworn, deposed:

Question. Are you directly or indirectly interested in the establishment of this claim?

Answer. I am not.

He then testified, that he did not know the land represented by the plot before the Board, but knew that John Woods did, in the year 1798, live on a tract of land called Stewart's Reserve; that, in the fall of that year, he built his house, and commenced his cultivation in the year following; that John Woods was at this time a married man; that the place where Woods lived he always understood to be the property of one Stewart, who claimed the same by virtue of a British grant; and that he always understood that the Spanish Government refused to grant this land on the same account.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN TROUILLET, Executor of Peter Trouillet, case No. 73 on the docket of the Board, and No. 103 on the books of the Register.

Claim—Of eight hundred acres, by virtue of a Spanish warrant, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of an act of Congress, passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to land south of the Tennessee river and east of the Pearl river.

FORT STODDERT.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, lying west of the Tombigbee river, beginning on a maple, Thomas Bassett's corner, on the river aforesaid, and runs with his line, north, sixty-seven degrees west, one hundred and twenty-nine chains forty-nine links, to a stake corner; thence, south, twenty-three degrees west, sixty-three chains twenty-five links, to a stake; thence, south, sixty-seven degrees east, one hundred and twenty-three chains forty-nine links, to a stake on the river bank; thence, the meanders of the river, to the beginning; is claimed by John Trouillet, executor to the estate of Peter Trouillet, deceased, for the use and benefit of the heirs of the said Peter Trouillet, under and by virtue of a Spanish grant, or order of survey, granted to the before named Peter Trouillet, as may appear by the original grant now delivered to the Register of the Land Office to be established east of Pearl river. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

JOSEPH CAMPBELL.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed by J. Malone.

The claimant exhibited a Spanish warrant of survey in the following words and figures, to wit:

MOBILE, January 16, 1788.

His Excellency the GOVERNOR GENERAL:

Peter Trouillet, native and inhabitant of Mobile, with great respect to your excellency, represents and says, that, with intention to cultivate tobacco, and being informed that it was good land for that effect, begs your excellency to grant him a concession of twenty acres of land on said river, limited on the north by land the property of Madam Bassett, and on the south by land that is vacant; he begs your excellency to grant him the land above mentioned; for which favor he will be forever thankful.

PETER TROUILLET.

Don Vicent Folch, captain in the Louisiana regiment of fixo, commandant of civil and military of the said place and district, certifieth, that the land the above petitioner solicits is vacant, by information from the inhabitants who have knowledge of the same. In justification of which, I sign these presents at the said place and date as above mentioned.

VICENT FOLCH.

NEW ORLEANS, February 9, 1788.

The surveyor of this province, Don Carlos Laveau Trudeau, shall establish the above petitioner on that part of land of twenty acres front, with its profounder back as customary, of forty acres, at the same place mentioned in the above petition; as it is vacant, it cannot cause prejudice to any person; with the precise conditions of making the road and clearing regularly in peremptory space of one year; and if, at the precise space of three years, the land is not settled, during which period it cannot be alienated, this grant to remain null; under which supposition, the business of settling the limits will be carried on in the tract, and remitted me, to provide the interested party with titles in form.

ESTEVAN MIRO.

Don Joaquin Osorno, captain in the Louisiana regiment of infantry, and commandant of civil and military of Mobile and its jurisdiction, &c., certifieth, that the above is a copy taken from the original, in this office under my charge. Given from under my hand, in Mobile, the 18th of October, 1802.

JOAQN. DE OSORNO.

The above is a copy of the Spanish grant.

THOS. PRICE.

The above was compared with the original exact in this office.

JOAQN. DE OSORNO. [L. s.]

I, Thomas Price, of the post of Mobile, English interpreter for His Majesty the King of Spain, do solemnly swear, by the Almighty God, and by the Holy Cross, that this is a true and faithful translation of the Spanish grant or writing hereto annexed.

THOS. PRICE.

Subscribed and sworn before the Board, March 23d, 1804.—Attest: DAVID PARMELEE 2d, Clerk.

SATURDAY, March 24, 1804.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Ephraim Kirby, Robert C. Nicholas.

JOHN BAKER's case, No. 74 on the docket of the Board, and No. 107 on the books of the Register.

Claim—Of fifteen hundred and ninety-nine acres, three roads, and twelve poles, by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee, in the county of Washington, beginning at a stake near about the middle of a field on the river below my house; thence, south, twenty-nine degrees west, ninety-one chains; thence, south, forty-seven degrees east, one hundred and twenty-six chains forty-nine links; thence, north, twenty-nine degrees east, seventy-three chains seventy-five links, to the river; thence, with the river, to the beginning; fifteen hundred and ninety-nine acres, three roods, and twelve poles; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by John Baker, in and by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, bearing date the 9th day of January, 1787, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

JOHN BAKER.

MARCH 24, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

The claimant produced a Spanish warrant of survey, in the following words and figures, viz.:

His Excellency DON PEDRO FAVROT, Commandant of this place:

John Baker, with the greatest respect due to your excellency, has the honor to represent his intention to quit the navigation, and endeavor to cultivate the land by two negroes; he expects to buy at the return of the schooner; in consequence of which, I beg your honor to grant me permission to establish one tract of land, containing forty acres front, and forty deep, as customary, formerly the property of Charles Walker, deceased, in the city of this place, situated on Tombigbee, and desire the petitioner to live peaceably and subject to His Catholic Majesty, by the conditions, to be a good settler and real Spaniard: the land above mentioned has no proprietor, and is right good to cultivate tobacco; I beg your excellency to grant the above land: for which favor from your excellency he will be forever thankful.

JOHN BAKER.

MOBILE, January 9, 1787.

It is granted to the above petitioner, and laid off agreeably to the Governor's royal orders; and the petitioner to give his oath to be true to the King and country, according to the orders from the General Government.

FAVROT.

MOBILE, November 12, 1803.

Don Joaquin de Osorno, captain of the regiment of infantry of Louisiana, commandant civil and military of Mobile and its jurisdiction, certifieth, existing in one bundle of concessions of land, in this office, is found the original in French writing, which I translate by the petitioner's demand, which I sign.

JOAQUIN DE OSORNO.

The above was compared exact by the original existing in this office under my charge.

JOAQUIN DE OSORNO.

I, Thomas Price, of the post of Mobile, English interpreter for His Majesty the King of Spain, do solemnly swear, by the Almighty God, and the Holy Cross, that, having examined the foregoing translation of the Spanish grant or writing thereto annexed, I find no material or essential errors contained in the same; but that all the substantial parts of said writing, viz., the dates, names of persons, the description of the lands, and number of acres, &c., are truly and correctly translated.

THOS. PRICE.

Subscribed and sworn before the Board, March 24, 1804.—Attest: DAVID PARMELEE 2d, Clerk.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 335, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Doctor Chastang was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn and questioned by the Board, testified, that he was not directly or indirectly interested in the establishment of this claim; that, in the year 1790, he removed on to his lands near Fort St. Stephen's, and at that time found John Baker, the present claimant, settled on his plantation near the same place, where he continued to live and cultivate until the year 1796, when he, Chastang, removed from that neighborhood; that he understood that Baker had been at the same place some years previous to this time, and that he believed he continued there still, and was, as the deponent fully believed, more than twenty-one years of age in the year 1787.

Rolley Green and Joseph Westmoreland, chain carriers for the preceding survey, were sworn before Ransom Harwell, Esq. Justice of Peace.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN BAKER's case, No. 75 on the docket of the Board, and No. 108 on the books of the Register.

Claim—Of four hundred acres, by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed, in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning at a stake about the middle of my bottom field, on the river below my dwelling house; running thence, south, twenty-nine degrees west, one hundred and thirty-four chains twenty-five links, to a stake; thence, north, sixty-one degrees west, thirty-one chains sixty links, to a stake; thence, north, twenty-nine degrees east, one hundred and fifteen chains, to the river; thence, with the river, to the beginning; containing four hundred acres, and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by John Baker, in and by virtue of a Spanish grant, bearing date 2d day of July, 1787, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

JOHN BAKER.

MARCH 24, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

The claimant produced a Spanish warrant of survey, in the words and figures following, viz.:

His Excellency DON ESTEVAN MIRO, Colonel of the royal army, Governor General of this city and province of Louisiana, &c. &c.

MOBILE, June 21, 1787.

John Baker, inhabitant of the jurisdiction of Mobile, with the great respect due to your excellency, represents and says, as having a small stock of cattle, and no pasture for them, he begs your excellency's goodness to grant him ten acres of land, situate on Tombigbee river, limited to the north side land, property of John Joyce, and on the south by land the King's commons; the above land was evacuated by Charles Walker, seven years past, and never been claimed by the proprietor nor any other person empowered by him: he begs your excellency to grant him the above petition, with the papers necessary from the Secretary of Government, which may correspond with the concession; for which favor from your excellency he will be ever thankful.

JOHN BAKER.

MOBILE, June 22, 1787.

Don Vicente Folch, captain of the Louisiana regiment, Commandant civil and military of Mobile and its district, certifieth, that the land the petitioner solicits is vacant, by information of the inhabitants of this district.

VICENTE FOLCH.

NEW ORLEANS, July 2, 1787.

The Commandant of Mobile shall establish this individual on that part of the ten acres of land front, by the profounder of forty back as customary, at the same place he solicits in the above petition, as it appears vacant, and not causing any prejudice to the neighbors, by the precise conditions of making the road and clearing regularly in the peremptory space of one year; and if, at the precise space of three years the land is not settled, after which period it cannot be established, and this grant to remain null; under which supposition, the business of settling the limits will be carried on in the tract, and remitted me, to provide the interested party with titles in form.

ESTEVAN MIRO.

Chain bearers, James Powell, John Hinson. Surveyed 23d day of February, 1804, by Natt Christmas.

Entered in record of claims, volume 1, page 80, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Daniel Johnson and James Powel, chain carriers for the preceding survey, were sworn before Ransom Harwell, Esq., Justice of the Peace.

James Powel and Daniel Johnson were produced as witnesses, and were duly sworn, and, being interrogated by the Board, both testified, that they were not directly or indirectly interested in the establishment of this claim; that, some time in the fall of the year 1802, John Dease, the present claimant, entered upon the land now claimed, and commenced the building of a mill; that he had, from that time to the present, continued the prosecution of said work; that he had built a house upon said land, for the accommodation of himself and workmen, and the last year cultivated a small garden; that he was twenty-one years of age on the 3d of March, 1803.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

RANSOM HARWELL's case, No. 77 on the docket of the Board, and No. 87 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of one hundred and ninety-seven acres, one rood, and twenty-seven poles, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on Tawler creek, Washington county, bounded on the southwest by the claim of Elisha Simmons, on the southeast by the claim of James Hucceby, and on the northeast by the claim of William Murrel, Senior, beginning at a willow oak, and runs north, thirteen degrees west, thirty-one chains sixty-two links, to a bay corner, near the creek Tawler; thence, south, seventy-five degrees west, at ten chains fifteen links, crossing his spring branch, in all twenty-six chains fifteen links, to a cherry corner, on Simmons's line; thence, with his line, south, forty-seven degrees west, at twelve chains fifty links, crossing the creek; at thirteen chains fifty links, crossing again; at seventeen chains thirty links, again; at twenty-four chains eighty-three links, crossing again; in all, forty-three chains fifty links, to a willow oak corner; thence, with Simmons's or Hucceby's south-east line, south, forty-five degrees east, forty-two chains fifty links, to a chinquapine corner; thence, north, twenty degrees east, twenty-three chains fifty links, to a large chesnut corner; thence, north, three degrees east, three chains thirty-eight links, to a hickory corner; thence, north, sixty degrees east, thirteen chains, to a hickory corner; thence, north, seventy-five degrees east, fourteen chains, to the beginning; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed; containing one hundred and ninety-seven acres, one rood, and twenty-seven poles: is claimed by Ransom Harwell, of Washington county, under and by virtue of the third section of the above recited act, and now exhibited unto the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

Surveyed 7th March, 1804, by J. Malone. Chain carriers, William Murrell, Jun. and Ransom Harwell.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 260, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The chain carriers above named were sworn before James Callier, Esq. Justice of the Peace.

John Baker and Ransom Harwell were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they both testified, that they were not directly or indirectly interested in the establishment of this claim; that William Murrell, the present claimant, settled on the land by him now claimed, previous to the 3d of March, 1803; that on that day, and ever since, he has there lived and cultivated largely; and that, on the 3d of March, 1803, he was advanced in life and the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN JOHNSON'S case: commenced in page 678.

James Powel and Daniel Johnson were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they both testified that they had no interest in the establishment of this claim; that, in the year 1794, John Johnson, the present claimant, lived on and cultivated the land by him now claimed; that he had continued to live on and cultivate the same until the present time; and that he was at that time of full age and the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN HINSON, administrator of Owen Sullivan: case commenced in page 677.

Daniel Johnson and James Powel were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they both testified that they had no interest in the establishment of this claim: that, in the year 1793, Owen Sullivan, lately deceased, did cultivate the lands now claimed by his administrator; that he continued to cultivate the same annually until the time of his death, which happened about one year ago; that the same lands have since been cultivated by the administrator of the deceased; that said Sullivan's place of dwelling was near said lands, on the other side of the lake, the said lands being low ground and not suitable for the erection of dwelling houses; that the said Sullivan had a cabin on said land for the purpose of protecting his workmen from the weather; and that the said Sullivan was, in the year 1795, a man in years and the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

DANIEL JOHNSON'S case: commenced in page 678.

James Powel was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, he deposed, that he had no interest in the establishment of this claim; that, in the spring of the year 1795, Daniel Johnson, the present claimant, began to cultivate the land now by him claimed, and raised a crop the ensuing season; that he hath continued to cultivate the same land ever since; but, being an unmarried man, he lived in the family of his father, near by.

Question. Did this claimant cultivate this land for his own use solely, or for the benefit of his father?

Answer. I do not know positively, but always understood that he cultivated for himself solely.

Question. Was this claimant twenty-one years of age on the 11th day of June, 1795, or the head of a family?

Answer. He was not the head of a family, and I do not know positively that he was twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES POWEL, executor of William Powel: case commenced in page 682.

John Baker and Daniel Johnson were produced as witnesses, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they both testified, that they were not interested in the establishment of this claim; that, in the year 1793, the said William Powel, since deceased, lived upon and cultivated the land now claimed by James Powel, his executor; that he continued to cultivate and annually to raise crops on the said land until the time of his death, which happened in the year 1796; that his widow and family continued in the same cultivation and possession until the death of said widow, which took place about three months since; that, since that time, the family have continued in possession as before; and that the said William Powel was an aged man and the head of a family in the year 1793.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES POWEL'S case, No. 79 on the docket of the Board, and No. 64 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—Of five hundred and ninety-four acres, under the second section of the act, as a donation.

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act passed the 3d of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of the Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of the river Tombigbee, in the county of Washington, beginning at a water oak on William Powel's corner, and runs west forty-five chains, to a pine; thence, north, sixty-three chains, to a red oak; thence, east, forty-five chains, to a pine; thence, south, sixteen chains ninety-three links, to a pine; thence, east, one hundred and forty-one chains, to a sycamore on the river bank; thence, down the various courses of the river, to the beginning: containing five hundred and ninety-four acres, and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by James Powel, in and by virtue of the second section of the said act as a donation, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Ephraim Kirby, Robert C. Nicholas.

ROBERT SORREL, Senior's, case, No. 80 on the docket of the Board, and No. 140 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of three hundred and twenty acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, to receive and adjust the claims to lands south of the Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

WASHINGTON COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY,
March 23, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, lying and situated on Little creek, south branch of Bassett's creek, butting and bounded as follows: beginning on a station pine on the hill a little below Robert Sorrell's house; thence, running south, forty degrees west, fifty chains, to a corner pine, thence, south, sixty-six degrees west, one hundred and six chains, to a corner pine, near the bank of said creek; thence, north, thirty-three degrees west, twenty chains, to a corner stake; thence, north, fifty-two degrees east, eighty-eight chains, to a corner stake; thence, to the beginning; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed; containing three hundred and twenty acres; is claimed by Robert Sorrel, Senior, under and by virtue of occupancy, the said claimant having inhabited and cultivated the tract herein specified on the 3d day of March, 1803, agreeable to the third section of the recited act, &c., and now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. All of which he begs leave to refer, as also to the plot hereto fixed.

For ROBERT SORREL, Senior,
EDWIN LEWIS.

[Plot omitted.]

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 466, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for
JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Thomas Goodwin was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, he testified, that he had no interest whatever in this claim; that, before the 3d of March, 1803, on that day, and since, Robert Sorrel, Sen. the present claimant, did inhabit and cultivate the land now by him claimed; and that he was at that time near seventy years of age and the head of a family.

EDWIN LEWIS's case: commenced in page 700.

John Pickering was produced as a witness, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, he deposed, that he had no interest whatever in this claim; that, in the last of the year 1802, Edwin Lewis, the present claimant, employed him to erect certain buildings for said Lewis, on the land now in question; that he built a store, a kitchen, a dwelling house, and a warehouse, for the storage of cotton; that the said Lewis had, from that time to the present, continued to inhabit the same; that he had cultivated a small piece of land connected with said buildings; that he was thus inhabiting and cultivating on the 3d of March, 1803; and that the said Lewis was at that time more than twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

PATRICK DONNELLY's case, No. 81 on the docket of the Board, and No. 141 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of four hundred and forty-eight acres and sixteen poles, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the waters of Bassett's creek, on the west side of Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning at a pine corner, and runs south, thirty-two degrees east, forty chains, to a stake; thence, north, thirty-seven degrees east, one hundred and twenty-five chains fifty links, to a pine; thence, north, forty degrees west, forty chains, to a stake corner; thence, south, forty degrees west, one hundred and eleven chains, to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing four hundred and forty-eight acres and sixteen poles: is claimed by Patrick Donnelly, in and by virtue of the third section of the said act, as a pre-emption, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

Exhibited by HARDY WOTTON, his x mark, for PATRICK DONNELLY.

MARCH 26, 1804.

Surveyed 28th February, 1804, by William Gilliam. Chain carriers, Jordon Morgan and Henry Hill.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 467, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for
JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The said Jordon Morgan and Henry Hill, chain carriers for the preceding survey, were sworn before William H. Hargrave, Esq., Justice of the Peace.

Jordon Morgan and John Kennedy were produced as witnesses, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they both testified that they had no interest whatever in this claim; that Patrick Donnelly, the present claimant, had lived upon the land now claimed ever since the year 1802; that the land is a pine barren, not fit for profitable cultivation; that the claimant has thereon a dwelling house, negro houses, cow-pens, &c. for the convenience of managing his stock of cattle, which subsist in the range, but no other cultivation than garden vegetables for the use of his household; and that the said Donnelly was, on the 3d day of March, 1803, more than twenty-one years of age.

William Gilliam, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that the plot now exhibited to the Board is a true representation of the land now claimed, according to the best of his knowledge and belief; that it includes the buildings and improvements of the claimant; that he, the deponent, knew of no interfering claims except the claim of Robert Sorrel, Sen. which runs nearly half a mile into the northeast end of this tract.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOSEPH WILSON's case, No. 82 on the docket of the Board, and No. 142 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of five hundred and sixty-one acres and sixteen poles, as assignee and legal representative of Joseph Dunbar, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on Tombigbee river, on the west side, in the county of Washington, beginning at a cedar post on the river bank, and runs north, eighty-five degrees east, sixty-five chains, to Cannady's hickory corner; thence with Cannady's line, south, five degrees east, thirty chains, to a stake; thence, south, seventy-eight degrees east, eighty-five chains, to the river, a maple corner; thence, with the meanders of the river, to the place of beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing five hundred and sixty-one acres and sixteen poles; is claimed by Joseph Wilson, legal representative of Joseph Dunbar, in and by virtue of the third section of the said act, as a pre-emption, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

JOSEPH WILSON,
Legal representative of Joseph Dunbar.

MARCH 26, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Chain carriers, John Cannady and Henry Hill. Surveyed by William Gilliam.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 468, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for
JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The said chain carriers were sworn before William H. Hargrave, Esq., Justice of the Peace.

The claimant exhibited a deed of conveyance from Joseph Dunbar, bearing date the 12th day of March, 1804, duly acknowledged, relinquishing and assigning to the said Wilson all the said Dunbar's right, title, and interest to improvements, made upon said tract of land.

Jordon Morgan and John Kennedy were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they both testified that they had no interest whatever in this claim; that, in December, 1802, Joseph Dunbar did live upon and cultivate the land now claimed by Joseph Wilson, as his legal representative; that he, Dunbar, continued there to live and cultivate until December, 1803, and raised a considerable crop on said land in the summer of 1803; that he sold his improvements to Joseph Wilson, the present claimant, who thereupon took possession of the premises, and has since continued to occupy and improve the same; that the said Joseph Dunbar was, on the 3d of March, 1803, apparently more than twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family.

William Gilliam, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, he deposed that the plot now before the Board is a true and correct representation of the land claimed, according to his best knowledge and belief; that it includes the buildings and improvements of the claimant; that he did not know of any interfering claim of any kind; that the figure of the plot was occasioned by other lines confining it to its present shape.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

EDMUND SMITH'S case, No. 83 on the docket of the Board, and No. 139 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of four hundred and twenty-two acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee, in the county of Washington, beginning at a live oak, and runs north, seventy degrees west, one hundred and twenty-five chains, to a pine; thence, north, fifteen chains, to a pine on Howell Dupree's line; thence, with the said line, north, eighty degrees east, twenty chains, to a gum; thence, north, eighty-eight degrees east, ninety-four chains, to an elm on Gatlin's line; thence, with the said line, south, four degrees east, fifty-eight chains, to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing four hundred and twenty-two acres: is claimed by Edmund Smith, in and by virtue of the third section of the said act as a pre-emption, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

EDMUND SMITH.

MARCH 26, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Chain bearers, Sterling Dupree and Howell Dupree. Surveyed the 17th day of March, 1804, by Nat. Christmas.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 464, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The above named chain bearers were sworn before James Callier, Esq., Justice of the Peace.

Howell Dupree was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, he deposed that he had no interest, direct or indirect, in the establishment of this claim; that Edmund Smith, the present claimant, entered upon the land in question in the year 1801, built a house, and raised a crop on the land the next season; that he has continued to inhabit and cultivate the same until the present time; and that, on the 3d of March, 1803, he had a wife and family of children.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES SCOTT, representative of Gabriel Burrows: case commenced in page 663.

William Gilliam, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, he deposed that the plot presented is truly made, according to his knowledge and belief; that the irregularity of the figure of this land was occasioned by an accommodation with the adjoining claimants, to avoid litigation; that he did not know of any interfering claims of any kind with the land now claimed.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

EDWIN LEWIS'S case, No. 84 on the docket of the Board, and No. 20 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of one hundred and seventy-five acres, as assignee and legal representative of Dennis McClendon, and John McCole, under the third section of the act.

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress, passed on the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of the Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on Fulsom's and Tawler creeks, butting and bounded as follows: beginning on a water oak on Tawler, at the mouth of Fulsom's creek; thence, running down the said Tawler creek, twelve chains, to a corner stake; thence, an east course, sixty-four chains, to a corner stake; thence, south, seven degrees west, forty-six chains, to a corner maple on the bank of Fulsom's creek; thence, west, fourteen chains, to a line run by Edwin Lewis, representative of William Green; thence, north, seven degrees east, to a white pine corner; thence, down the meanders of the said Fulsom's creek, to the first mentioned station; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot hereunto annexed, containing one hundred and seventy-five acres: is claimed by Edwin Lewis, as the legal representative of John McCole and Dennis McClendon, under and by virtue of occupancy, the aforesaid persons legally represented said Edwin Lewis, having inhabited and cultivated the tract herein specified, on the third day of March, 1803, agreeable to the third section of the act of Congress, entitled "An act," &c. and for a considerable time before that time; and the same does not appear to be claimed by any of the preceding provisions of the act, and now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the plot hereunto fixed, &c.

EDWIN LEWIS.

MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY, WASHINGTON COUNTY,
February 22, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 53, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited a deed of conveyance from Dennis McClendon, bearing date the 14th day of February, 1803, duly executed, relinquishing and conveying to John McCole all the said McClendon's claim, title, and interest to the said tract of land, and the improvements made thereon.

The claimant also produced a deed of conveyance from the said John McCole, bearing date the 25th of February, 1804, duly executed, assigning and conveying to the said Edwin Lewis all the said John McCole's title, claim, and interest to the said land, and the improvements thereon made.

John Pickering and John McCole were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they both deposed, that they had no interest in the establishment of this claim.

The said Pickering testified, that, in the year 1802, Dennis McClendon entered upon the land now claimed by Edwin Lewis, as the legal representative of McCole and McClendon; that said McClendon erected a house, and raised some corn on the same land in that year, and continued to inhabit and cultivate the same until the 15th of April, 1803, and that the said McClendon had, on the 3d day of March, 1803, a wife and family of children.

The said McCole testified, that, on the 3d of March, 1803, Dennis McClendon lived upon the land now claimed by Edwin Lewis, and continued there until the 15th of April, 1803, when he removed off; and that he, the deponent, took possession thereof, having, previous to the 3d of March, 1803, purchased the improvements of said Dennis McClendon; that, in the course of the summer 1803, he, the said McCole, agreed to sell said improvements to Edwin Lewis, the present claimant; that, in pursuance of said agreement, did, on the 25th of February, 1804, execute a written conveyance for that purpose.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOSEPH BATES, Junior's, case, No. 85 on the docket of the Board, and No. 163 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, viz.:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of the Tombigbee, in the county of Washington, beginning on a gum corner on the west bank of the Tombigbee; running thence, north, forty-five degrees west, one hundred and nine chains, to a pine; thence, south, forty-five degrees west, one hundred and three chains, to a post oak; thence, south, forty-five degrees east, thirty-two chains, to a post oak corner; thence, south, sixty-two degrees east, fifteen chains, to a dogwood, near a spring on the bank of a branch; thence, down the meanders of the branch, as laid down in the plot, to the river; thence, up the river the various courses, as laid down in the plot, to the beginning; containing six hundred and forty acres: is claimed by Joseph Bates, Jun. by virtue of the second section of the said act, as a donation, having such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, and is now exhibited to the register of the land office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

JOSEPH BATES, Jun.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 493, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Richard Turvin and Thomas Bates, Jun. were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they both deposed, that they had no interest whatever in this claim.

The said Thomas testified, that Joseph Bates, Jun. the present claimant, was twenty-two years of age in the year 1797; that, being unmarried, he lived in the family of his father, Joseph Bates, Sen., upon the land now in question; that he acted for himself, independent of his said father, and did, during the years 1797 and 1798, cultivate the land now by him claimed, for his own use and benefit; that his father lived upon the land, and did also cultivate some part of it at the same time, but claims no part of it.

The said Turvin testified, that Joseph Bates, Jun., the present claimant, lived on the land now by him claimed in the year 1797, in the family with his father.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

HARDY WOOTTON's case, No. 86 on the docket of the Board, and No. 188 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and fifteen acres and fifty-six poles, as assignee and legal representative of William Hunt, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the Sunflower creek, in the county of Washington, on the west side of Tombigbee, beginning at Carter's line, south, twenty-one degrees east, sixty chains, to a pine station; thence, forty chains, to a corner on Sunflower creek, standing in the prison bounds; thence, south, eighty-seven degrees east, through Richard Brashear's field, to a pine station, forty-one chains twenty-five links, to a hazel corner, twenty-three chains seventy-five links; thence, north, twenty-one degrees west, seventeen chains, to a red oak station; thence, continuing the same course, seven chains and fifty links, to a new line; thence, on the same course to a gum station, continuing the same course to Carter's line, sixty-four chains on Carter's line, south, seventy-five degrees east, forty-one chains fifty links, to a tupelo gum corner; thence, north, eighty degrees east, twenty-six chains, to the beginning stake corner; containing six hundred and fifteen acres and fifty-six poles. As a donation, this land is claimed by Hardy Wootton, legal representative of William Hunt, having such shape, forms, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as by said act directed. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

HARDY L. WOOTTON, his x mark.

Legal representative of William Hunt.

MARCH 26, 1804.

Surveyed March 14, 1804, by William Gilliam. Chain carriers, Solomon Wheat and Joseph Wheat.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 553, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for
JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited a deed of conveyance from William Hunt, bearing date the 8th day of November, 1800, duly executed and acknowledged, relinquishing and conveying to the said Hardy Wootton all the said Hunt's right, title, and claim to the improvements made upon said tract of land.

On the back of said deed are two endorsements, in the following words and figures, to wit:

I do hereby assign over all my right, title, and claim to the within, for the use mentioned, from myself and my heirs forever, to Thomas Ware and his heirs; likewise the said Ware is to have possession the 1st day of February, 1802: as witness my hand, this 26th day of January, 1802.

HARDY WOOTTON.

JOSEPH SHARP, } Test.
CHARLES REED, }

I do hereby sign over all my right, title, and claim to the above privileges: as witness my hand, this 6th November, 1802.

THOMAS WARE.

A deed of conveyance was also produced from Daniel Johnson, as attorney for John Linder, bearing date the 29th day of February, 1804, duly executed, relinquishing and assigning to the said Hardy Wootton all the said Linder's right, title, and claim, to the abovementioned improvements.

Jordan Morgan and Solomon Wheat were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated, they both testified, that they had no interest in the establishment of this claim; that, in the summer season of the year 1797, William Hunt entered upon the lands now claimed, erected a house, sowed some turnips, &c. the same year; that he raised a crop the year following, and continued to live on and cultivate the said land until he sold his improvements to Hardy Wootton in the year 1800, when he removed off, and Wootton entered into possession; that, in the year 1797, William Hunt had a wife and two children.

The said Wheat further testified, that he was not confident that Hunt sowed turnips on the land in the year 1797, but knew that he lived there, because he, the deponent, helped him to raise his house.

William Gilliam, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that the plot, by him returned, of the land now claimed is a true representation thereof, according to the best of his knowledge and belief; that he knew of no interfering claim to that part of this tract which lies northerly of Watley's upper line; that there were several claims, houses, and possessions on the other part.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

HEZERIAH CARTER's case, No. 87 on the docket of the Board, and No. 138 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of three hundred and fifty-eight acres and thirty-six poles, as assignee and legal representative of Robert Jones, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures to wit:

Please to take notice that the following tract of land, situated on Sunflower creek, on the west side of Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning at a white pine, running, south, forty-five degrees west, fifty-two chains, to a red oak; thence, south, twenty-five degrees east, thirty-one chains, to a pine; thence, north, eighty degrees east, thirty-three chains, to a gum corner; thence, south, seventy-five degrees east, forty-two chains, to a hornbeam corner; thence, south, seventy degrees east, twenty chains, to a mulberry corner; thence, north, sixty degrees east, three chains, to a yellow leaf sapling; thence, north, thirty degrees west, forty-six chains, to a cypress; thence, north, sixty-five-degrees west, twenty-five chains, to a red oak; thence, north, forty-five degrees west, thirty-five chains twenty-five links, to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing three hundred and fifty-eight acres and thirty six poles: is claimed by Hezekiah Carter, legal representative of Robert Jones, in and by virtue of the second section of the said act, as a donation, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. The claimant exhibited a deed of conveyance from Robert Jones, bearing date the 10th day of November, 1800, duly executed, relinquishing and assigning to Hardy Wootton all the said Jones's right and interest to the improvements made on said tract of land. On the back of which deed is an endorsement in the words and figures following, viz.:

I do hereby assign over all my right, title, and claim to the within mentioned, to Hezekiah Carter, his heirs, from me and my heirs forever. In witness whereof, I have set my hand this 25th day of January, 1802.

HARDY WOOTTON.

Witnessed: JOHN CLOOP,
JOSEPH SHARP.

Solomon Wheat and Jordan Morgan were produced as witnesses, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they both testified, that they were in no way interested in this claim; that, in the latter part of January, or the beginning of February, in the year 1798, Robert Jones entered upon the land now claimed, built a house, cleared about six or seven acres, and raised a crop that season; that he continued to inhabit and cultivate the same until the year 1800, when he sold his improvements to Hardy Wootton, who entered into the possession and cultivation, and so continued until he sold to Hezekiah Carter, the present claimant, who then entered into the possession and cultivation of the same, and had so continued until the present time; and that the said Robert Jones was, in the year 1798, an aged man, and the head of a family.

William Gilliam, surveyor, was presented as a witness; and, being duly sworn, deposed, that the plot by him returned is truly and correctly made, according to the best of his knowledge and belief; that this land is bounded on all sides by other claims, except the line on the northwest end, which is the reason of the irregularity of its shape; that Mr. Lee has since varied the figure of his survey; and that he, the deponent, knew of no interfering claim of any kind.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN CANNEDA's case, No. 88 on the docket of the Board, and No. 77 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of five hundred and thirty-three acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl River.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the river Tombigbee, in the county of Washington, beginning at a cedar post, and runs north, eighty-five degrees east, sixty-five chains, to a hickory corner; thence, south, five degrees east, sixty-five chains, to an elm; thence south, eighty-five degrees west, one hundred chains, to a stake on Denley's line; thence, north, twenty degrees east, fifty-one chains, fifty links, to the river; thence, with the river to the beginning; and hath such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing five hundred and thirty-three acres: is claimed by John Canneda, in and by virtue of the third section of the said act, as a pre-emption, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of two hundred and eighty acres under the 3d section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

WASHINGTON COUNTY, M. TERRITORY, March 5, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on Pickering's branch, north of Tawler creek, butting and bounded as follows: beginning on a wild plum tree, in a prairie called the Cow Stump prairie, on the east side of Pickering's branch; thence, west, sixty chains, to a corner stake; thence, north, twenty degrees, east, fifty chains, to a corner stake; thence, east, sixty chains, to a corner stake; thence, south, twenty degrees west, fifty chains, to the beginning; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed; containing two hundred and eighty acres: is claimed by John Pickering, under and by virtue of occupancy, he, the said claimant, having inhabited and cultivated the tract herein specified, on the 3d day of March, 1803, agreeable to an act of Congress, entitled An act, &c. and the same does not appear to be claimed by any of the preceding provisions of said act, and now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. All of which he begs leave to refer, as also to the plot hereto fixed, &c.

FOR JOHN PICKERING,
EDWIN LEWIS.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 461, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

William Coleman was presented as a witness; and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he was in nowise interested in this claim; that he was in the State of Georgia on the 3d of March, 1803, and could not say that the present claimant inhabited and cultivated the land in question at that time; that, when he returned from Georgia, in the month of May, 1803, he found John Pickering, the present claimant, working upon this land; that he had a house partly raised, about ten acres under fence, and five or six acres cleared, which appeared to have been cleared the preceding winter; that he raised on said land a crop of corn that season; that the said John Pickering had at that time a wife and a number of children.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

RICHARD S. BRYAN and GEORGE BREWER, Senior's case, No. 90 on the docket of the Board, and No. 6 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of three hundred and nineteen acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimants presented their claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, viz.:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress, passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the waters of Tawler creek, in the county of Washington, beginning at a corner cherry tree, and running thence, south, seventy degrees west, sixty-five chains; thence, south, twenty degrees east, forty-nine chains; thence, north, twenty degrees east, sixty-five chains; thence, north, twenty degrees, west forty-nine chains, to the beginning; containing three hundred and nineteen acres, having such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed; which said tract of land is claimed by Richard Smith Bryan and George Brewer, senior, under the firm of Bryan and Brewer, in and by virtue of right of pre-emption, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as by said act directed. To all which they beg leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

RICHARD SMITH BRYAN.
GEORGE BREWER, Senior.

FEBRUARY 22, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 13th February, 1804, by Thomas Bilbo. Chain carriers, James Huckaby and John McCole.

John McCole was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, testified, that he had no interest in the establishment of this claim; that John Sluder entered upon the lands now claimed in the fall of the year 1802, built a small house, cut over about four acres of land, and commenced the cultivation of a garden on the same; that he continued to inhabit and cultivate the same until the month of April, 1803, when he moved off, having previously sold his improvement; that the said John Sluder was, on the 3d of March, 1803, the head of a family.

That, some time in the month of February, 1803, Richard S. Bryan, one of the firm of Bryan and Brewer, and one of the present claimants, began to make improvements on another part of the land now claimed, to wit, on Tawler's creek, near where they have since erected a mill; that the improvement then commenced was, as the deponent understood, the building of a dwelling house; that the present claimants had purchased the improvements which had been made by John Sluder on the other part of said land; took possession of the same in the month of June, 1803.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

EDWIN LEWIS's case, No. 91 on the docket of the Board, and No. 21 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of four hundred acres, as assignee and legal representative of William Green, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed in the following words and figures, to wit:

WASHINGTON COUNTY, M. TERRITORY, Feb. 22, 1804. Please to take notice that the following tract of land, situated on Tawler's bayou or creek, above Fulsom's creek, butting and bounded as follows: By a line commencing at a water oak, at the mouth of Fulsom's creek, on the bank of Tawler; thence, up the said Fulsom's creek, about south, sixty degrees east, fifty-eight chains, to a corner white pine, on the south side of said creek; thence, south, seven degrees west, seventy chains, to a corner hickory; thence, north, eighty-three degrees west, fifty chains, to a corner stake; thence, north, seven degrees east, to the first mentioned water oak or beginning; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing four hundred acres; is claimed by Edwin Lewis, as the legal representative of William Green, under and by virtue of occupancy; he, the said William Green, having settled the same in January, 1802, and did likewise inhabit and cultivate the tract herein specified on the 3d day of March, 1803, agreeable to an act of Congress, entitled an Act, &c.; and the said William Green did, on the 7th day of June, 1803, assign a deed of conveyance of his right unto the said Edwin Lewis, and likewise two depositions on the sixth day of August, (of the same date,) and the said Edwin had, a long time previous to those assignments, agreed with the said William Green, for a part of the said premises; and the same does not appear to be claimed by any of the preceding provisions of the act, and no part thereof was inhabited and cultivated, at that time required by the said act, by any other person, and now exhibited unto the Register of the Land Office east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the plot hereto fixed, &c.

EDWARD LEWIS.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed, 15th of February, 1804, by Robert Ligon. Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 55, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited a deed from William Green, dated the 7th day of June, 1803, conveying to Edwin Lewis all the said Green's right, title, and claim to the said tract of land and the improvements thereon.

John Pickering was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that he had no interest in the establishment of this claim; that William Green entered upon the land, now claimed by Edwin Lewis, as his legal representative, in the month of January, 1802, erected a house, cleared and fenced a few acres, and raised a crop that year; that he continued to live on and cultivate the same land until the fall of the year 1803, and raised a crop thereon in the summer of the same year; that the said Green was, on the 3d of March, 1803, more than twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES CALLIER, representative of Bryant and Snellgrove: case commenced in page 651.

Richard Smith Bryant was produced as a witness, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, he deposed, that he had no interest in this claim; that, on the 4th of June, 1803, he was present when Henry Snellgrove agreed to convey to James Callier, Esquire, his improvement and all his right to the land now in question, and when he did actually convey the same by an instrument under his hand, to which he, the deponent, subscribed as a witness; that, according to his understanding, the transaction was fair and bona fide.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

NATHAN BLACKWELL's case: commenced in page 643.

William Gilliam, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and being duly sworn, deposed, that this plot is truly and correctly made, to the best of his knowledge and belief; that Francis Boykin's line, as it is now surveyed, takes nine poles and twenty links upon the lower or southwardly side of the present claim; that he, the witness, had surveyed and measured the lands claimed by said Boykin, and found that the survey of said Boykin includes more than his quantity of acres, to the amount of this interference; that he knew of no other claim that interfered with this plot.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Adjourned until Tuesday the 27th instant.

TUESDAY, March 27, 1804.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Ephraim Kirby, Robert C. Nicholas.

BENJAMIN HARRISON's case, No. 92 on the docket of the Board, and No. 168 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of three hundred and seventy-eight acres, as assignee and legal representative of Jacob Miller, under the second section of the act.

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting of claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee, in the county of Washington, beginning at Thomas Goodwin's stake corner, and runs, north, sixty-five degrees east, eighty chains thirty links, to Ryan's upper corner; thence, south, sixty degrees east, eighty-three chains, to a sweet bay corner; thence, north, forty-two degrees east, three chains, to a sweet gum corner on Ryan's lake; thence, down Ryan's lake to Thomas Goodwin's elm corner, nineteen chains; thence, south, forty degrees west eleven chains, to a hornbeam; thence, north, thirty degrees west, one hundred and eight chains, to the beginning; containing three hundred and seventy-eight acres, having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by Benjamin Harrison, legal representative of John Acworth, attorney in fact for Jacob Miller, in and by virtue of the second section of the said act, as a donation, as is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

BENJAMIN HARRISON,

Representative of John Acworth, Attorney for Jacob Miller.

MARCH 27, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed, 20th February, 1804, by William Gilliam. Chain carriers, Thomas Goodwin and Hezekiah Carter.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 502, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited sundry legal deeds of conveyance, duly executed and on file, by virtue of which all the right and title which the said Jacob Miller had to the said tract of land and the improvements made thereon, became vested in the said Benjamin Harrison; in consequence of which, he obtained and now holds the possession of the premises.

Jordan Morgan was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that in the month of October, 1797, Jacob Miller, the person under whom Benjamin Harrison claims the land now in question, did inhabit and cultivate the same; that he had a cabin and some small improvements; that he continued until some time in the year following, when he sold his improvements and possession to John James, who entered into the possession of the same, and continued some time; then sold his improvement to the deponent; that he entered into possession, and raised one crop on the land, then sold his right to Shered Hatley, who also entered into the possession, and there continued until he sold to Joseph Jackson, who took possession and continued there until he sold to Benjamin Harrison, the present claimant; that he entered into the possession, and had continued therein ever since; that, at the time when he, the deponent, saw Jacob Miller in possession of the premises, in the year 1797, he was a married man, as was John James to whom he sold.

William Gilliam, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that the plot now before the Board was truly and correctly made, according to the best of his knowledge and belief; that the house and improvements of the claimant were within the plot, and that he knew of no interfering claim or claims.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM GILLIAM's case, No. 93 on the docket of the Board, and No. 127 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of one hundred and two acres, as assignee and legal representative of John Clark, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, viz.:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on Sunflower creek, on the west side of Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning at a pine corner, running south, seven degrees east, forty chains, to a lightwood stake; thence, south, sixty-five degrees west, thirty-four chains, to a pine corner; thence, north, seven degrees west, twenty chains, to a pine corner on the creek; thence, north, forty degrees east, forty-five chains, to the beginning; containing one hundred and two acres, and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by William Gilliam, legal representative of John Clark, in and by virtue of the third section of the said act, as a pre-emption; and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

WILLIAM GILLIAM.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 447, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited a deed of conveyance from John Clark, dated 18th February, 1803, assigning to the said Gilliam all the said Clark's right and claim to said tract of land and the improvements made thereon.

The said Leonard and Wootton, chain carriers for the survey in this case, were sworn before William H. Hargrave, Esq., Justice of Peace.

Solomon Wheat and Hardy Wootton were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they both testified, that they were not interested in this claim; that the land now claimed by William Gilliam was settled and cultivated by John Clark, in the year 1802; that Clark sold his possession to the present claimant; that he moved his family on to the land, and raised a crop there in the summer of 1803; that they could not positively say whether he resided there on the 3d March, 1803; that he was, at that time, the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JORDAN MORGAN's case, No. 94 on the docket of the Board, and No. 123 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and thirty-eight acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of the Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the Sunflower lake, on the west side of Tombigbee, in the county of Washington, beginning at a sassafras corner, on Perkins's line, thence, south, twenty degrees west, sixty-two chains, to a white oak corner; then, due west, ninety-four chains, to a stake on James Denley's line; thence, south, ten degrees east, fifty-eight chains, to a black oak corner on James Denley's line; thence, west, one hundred and twenty-six chains, to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing six hundred and thirty-eight acres: is claimed by Jordan Morgan, in and by virtue of the second section of the said act, as a donation; and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

Chain carriers, Wiley Roberts and Hardy Wootton. Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 449, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The above named chain carriers were sworn before William H. Hargrave, Esquire, Justice of the Peace.

Solomon Wheat and Thomas Wheat were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they both deposed, that they were not interested in this claim.

The said Thomas testified, that, in the year 1798, the present claimant, Jordan Morgan, having married his daughter, he agreed to give him half of his improvements where he then lived, which was upon the land now claimed by said Morgan; that he entered upon the same land that year, and cultivated from twelve to fifteen acres in corn; that he afterwards relinquished to Morgan the whole improvements; that he lived there about three years from the time when he first came; and that he was, when he first entered upon said land, above twenty-one years of age, and a married man.

Question by the claimant. Do you remember that you assisted me to haul my house and to haul rails, when I first came on to the land, and at what time of the year was it?

Answer. I do remember it, and it was in the spring season; but I cannot name the exact time.

The said Solomon testified, that, in the spring, or the first part of the summer, of 1798, Jordan Morgan, the present claimant, entered, with his family upon the land by him now claimed, and raised a crop that year; that he has been off and on several times since, and had raised crops; that he, the deponent, was not able to ascertain, with precision, the years when he was off or on; that, at the time when he first went into the possession of said land, he was above twenty-one years of age, and a married man.

William Gilliam, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, he deposed, that the plot of the land claimed, which is now before the Board, was truly and correctly made, according to the best of his knowledge and belief; that it included the buildings and cultivation of the claimant; that he knew of no interfering lines or claims of any kind; that this tract was bounded on three sides by the lines of other claimants. The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES CALLIER'S case, No. 95 on the docket of the Board, and No. 160 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, as assignee and legal representative of Isabella Trouillet, the wife of Joseph Campbell, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of an act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to land south of the Tennessee river, and east of the Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, lying west of the Mobile river, bounded eastwardly by the said river, and on all other sides by vacant lands, is claimed by James Callier, legal representative of Isabella Trouillet, at present the wife of Joseph Campbell; the said land having been settled in the year 1795, by the said Isabella Trouillet, who has occupied the same down to the present day, under and by virtue of the second section of the above mentioned act of Congress, for granting donation lands. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot now delivered to the Register of the Land Office, to be established east of Pearl river, which said plot is herewith filed.

JAMES CALLIER.

Surveyed 23d March, 1804, by James Gordon. Chain bearers, William Weathers, Joseph Edmonson.

Entered in record of claims, vol. —, page —, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant produced a deed of conveyance from Joseph Campbell, bearing date 20th of October, 1802, duly executed, conveying to the said Callier all the said Campbell's right and title to said tract of land.

Doctor John Chastang was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, he deposed, that he had no interest in this claim, that, in the years 1796, 1797, and 1798, and, as he believed, in the year 1799, Isabella Trouillet, then the widow of Peter Trouillet, had a number of negroes living upon and cultivating the land now in question; that Madame Trouillet resided, at that time, in Mobile.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOSEPH CHASTANG'S case, No. 96 on the docket of the Board, and No. 135 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and thirty-nine acres and eight-tenths of an acre, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of an act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to land south of the Tennessee, and east of the Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land lying on the west side of the Mobile river, butting and bounding as follows, viz.: beginning at a stake at Simon Andry's fence on the bank of the said river, running north, sixty-two degrees west, ninety-nine chains, to a pine; thence, south, four degrees west, ninety-seven chains, to a stake; thence, due east, ninety-one chains and sixty-links, to a red oak on the bank of the river; thence, up the meanders, to the beginning, on a straight line, fifty-one chains; bounded westwardly on vacant land, northwardly by Charlotte Herau's land, and eastwardly by the Mobile river: is claimed by Joseph Chastang, under and by virtue of the second section of the above mentioned act of Congress, for granting donation land. To all which he begs leave to refer; also, to the copy of the plot now delivered to the Register of the Land Office to be established east of Pearl river, which plot is herewith filed.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 459, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Joseph Chastang appeared before the Board, and, on solemn oath, declared, that Simon Andry, of the county of Washington, is (as he believes) a material witness in his case, now pending before the Board, wherein he claims a donation of six hundred and thirty-nine acres and eight-tenths of an acre; and that the said Simon Andry is now confined to his bed by severe sickness, and in such state of health that it is not practicable to have him personally before said Board to give his testimony in the premises.

Whereupon, it is ordered by the Board, that the testimony of the above named witness may be taken in said case, before any lawful magistrate of said county (who is disinterested in said case,) being certified to the Board in due form of law.

Attest: DAVID PARMELEE 2d, Clerk.

John Chastang, Esquire, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated, by the Board, he deposed, that in the year 1766 or 1767, Joseph Chastang, the present claimant, purchased the lands now in question, and went immediately into the possession and cultivation of the same, and continued there until the country was taken from the English by the Spaniards, when the Indians became so troublesome and dangerous that he was obliged to move down to Mobile: that when he, the deponent, came on to his plantation (which was near by the claimant's) in October, 1796, he found one of the sons of the present claimant, on his plantation, with his negroes, conducting his business as overseer; that he believed that one of the claimant's sons was there, with the negroes, as overseer, until the year 1798, when the said Joseph Chastang returned to his plantation now claimed, and had lived there ever since; that the present claimant was near sixty years of age in the year 1797.

Question. You say that this claimant purchased the lands now claimed in the years 1766 or 1767, and has ever since possessed the same; why does he not claim the lands by virtue of that title?

Answer. I have understood that the Indians burnt several of his houses, in one of which were his title papers, and thereby it has become impossible for him to produce this written evidence of his title.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

THOMAS GOODWIN'S case, No. 97 on the docket of the Board, and No. 130 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of three hundred and seventy-four acres, as assignee and legal representative of Hiram Moulger, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on Ryan's lake, on the west side of Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning at Wheat's pine corner, and running thence, north, sixty degrees east, eighteen chains, to a lightwood stake; thence, south, thirty degrees east, one hundred and eight chains, to a hornbeam; thence, north, sixty degrees east, forty chains and fifty links, to a hornbeam on Ryan's lake; thence, south, twenty-seven degrees east, forty chains, to a red oak; thence, south, sixty degrees west, twenty-eight chains, to a sweet gum; thence, north, fifty-six degrees west, forty chains, to Wheat's white oak corner; thence, with a straight line, to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing three hundred and seventy-four acres: is claimed by Thomas Goodwin, as legal representative of Hiram Mounger, in and by virtue of a donation claim, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office, east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

THOMAS GOODWIN.

Chain carriers, Hezekiah Carter and Ambrose Miles.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 451, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The said chain carriers for the preceding survey were sworn before William H. Hargrave, Esquire, Justice of the Peace.

The claimant produced a deed of conveyance from John Wheat, dated the 13th day of July, 1803; conveying to the said Thomas Goodwin, all the said Wheat's right and claim to the said tract of land, and the improvements made thereon.

Jordan Morgan was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that he was not interested in this claim; that, in the year 1797, he passed across this land, and found an improvement there, which he understood was made by Hiram Mounger; that, in the year 1798, Hiram Mounger exchanged his possession and improvement on this land, for the possession and improvement of Hezekiah and Solomon Wheat, on another tract; that two or three improvements were made in different parts of the tract, given up by Mounger to the Wheats; that the Wheats being brothers, made a partition of the land among themselves; that the land now in question is a part of the original tract, which was claimed by virtue of the settlement and improvement of Hiram Mounger; that Thomas Goodwin, the present claimant, then lived on one of those improvements; that Frederick Smith performed labor at the same place in the year 1798, and raised a crop there in the year 1799; and the same year sold his labor and improvement to John Wheat, a brother of Solomon and Hezekiah; that, whether Smith improved there by the consent of the Wheats or not, he, the deponent, could not be positive; though he presumed, it was by consent, as Smith was a connexion of the family by marriage, and lived in the house with them during that time; that Hiram Mounger was upwards of twenty-one years of age in the year 1797.

William Gilliam, surveyor, and Solomon Wheat, were produced as witnesses, and being duly sworn, the said Wheat deposed, that Hiram Mounger had made some improvements on the land, now claimed by Thomas Goodwin, before the exchange took place, as mentioned by the last witness; that Smith had also begun to labor there in the year 1798, before Solomon and Hezekiah Wheat entered into possession; that, after they came into possession, they agreed with Smith upon a partition line, between the improvements where Smith was at work and the improvements where Mounger lived, which line was truly represented by the plot then before the Board; that Smith afterwards sold his improvements and possession to John Wheat, as he, the deponent, had heard them say; that John Wheat sold to Thomas Goodwin, as he had heard them both say; that he knew that Goodwin took possession, and had since continued to live at the same place.

The said Gilliam testified, that the plot of the land claimed by Thomas Goodwin, then before the Board, was truly and correctly made, according to the best of his knowledge and belief; that he knew of no interfering claims of any kind; that the irregular shape of this survey was occasioned by the lines of adjoining claimants.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM WILLIAMS's case, No. 98 on the docket of the Board, and No. 46 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of one hundred and one acres, three roods, and twenty-seven poles, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee, butted on the same, bounded on the southwest and southeast by vacant land, and on the northeast by George Robbins; beginning on a cotton tree, and runs south, fifty-six degrees west, thirty-one chains, to a white oak; thence, south, twenty-five degrees east, at twenty-five chains crossing a small branch; in all, sixty chains twenty-seven links, to a stake with two wahoos, a hickory, and dogwood pointers; thence, north, sixty degrees east, twenty chains and fifty links, with Robbins's line to his corner, a large sycamore on the river bank; thence, the meanders of the river, to the beginning; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed; containing one hundred and one acres, three roods, and twenty-seven poles: is claimed by William Williams, under and by virtue of a settlement bearing date the 20th day of February, 1803, and now exhibited unto the Register of the Land Office east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

WILLIAM WILLIAMS.

[Plot omitted.]

Chain carriers, Henry Nail, Edward Williams. Surveyed 28th February, 1804, by J. Malone.

Entered in record of claims, vol. page 119, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Richard Hawkins and Edward Williams were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they both deposed, that they had no interest in the establishment of this claim; that William Williams, the present claimant, did inhabit and cultivate the land by him claimed before and on the 3d of March, 1803, and raised a crop thereon in the summer following; and that he was, on the third of March, 1803, an aged man, and the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES HUCKABY's case, No. 99 on the docket of the Board, and No. 110 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of four hundred and sixty-seven acres, as assignee and legal representative of Matthew Robinson, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the south side of Tawler creek, in the county of Washington, beginning at a stake on said creek, running east eighty chains, to a poplar corner; thence, north, fifty-three chains, to a chestnut; thence, north, forty-five degrees west, thirty-five chains, to a hackberry on said creek; thence, up said creek, to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed; containing four hundred and sixty-seven acres: is claimed by James Huckaby, legal representative of Matthew Robinson, in and by virtue of the third section of the above recited act, as a pre-emption; and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office, established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

WILLIAM COLEMAN, for

JAMES HUCKABY,
Representative of Matthew Robinson.

MARCH 27, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 4th March, 1804, by Thomas Bilbo. Chain carriers, Reuben Westmoreland, Richard Smith Bryan.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 344, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The said chain carriers were sworn before William Pierce and Joseph Thompson, Justices of the Peace.

The claimant exhibited a deed from Matthew Robinson, dated 22d January, 1803, conveying to the said James Huckaby all the said Robinson's right to said tract of land and the improvements made thereon.

Richard Smith Bryan and William Coleman were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they both deposed, that they were not interested in this claim; that, in the latter part of the year 1801, Matthew Robinson commenced to improve upon the land claimed by James Huckaby, and live there with his family through the year 1802, and raised a crop that year; that he afterwards sold his improvements to James Huckaby; that he continued to live on the land, by the consent of Huckaby, some time after, but whether the said Robinson or the said Huckaby lived there on the 3d of March, 1803, they, the witnesses, could not be positively certain; but were certain that, when Robinson moved off, Huckaby moved on to the land, and did cultivate and raise a crop thereon, in the summer of the year 1803; and that both Robinson and Huckaby were heads of families on the 3d of March, 1803.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

NICHOLAS PERKINS, representative of Thomas Wheat: case commenced in page 690.

John Baker was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that he had no interest in this claim; that Thomas Wheat, the person under whom the present claim is made, was an old inhabitant of this county; that, on the 27th day of October, 1795, and before and since, until lately, the said Thomas Wheat did inhabit and cultivate the land then question; that, on the 22d of October, 1787, the said Thomas Wheat was more than twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family.

Thomas Wheat and William Gilliam, surveyor, were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Gilliam deposed, that the plot before the Board was made by him; that it was true and correct, according to his best knowledge and belief; that he knew of no interfering claims.

The said Wheat testified, that he did sell and convey his title to the land now claimed to Nicholas Perkins, the present claimant; that the instrument of conveyance, now produced to the Board, was his free act and deed for that purpose.

Jordan Morgan and Hezekiah Carter, chain carriers for the survey in this case, and also for the survey in the said Perkins's case, commenced in page 691, were sworn before William H. Hargrave, Esq., Justice of the Peace.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN WAMACK's case, No. 100 on the docket of the Board, and No. 147 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of two hundred and forty acres, under the third section of the act.

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of an act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of the Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of the river Tombigbee, beginning at a large pine, and runs south, sixty-two degrees west, crossing a small branch at six chains and fifty links, forty chains, to a stake; thence, north, twenty-eight degrees west, sixty chains, to a black jack corner; thence, north, sixty-two degrees east, forty chains, to a stake, and from thence to the beginning; containing two hundred and forty acres: is claimed by John Wamack, under and by virtue of the third section of the above recited act of Congress; is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office, established east of Pearl river, for the purpose of being recorded as directed by the above recited act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the plot herewith filed.

MARCH 26, 1804.

JOHN WAMACK.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 18th February, 1804, by J. Malone. Chain carriers, Peter Cartwright and John Walker.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 475, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The said chain carriers for the preceding survey were sworn before William Pierce, Justice of Peace.

Richard S. Bryan and William Coleman were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were in no way interested in the establishment of this claim.

The said Coleman further testified, that, in July, 1802, he was at the house of John Wamack, the present claimant, on the lands which are now by him claimed; that he then had considerable land in cultivation; that he, said Coleman, then went into Georgia, and returned in the month of May, 1803, and found the said Wamack still there inhabiting and cultivating; that he continues there still; and that he verily believed that Wamack was there on the 3d of March, 1803; that he was, at that time, more than twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family.

Question by the claimant's attorney. What is the state of John Wamack's improvements on the land by him now claimed?

Answer. I suppose that he has between thirty and forty acres under cultivation.

The said Bryan testified, that he was at the house of John Wamack, the present claimant, on the land now by him claimed, the last of February, or the 1st of March, 1803; that he then lived there with his family; had considerable land in cultivation; that he has ever since continued to live there; and that he was, at that time, more than twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that the plot then before the Board was truly and correctly made, according to the best of his knowledge and belief; that it includes the house and improvements of the claimant; that he knew of no interfering lines or claims of any kind.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Adjourned until Wednesday, the 28th instant.

WEDNESDAY, March 28, 1804.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Ephraim Kirby, Robert C. Nicholas.

NICHOLAS PERKINS, representative of Daniel Johnson: case commenced in page 691.

James Denley, John Denley, and William H. Hargrave, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they all deposed, that they had no interest in this claim.

The said James testified, that Daniel Johnson, in whose right the present claimant appears, deceased about two years before; that he would then have been (if living) upwards of seventy years of age; that he resided in this county in the year 1795, and until the time of his death; that the land in question was, some part of it, under cultivation in the year 1795; but could not say that it was by Daniel Johnson.

The said John testified, that he could not say, with positive certainty, as to the precise time, but knew that, about year 1795, the land in question was cultivated by the son of Daniel Johnson, deceased; that, before the year 1795, and in that year, and until his death, the said Daniel Johnson did reside in this county, not far from this land, and that he was an aged man at the time of his death.

The said Hargrave testified, that the deed of conveyance, dated the 21st day of September, 1803, under his signature, then before the Board, by which he conveyed all his right and interest in the land now claimed to Nicholas Perkins, Esq., the present claimant, was his free act and deed, and was by him executed and delivered for the purposes therein mentioned.

William Gilliam, surveyor, Hiram Mounger, and John Brewer, were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Gilliam deposed, that, on the 21st of May, 1800, he saw Solomon Johnson execute and deliver a deed to William H. Hargrave, conveying the lands now in question; that he was called and subscribed as a witness; and that he saw Samuel Long also subscribe as a witness to the same instrument; that, upon inspection of the deed of Solomon Johnson, then exhibited in evidence before the Board, he was satisfied that it was the same original instrument to which he subscribed as a witness; that he surveyed, and made the plot then before the Board; that it was correctly made, according to the best of his knowledge and belief; that a small portion of one line could not be measured, by reason of high water, and was laid down by conjecture.

The said Brewer and Mounger both testified, that, from the year 1791, until within three years past, the land in question has been cultivated by Daniel Johnson, deceased, or for his use.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

NICHOLAS PERKINS, representative of Thomas Wheat: case commenced in page 690.

John Brewer, Esq. and Hiram Mounger were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim; that, before the year 1795, in that year, and until within a short time past, Thomas Wheat, the person in whose right the present claimant appears, did inhabit and cultivate the land in question, and that they believed that said Thomas Wheat was more than twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family on the 23d day of October, 1787.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN BAKER'S two cases: one commenced in page 703, the other in page 704.

George Brewer was produced as a witness in said cases; and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, he testified, that, in the year 1794, he became acquainted with John Baker, the present claimant, at his place of residence, on the lands now in question; that the said Baker had continued to reside and cultivate there ever since.

The Board ordered that these cases be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM GILLIAM'S case: commenced in page 713.

William Hargrave and John Denley were presented as witnesses; and, being sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not in any way interested in this claim; and the said Hargrave testified, that he was present when John Clark sold his possession and improvement on the land in question, on the 18th of February, 1803; that, by their request, he drew and witnessed a writing which said Clark executed: that, within a few days after, he was present when Clark gave to Gilliam the possession of the place; that Gilliam went there himself, and raised a crop that season, but did not move his family into the house immediately; that Gilliam was, on the 3d of March, 1803, the head of a family.

The said Denley testified, that he was present when John Clark sold his possessions to William Gilliam, and witnessed the writing; that he knew that the possession was peaceably surrendered up by Clark to Gilliam; that Gilliam went to work on the land that spring, and raised a crop thereon the ensuing season; that, in the course of the same spring, he moved into the house, and had there lived ever since.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

EPHRAIM BARKER'S case: commenced in page 652.

William Gilliam, surveyor, was presented as witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that the plot of the land claimed, then presented to the Board, was correctly made according to the best of his knowledge and belief; that said plot did not include any dwelling house, as it usually overflowed annually, and was unfit for a dwelling place; that it included the cultivated field of the claimant; that he, Gilliam, knew of no interfering lines or claims.

Question. Is this position such that a family could not reside upon it?

Answer. It is very much surrounded by ponds and lakes: I cannot say how far the health of inhabitants might be affected by that: the annual overflowings, I think, would probably sweep a house off if one should be placed there.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

BENJAMIN HARRISON'S case: commenced in page 712.

Hiram Mounger was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he was not interested in the establishment of this claim; that, in the latter part of the year 1797, Jacob Miller settled upon the land in question, and as he, Mounger, understood, sold it afterwards to one James, who cultivated it in the year 1798; that from James the possession and improvement passed through several persons to Benjamin Harrison, the present claimant, who then lived upon the same; that both Jacob Miller and James were each the head of a family in the year 1797.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

FRANCIS STRINGER'S case: commenced in page 676.

John Dunn and Reuben Holloway, chain carriers for the survey in this case, were sworn before John Callier, Esq., Justice of the Peace.

John Callier, Esq. was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that he had no interest in the establishment of this claim; that, in the month of January, or February, 1798, he assisted Francis Stringer to erect a house on the land which he now claims; that he believed that Stringer got into it with his family in the month of February, and had continued to live and cultivate there ever since, and believed that he made a crop on the same land in the year 1798; that the said Stringer was, at that time, more than twenty-one years of age; and that, according to the best of his recollection, said Stringer did cut his timber or logs for his house in the year 1797.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

NOAH KINNER HUTSON'S case, No. 101 on the docket of the Board, and No. 136 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of two hundred and ninety-seven acres three roods and five poles, as assignee and legal representative of Henry Nail, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated in Washington county, on the west side Tombigbee, butted on said river, and bounded on the north by land claimed by Mrs. Ann Lawrence, on the west, by vacant land, and on the south, by the claim of James Callier: beginning at a small sweet gum on the river bank, said Callier's corner, and runs with the river, south, eighty-seven degrees west, fifteen chains; thence, south, eighty-two degrees west, twenty-two chains fifty links; thence, north, eighty-two degrees west, twelve chains fifty links; thence, south, eighty-seven degrees west, nineteen chains; thence, north, eighty-five degrees west, five chains fifty links; thence, north, eighty-seven degrees west, four chains forty links to a sassafras corner, on the river bank; thence, south, thirteen degrees west, forty-four chains fifty links, to a small pine corner; thence, south, fifty-nine degrees east, twenty-six chains, to a stake on James Callier's line; thence, with his line north, forty-eight degrees east, eighty-seven chains, to the beginning: having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing two hundred and ninety-seven acres, three roods and five poles; is claimed by Noah Kinner Hutson, legal representative of Henry Nail, under and by virtue of the section of the above recited act, and now exhibited unto the Register of the Land Office, established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act: to all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

NOAH KINNER HUTSON, his x mark,
Legal representative of Henry Nail.

March 8, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 23d March, 1804, by J. Malone. Chain carriers, George Hutson and James Whittington.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 460, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The said chain carriers for the preceding survey were sworn before John Callier, Esq., Justice of the Peace.

John Callier, Esq. and George Brewer were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were in no way interested in this claim; and the said Brewer testified, that, in the year 1794, Henry Nail, the person in whose right the present claimant appears, built upon and cultivated the land in question, and continued to live there until the year 1797 or 1798, when he removed off, but kept up the cultivation by means of other people until the year 1801 or 1802; when he sold his possessions and improvements to Noah Kinner Hutson, the present claimant; that he, Brewer, drew the writings for the parties, which, he understood, had since been lost by accident; that, in the year 1797, Henry Nail was the head of a family; that the present claimant had been in possession ever since the purchase which he made of Nail, as aforesaid.

The said Callier testified, that when he came into this country, in the year 1797, he found Henry Nail living on the land in question; that it appeared to be an old possession; that he knew that Nail continued there until the year 1799; that, in the year 1797, Henry Nail had a wife and family of children.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the plot then before the Board; that, according to his knowledge and belief, it was correct; that it included the dwelling house and improvements of the claimant; that there was an interfering claim; that the line of Mrs. Lawrence run across this plot, near to the house, on the westerly side thereof; that he knew of no other interference.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SIMON ANDREY'S two cases: one commenced in page 682, the other case commences in page 683.

Joseph Chastang was produced as a witness in these two cases, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that Simon Andry, the present claimant, was more than fifty years of age; that, before and in the year 1795, the plantation of the said Simon Andry, on the land now claimed, was inhabited and cultivated by his slaves; that the said Andry being an interpreter of the Choctaw language, resided principally in Mobile, but occasionally visited this plantation to inspect the business, &c.; that the cultivation was continued in that manner until the year 1797, when he moved on to the land himself, and had ever since resided there the principal part of the time; that the said two tracts of land, claimed by said Andry, are adjoined and form the said plantation.

The Board ordered that the cases be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM COLEMAN'S case, No. 102 on the docket of the Board, and No. 132 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of four hundred and ninety-seven acres, two roods, and six poles, as assignee and legal representative of Simon Favre, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side Tombigbee, butted on said river, and bounded on the southwest by Stewart's old survey, beginning on the river bank, just above a bayou or branch, at the upper end of the bluff, on which stands Fort St. Stephen's, at a small ironwood, and runs with the old line south, twenty-five degrees west, crossing the bayou at one chain, in all forty-two chains ninety links, to a stake corner, with two red oak pointers on James Griffin's line; thence, on agreed line between the claimant and said Griffin, north, fifty degrees west, eighteen chains eighty-seven links, to a stake corner; thence, an agreed line south, forty degrees west, fifty-five chains, to a pine corner; thence, north, sixty-five degrees west, thirty-four chains, fifty links, to a stake with a hickory and red oak pointers; thence north, twenty-five degrees east, at fifty-eight chains, a small branch, in all, one hundred and sixteen chains, to a small locust tree on the river bank; thence, the meanders of the river to the beginning, having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing four hundred and ninety-seven acres, two roods, and six poles: is claimed by William Coleman, of Washington county, legal representative of Simon Favre, under and by virtue of the second section of the above recited act, and now exhibited unto the Register of the Land Office, established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

WILLIAM COLEMAN,
Legal representative of Simon Favre.
[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 17th March, 1804, by J. Malone. Chain carriers, Nace Russel, James Griffin, and Dawson Grimes.

The claimant exhibited a deed of conveyance in the words and figures following, to wit:

THOMAS WILLIAMS.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 454, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The said Russel, Griffin, and Grimes, chain carriers for the preceding survey, were sworn before William Pierce, Justice of the Peace.

Francis Stringer, John Callier, and John F. McGrew, were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they all deposed, that they were not in any way interested in this claim; and the said Stringer and McGrew testified, that, in the latter part of the year 1796, or the first part of the year 1797, Simon Favre entered into the possession and improvement of the land now claimed by William Coleman, as his legal representative; that said Favre continued to reside on and cultivate the same land, raised crops annually until after the Spaniards had evacuated that part of the Mississippi territory, in the spring of the year 1799; and that, in the year 1797, the said Favre was the head of a family.

The said Callier testified, that he saw Simon Favre living on the land in question, in the year 1797; that he then had a good crop of corn which had grown thereon that year; that he, Callier, went into Georgia and returned in June 1799, and that said Simon Favre had removed with his family out of the country; and he understood that Favre sold his possession and improvement to John Berry, who raised a crop on that land in the year 1800; that Berry afterwards sold to William Coleman, the present claimant, as he had heard both the parties declare.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

FIGURES LEWIS'S case: commenced in page 659.

William Gilliam, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that the plot then presented was correctly and truly made, according to the best of his knowledge and belief; that it included the dwelling house and improvements of the claimant; that, from information, he understood that George Brewer had surveyed Sullivan's island, and crossed and included the whole of that survey, except a small corner.

Thomas Sullivan was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, testified, that he was in no way interested in this claim; that near about the 15th of February, 1803, Figures Lewis entered upon the land then claimed, and set two negroes to work on the same; that said Lewis lived at another place, but was there every two or three days superintending his business; that his work was continued until he moved there with his family in the spring season following: that, on the 3d of March, 1803, his work was progressing, one small house was then finished, and two others partly done; that said Lewis had continued to live there ever since he moved on in the spring, 1803.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

DANIEL JOHNSON'S case: commenced in page 678.

Bridget Burk was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that she was frequently in the family of the present claimant's father in the year 1795; that she then understood from the family, that Daniel Johnson, the present claimant, was more than twenty-one years of age; that she lived in the family in the year 1796, and always understood the same thing; that, in the year 1796, Daniel Johnson lived with his father, but carried on business by himself: that he used to go out to work with his men, which she understood to be upon the land now claimed, but could not say positively that it was upon the land.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

DANIEL JOHNSON'S case, No. 103 on the docket of the Board, and No. 83 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, as legal representative of William Burk, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

MARCH 26, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning at a water oak, running thence, north, one hundred and forty-three chains forty-six links, to a red oak corner; thence, north, eighty-one chains twenty-five links, to a corner stake; thence, east, forty-two chains and forty-six links, to a water oak on the Three River lake; thence, down the meanders of said lake, to the beginning; containing six hundred forty acres, and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by Daniel Johnson, legal representative of William Burk, in and by virtue of a deed of conveyance from William Burk to the widow Elizabeth McKim, and from the widow E. McKim to said D. Johnson, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 22d March, 1804, by John Dease. Chain bearers, James Dean, Amos Reed.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 239, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited a deed from Elizabeth McKim, bearing date the 3d of September, 1803, duly executed, conveying to the said Daniel Johnson all the said Elizabeth's right and claim to the said tract of land, and the improvements made thereon.

Ephraim Barker and Bridget Burk were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in the establishment of this claim.

The said Burk testified, that, in the year 1797, William Burk, now deceased, then the husband of the witness, commenced the improvement of the land in question, by clearing a little land, preparing for a garden, planting some fruit trees, &c. and moved on with the family in the month of January or February, 1798, and raised a crop on the land that year; that in the last part of the same year, he sold his possession and improvement to the widow Elizabeth McKim, who took possession, and continued to inhabit and cultivate the same until last year, except one year that she rented it.

The said Barker testified, that, in the year 1797, William Burk began his improvements on the land now in question, by building a smoke house, and beginning his dwelling house, &c.; that he moved his family on in the year 1798; that he, Barker, saw that year a crop of corn growing there; that Burk was a married man in the year 1797.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SOLOMON BOYKIN'S case, No. 104 on the docket of the Board, and No. 153 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of five hundred and two acres, as assignee and legal representative of Elizabeth Reed, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress, passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of the Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

MARCH 20, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the waters of Bassett's creek, on the west side of Tombigbee, in the county of Washington, beginning at sweet gum, on a lake; thence, with the lake, to a sweet gum; thence, north, sixty-seven degrees west, eighty-three chains, to a post oak corner; thence, south, twenty-three degrees west, eighty-two chains, to a black gum, on Bassett's creek; thence, with the said creek, to the beginning, and hath such marks and forms, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing five hundred and two acres: is claimed by Solomon Boykin, legal representative of Elizabeth Reed, in and by virtue of the third section of the said act, as a pre-emption; and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

SOLOMON BOYKIN,
Legal representative of Elizabeth Reed.
[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 7th of March, 1804, by Robert Ligon.
Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 482, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Kinchen Boykin and John Smith, chain carriers for the preceding survey, were sworn before John Callier, Esq. Justice of Peace.

Robert Ligon and Francis Boykin were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim; that, in the year 1802, Robert House inhabited and improved the land in question, and that he sold his possession and improvement to the widow Elizabeth Reed, who went into possession, and continued there, from the spring of the year 1803, until about the month of December, 1803, when she relinquished her claim to House, not being able to pay him the purchase money; that, during the time that she lived there, in the spring and summer of 1803, she cultivated a small garden for family purposes, which was the only cultivation she had on the land; that, when she relinquished and left the place, House sold it to the present claimant, who immediately went into possession, and has continued in possession ever since; that Elizabeth Reed was more than twenty-one years of age on the 3d of March, 1803.

The said Ligon further testified, that he knew that Elizabeth Reed was in possession of the premises before and on the 3d of March, 1803; that the plot of the land claimed was made by him; that it was accurately laid down according to the best of his knowledge and belief; that he knew of no interfering lines or claims.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Adjourned until Thursday, the 29th instant.

THURSDAY, March 29, 1804.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Ephraim Kirby, Robert C. Nicholas, Joseph Chambers.

EDNA BILBO, administratrix of Matthew Bilbo, deceased, case No. 105 on the docket of the Board, and No. 131 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of four hundred and one acres, under the ——— section of the act.

The claimant presented her claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

MARCH 29, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, lying on an island called Bilbo's island, in the county of Washington, beginning at the most northernmost part of the island, and running down the eastward river to the confluence of the same; thence, up the southwest river, to the confluence of the creek known by the name of Bilbo's creek; thence, northwardly, to the beginning; containing four hundred and one acres, having such shape, form, and marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, is claimed by Edna Bilbo, for the heirs of Matthew Bilbo, and now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which she begs leave to refer.

EDNA BILBO,

For the heirs of Matthew Bilbo.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 16th March, 1804, by Robert Ligon. Chain carriers, George Farrar and Cornelius Rain.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 452, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The chain carriers above named were sworn before Figures Lewis, Esq., Justice of Peace.

The claimant produced letters of administration granted to her, and duly authenticated, bearing date 8th April, 1804.

John Callier and Cornelius Rain were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated, they deposed, that they had no interest, nor did they expect any, in this claim.

The said Callier testified, that Matthew Bilbo came to this county with him, in the winter of the year 1797, and, as he, Callier, believed, cultivated the land in question, in the year 1798, and continued to cultivate the same until his death; that his wife had cultivated the same ever since; that the land, being low ground, was subject to be inundated, and therefore not suitable to build and live upon; that Matthew Bilbo built his dwelling house on the high land near the same, and that he was, in the year 1797, the head of a family.

The said Rain testified the same, as did said Callier, excepting the words "with him," which words Rain omitted.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed the land then in question, and made the plot exhibited to the Board, which gave a true representation of said land; that it had such marks natural as are therein represented, and that he knew of no interfering lines.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

BRIDGET BURKE, administratrix of William Burke, deceased, case No. 106 on the docket of the Board, and No. 83 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, as assignee and legal representative of Thomas Jones, under the — section of the act.

The claimant presented her claim, together with a surveyor's plot of land claimed, in the following words and figures, viz.:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to land south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee, in the county of Washington, beginning at a sassafras on the river bank, and running north, seventy-three degrees west, one hundred and one chains and twenty links, to a water oak; thence, north, seventeen degrees east, forty chains, to a cypress; thence, south, eighty degrees west, fifty-seven chains, to a pine; thence, south, ten degrees east, fifty chains, to a pine on Bilbo's creek; thence, down said creek to the river, and up the various courses of the river to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing six hundred and forty acres: is claimed by the widow Bridget Burke, in and by virtue of a deed of conveyance from Thomas Jones to the deceased William Burke; and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which she begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

BRIDGET BURKE, her x mark,

Administratrix of her deceased husband, Wm. Burke.

Surveyed March 22, 1804, by John Dease. Chain bearers, James Dean and James Powel.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 241, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant produced letters of administration to her, duly granted and authenticated, bearing date the 16th day of September, 1803.

Ephraim Barker and Francis Stringer were presented as witnesses, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim; that Thomas Jones, the person in whose right the present claimant appears, moved his family on to the land in question in the year 1796; made a crop thereon in 1797; that his family continued to reside there until the last part of the year 1798, when William Burke, now deceased, purchased the possession and improvements which Jones had made, and removed there with his family, and there continued until the time of his death, which happened in the course of last year; that the said Thomas Jones was the head of a family in the year 1797.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

ANN LAWRENCE's case, No. 107 on the docket of the Board, and No. 133 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented her claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning at a stake on the river bank, and runs south seventeen degrees west, crossing a small branch at forty chains ninety links, another at sixty-six chains, in all, eighty-eight chains, to a large pine corner; thence, north, seventy-three degrees west, crossing Brewer's mill creek at sixty chains, about two chains below the mill, in all, eighty chains, to a stake corner; thence, north, seventeen degrees east, seventy-two chains, to a water oak, George Brewer's corner, on the river bank; thence, the meanders of the river, to the beginning, containing six hundred and forty acres; having such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed; is claimed by Ann Lawrence, in and by virtue of the second section of the act, as a donation, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office, established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which she begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

JOSEPH LAWRENCE, for ANN LAWRENCE.

MARCH 28th, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 13th February, 1804, by J. Malone. Chain carriers, Kenith Hutson and David Gains, Junior.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 456, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Young Gains and George Brewer, Junior, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they testified, that they had no interest whatever in this claim; that Ann Lawrence had inhabited and cultivated upon the land then in question ever since the year 1795; that she was, on the 27th of October, 1797, above twenty-five years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN DUNN's case, No. 108 on the docket of the Board and No. 152 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of three hundred and ninety-one acres, one rood, and thirty-nine poles, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of the Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on Tombigbee river, butted on said river, and bounded north by the claim of Francis Stringer, and on the west by vacant land, and on the south by the claim of Nathan Blackwell, beginning on Stringer's maple corner, on the river bank, and runs with his line south, sixty-two degrees west, thirty chains fifty links, to a bay corner; thence, north, forty-three degrees west, twenty-four chains, to a stake, with two sassafras and a mulberry pointer; thence, south, forty-seven degrees west, seventy-three chains, to a small pine corner; thence, south, forty-three degrees east, seventeen chains to a small red oak corner; thence north, thirty-eight degrees east, twelve chains fifteen links to a stake, Nathan Blackwell's corner; thence with his line south, sixty-eight degrees east, sixty-three chains, (passing Blackwell's sweet gum corner one chain fifty links) to a stake corner on the river bank; thence, the meanders of the river, to the beginning; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed; containing three hundred and ninety-one acres, one rood, and thirty-nine poles: is claimed by John Dunn, under and by virtue of a settlement in the year 1802, and now exhibited unto the Register of the Land Office, established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

JOHN DUNN.

MARCH 24, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 24th March, 1804, by J. Malone. Chain carriers, Kinchen Boykin and Rice Wells.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 481, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The said chain carriers, Boykin and Wells, were sworn before John Callier, Esq., Justice of the Peace.

Francis Boykin and Francis Stringer were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in the establishment of this claim; that John Dunn, the present claimant, built a house and moved his family on to the land, then in question, in the year 1802; that he had continued to live there ever since, and made a crop on the land in 1803; that, on the 3d of March of that year he was the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

THOMAS MALONE's case, No. 109 on the docket of the Board, and No. 146 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of three hundred and thirty acres, under the third section of the act.

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of the Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee river, Washington county, butted on said river, and bounded on the north by the claim of Colonel John Callier, on the west by vacant land, and on the south by the claim of Francis Stringer, beginning on an elm, on the river bank, Colonel Callier's lower corner; and runs with his line south, forty-seven degrees west, twenty-four chains eighty-six links, to an ironwood corner; thence, south, thirty-seven degrees east, forty-four chains seventy-five links, to a white oak corner; thence, north, forty-seven degrees east, thirty-two chains, to a white oak corner, an agreed line between the claimant and F. Stringer; thence, south, forty-three degrees east, thirty chains, to a stake corner; thence, north, sixty-three degrees east, forty-one chains fifty links, to a large ash, on the river bank; thence, the meanders of the river, to the beginning; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed; containing three hundred and thirty acres: is claimed by Thomas Malone, under and by virtue of the third section of the above recited act, and now exhibited unto the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

T. MALONE.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 23d March, 1804, by J. Malone. Chain carriers, Noah Pelcher and Francis Stringer.

Entered in record of claims, volume 1, page 473, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The above named chain carriers were sworn before Figures Lewis, Esquire, Justice of the Peace.

John Callier and James Callier, Esquires, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this case; that Thomas Malone, the present claimant, went to reside on the land in question in the year 1802, and had cultivated it ever since, and resided there on the 3d of March, 1803; that he was, at that time, more than twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES CALLIER, representative of Bryant and Snelgrove: case commenced in page 651.

James Griffin was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, testified, that the parties Jesse Briant and Henry Snelgrove executed and delivered the writing presented to the Board, on the 19th day of September, 1800, for purposes therein mentioned, and agreeably to the tenor thereof, as it had been read to him; that he made his mark as a witness to the same, as did also Samuel Griffin witness the same in his presence.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

EDWARD CREIGHTON, representative of Benjamin King: case commenced in page 699.

John Callier, Esquire, was presented as a witness, and being duly sworn, testified, that in the year 1801, he went in company with Benjamin King to look out a piece of vacant land on which to erect a cotton gin; that he pitched upon the land now in question, and according to his, the witness's, best recollection, erected his cotton gin there in the same year, or in the beginning of the year 1802, and continued to reside there until after the 3d of March, 1803; that, on that day, King was more than twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Heirs of JAMES COPELEN, case No. 110 on the docket of the Board, and No. 66 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimants presented their claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the Three River lake, on the west side of Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning on the bank of the Three River lake, on a water oak; running, thence, up the branch of the lake north, nine degrees west, forty chains, to a stake; thence, south, sixty degrees west, twelve chains, to Barker's corner, on a sweet gum; thence, the same course, continued with his line eighty chains, to the other corner, on a sweet gum; course still continued twenty-four chains, to a sweet gum, on the Boggy swamp; course continued fifty-seven chains further, to a stake; thence, south, thirty degrees west thirty-eight chains, to a stake; thence, to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing six hundred and forty acres: is claimed by the heirs of James Copelen, deceased, in and by virtue of the second section of the said act of Congress, as a donation, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which they beg leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

The Heirs of JAMES COPELEN.

Surveyed the 20th of March, 1804, by Natt. Christmas. Chain bearers, Edward Smith and William Rain.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 189, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Ephraim Barker and Elizabeth Bates were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this case: and the said Barker testified that James Copelen, deceased, built, settled, and improved on the tract of land then in question, in the latter part of the year 1797; that he made a crop on the same in the year 1798, and continued to inhabit and cultivate the same from the year 1797 until his death, which happened about one year since; that said Copelen was the head of a family in the year 1797.

The said Elizabeth testified, that James Copelen, deceased, inhabited the land then in question between seven and eight years last past, and did continue to inhabit and cultivate the same until his decease, which happened about one year since; and that said Copelen was the head of a family when he settled upon this land.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

THOMAS SULLIVANT's case, No. 111 on the docket of the Board, and No. 150 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of two hundred and forty acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, viz.:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning at a black gum, thence, running south seventy-five degrees west, sixty chains, to a pine; thence, north, fifteen degrees west, forty chains, to a stake; thence, north, seventy-five degrees east, sixty chains, to a stake; thence, south, fifteen degrees east, forty chains, to the beginning; containing two hundred and forty acres, having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by Thomas Sullivant, in and by virtue of the third section of the said act, as a pre-emption, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the plot annexed.

Surveyed, 9th of March, 1804, by Natt. Christmas. Chain bearers, John Wheat, James Bilbo.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 478, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Thomas Sullivant, Senior, and Ephraim Barker were produced as witnesses, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not in any way interested in this claim: that the land in question being low land, and subject to annual inundation, could not be built upon, but Thomas Sullivant, Jun. the claimant, cultivated on the same from the year 1802, by himself or representative, until the then present time; and that said Thomas Sullivant was, on the 3d of March, 1803, the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SANDERS REA's case, No. 113 on the docket of the Board, and No. 78 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of one hundred and fifty-eight acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee river, on the waters of Johnson's creek, in the county of Washington, beginning at a water oak, and running thence, north, twenty-two degrees east, thirty-one chains seventy-five links, to a water oak corner; thence, north, sixty-eight degrees west, fifty chains; thence, south, twenty-two degrees west, thirty-one chains seventy-five links, to a pine corner; thence, south, sixty-eight degrees east, fifty chains, to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed; containing one hundred and fifty acres: is claimed by Sanders Rea, in and by virtue of the third section of the act, as a pre-emption; and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

MARCH 28, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed by Robert Ligon.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 226, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Solomon Boykin and Jonas Rea, chain carriers for the preceding survey, were sworn before John Callier and Figures Lewis, Esquires, Justices of the Peace.

Robert Ligon and Edward Lloyd Wailes were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they testified, that they were not interested in this claim; that they believed that Sanders Rea had inhabited upon the land then claimed from the year 1802 until the then present time; that he was, on the 3d of March, 1803, the head of a family.

The said Ligon further testified, that this land was surveyed by him; that the plot then presented to the Board gave a true representation of the land then claimed; that John Brewer, Esquire, claims about fifty acres thereof, from the north side, under and by virtue of a donation.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

James Huckaby, one of the chain carriers for the survey in this case, was sworn before William Pierce, Justice of Peace.

John Gordon was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, testified, that he was not interested in this claim; that he saw laborers in the employment and for the use of Richard S. Bryan, improving upon the land then in question, in the month of February, 1803; that he believed that said land had been in a continual state of improvement from the said month of February, 1803, until the then present time; and that he believed the said Bryan was, on the 3d day of March, twenty-one years of age.

Question. Do you know whether Sluder inhabited and cultivated within the limits of the tract now claimed, and about what time, and for whose use?

Answer. I saw John Sluder living within the limits of the tract of land now in question in the month of February, 1803; but whether for his own account, or for the benefit of said Bryant, I do not know.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN CALLIER, representative of Adam Hollinger: case commenced in page 688.

Noah Pelcher and Francis Stringer, chain carriers for the survey in this case, were sworn before Figures Lewis, Esquire, Justice of Peace.

John Baker, George Brewer, and Francis Boykin, were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest whatever in this case.

The said Baker testified, that Wilford Hoggatt, the person in whose favor the Spanish warrant of survey for the land in question issued, was a resident on said land at and before the date of said warrant, in the year 1798, and did perform the conditions on which said warrant was to become valid; that he was, at the date of said warrant, more than twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family; that said land had been annually cultivated ever since, by some person holding under said Hoggatt; and that, in the year 1795, it was cultivated by Adam Hollinger, a resident in this county, then claiming said land by a title derived from said Hoggatt.

The said Brewer testified, that he came to this country in the year 1791, and that Wilford Hoggatt then lived upon and cultivated the land in question; and, from that period, agreed with the testimony of John Baker, as above; and further, that he, Brewer, heard Wilford Hoggatt say, that he had sold said land to Leonard Marbury; and also understood, from the information of others, that Marbury, by his attorney, John Joyce, sold the same to Adam Hollinger.

The said Boykin testified, that, when he came to this country, in the year 1791, Hoggatt was in the possession of the said land; that, about the year 1783, Hoggatt sold to Marbury, who afterwards sold, by his attorney, Joyce, to Adam Hollinger, who cultivated the same in 1795; that said land had been peaceably possessed and cultivated by the several persons holding title under said Hoggatt, to the then present time.

FRANCIS BOYKIN, representative of Adam Hollinger: case commenced in page 687.

Francis Stringer, George Brewer, Junior, John Baker, and Nathan Blackwell, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim.

The said Brewer and Stringer testified, that, in the year 1795, Adam Hollinger inhabited and cultivated the land in question; that they believed that said Boykin entered into the possession thereof in the year 1796; that he had ever since continued to inhabit and cultivate the same; that Adam Hollinger, on the 10th of June, 1795, was the head of a family.

The said Stringer further testified, that he heard the said Hollinger say that he had sold and transferred said land to Francis Boykin for a valuable consideration.

The said Baker testified, that Adam Hollinger did inhabit and cultivate on the land then in question in May, 1795; that he, Baker, knew that the same had been inhabited and cultivated ever since, either by said Hollinger, or Francis Boykin, the present claimant; that Adam Hollinger, on the 10th of June, 1795, was the head of a family.

The said Blackwell testified, that, on the 27th of October, 1795, Adam Hollinger inhabited and cultivated the land in question; that he had heard said Hollinger say that he had sold the same to Francis Boykin; and that Boykin entered into the possession thereof on the day that Hollinger quitted the same, which he, Blackwell, believed was in the month of December, 1795; that said Boykin had continued to inhabit and cultivate on said land ever since.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN BREWER, representative of Charles Arbon Demoy: case commenced in page 685.

Hiram Mounger and Ephraim Barker were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this case; that, from the year 1791, until the 27th day of October, 1795, and afterwards, Charles Arbon Demoy, by his slaves, inhabited and cultivated the land in question; that they believed that said Charles Arbon Demoy was, on the 27th of October, 1787, more than twenty-one years of age.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that the plot then presented to the Board exhibited a true representation of the land then claimed; that he surveyed the same; that he knew of no other claim which interfered with said land, and believed there was none.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES DENLEY, representative of Daniel Ward: case commenced in page 693.

Hiram Mounger and George Dickey, chain carriers for the survey in this case, were sworn before William H. Hargrave, Esq., Justice of the Peace.

Hiram Mounger and Ephraim Barker were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not in any way interested in this case; that, in the year 1791, the land in question had the appearance, and they believed was cultivated many years previous thereto; that it had been cultivated every year since that time; and that James Denley inhabited and cultivated the same, by his slaves, on the 27th day of October, 1795.

John Baker and Thomas Bilbo, surveyor, were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Baker testified, that, on the 22d of October, 1787, Daniel Ward was more than twenty-one years of age; that Ward cultivated the same land in question, agreeable to the tenor of his Spanish grant for the same; and that James Denley cultivated the same, by his slaves, on the 27th of October, 1795; that said land being subject to inundations prevents it from being a proper site for a dwelling house or houses to be built upon.

The said Bilbo testified, that he surveyed the land then in question; that the plot exhibits a true representation of the land claimed, with such marks, natural and artificial, as were therein laid down; that there were no lines of other claims that interfered with that; that its lines did not interfere with those of any other claim that he knew of.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES DENLEY, representative of Solomon Johnson: case commenced in page 690.

Hiram Mounger and Ephraim Barker were produced as witnesses, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest whatever in this claim; that, in the year 1795, the land in question was cultivated by Solomon Johnson, or for his use; that he was then a resident in this county; and that they fully believe, from his appearance, that he was at that time more than twenty-one years of age.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed the land then in question, and made the plot then exhibited to the Board, which gave a correct view of the land in question, and had marks, natural and artificial, as were in that plot represented, and that he did not know of any interfering lines.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES DENLEY's case: commenced in page 689.

George Dickey and James Donally, chain carriers for the survey in this case, and also for the survey in the said Denley's preceding case, were sworn before William H. Hargrave, Justice of the Peace.

John Brewer, Esquire, and Hiram Mounger, were presented as witnesses, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this case; that from and previous to the year 1791, James Denley cultivated the land then in question by his slaves or tenants, and that he did actually so cultivate the same on 27th day of October, 1795; and that, on the 32d day of October, 1787, James Denley, as they believed, was more than twenty-one years of age.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed the land then in question, and made the plot then exhibited to the Board, which gave a correct representation of said land, as circumstances would enable him to make, a part thereof being so deeply covered with water as to prevent an actual measurement thereof to be taken; that he knew of no interfering lines.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Adjourned until Friday, the 30th instant.

FRIDAY, March 30, 1804.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Ephraim Kirby, Robert C. Nicholas, Joseph Chambers.

EDWIN LEWIS, representative of William Green: case commenced in page 711.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed the land then in question; that the plot exhibits a true representation of the land claimed; that there is an improvement claimed by Richard S. Bryan, which improvement was made by said Bryan within the limits of said survey.

ANN LAWRENCE, representative of Moses Moore: case commenced in page 688.

John Baker, James Denley, Ephraim Barker, Daniel Johnson, and Young Gains, were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this case.

The said Baker and Denley testified, that they knew that Moses Moore inhabited and cultivated the land then in question, from the year 1786 until his death, which happened in the year 1791, and that he was the head of a family on the 22d day of October, 1787.

The said Barker testified, that he believed that Margaret Moore, the widow of the deceased, left her son, Cornelius Rain, on the land then in question, who did cultivate and inhabit the same on the 27th day of October, 1795, and as he, Barker, believed, for account of the said Margaret Moore.

The said Johnson testified, that he believed that the land in question was cultivated in the year 1795 by Cornelius Rain; that said Rain told him that said cultivation was for his own use and account; that he, Johnson, and his father commenced cultivation on said land in the year 1800, as well as he recollected, by the consent of Mrs. Lawrence; that one of them had continued to cultivate thereon ever since; that he had heard his father, John Johnson, say that he was to pay Mrs. Lawrence rent for the cultivation of the land the last year.

Question. Is Mrs. Moore, the widow of Moses Moore, dead, and at or about what time did she die?

Answer. She is dead, and her death happened in the year 1800, according to my best understanding and belief.

The said Gains testified, that in or about the year 1800 or 1801, Daniel Johnson applied to him to rent the land in question; that he told him that Cornelius Rain was the proper person to apply to for that purpose, as Mrs. Moore, then Mrs. Linder, had the use of it, by will, during her life time, and that he believed that Cornelius Rain, her son, acted as her agent; he, Johnson, replied and said, that Mrs. Linder, late Mrs. Moore, was deceased; he, Gains, then told him he would speak to Mrs. Lawrence, and accordingly did so; that she agreed that it should be rented to Mr. Daniel Johnson, or his father, John Johnson, for the consideration that he would put and keep up a good and sufficient fence round the field, which he or they agreed to do, and, as he believed, did do.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

THE HEIRS OF JAMES MCGREW: case commenced in page 686.

Young Gains, Jun. and Dawson Grimes, chain carriers for the survey in this case, were sworn before William Pierce, Esquire, Justice of the Peace.

George Brewer, Jun. and Francis Boykin were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not in any way interested in this claim; that they knew that James McGrew, deceased, did, on the 27th of October, 1795, inhabit and cultivate, before and since, upon a tract of land lying below Fort St. Stephen's on the Tombigbee river, but they could not say whether the land so inhabited and cultivated lay within the lines represented by the plot then exhibited to the Board; that they believed that the said James McGrew was more than twenty-one years of age on the 9th day of February, 1788.

John Baker was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he knew that James McGrew did cultivate and inhabit on the land in question in the year 1788, and that James McGrew, or his family, cultivated on the same land on the 27th day of October, 1795; that said James McGrew was, on the 9th day of February, 1788, the head of a family, and more than twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

GEORGE BREWER, Jun., representative of Valentine Dubroca: case commenced in page 684.

John Baker, James Denley, and Hiram Mounger, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this case.

The said Baker and Denley testified, that from the year 1787 until 1796, Valentine Dubroca, by his son and slaves, inhabited and cultivated the land in question, and that he did actually inhabit and cultivate the same on the 27th of October, 1795; and that the said Dubroca was, on the 22d of October, 1787, more than twenty-one years of age.

The said Mounger testified, that, from the year 1791, until 1796, the land in question was cultivated by the overseer and slaves of Valentine Dubroca and Dominique de Olive.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed the land in question; that the plot exhibits a true and correct representation of the same, agreeably to the tenor of the Spanish warrant of survey under which it was claimed, and had such marks, natural and artificial, as were therein represented.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

THE HEIRS OF EMANUEL CHENEY, case No. 114 on the docket of the Board, and No. 144 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of two hundred and fifty-three acres, two roods, and twenty-six poles, as representatives of Levin Hainsworth, under the third section of the act.

The claimants presented their claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of the Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated in Washington county, on the waters of McGrew's creek, and bounded on all sides by vacant land, beginning at a post oak, and runs north, seventy-three degrees east, fifty-five chains, to a red oak corner; thence, north, fourteen degrees east, sixteen chains ten links, to a large red oak; thence, north, sixty-one degrees west, sixty chains sixteen links, to a post oak corner; thence, south, thirty-five degrees west, twenty-seven chains fifty links, to a post oak; thence, to the beginning; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed; containing two hundred and fifty-three acres, two roods, and twenty-six poles: is claimed by the heirs of Emanuel Cheney, legal representatives of Levin Hainsworth, under and by virtue of the third section of the above recited act, and now exhibited unto the Register of the Land Office, established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which they beg leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

SALLY CHENEY, Administratrix,
J. J. M'GREW, Admin. of the estate of Emanuel Cheney deceased,

Legal representatives of Levin Hainsworth.

MARCH 29, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed March 29th, 1804, by T. Malone. Chain carriers, William McGrew and William Kerr.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 471, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

William Hunt and John Gordon were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest, directly or indirectly, in this claim; that Levin Hainsworth inhabited and cultivated the land in question on the 3d day of March, 1803, and before that time; that he, Hainsworth, was, on the said 3d day of March, 1803, the head of a family; that Levin Hainsworth had told them that he sold and delivered his possession and improvements to the said Emanuel Cheney, deceased, for a valuable consideration; that they believed that said bargain took place in the summer of the year 1803; that, in the latter part of that year, said Hainsworth removed therefrom, and said Emanuel Cheney entered into the possession of the same, and did inhabit and cultivate the same until his death, which happened in the latter part of the year 1803.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed the land then in question, and made the plot exhibited to the Board, which gave a true representation of the land claimed; that there were no lines that interfered with that claim, and that its lines did not interfere with any other claim; that he believed all the adjoining land to be vacant.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

GEORGE BREWER, Junior's, case, No. 115 on the docket of the Board, and No. 134 in the books of the Register.
Claim.—A donation of six hundred and twenty-nine acres, two roods, and thirty-six poles, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee, in the county of Washington, beginning at a water oak, on Mrs. Lawrence's line, running south, thirty degrees west, one hundred and twenty chains, to a stake; thence, north, sixty degrees west, fifty-three chains twenty-two links, to a stake; thence, with Thomas Malone's line, north, thirty degrees east, one hundred and twenty chains, to a sycamore on the river; thence, with the river to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing six hundred and twenty-nine acres, two roods, and thirty-six poles: is claimed by George Brewer, Jun. in and by virtue of the second section of the said act, as a donation; and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

GEORGE BREWER, JUN.

MARCH 28, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed for George Brewer by T. Malone.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 458, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Hiram Mounger, James Denley, and John Baker were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, they deposed, that they had no interest in this claim; that George Brewer, Jun. had been in the uninterrupted cultivation and habitation of the land in question, from the year 1794, until the 30th of March, 1804; and that said Brewer was the head of a family in the year 1797.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM H. HARGRAVE's case, No. 116 on the docket of the Board, and No. 148 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of two hundred and sixty-two acres, as assignee and legal representative of Stephen Williams, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee, on the Sunflower creek, in the county of Washington, beginning at the commencement of Lee's and Denley's line; running thence, north, fifty-five degrees west, seventy chains, to a post oak corner, on Watley's survey; and thence, with said survey, to Brashear's line, and with the said line to a white oak, and thence, a square, with the said line, to a creek called the Sunflower, and down the said creek to Denley's line, and with the said line to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing two hundred and sixty-two acres: is claimed by William H. Hargrave, representative of Stephen Williams, in and by virtue of the third section of the said act, as a pre-emption, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

WILLIAM H. HARGRAVE,
Representative of Stephen Williams.

MARCH 28th, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed by Robert Ligon.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 476, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited a deed of conveyance from Stephen Williams, duly executed, conveying to the said William H. Hargrave all the said Williams's right and interest to the said tract of land, and the improvements thereon made.

Hiram Mounger and James Denley were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this case; that Stephen Williams built a house upon the land then in question in the year 1801; that said Williams was a blacksmith, and continued to inhabit the land on the 3d day of March, 1803; and that Williams was on said 3d day of March, more than twenty-one years of age; that William H. Hargrave, by the consent, and under Williams, made a crop on said land, in the summer of said year 1803, and that said Hargrave continued in the possession when Williams removed therefrom, and was still in possession of the same; that he had heard Stephen Williams, the person under whom said Hargrave claims, say that he sold said land to said Hargrave.

John Denley and Robert Ligon, surveyor, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Denley testified, that he saw Stephen Williams sign and deliver the instrument of writing then presented to the Board, purporting to be a conveyance of the land in question from said Williams to said Hargrave; and that since James Denley subscribed his name as a witness thereto, that said instrument of writing was made, executed, and delivered for the purposes therein mentioned, in and about six months ago.

The said Ligon deposed, that he surveyed the land in question; that the plot represents a true and correct view of the land claimed, with such marks, natural and artificial, as were therein represented.

Question. Why was said land located in such unshapely form?

Answer. I had no chain carriers, and it is bounded on all sides by other lands actually surveyed by me, and was put in the present form to prevent an interference with other claims.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM H. HARGRAVE's case, No. 117 on the docket of the Board, and No. 156 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of three hundred and eighteen acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, viz.:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the waters of Sunflower creek, in the county of Washington, beginning at Jordan Morgan's white oak corner, on Nicholas Perkins's line, running thence, west, sixty chains, to a stake; thence, south, twenty degrees west, fifty-three chains, to a stake; thence, parallel with the first line, to Perkins's sweet gum corner, sixty chains; thence, along Perkins's line, fifty-three chains, to the beginning; having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by William H. Hargrave, in and by virtue of the third section of the said act, as a pre-emption, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the plot annexed.

WILLIAM H. HARGRAVE.

MARCH 29, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed March 29, 1804, by William Gilliam.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 486, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Hiram Mounger and John Denley were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this case; that William H. Hargrave commenced to improve upon the land then in question in the year 1802, and had ever since continued occasionally to labor thereon; that he had rails split, and a small piece of ground fenced, on the 3d of March, 1803, but that the land being subject to inundation, and it being difficult to procure water in the summer season, was, therefore, not a suitable place for a habitation either for whites or blacks; that the said Hargrave had continued to claim the said land from the year 1802 until the then present time; and that Hargrave was the head of a family on the 3d of March, 1803.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

RICHARD S. BRYAN and GEORGE BREWER, Sen.: case commenced in page 711.

James Bilbo, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed the land then in question, and that the plot exhibits a true representation of the land claimed, with such marks, natural and artificial, as were therein laid down; that he did not know that the lines of said claim interfered with those of any other claim, except, on the northwest corner, it interfered with land surveyed under a settlement made by Ebenezer Fulsom, which interference, he, Bilbo, thought did not contain more than ten or twelve acres.

Question. Do you know about what time Richard S. Bryan commenced to improve upon the land now claimed?

Answer. He commenced building a house thereon in the month of February, 1803, and has continued to improve thereon ever since.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

YOUNG GAINS, representative of Dominique de Olive: case commenced in page 680.

John Baker and James Denley were presented as witnesses, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this case; that, previous to and from the year 1791, until the year 1796, Dominique de Olive, by his overseer and slaves, did actually inhabit and cultivate the land in question on the 27th day of October, 1795; and that Dominique de Olive was, on the 15th of March, 1788, more than twenty-one years of age.

Thomas Bilbo, surveyor, and Hiram Mounger, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Mounger testified, that, from the year 1791, until the year 1796, the land in question was cultivated by the overseer and slaves of Dominique de Olive and Valentine Dubroca.

The said Bilbo deposed, that he surveyed the land in question; that the plot exhibits a true and correct representation of the same, agreeably to the tenor of the Spanish warrant of survey under which it was claimed, and had such marks, natural and artificial, as were therein laid down; that said survey includes a small part of the old improvement; and that the lines of George Brewer's survey includes all the old improvement and nearly one-third of the land then in question.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

HOWELL DUPREE, representative of William Hillis: case commenced in page 663.

Adam Hollinger, and Robert Ligon, surveyor, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Hollinger testified, that he knew that William Hillis inhabited and cultivated the land in question in the year 1797, and did believe that he continued to inhabit and cultivate thereon until near the end of that year, and that said William Hillis was, in the year 1797, above twenty-one years of age.

The said Ligon deposed, that he surveyed the land then in question; that the plot exhibited a true and correct representation of the land claimed, and had such marks, natural and artificial, as were therein laid down.

Question. Why did you make said survey of such an unusual and uncommon form?

Answer. I did it to avoid the lines of other claimants.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES CALLIER, representative of Isabella Trouillet: case commenced in page 714.

Isabella Campbell was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, the instrument or writing of conveyance from Joseph Campbell to James Callier, dated 20th

October, 1802, being read to her, she was interrogated, and answered as follows, viz.:

Question. Did you before know of such instrument or writing of conveyance?

Answer. I did.

Question. Why did you not sign it?

Answer. I was not asked to sign it.

Question. Do you know that, by agreeing to this instrument, you convey the birth-right of your children?

Answer. I do know it.

Question. Has this transaction taken place with your full approbation and consent?

Answer. It has.

Question. Has your husband made use of no undue influence, persuasion, or coercive means, to induce you to agree to this instrument?

Answer. He has not.

Question. Who made the first proposal to you to sell such right as you may have in or on the land now in question?

Answer. My husband, Joseph Campbell.

Question. What reason did your husband give you to induce you to part with this property?

Answer. He gave none.

Question. What reason had you to part with your right to this land?

Answer. I parted with it from necessity.

Question. What was the consideration, or do you know of any consideration being paid to your husband, for your right in and to this land?

Answer. It was a bargain and sale made by my husband, and I do not know what consideration was given.

Question. How came you to part with the property of your children, without knowing there was some consideration paid therefor?

Answer. I gave my consent.

Doctor John Chastang and Wilson Carman, being under oath, deposed, that they had well and truly, according to the best of their skill and ability, interpreted the oath administered to the witness, and the interrogatories put by the Board to the witness, and her answers to those interrogatories.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

EDMUND SMITH'S case: commenced in page 708.

Sterling Dupree was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, he deposed, that he was not interested in this case; and further testified, in the same words as Howell Dupree had done, whose testimony is recorded in page 370.

WILLIAM HUNT, representative of Dennis McClendon, case No. 118 on the docket of the Board, and No. 126 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of one hundred and eighty-nine acres and two poles, under the third section of the act.

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated in Washington county, on the waters of Laura's creek, butted and bounded on all sides by vacant land, beginning on a pine, and runs north, fifty degrees west, thirty-eight chains fifty links, to a small pine corner; thence, north, forty-five degrees east, crossing a branch at twenty chains, in all fifty-six chains, to a large red oak corner; thence, south, thirty-five degrees east, nineteen chains sixty-five links, to a black-jack corner; on John F. M'Grew's line; thence south, eighteen degrees east, crossing a branch at nine chains forty links, again at fifty, and again at seventy links, in all twenty-two chains seventy links, to a white oak corner; thence, to the beginning; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing one hundred and eighty-nine acres and two poles: is claimed by William Hunt, legal representative of Dennis McClendon, who was the legal representative of John Sluder, who was the legal representative of Levin Hainsworth, under and by virtue of the third section of the above recited act, and now exhibited unto the Register of the Land office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

MARCH 19, 1801.

WILLIAM HUNT.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 19th March, 1804, by T. Malone. Chain carriers, Shields Marsh, John Hopkins.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 446, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for
JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The said Marsh and Hopkins, chain carriers for the preceding survey, were sworn before John McGrew, Justice of Peace.

Samford McClendon and John Gordon were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this case.

The said McClendon testified, that he moved to this country about three years since; that Henry Sluder came with him; that, soon after their arrival, he was present when said Henry Sluder purchased the land and improvement now in question, from Levin Hainsworth; that he heard Henry Sluder tell John Sluder to settle upon the land and improve it, and that he might have it if he did not return; that he, McClendon, was also present when John Sluder sold the same to Dennis McClendon, and when said McClendon sold to William Hunt, the present claimant; that he knew that William Hunt inhabited and cultivated thereon on the 3d of March, 1803, and had continued to inhabit and cultivate the same ever since.

The said Gordon testified, that William Hunt did inhabit and cultivate on the land in question on the 3d of March, 1803, and before and since that time.

Question. Was William Hunt the head of a family on the 3d of March, 1803?

Answer by both of said witnesses. He was.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed the land then in question; that the plot represents a true exhibition of the same; that there were no lines of other claims that interfered with that claim, and that its lines did not interfere with any other, except on the northwest corner of said tract Hunt's line crossed the old Indian boundary; that, by this interference, he did not include more than one or two acres of land on the Indian or north side of said boundary.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN MCGREW, Sen., Esq., case No. 119 on the docket of the Board, and No. 164 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and twenty-seven acres, under the second section of act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of an act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

MARCH 29, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situate, lying, and being in the county of Washington, on the west side of the Tombigbee, beginning on a stake near the house of John McGrew, Esq., and running north, eight degrees west, forty-three chains, to a holly; thence, north, sixty degrees east, eighty-six chains seventy-five links, to a white oak; thence, south, thirty-four degrees east, fifty-six chains twenty-eight links, to a poplar; and thence, south, twenty-five degrees west, forty chains, to a white oak; from thence, south, eighty-five degrees west, fifty-three chains and fifty links, to a hickory; and from thence to the beginning; bounded on the north by lands claimed by John Baker, and on the east by Stewart's old line, or William Coleman's lands: is claimed by John McGrew, Sen., Esq., under and by virtue of the second section of the above recited act, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, for the purpose of being recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as well as the plot herewith filed.

Surveyed 21st March, 1804, by Robert Ligon.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 497, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for
JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

John Rail and John McGrew, Jun., chain carriers for the preceding survey, were sworn before R. Harwell, Justice of Peace.

Lemuel Henry, George Brewer, Jun. and James Denley, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this case.

The said Brewer and Denley testified, that John McGrew from the year 1791, and previous thereto, until the then present time, had inhabited and cultivated upon the tract of land in question; and that said McGrew was the head of a family in the year 1797.

Question to Mr. Denley. Do you know whether or not John McGrew, the present claimant, was among the first settlers above Bassett's creek, after the conquest of this country by the Spaniards?

Answer. He was.

The said Henry testified, that he believed that John Linder subscribed with his own hand his name to the writing, certifying that a permit was given to John McGrew to settle upon certain lands.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and being duly sworn, testified, that he surveyed the land then in question; that the plot exhibited a true representation of the same, with the marks, natural and artificial, as were therein laid down; that he knew of no other lines interfering with those of this claim, nor of its lines interfering with those of any other claim, except on the northwest corner where it crossed a line, which was supposed to be the line of a British survey; that the interference included upwards of fifty acres of land.

JOSHUA HOWARD's case, No. 120 on the docket of the Board, and No. 121 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—Of two hundred and fifty acres, as assignee and legal representative of Arthur Moor, and Mary Moor, his wife, by virtue of a deed from them, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

Joshua Howard, a citizen of the Mississippi territory, claims two hundred and fifty acres of land, lying on the west side of Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington; which tract of land was originally granted to Arthur Moor, by the British Government of West Florida, by order of survey, bearing date in the year 1777, which order of survey, together with the necessary documents accompanying the same, was deposited in the proper office in Pensacola, and by the said officer carried away from there at the evacuation thereof, when captured by the Spaniards; and the aforesaid Arthur Moor, and Mary, his wife, by their deed, legally and fully executed, bearing date the 5th day of July, in the year 1780, did convey unto the aforesaid Joshua Howard the aforesaid two hundred and fifty acres of land; and the said Joshua Howard was an actual settler in the Mississippi territory on the 27th October, 1795.

JOSHUA HOWARD.

[Plot omitted.]

The claimant produced a deed of conveyance in the following words and figures, to wit:

This indenture, made the fifth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty, between Arthur Moor, and Mary, his wife, of the district of Mobile, in the province of West Florida, of the one part, and Joshua Howard, of the district aforesaid, of the other part, witnesseth, that the said Arthur Moor, and Mary, his wife, for and in consideration of the sum of two hundred dollars to them in hand paid by the said Joshua Howard, the receipt whereof the said Arthur Moor, and Mary, his wife, do hereby acknowledge, and themselves therewith fully satisfied, contented, and paid, have bargained and sold, aliened, enfeoffed, released, and confirmed, and by these presents do bargain, sell, alien, enfeoff, release, convey, and confirm, unto the said Joshua Howard, all that tract or parcel of land lying and being in the district and province aforesaid, situate on the west side of the river Tombigbee, by distance above the town of Mobile about one hundred and five miles; bounded on the northeast by said river, northwest by land surveyed for John Lott, and on the other sides by vacant land, having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed to His Majesty's letters patent to the said Arthur Moor, bearing date the — of —, and contains two hundred and fifty acres: to have and to hold the above described two hundred and fifty acres of land, and premises above mentioned, with the appurtenances, unto the said Joshua Howard, his heirs and assigns, forever, in as full and ample a manner as the same was granted to the said Arthur Moor by the aforesaid letters patent: and the said Arthur Moor, and Mary, his wife, for themselves and their heirs, do covenant and agree to and with the said Joshua Howard, his heirs, and assigns, that he, the said Arthur Moor, and Mary his wife, are seized of a good, lawful and indefeasible state of inheritance, in fee simple, of and in all and singular the premises above mentioned, and of every part thereof, with the appurtenances, without any manner of condition, mortgage, limitation of use or uses, or other matter, cause, or thing, to alter, change, or determine the same: and also, that he, the said Arthur Moor, and Mary his wife, now have good rightful power and lawful authority, in their own right, to bargain, sell, and convey the above described tract of land and premises with the appurtenances, unto the said Joshua Howard, his heirs and assigns, to the only proper use and behoof of the said Joshua Howard, his heirs and assigns, according to the true intent and meaning of these presents; and that also he, the said Joshua Howard, his heirs and assigns, shall and may, from time to time, and at all times hereafter, peaceably and quietly have, hold, occupy, possess, and enjoy all and singular the premises above mentioned, to be hereby granted, with the appurtenances, without the let, trouble, hindrance, molestation, interruption, and denial of him, the said Arthur Moor, and Mary, his wife, their heirs, and assigns, and of all and every other person and persons whatever claiming, or to claim, by, from, or under them, or any of them: and further, that he, the said Arthur Moor, and Mary, his wife, and their heirs, and all and every other person and persons, and their heirs, any thing having or claiming in the premises above mentioned, or any part thereof, by, from, or under him or them, shall and will, at all times hereafter, at the request and cost of the said Joshua Howard, his heirs, and assigns, make, do, and execute all and every further and other lawful and reasonable acts and assurances in the law whatsoever, for the further, better, and more perfect conveying and assuring of the premises hereby granted, with the appurtenances, according to the true intent and meaning of these presents. In witness whereof, the said Arthur Moor, and Mary, his wife, have hereunto set their hands and seals, the day and year first above written.

FOR JOHN MCGILLIVRAY, LACHR. MCGILLIVRAY.

Two hundred and fifty acres, situated on the west side of the river Tombigbee, distant above the town of Mobile, about one hundred and five miles, bounded on the northeast by said river, northwest by land surveyed for John Lott, on the other sides by vacant land.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 435, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for
JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Thomas Malone, John Callier, and James Denley were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, said witnesses deposed, that they were not interested in this claim.

The said Callier testified, that, in the year 1799, he wrote to Joshua Howard offering to purchase the land in question, which he had been informed belonged to Howard; and that he agreed to take four hundred dollars therefor; that he, Callier, accordingly agreed with Howard for the land in the year 1799; that, in consequence of said agreement, the same was cultivated in the year 1801; that, after that time, the agreement for said land entered into between said Howard and himself was cancelled, and he surrendered to Howard all the right, title, or claim which he had acquired under and by the purchase or agreement with said Howard.

The said Denley testified, that he had heard that Joshua Howard claimed, and continued to claim, said land, under a British title previous to and since the year 1795; and did believe that, on the 27th day of October, 1795, Howard did reside within said territory, near to the town of Natchez, and did actually know that said land was not cultivated in the year 1795 by Howard or his representatives; that it was in that year cultivated by Mr. Elijah Thompson, or his widow, and for their own use and account.

Question by Mr. Gilmore, attorney for the claimant. Do you know from any circumstance, and from what circumstances, that Elijah Thompson, or his widow, cultivated this land for his own use and account?

Answer. They, or one of them, have told me that they did cultivate for their own use and account, and intended claiming the land in virtue of their settlement.

The said Malone testified, that, in the year 1802, Joshua Howard, the claimant, came to this country to receive the payment for the land in question, in pursuance of a sale or agreement entered into, concerning the premises, between said Howard and Colonel John Callier; that, upon the investigation of James Callier, who wished to become the purchaser, under John Callier, questioned the ability of Howard to make him a good and sufficient legal title to said land; and, therefore, Howard and said Colonel John Callier agreed to cancel the agreement to bargain which was made between them in relation thereto; that he, Malone, afterwards rented the land and plantation then in question, the terms of which lease will fully appear by an instrument of writing signed by Joshua Howard and the said Malone, and dated the fifth day of October, 1802, which was then before the Board.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed the land then in question, and made said plot, which exhibits a true representation of the land claimed, with such marks, natural and artificial, as were therein laid down; that, in making said survey, he found marked trees which appeared to be evidences of an ancient line.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

CHARLES CASSETER'S case, No. 121 on the docket of the Board, and No. 155 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of one hundred acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee, Washington county, on the waters of Santibogue and Laura's creek, bounded on all sides by vacant land, beginning on a hickory, and runs north, forty-three degrees east, thirty-one chains sixty links, (crossing a fork of his spring branch at two chains from the beginning,) to a stake, with a black-jack pointer; thence, south, forty-seven degrees east, thirty-one chains sixty links, to a black-jack with two black-jack pointers; thence, south, forty-three degrees west, thirty-one chains sixty links, to a pine corner; thence, north, forty-seven degrees west, crossing the other prong of the spring branch at twenty-one chains, another small branch at twenty-five chains, in all thirty-one chains sixty links, to the beginning; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing one hundred acres: is claimed by Charles Casseter, under and by virtue of a settlement bearing date December, 1802, and now exhibited unto the Register of the Land Office, established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

CHARLES CASSETER.

FEBRUARY 29, 1804.

Surveyed 29th February, 1804, by T. Malone. Chain carriers, John Walker and Isaac Stanley.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 485, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The said Walker, chain carrier for the above survey, was sworn before William Pierce, Esq., Justice of Peace.

Raleigh Green and Samford McClendon were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this case; that Charles Casseter inhabited and cultivated the land in question on the 3d day of March, 1803, and before that time, and ever since; that he was, on said 3d day of March, 1803, more than twenty-one years of age.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed the land in question; and made the plot then exhibited to the Board; that it gave a true and correct view of the land claimed, with such marks, natural and artificial, as were therein laid down; and that the land lay on the west side of the Tombigbee river, and below the old Indian boundary; that there were no interfering lines that he knew of, but as he believed, it was bounded on all sides by vacant land.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Adjourned until Saturday, the 31st instant.

SATURDAY, March 31st, 1804.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Ephraim Kirby, Robert C. Nicholas, Joseph Chambers.

PETER CARTWRIGHT'S case, No. 122 on the docket of the Board, and No. 157 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of one hundred and fifty-nine acres one rood, and thirty poles, under the first section of the act.

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of the Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the West side of Tombigbee, Washington county, bounded on the southeast by Mimms's claim and vacant land, on the northeast, northwest, and southwest by vacant land; beginning on a hickory on Mimms's line, and runs south, eighty-four degrees east, fifteen chains, to a stake corner, with a large red oak pointer; thence, north, nine degrees east, thirty-three chains fifty links, (crossing a branch of Tawler at twenty chains.) to a white oak corner; thence, north, thirty degrees west, thirty-three chains, to a poplar corner; thence, south, fifty-seven degrees west, thirty-three chains fifty links, to a stooping bay corner; thence, Mimms's old line to the beginning; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing one hundred and fifty-nine acres, one rood, thirty poles: is claimed by Peter Cartwright, under and by virtue of a settlement in the year 1801, and now exhibited unto the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

Surveyed 22d March, 1804, by T. Malone. Chain carriers, John Gordon and Isaac Stanley.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 252, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

John Walker and Samford McClendon were presented as witnesses, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim.

The said McClendon testified, that he knew that Zachariah Landrum inhabited and cultivated the land in question on the 3d of March, 1803, and before that time, and ever since; and that he was at that time the head of a family.

The said Walker testified, that he left this country in February, 1803, at which time Zachariah Landrum was in the habitation and cultivation of the land in question; that when he, Walker, returned in the winter of the same year, he found Landrum in the possession of the same land, which had the appearance of having been cultivated during the time that he, Walker, was absent; that said Landrum was, before and after the month of February, 1803, the head of a family.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed the land in question, and made said plot, which exhibited a true and correct view of the land claimed, with such marks, natural and artificial, as were therein laid down; that he knew of no interfering lines; and that said land lay on the west side of the Tombigbee river, and below the old Choctaw boundary line.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN GORDON's case, No. 128 on the docket of the Board, and No. 98 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of one hundred and thirteen acres and twenty-five poles, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of the Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the waters of Laura's creek, on the west side of Tombigbee river, Washington county, butted and bounded on all sides by vacant land, beginning at a post oak, and runs south, five degrees east, at twenty-two chains fifty links, crossing a branch of Laura's creek at twenty-six chains fifty links, in all, thirty-three chains fifty links, to a stake, with two hickory and two red oak pointers; thence, south, fifty-seven degrees east, eleven chains fifty-seven links, to a red oak corner; thence, north, eighty-five degrees east, twenty chains to a stake, with a chesnut, hickory, and red oak pointers; thence, north, five degrees west, crossing Laura's creek, at twenty-nine chains; in all, forty chains, to a red bay, and from thence to the beginning; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing one hundred and thirteen acres and twenty-five poles; is claimed by John Gordon, under and by virtue of the third section of the above recited act, and now exhibited unto the Register of the Land Office, east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

JOHN GORDON.

MARCH 22, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 3d of March, 1804, by T. Malone. Chain carriers, Isaac Stanley and Zachariah Landrum.

Entered in record of claims, volume 1, page 298, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The above named chain carriers were sworn before R. Harwell, Justice of the Peace.

Rawley Green and Samford McClendon were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim; that John Gordon, the present claimant, before the 3d of March, 1803, on that day, and ever since, had resided upon and cultivated the land in question; and that, on said 3d of March, he was above twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, he deposed, that he surveyed and plotted the land in question, and that the plot exhibited was a correct representation thereof, according to the best of his knowledge and belief; that he knew of no interfering lines or claims.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN F. MCGREW and CLARK MCGREW, representatives of Julian de Castro: case commenced in page 632.

Nathan Blackwell and Francis Boykin were presented as witnesses, and being duly sworn, they deposed, that Julian de Castro inhabited and cultivated the land then in question on the 27th day of October, 1795, and that said de Castro was, on the 10th of June, 1795, the head of a family, and more than twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN MCGREW, Junior's, case, No. 129 on the docket of the Board, and No. 72 on the books of the Register. Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

Please to take notice, that a tract of land, lying on the west side of Tombigbee, in Washington county, in the hickory flat, bounded as follows: beginning at a small black-jack, and running south, seventy-three degrees east, eighty chains, to a hickory; thence, south, seventeen degrees west, eighty chains, to a large pine; thence, north, seventy-three degrees east, eighty chains, to a large pine; thence, south, seventeen degrees east, eighty chains, to the beginning: is claimed by John McGrew, Jun., of Washington county, Mississippi territory, by virtue of a settlement made by Alexander McGrew, who actually inhabited and cultivated the aforesaid land in 1797, when the evacuation took place, and conveyed by him to the said claimant, and now delivered to the Register of the Land Office, established east of Pearl river, for the purpose of being recorded. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the plot herewith filed.

JOHN MCGREW, Jun.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 22d February, 1804, by T. Malone. Chain carriers, John F. McGrew and Benjamin King.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 204, by EDWARD LLOYD WALKES, for
JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

George Brewer and Joseph Lawrence were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this case.

The said Brewer testified, that some time in the spring of the year 1798, he was on said land, and saw some signs of a little labor having been done, such as a few trees cut down; that a small patch appeared as if something had been planted there, but did not know who performed said labour, nor that any person lived on the land that year, nor that any crop was raised there, nor that Alexander McGrew was twenty-one years of age at that time, or a married man.

The said Lawrence testified, that in the summer of the year 1798, he saw a small pen on said land, with corn growing in it, which appeared to have been planted, but did not know who performed said work, nor that any person resided on the land that year, nor that any other improvement or cultivation was made there that year; that he did not know that Alexander McGrew was twenty-one years of age in the year 1798, but believed he was.

The said witnesses further deposed, that they understood that Alexander McGrew did the work above mentioned, or caused it to be done; and also that they never knew or heard that he did afterwards either inhabit or cultivate the said land, but that it had since been cultivated by others not claiming under him.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed and plotted the land in question, and believed the plot exhibited to be correct; that the plot included the greater part of James Morgan's and Micajah Wall's surveys.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES CALLIER, [representative] of Isabella Trouillet, the wife of Joseph Campbell: case commenced in page 714.

Adam Hollinger, Richard Barrow, George Brewer, Junior, Richard Hawkins, and Augustine Rochon, were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this case.

The said Brewer testified, that, in the fall of the year 1796, or 1797, as he was passing by the place in question, some negroes came out of the houses, and he asked those negroes to whom they belonged; that they told him to Peter Trouillet, or Mrs. Trouillet; that he did not certainly recollect which.

The said Hollinger testified, that he knew that negroes belonging to Peter Trouillet, from the year 1794 until 1799, inhabited on the land in question, but cultivated on the east side of the river Tombigbee; that he did not know that they cultivated on the west side of said river.

Question. Do you know whether Peter Trouillet or Isabella Trouillet resided within the territory at any time, and, if so, about what time?

Answer. I do not know that Peter Trouillet did reside within the territory, but am certain that Isabella Trouillet did reside on the land in question at the time the American troops arrived at the garrison of Fort Stoddert, and commenced to build, I believe the year preceding.

Question. Where did Isabella Trouillet reside before the time you have mentioned?

Answer. She resided within the town of Mobile.

Question. Was not Alexander Trouillet acting as the overseer of Isabella Trouillet in the year 1797, at the place in question?

Answer. I have always understood that he was, at that time, acting as the overseer of Isabella Trouillet.

The said Hawkins testified, that, in the year 1797, he saw negroes, said to belong to Madam Trouillet, inhabiting and cultivating upon the land in question; and that Madam Trouillet at that time resided in the town of Mobile, and continued to reside there until the fall of the year 1798, when she moved and made her residence on the place in question, and continued to reside thereon until the spring of the year 1803.

Question. Did you, or did you not, understand that Isabella Trouillet was a widow in the year 1797?

Answer. I did understand that she was a widow at that time.

The said Barrow testified, that he knew that negroes, said to belong to Peter Trouillet, or the widow Trouillet, inhabited and cultivated the land in question from the year 1794 until the American troops arrived here and commenced to build the garrison Fort Stoddert; that Isabella Trouillet removed from Mobile, and did certainly inhabit on the land in question at the time the American troops came to this place, and that he believed she did remove and so inhabit the year preceding.

The said Rochon testified, that Isabella Campbell, late Isabella Trouillet, was a widow in the years 1796 and 1797, before which time, her late husband, Peter Trouillet, died.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

LEMUEL HENRY, attorney in fact for Antonio Espaho, representative of John Turnbull: case commenced in page 694.

Adam Hollinger, Thomas Bates, and Richard Barrow, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this case.

Question to said Hollinger. Do you know that the land now in question was inhabited and cultivated on the 27th of October, 1795, or not?

Answer. I do not know that it was.

Question. Do you know whether or not John Turnbull lived in the Mississippi territory on the 27th of October, 1795?

Answer. I have been informed that John Turnbull did, on the 27th of October, 1795, live at or near Baton Rouge, on the Mississippi river.

Question. Has John Turnbull, since the 27th of October, 1795, resided within this territory?

Answer. I believe he has not.

Question. Was John Turnbull, on the 1st of July, 1787, twenty-one years of age.

Answer. I think he was near forty years of age at that time.

Question. Do you know whether Michael Hartley at the time he purchased the land in question, agreed with John Turnbull, or John Joyce, his agent, that if he did not pay him three hundred dollars at the expiration of three years from the date of said purchase, the land so purchased by Hartley should again become the property of John Turnbull?

Answer. I do not know that he did, but that he did agree to give three hundred dollars for the land; and, having failed in making the payment of the three hundred dollars at the expiration of the three years, he again gave up the possession of the land to John Turnbull or his agent.

The said Barrow testified, that one Alexander inhabited and cultivated the land in question in the years 1794 and 1795; that, in the fall of the year 1795, he quit the possession, and Michael Hartley moved on to the same soon after Alexander quitted it; Michael Hartley cultivated it in the years 1796, 1797, and 1798; and further, that Hartley purchased said land from John Turnbull, or John Joyce, his agent, for the consideration of three hundred dollars, to have been paid within three years from the date of the purchase, which payment he failed to make, and again gave up the land to John Turnbull or his agent, and Turnbull released him from his obligation to pay the three hundred dollars; that Emanuel Cheney afterwards purchased said land from John Turnbull, for the consideration of three hundred dollars; and that he, Barrow, saw the bill of sale which Turnbull gave Cheney for said land, in which he covenanted to warrant and defend the same against all persons.

Question. Did John Turnbull live in the territory on the 27th of October, 1795?

Answer. I do not know that he did, but believe he did not.

The said Bates testified, that said land had been cultivated and inhabited for the last fifteen years; but for whom, or for whose use or account it was cultivated on the 27th day of October, 1795, he did not know.

Question. Was John Turnbull a resident within the Mississippi territory on the 27th of October, 1795, or since?

Answer. I believe he was not, nor has he been since.

John Milliken, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed the land in question; that said plot exhibited a true and correct representation of the same, with such marks, natural and artificial, as were therein laid down; that the lines of this tract interfered with the lines of Howel Dupree's claim; that Colonel Benjamin Few set up a claim for the whole of said land that lay within the dotted lines.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

EDWIN LEWIS'S case, No. 130 on the docket of the Board, and No. 23 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, as assignee and legal representative of Henry Nail, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of the Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

WASHINGTON COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY,
February 22, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situate on the southwest side of the river Tombigbee, butting and bounded as follows: by a line beginning on the mouth of the first bayou, or small creek or branch below the Hatchatigby bluff or lake; thence, running due west, forty-four chains, to a corner stake; thence, running north, thirty chains, to a corner stake; thence, running north, forty-five degrees east, sixty chains, to a corner stake; thence, running due north, to a corner stake on the lower side or bank of Sintabogue; thence, down the meanders of said Sintabogue creek to the river Tombigbee; thence, down the meanders of the bank of the river to the beginning or first mentioned station; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing six hundred and forty acres: is claimed by Henry Nail, for his legal representative, Edwin Lewis, under and by virtue of occupancy; he, the said Henry Nail, having occupied the same for some time previous to the final evacuation of the Spanish troops from this territory, and did, on the day of the evacuation of the Spanish troops, inhabit and cultivate the tract herein specified, and ever since unto this day, agreeable to the second and third sections of the act of Congress, entitled "An act regulating the grants of lands, and providing for the sale of the lands of the United States south of the State of Tennessee;" and that he, the said claimant, claims no other land in the territory, and the same does not appear to be claimed by any of the preceding provisions of the act; and now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the plot hereunto fixed, &c.

FOR HENRY NAIL,
EDWIN LEWIS.

[Plot omitted.]

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 62, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant produced a deed of conveyance from Henry Nail, bearing date the 29th day of October, 1803, relinquishing and conveying to the said Edwin Lewis all the said Nail's right, interest and claim to the said tract of land, and to the improvements made thereon.

Young Gains and Henry Nail were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this claim.

The said Gains testified, that he believed Henry Nail settled and built on the land then in question in the latter part of the year 1797, or the beginning of the year 1798; that he was certain that Nail did inhabit and cultivate on the same previous to the final evacuation of said territory by the Spanish troops; that the old Choctaw line and that marked by General Wilkinson as such, in the month of August, 1803, ran across said tract, and struck the river just below the Hatchatigby lake, as appeared by the dotted line on the plot; and that Henry Nail was, in the year 1797, the head of a family.

The said Nail testified, that he did improve and make some small cultivation on the land some short time before the Spanish troops evacuated said territory, which was in the fall of the year preceding that event.

Question. Have you or do you expect that there will be any other claim for land in this territory, in your name?

Answer. I sold my right to Mr. Hudson of an improvement or labor which I had made on a tract of land, but sold no land previous to my settlement and cultivation of the land now in question.

Question to said Gains. Do you think it would not be difficult to prove the settlement and cultivation of this land, on account of its remote situation from other white inhabitants?

Answer. It would, for, as well as I can recollect, there are no white families nearer than John Baker and John M'Grew, Esquires; a distance of seven or eight miles from this land.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILSON CARMAN'S case, No. 131 on the docket of the Board, and No. 173 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of six hundred and ninety-one acres and five poles, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of an act of Congress, passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to land south of the Tennessee, and east of the Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, lying west of the Tombigbee river, butting and bounding as follows, viz.: beginning in and about fifteen chains below Fort Stoddert, on the said river, and running due west, forty chains, to a stake; thence, south, nine degrees east, one hundred and seven chains, to a stake; thence, east, eighteen chains, to a tupelo gum, a station in water; thence, calling for the mouth of the bayou Chouheala, from calculation, nineteen chains; thence, according to Lieutenant Gain's measurement, to the beginning: is claimed by Wilson Carman, under and by virtue of the third section of the above mentioned act of Congress for granting pre-emption lands. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also the copy of the plot now delivered to the Register of the Land Office to be established east of Pearl river, which plot is herewith filed.

W. CARMAN.

FORT STODDERT, March 31, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Chain carriers, Augustin Rochon and Nathan Blackwell. Surveyed March 31, 1804, by Robert Ligon.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 511, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The said Rochon and Blackwell, chain carriers for the preceding survey, were sworn before James Callier, Justice of the Peace.

Captain James Sterret and Godfrey Bartles were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this case.

The said Sterret testified, that in November, 1803, he came to Fort Stoddert to pay the troops, when the present claimant lived upon the land now claimed; that he was at that time the head of a family, and more than twenty-one years of age; and that having lately come to Fort Stoddert, he found the claimant living at the same place; and that he had, as Sterret believed, lived there ever since he first saw him.

The said Bartles testified, that Wilson Carman, the present claimant, had, for several years last past, cultivated and resided upon the land in question, and in particular on the 3d day of March, 1803, and was at that time the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SIMPSON WHALEY's case, No 132 on the docket of the Board, and No. 169 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of one hundred acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

MARCH 30, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situate on the west side of the Mobile river, in the county of Washington, beginning at a pine on the side of a lake a little above Fort Stoddert, running west, eighty chains to a pine; thence, south, twelve chains fifty links to a lightwood stake; thence, east, eighty chains to a water oak, on the side of said lake; thence, up the said lake to the beginning; and has such form and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed; containing one hundred acres: is claimed by Simpson Whaley, in and by virtue of the said act of Congress; giving the right of pre-emption, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office, established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

SIMPSON WHALEY.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 23d of March, 1804, by James Gordon.

Chain bearers, Gabriel Tissrah and William Weathers.

Entered on record of claims, vol. 1, page 506, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The above named chain carriers were sworn before James Callier, Esq., Justice of the Peace.

Wilson Carman and Godfrey Bartles were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this case; that Simpson Whaley, the present claimant, began to improve upon the land by him claimed before the 3d of March, 1803: that he removed on to it in the spring of 1803, but could not positively say when; that he had resided and cultivated there to the present time; and that he was more than twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family.

James Gordon, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed and made the plot then exhibited to the Board, and believed it to be correctly made; that it included the house and improvement of the said claimant, and that he, Gordon, knew of no interfering lines or claims.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Adjourned until Saturday the 7th instant.

SATURDAY, April 7, 1804.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Ephraim Kirby, Robert C. Nicholas.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the surveys and plots returned to the Board of Commissioners by the following claimants, to wit:

John Denley's pre-emption, six hundred and forty acres; Edward Creighton, representative of Benjamin King, pre-emption, thirty-two and six-tenths acres; George Dickey's pre-emption, six hundred and forty acres; Edward Creighton, representative of Isram Miller, donation, six hundred and forty acres; William McGrew's donation, six hundred and thirty-eight acres; Levin Haynsworth's pre-emption, three hundred and ninety-six acres; Solomon Johnson's donation, six hundred and forty acres; Clark McGrew's donation, six hundred and forty acres; Isaac Ryan's donation, six hundred and forty acres; Francis Boykin's Spanish warrant, eight hundred acres; Thomas Bassett's British grant, confirmed by Spanish warrant, one thousand and fifty acres. And that said plots respectively contained true representations of the land therein described, according to the best of his knowledge and belief, and did include the plantation and improvements of the several claimants; and that he knew of no interfering lines or claims.

The Board ordered that the said cases be postponed for consideration.

WILEY BARKER, representative of Daniel Barker; case commenced in page 603.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; that it included the buildings and cultivated fields of the claimant; that he, Ligon, had understood that this claim was interfered with on the lower or south line by a British grant, but did not know to what extent.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILSON CARMAN's case: commenced in page 669.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and that it was a correct representation thereof, according to the best of his knowledge and belief; that he believed that the whole of said survey was claimed by James Callier, Esq., as the representative of Joseph Campbell's wife.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

THE HEIRS OF CHARLES BREWER: case commenced in page 607.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed and plotted the land in question, and that he believed the plot then exhibited to be correct, and that it included the improvements of the claimant: that he knew of no interfering claims or lines.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

THOMAS BASSETT, administrator of Nathaniel Bassett: case commenced in page 609.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and that it was correct, according to his best knowledge and belief, and included the buildings noted on said plot; that he understood that the claim of Daniel Johnson interfered with this upon the upper or north line, and that the claim of Powell covered the southern part of said tract.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

RICHARD LEE, representative of Jordan Morgan: case commenced in page 602.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed and plotted the land in question, and that he believed it was correct, and included the improvements of the claimant; that he understood that Hardy Wotton's claim interfered with this in part, but he, Ligon, did not know to what extent, and knew of no other interference.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WYCHE WATLEY, representative of Rebecca Kimbre: case commenced in page 603.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and that it was correct, according to his knowledge and belief, and included the improvements of the claimant; that the said plot was at first interfered with by the claim of Richard Brashear; that the parties had since accommodated the business by mutual consent, and called him to witness the amicable adjustment which was made, by which Brashear withdrew his claim to that part which was first included in said survey; that Hardy Wotton had, as the deponent understood, exhibited a claim which covered the whole of said plot, and a part of three adjoining ones, viz.: Brashear's, Lee's and Hargrave's.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

RICHARD BRASHEAR'S case: commenced in page 601.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question; that it was true and correct, as he believed, and that it included the improvements of the claimant; that it also included a part of the claim of Wyche Watley; but that said Brashear, in the presence of said Ligon, agreed to waive his claim to all the land which said interference covered; that he knew of no other interference with his claim, except that he had heard that Hardy Wotton had run into a part of it.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES FRAZIER'S case: commenced in page 623.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and a plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; that it included the principal part of the old improvement of the claimant, and five others, and part of the sixth; that the claims of Elisha Simmons, William Murrell, Ransom Harwell, and Joseph Westmoreland, and part of the claim of Raleigh Green, were included within said plot; and that, on the lower or south side, it also interfered with the claim of John Baker.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN BREWER'S case: commenced in page 604.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct, and that it included the house and improvements of the claimant; that on the southeast side it interfered with the claim of Sanders Rea, about fifty acres; that he knew of no other interference.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

CONSTANT MCGREW'S case, No. 133 on the docket of the Board, and No. 71 on the books of the Register. Claim.—A donation of six hundred and four acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented her claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY, Washington County:
MARCH 2, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situate on the west side of river Tombigbee, butting and bounded as follows: beginning on a corner of Doctor Chastang's lower line, on the bank of the river; thence, running south, twenty-five degrees west, along the said line, eighty chains, to a corner stake; thence, running south, sixty-five degrees east, eighty chains, to a corner pine on James McGrew's upper line; thence, north, eighteen degrees east, along the said James McGrew's line, eighty-one chains, to a corner cotton tree on the bank of the river, being James McGrew's upper corner; thence, the meanders of the river, to the beginning or station first mentioned; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing six hundred and four acres: is claimed by Constant McGrew, under and by virtue of occupancy; the said claimant having inhabited and cultivated the tract herein specified agreeable to the second section of the act of Congress, entitled "An act regulating grants of land, and providing for the sale of lands of the United States," &c. and a long time previous to and after that time; and the same does not appear to be claimed by any of the preceding provisions of the act, and the said claimant was qualified agreeable to the requisitions of the law, and claims no other land in the territory, and now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office, established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by the said act. All of which this claimant begs leave to refer, as also to the plot hereto fixed, &c. &c.

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed the land in question, but did not make the plot, and could not say as to its correctness; but knew, from the natural marks, that it included the improvements of the claimant; that the greatest part of this claim was also claimed by James Callier, as the assignee of Bryant and Snelgrove; that he knew of no other interference.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN FLOOD MCGREW'S case, No. 134 on the docket of the Board, and No. 165 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the north fork of Tawler creek, in the county of Washington, on the west side of Tombigbee; beginning at a hickory, running thence, south, sixty-four degrees west, ninety chains, to a corner post oak; thence, north, twenty-six degrees west, seventy chains to a corner black jack; thence, north, sixty-four degrees east, ninety chains, to a stake corner; thence, south, twenty-six degrees east, seventy chains, to the beginning; containing six hundred and thirty acres, having such shape, form, and marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by John Flood McGrew, in and by virtue of the second section of the said act of Congress, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot annexed.

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct, and that it included a small improvement; that he understood that the claim of John Gordon interfered with this in a small degree, on the northeast side; that he knew of no other interference.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN HINES'S case, No. 135 on the docket of the Board, and No. 167 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, as representative of Frederick Smith, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d of March 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of the river Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee, in the county of Washington, beginning at James Denley's, and running south, twenty degrees west, one hundred and fifteen chains; thence, north, seventy degrees west, twenty-five chains fifty links; thence, north, twenty degrees east, one hundred and thirty chains, to a sweet gum; thence, with a straight line, twenty-five chains fifty links, to a sweet gum on the river; thence, with the river, to the beginning; containing six hundred and forty acres; having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by John Hines, representative of Frederick Smith, in and by virtue of the second section of the act, as a donation, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

Test: HEZEKIAH CARTER, his x mark.

Know all men by these presents, that I, Daniel Kannady, do bargain and sell unto George Farrar a certain tract of land, that I, Daniel Kannady, did buy of Thomas Ware, formerly called Smith's improvement, below the Sunflower. I, Daniel Kannady, warrant and defend it from James Lovel, or his heirs or assigns, this 17th day of December, 1804.

DANIEL KANNADY.

Witness: BEN. BALDWIN.

Upon the back of the last recited writing is an endorsement in the words and figures following, to wit:

For and in consideration of the sum of fifty dollars, to me in hand paid, I do sell unto John Hines the within bill of sale, and all and every thing claimed thereby, as given under my hand this 14th of March, 1804.

GEORGE FARRAR.

Robert Ligon, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question; that it was true and correct, as he believed; that it included the improvements of the claimant; that he understood that that part of said land which adjoins the river was claimed by John Kennedy; that he had not heard of any other interfering claim.

Benjamin Baldwin and Richard Brashears were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, they deposed, that they were not interested in the establishment of this claim. The said Baldwin testified, that the first knowledge he had of said land was about the month of July, 1802; that he believed that there was no person then living upon it, and, not having a general knowledge of the plot, could not say that he knew that any person lived upon the land in question at any time since he first saw it, until lately a Mr. Hills, he thought, had moved on to it. The said Brashears testified, that, according to the best of his knowledge, Frederick Smith settled upon the land in question, in the year 1797, at the place called the Old Field; that the next year his wife was wounded and scalped by the Indians at that place, after which he removed off; and that he, Brashears, did not know any thing of the succession of occupants since that time.

James Denley was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that, to the best of his knowledge, Frederick Smith settled upon the land in question in the year 1797; that he never saw Smith's house or improvement; but he believed that he had made some improvement; that said Smith sold his claim to this improvement to John Wheat for one gallon of taffia.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

ALEXANDER McCULLAGH's case, No. 136 on the docket of the Board, and No. 1 on the books of the Register.

Claim—Of two hundred acres of land, by virtue of a British grant, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed for receiving and adjusting claims to lands in the Mississippi territory by virtue of an act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803.

GENTLEMEN:

Be pleased to take notice, that the following tract of land, situate, lying, and being within the Mississippi territory is claimed by Alexander McCullagh, nephew and heir at law of Alexander McCullagh, formerly of Pensacola, in the province of West Florida, deceased, who died intestate, and that the grant mentioned in the following list or schedule, and now delivered to the Register of the Land Office, opened under and by virtue of the said act for lands lying east of Pearl river, together with a copy of the plot for the same, now also delivered in said office, will evince his right and title to said tract of land. To all which, for greater certainty, reference is hereby made.

ALEXR. McCULLAGH.

List or schedule of the tract of land referred to in the following notification, viz.: Lot No. 1, two hundred acres. This is a tract of two hundred acres of land, situate on the west side of the river Tombigbee, about three-quarters of a mile above McIntosh's bluff; bounded to the north by land of Adam Tate, on the south by land surveyed for Thomas Bassett, east by the river Tombigbee, and on the west by vacant land. The title to this land will appear by the original grant to Alexander McCullagh, bearing date the 6th of April, 1778, for two hundred acres of land, situated as above stated. A copy of the plot taken from the original grant of the above mentioned land is hereto annexed, and also herewith delivered into the Land Office.

[Plot omitted.]

GEORGE THE THIRD, by the grace of God, of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, defender of the faith, and so forth. To all to whom these presents shall come, greeting:

Whereas, our loving subject, Alexander McCullagh, in his humble petition, presented to our trusty and well beloved Peter Chester, Esquire, our Captain General and Governor-in-chief in and over our province of West Florida aforesaid, bearing date the 10th day of February, now last past, did set forth in substance, that, by virtue of our royal proclamation of the 17th day of October, in the third year of our reign, a certain Thomas Wigglesworth did, on the 13th day of February, which was in the year of our Lord 1776, obtain a warrant for surveying two hundred acres of land, in consideration of his services in America, last war, as a non-commissioned officer, and some time after departed this life: that, before his death, the said Thomas Wigglesworth did, for a valuable consideration, grant, bargain, sell, assign, transfer, and set over unto the petitioner, all his estate, right, title, and interest of, in, and unto the same tract of land of two hundred acres of land; and, on account of the death of the said Thomas Wigglesworth, as aforesaid, before the passing of a patent for the said lands, the said petitioner could not obtain proper titles thereto, unless the same was granted to himself, therefore prayed that our letters patent for the said tract might be made out and passed for the same unto, and in the name of, the said petitioner, his heirs, and assigns; which tract of land, so purchased by the said Alexander McCullagh from the said Thomas Wigglesworth before his decease, as aforesaid, we being willing to grant unto the said Alexander McCullagh, according to the prayer of this petition: now know ye, That we, of our special grace, certain knowledge, and mere motion, have given and granted, and by these presents, for us, our heirs and successors, do give and grant unto the said Alexander McCullagh, his heirs and assigns, all that tract of land herein before mentioned, situate on the west side of the river Tombigbee, about three quarters of a mile above McIntosh's bluff, bounded on the north by land surveyed for Adam Tate, on the south by land surveyed for Thomas Bassett, east by the river Tombigbee, and on the west by vacant land, in our province of West Florida, and having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot thereof herewith annexed, as drawn by the Surveyor General of lands, which said tract of land contains two hundred acres, and is bounded as by the further certificato hereunto likewise annexed, under the hand of our said Surveyor General of lands in our said province, may more fully and at large appear; together with all woods, underwoods, timber, and timber-trees, lakes, ponds, fishing waters, water-courses, profits, commodities, hereditaments, and appurtenances whatsoever thereunto belonging or in any wise appertaining; together, also, with the privilege of hunting, hawking, and fowling in and upon the same, and all mines and minerals; reserving to us, our heirs and successors, all mines of gold and silver: to have and to hold the said tract of land, and all and singular the premises hereby granted, with the appurtenances, unto the said Alexander McCullagh, his heirs and assigns, in free and common socage; yielding and paying unto us, our heirs and successors, or to the Receiver General of our customs, for the time being, or to such other officer as shall be appointed to receive the same, a quit-rent of one half-penny sterling, per acre, at the feast of St. Michael every year; the first payment to commence on the said feast of St. Michael which shall first happen after the expiration of ten years from the date hereof, or within fourteen days after annually: Provided, always, (and this present grant is upon condition,) nevertheless, That the said Alexander McCullagh, his heirs and assigns, shall and do, within three years after the date hereof, for every fifty acres of plantable land hereby granted, clear and cultivate three acres, at least, in that part thereof which he or they shall judge most convenient and advantageous, or else do clear and drain three acres of swampy or sunken ground, or do drain three acres of marsh, if any such shall be contained therein; and shall further, within the time aforesaid, put and keep upon every fifty acres thereof, accounted barren, three neat cattle, and continue the same thereon until three acres for every fifty acres be fully cleared and improved; and if it shall so happen that there be no part of the said tract of land fit for present cultivation, without manuring and improving the same, that if the said Alexander McCullagh, his heirs and assigns, shall, within three years from the date hereof, erect on some part of the said tract of land one good dwelling house, to contain at least twenty feet in length and sixteen in breadth, and put on his said land the like number of three neat cattle, as aforesaid, on every fifty acres therein contained; or, otherwise, if any part of the said tract of land shall be stony or rocky ground, not fit for pasture culture, shall and do, within three years, as aforesaid, besides erecting the said house, begin to employ thereon, and continue to work for three years then next ensuing, in digging in any stone quarry or mine, one good and able hand for every hundred acres thereof, it shall be accounted a sufficient cultivation and improvement: Provided, also, That every three acres which shall be cleared and worked, or cleared and drained, as aforesaid, shall further be accounted a sufficient seating, cultivation, and improvement, to save forever from forfeiture fifty acres of land, in any part of the tract hereby granted; and the said Alexander McCullagh, his heirs and assigns, shall be at liberty to withdraw his or their stock, or to forbear working in any quarry or mine, in proportion to such cultivation and improvements aforesaid, as shall be made upon the plantable lands, swamps, sunken grounds, or marshes therein contained: Provided, also, That this grant shall be duly registered in the Register's office in this province, within six months from the date hereof; and, also, that a docket thereof shall be entered in the Auditor's office, within the same time, if such establishment shall take place in this province. Provided, always, That the said Alexander McCullagh, his heirs and assigns, at any time hereafter, having seated, planted, cultivated, and improved the said land, or any part thereof, according to the directions and conditions above mentioned, and make proof of such seating, planting, cultivation, and improvement, in the general court, or the court of the county district or precinct where the land lieth, and have such proof certified to the Register's office, and there entered with the record of this grant, a copy of which, duly attested, shall be admitted on trial to prove the seating and planting the said land: Provided always, nevertheless, That if the said Alexander McCullagh, his heirs and assigns, do not in all things fully comply with and fulfil the respective directions and conditions herein above set forth, for the proper cultivation of the said land, within the time herein above limited for completion thereof; or if the said Alexander McCullagh, his heirs, or assigns, shall not pay to us, our heirs, or successors, or to the Receiver General of our quit-rents, or to the proper officer appointed to receive the same, the said quit-rent of one half-penny sterling per acre, on the said feast of St. Michael, or within fourteen days after, annually, for every acre contained in this grant, that then, and in either of these cases respectively, this grant be void, any thing contained therein to the contrary notwithstanding; and the said lands, tenements, hereditaments, and premises hereby specified, and every part thereof, shall revert to us, our heirs and successors, fully and absolutely as if the same had not been granted.

Given under the great seal of our province of West Florida: Witness our trusty and well beloved Peter Chester, Esquire, our Captain General and Governor-in-chief in and over our said province, at Pensacola, this sixth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and seventy-eight, and the eighteenth year of our reign.

WEST FLORIDA, ss.

GEORGE THE THIRD, by the grace of God, of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, defender of the faith, &c. To all to whom these presents shall come, greeting:

Know ye, that we, of our special grace, certain knowledge, and mere motion, have given and granted, and by these presents, for us, our heirs and successors, do give and grant, unto Robert Farmar, his heirs and assigns, all that tract of land situated on the west side of the river Tombigbee, at the high bluff, known by the name of Architecipy, adjoining the Choctaw boundary grant of lands, [bounded] southwardly by the river Tombigbee, and on all other sides by vacant land, in our province of West Florida, and having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot thereof hereunto annexed, as drawn by our Surveyor General of lands; which said tract of land contains eight hundred acres, and is bounded as by the further certificate hereunto likewise annexed, under the hand of our said Surveyor General of lands in our said province, may more fully and at large appear, together with all woods, underwoods, timber, and timber trees, lakes, ponds, fishings, waters, watercourses, profits, commodities, hereditaments, and appurtenances whatsoever thereunto belonging, or in anywise appertaining; together also, with privileges of hunting, hawking, and fowling in and upon the same, and all mines and minerals, reserving to us, our heirs and successors, all mines of gold and silver: to have and to hold the said tract of land, and all and singular the premises hereby granted, with the appurtenances, unto the said Robert Farmar, his heirs and assigns, forever, in free and common soccage, yielding and paying unto us, our heirs and successors, or to the Receiver General of our quit-rents for the time being, or to such other officer as shall be appointed to receive the same, a quit-rent of one half-penny sterling per acre, at the feast of St. Michael every year; the first payment to commence on the said feast of St. Michael which shall first happen after the expiration of two years from the date hereof, or within fourteen days after the said feast, annually: Provided always, (and this present grant is upon condition,) nevertheless, That the said Robert Farmar, his heirs or assigns, shall and do, within three years after the date hereof, for every fifty acres of plantable lands hereby granted, clear and cultivate three acres, at least, in that part thereof which he or they may judge most convenient and advantageous; or else do clear and drain three acres of swampy or sunken ground, or do drain three acres of marsh, if any such shall be contained therein; and shall further, within the time aforesaid, put and keep upon every fifty acres thereof accounted barren three neat cattle, and continue the same thereon, until three acres for every fifty acres be fully cleared and improved; and if it shall so happen that there be no part of the said tract of land fit for present cultivation, without manuring and improving the same, if the said Robert Farmar, his heirs or assigns, shall, within three years from the date hereof, erect on some part of the said tract of land one good dwelling house, to contain at least twenty feet in length and sixteen feet in breadth, and put on the said tract of land the like number of three neat cattle, as aforesaid, on every fifty acres herein contained; or, otherwise, if any part of the said land shall be stony or rocky ground, not fit for culture or pasture, shall and do, within three years, as aforesaid, besides erecting the said house, begin to employ thereon, and continue to work for three years then next ensuing, in digging in any stone quarry or mine, one good and able hand for every hundred acres thereof, it shall be accounted a sufficient seating, cultivation, and improvement, to save forever from forfeiture fifty acres of said land, in any part of the tract hereby granted.

And the said Robert Farmar, his heirs and assigns, shall be at liberty to withdraw his or their stock, or to forbear working in any quarry or mine, in proportion to such cultivation and improvement aforesaid, as shall be made upon the plantable lands, swamps, sunken grounds, or marshes therein contained: Provided also, That this grant shall be duly registered in the Register's Office of this province within six months from the date hereof, and also that a docket thereof shall be entered in the Auditor's Office, within the same time, if such establishment shall take place in this province: Provided always, That the said Robert Farmar, his heirs and assigns, at any time hereafter, having seated, planted, cultivated, and improved the said land, or any part thereof, according to the directions and conditions above mentioned, may make proof of such seating, planting, cultivation, and improvement, in the general court, or in the court of the county, district, or precinct where the said land lieth, and have such proof certified to the Register's Office, and there entered with the record of this grant, a copy of which, duly attested, shall be admitted, on trial, to prove the seating and planting the said land: Provided always, nevertheless, That if the said Robert Farmar, his heirs and assigns, do not in all things fully comply with and fulfil the respective directions and conditions herein above set forth for the proper cultivation of the said land, within the time herein above limited for the completion thereof; or, if the said Robert Farmar, his heirs or assigns, shall not pay to us, our heirs and successors, or to the Receiver General of our quit-rents, or to the proper officer appointed to receive the same, the said quit-rent of one halfpenny sterling per acre on the said feast of St. Michael, or within fourteen days after, annually, for every acre contained in this grant; that then, and in either of these cases, respectively, this grant shall be void, any thing contained therein to the contrary notwithstanding; and the said lands, tenements, hereditaments, and premises, hereby specified, and every part and parcel thereof, shall revert to us, our heirs and successors, fully and absolutely, as if the same never had been granted.

Given under the great seal of our province of West Florida: Witness our trusty and well beloved Peter Chester, Esq., our Captain General, Governor, and Commander-in-chief in and over our said province, at Pensacola, this sixth day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and seventy-eight, and in the eighteenth year of our reign.

WEST FLORIDA, ss.

GEORGE THE THIRD, by the grace of God, of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, defender of the faith, &c. To all to whom these presents shall come, greeting:

Know ye, that we, of our special grace, certain knowledge, and mere motion, have given and granted, and, by these presents, for us, our heirs and successors, do give and grant, unto William Fradgley, a reduced non-commissioned officer, his heirs and assigns, all that tract of land, situated northerly, about sixty-three miles above the town of Mobile, on the west side of Tombigbee river, at a place known by the name of Tomies bluff; butting and bounding northerly on the said river Tombigbee, and on all other sides by vacant land, in our province of West Florida; and having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot thereof hereunto annexed, as drawn by our Surveyor General of lands; which said tract of land contains twenty-seven acres, and is bounded as by the further certificate hereunto likewise annexed, under the hand of our said Surveyor General of lands in our said province, may more fully and at large appear: together with all woods, underwoods, timber, and timber-trees, lakes, ponds, fishings, waters, watercourses, profits, commodities, hereditaments, and appurtenances whatsoever thereunto belonging, or in anywise appertaining: together, also, with privilege of hunting, hawking, and fowling in and upon the same, and all mines and minerals, reserving to us, our heirs and successors, all mines of gold and silver: to have and to hold the said tract of land, and all and singular the premises hereby granted, with the appurtenances, unto the said William Fradgley, his heirs and assigns, forever, in free and common socage; yielding and paying unto us, our heirs and successors, or to the Receiver General of our quit-rents for the time being, or to such other officer as shall be appointed to receive the same, a quit-rent of one halfpenny sterling per acre, at the feast of St. Michael every year; the first payment to commence on the said feast of St. Michael which shall first happen after the expiration of ten years from the date hereof, or within fourteen days after the said feast, annually: Provided always, (and this present grant is upon condition) nevertheless, That the said William Fradgley, his heirs and assigns, shall and do, within three years after the date hereof, for every fifty acres of plantable land hereby granted, clear and cultivate three acres, at least, in that part thereof which he or they may judge most convenient and advantageous, or else do clear and drain three acres of swampy or sunken ground, or do drain three acres of marsh, if any such shall be contained therein; and shall further, within the time aforesaid, put and keep upon every fifty acres thereof accounted barren three neat cattle, and continue the same thereon, until three acres for every fifty acres be fully cleared and improved; and if it shall so happen that there be no part of the said tract of land fit for present cultivation, without manuring and improving the same, if the said William Fradgley, his heirs or assigns, shall within three years from the date hereof, erect on some part of the said tract of land one good dwelling house, to contain at least twenty feet in length and sixteen feet in breadth, and put on his said land the like number of three neat cattle, as aforesaid, on every fifty acres therein contained; or, otherwise, if any part of the said land shall be stony and rocky ground, not fit for culture or pasture, shall and do, within three years as aforesaid, besides erecting the said house, begin to employ thereon and continue to work for three years then next ensuing, in digging any stone quarry or mine, one good and able hand for every hundred acres thereof, it shall be accounted a sufficient cultivation and improvement: Provided, also, That every three acres which shall be cleared and drained, as aforesaid, shall further be accounted a sufficient seating, planting, cultivation and improvement, to save forever from forfeiture fifty acres of land in any part of the tract hereby granted; and the said William Fradgley, his heirs and assigns, shall be at liberty to withdraw his or their stock, or to forbear working in any quarry or mine, in proportion to such cultivation and improvements aforesaid as shall be made upon the plantable lands, swamps, sunken grounds, or marshes therein contained: Provided, also, That this grant shall be duly registered in the Register's Office within six months from the date hereof, and also a docket thereof shall be entered in the Auditor's Office within the same time, if such establishment shall take place in this province: Provided, always, That the said William Fradgley, his heirs and assigns, at any time hereafter, having seated, planted, cultivated, and improved the said land, or any part thereof, according to the directions and conditions above mentioned, may make proof of such seating, planting, cultivation, and improvement, in the general court, or the court of the county, district, or precinct where the said land lieth, and have such proof certified to the Register's Office, and there entered with the record of this grant, a copy of which, duly attested, shall be admitted on trial, to prove the seating and planting of the said land: Provided always, nevertheless, That if the said William Fradgley, his heirs and assigns, do not in all things fully comply with and fulfil the respective directions and conditions above set forth, for the proper cultivation of the said land, within the time hereunto above limited for the completion thereof; or, if the said William Fradgley, his heirs or assigns, shall not pay to us, our heirs and successors, or to the Receiver General of our quit-rents, or to the proper officer appointed to receive the same, the said quit-rent of one halfpenny sterling per acre, on the said feast of St. Michael, or within fourteen days after, annually, for every acre contained in this grant; that then, and in either of these cases respectively, this grant shall be void, any thing herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding; and the said lands, tenements, hereditaments, and premises hereby specified, and every part and parcel thereof, shall revert to us, our heirs and successors, fully and absolutely, as if the same never had been granted. This grant being in pursuance of our royal proclamation of the seventh day of October, in the third year of our reign.

Given under the great seal of our province of West Florida: Witness our trusty and well beloved Peter Chester, Esquire, our Captain General, Governor, and Commander-in-chief in and over our said province, at Pensacola, this thirteenth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and seventy-six, and the sixteenth year of our reign.

Claim—Of five hundred acres, as assignee and legal representative of John Sutherland, by virtue of a British grant, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Honorable the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of the river Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

GENTLEMEN:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee river, about one hundred and twelve miles above the town of Mobile, joining the Tombigbee river to the northeast, bounded on the northwest by lands surveyed to Charles Walker, and on the other two sides by vacant land; containing five hundred acres: is claimed by Elihu Hall Bay, of Charleston, South Carolina, under and by virtue of a grant, under the great seal of West Florida, dated the 22d October, 1779, to John Sutherland, signed by Governor Chester, a bargain and sale from John Sutherland, by Elihu Hall Bay, his attorney, to Henry Beaumont, dated the 13th day of November, 1779. Also, a bargain and sale from Henry Beaumont back to Elihu Hall Bay, for said tract of land, dated 15th of November, 1779; which grant and intermediate conveyances are all now delivered unto the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, as directed by said act, with a copy of the plot of the said land to the original grant annexed. To all which he begs leave to refer.

GEORGE THE THIRD, by the grace of God, of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, defender of the faith, &c. To all to whom these presents shall come, greeting:

Know ye, that we, of our special grace, certain knowledge, and mere motion, have given and granted, and, by these presents, for us, our heirs and successors, do give and grant, unto John Sutherland, a reduced master's mate in our navy, his heirs and assigns, all that tract of land, situated on the west side of the river Tombigbee, distant from the town of Mobile about one hundred and twelve miles, joining the river Tombigbee at the northeast, bounded on the northwest side by land surveyed for Chas. Walker, and on the other two sides by vacant land, in our province of West Florida, and having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot thereof hereunto annexed, as drawn by our Surveyor General of lands; which said tract of land contains five hundred acres, and is bounded as by the further certificate hereunto likewise annexed, under the hand of our said Surveyor General of lands, in our said province, may more fully and at large appear; together with all woods, underwoods, timber, and timber trees, lakes, ponds, fishings, waters, watercourses, profits, commodities, hereditaments, and appurtenances whatsoever thereunto belonging, or in anywise appertaining, together, also, with privilege of hunting, hawking, and fowling in and upon the same, and all mines and minerals; reserving to us, our heirs and successors, all mines of gold and silver: to have and to hold the said tract of land, and all and singular the premises hereby granted, with the appurtenances, unto the said John Sutherland, his heirs and assigns, forever, in free and common socage, yielding and paying unto us, our heirs and successors, or to the Receiver General of our quit-rents for the time being, or to such other officer, as shall be appointed to receive the same, a quit-rent of one half-penny sterling per acre, at the feast of St. Michael every year; the first payment to commence on the said feast of St. Michael, which shall first happen after the expiration of ten years from the date hereof, or within fourteen days after the said feast annually: Provided always, (and this present grant is upon condition,) nevertheless: That the said John Sutherland, his heirs or assigns, shall and do within three years after the date hereof, for every fifty acres of plantable land hereby granted, clear and cultivate three acres, at least, in that part thereof which he or they shall judge most convenient and advantageous; or else do clear and drain three acres of swampy or sunken ground, or do drain three acres of marsh, if any such shall be contained therein; and shall further, within the time aforesaid, put and keep upon every fifty acres thereof accounted barren three neat cattle, and continue the same thereon; until three acres for every fifty acres be fully cleared and improved; and if it shall so happen that there be no part of the said land fit for present cultivation, without manuring and improving the same, if the said John Sutherland, his heirs or assigns, shall, within three years from the date hereof, erect on some part of the said tract of land one good dwelling house, to contain at least twenty feet in length and sixteen feet in breadth, and put on his said land the like number of three neat cattle, as aforesaid, on every fifty acres therein contained; or, otherwise, if any part of the said tract of land shall be stony and rocky ground, not fit for culture or pasture, shall and do, within three years, as aforesaid, besides erecting the said house, begin to employ thereon, and continue to work for three years then next ensuing, in digging any stone quarry or mine, one good and able hand for every hundred acres thereof, it shall be accounted a sufficient cultivation and improvement: Provided also, That every three acres which shall be cleared and worked, or cleared and drained, as aforesaid, shall further be accounted a sufficient seating, planting, cultivation, and improvement, to save forever from forfeiture fifty acres of land, in any part of the tract hereby granted; and the said John Sutherland, his heirs and assigns, shall be at liberty to withdraw his or their stock, or to forbear working in any stone quarry or mine in proportion to such cultivation and improvements as shall be made upon the plantable lands, swamps, sunken grounds, or marshes therein contained: Provided also, That this grant shall be duly registered in the Register's Office of this province within six months from the date hereof, and also, that a docket thereof shall be entered in the Auditor's Office within the same time, if such establishment shall take place in this province: Provided, always, That the said John Sutherland, his heirs and assigns, at any time hereafter, having seated, planted, cultivated, and improved the said land, or any part thereof, according to the directions and conditions above mentioned, may make proof of such seating, planting, cultivation, and improvement, in the general court, or in the court of the county, district, or precinct where the said land lieth, and have such proof certified to the Register's Office, and there entered with the record of this grant, a copy of which, duly attested, shall be admitted on trial to prove the seating, planting, cultivation, and improvement of the said land: Provided, always, nevertheless, That if the said John Sutherland, his heirs and assigns, do not in all things fully comply with and fulfil the respective directions and conditions herein above set forth for the proper cultivation of the said land, within the time herein above limited for the completion thereof; or, if the said John Sutherland, his heirs or assigns, shall not pay to us, our heirs and successors, or to the Receiver General of our quit-rents, or to the proper officer appointed to receive the same, the said quit-rent of one half-penny sterling per acre, on the feast of St. Michael, or within fourteen days after, annually, for every acre contained in this grant; that then, and in either of these cases, respectively, this grant shall be void, any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithstanding; and the said lands, tenements, hereditaments, and premises, hereby specified, and every part and parcel thereof, shall revert to us, our heirs and successors, fully and absolutely, as if the same had never been granted. This grant being in pursuance of our royal proclamation of the seventh day of October, in the third year of our reign.

Given under the great seal of our province of West Florida: Witness our trusty and well beloved Peter Chester, Esquire, our Captain General, Governor, and Commander-in-chief in and over our said province, at Pensacola, this twenty-second day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and seventy-nine, and in the nineteenth year of our reign.

WEST FLORIDA, ss.

GEORGE THE THIRD, by the grace of God, of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, defender of the faith, &c. To all to whom these presents shall come, greeting:

Know ye, that we, of our special grace, certain knowledge, and mere motion, have given and granted, and, by these presents, for us, our heirs and successors, do give and grant, unto Charles Walker, his heirs and assigns, all that tract of land situated about fifty-eight miles above the town of Mobile, and about eight miles above the mouth of the Alabama, butting southwardly by lands laid out unto Alexander McIntosh, eastwardly by Tombigbee river, and on all other sides by vacant land; in our province of West Florida, and having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot thereof hereunto annexed, as drawn by our Surveyor General of lands; which said tract of land contains two thousand acres, and is bounded as by the further certificate, hereunto likewise annexed, under the hand of our said Surveyor General of lands, in our said province, may more fully and at large appear; together with all woods, underwoods, timber, and timber trees, lakes, ponds, fishings, waters, water courses, profits, commodities, hereditaments, and appurtenances whatsoever thereunto belonging, or in anywise appertaining; together, also, with privilege of hunting, hawking, and fowling in and upon the same, and all mines and minerals, reserving unto us, our heirs and successors, all mines of gold and silver: to have and to hold the said tract of land, and all and singular the premises hereby granted, with the appurtenances, unto the said Charles Walker, his heirs and assigns, forever, in free and common soccage; yielding and paying unto us, our heirs and successors, or to the Receiver General of our quit-rents for the time being, or to such other officer as shall be appointed to receive the same, a quit-rent of one halfpenny sterling per acre at the feast of St. Michael every year; the first payment to commence on the said feast of St. Michael which shall first happen after the expiration of two years from the date hereof, or within fourteen days after the said feast, annually: Provided always, (and this present grant is upon condition,) nevertheless, That the said Charles Walker, his heirs and assigns, shall and do, within three years after the date hereof, for every fifty acres of plantable lands hereby granted, clear and cultivate three acres, at least, in that part thereof which he or they may judge most convenient and advantageous, or else do clear and drain three acres of swampy or sunken ground, or do drain three acres of marsh, if any such shall be contained therein; and shall further, within the time aforesaid, put and keep upon every fifty acres thereof accounted barren three neat cattle, and continue the same thereon, until three acres for every fifty acres be fully cleared and improved; and if it shall so happen that there be no part of the said tract of land fit for present cultivation, without manuring and improving the same, if the said Charles Walker, his heirs and assigns, shall, within three years from the date hereof, erect on some part of the said tract of land one good dwelling house, to contain at least twenty feet in length and sixteen feet in breadth, and put upon his said land the like number of three neat cattle, as aforesaid, on every fifty acres therein contained; or, otherwise, if any part of the said land shall be stony or rocky ground, not fit for culture or pasture, shall and do, within three years, as aforesaid, besides erecting the said house, begin to employ thereon, and continue to work for three years then next ensuing, in digging any stone quarry or mine, one good and able hand for every hundred acres thereof, it shall be accounted a sufficient cultivation and improvement: Provided, also, That every three acres which shall be cleared and worked, or cleared and drained, shall further be accounted a sufficient seating, planting, cultivation, and improvement, to save forever from forfeiture fifty acres of land, in any part of the tract hereby granted; and the said Charles Walker, his heirs and assigns, shall be at liberty to withdraw his or their stock, or to forbear working in any quarry or mine, in proportion to such cultivation and improvements, as shall be made upon the plantable lands, swamps, sunken grounds, or marshes therein contained: Provided, also, That this grant shall be duly registered in the Register's Office of this province, within six months from the date hereof, and also that a docket thereof shall be entered in the Auditor's Office within the same time, if such establishment shall take place in this province: Provided, always, That the said Charles Walker, his heirs and assigns, at any time hereafter, having seated, planted, cultivated, and improved the said land, or any part thereof, according to the directions and conditions above mentioned, may make proof of such seating, planting, cultivation, and improvement, in the general court, or in the court of the county, district, or precinct, where the said land lieth, and have such proof certified to the Register's Office, and there entered with the record of this grant; a copy of which, duly attested, shall be admitted on trial, to prove the seating and planting of the said land: Provided always, nevertheless, That if the said Charles Walker, his heirs and assigns, do not in all things fully comply with and fulfil the respective directions and conditions herein above set forth for the proper cultivation of the said land, within the time herein above limited for the completion thereof; or, if the said Charles Walker, his heirs or assigns, shall not pay to us, our heirs and successors, or to the Receiver General of our quit-rents, or to the proper officer appointed to receive the same, the said quit-rent of one halfpenny sterling per acre, on the said feast of St. Michael, or within fourteen days after, annually, for every acre contained; that then, and in either of these cases, respectively, this grant shall be void, any thing herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding; and the said lands, tenements, hereditaments, and premises, hereby granted, and every part and parcel thereof, shall revert to us, our heirs and successors, fully and absolutely, as if the same never had been granted.

Given under the great seal of our province of West Florida: Witness our trusty and well beloved Elias Durnford, Esq. Lieutenant Governor and Commander-in-chief in and over our said province, at Pensacola, this third day of April, in the year of our Lord 1770, and in the ninth year of our reign.

[G. s.] ELIAS DURNFORD.

Signed in council, this 3d April, 1770.

FRANCIS POUSSETT, Dep. Cpk Council.

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited a deed of conveyance from Mary Walker, as relict and sole executrix of Joel Walker, deceased, bearing date the 25th day of November, 1799, conveying and relinquishing all her right, title, interest, claim, and demand of, in and unto the said tract of two thousand acres of land, unto David Walker; also, one other deed from David Walker and Charlotte Walker, bearing date the 3d day of September, 1801, conveying and relinquishing all their right, title, interest, and claim of the aforesaid tract of land, unto the said Seth Dean.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SETH DEAN's case, No. 151 on the docket of the Board, and No. 182 on the books of the Register.

Claim—Of one hundred and fifty acres, as legal representative of John Dawson, by virtue of a British grant under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Honorable Board of Commissioners appointed to settle claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

GENTLEMEN:

The annexed plot represents a tract of land originally granted to John Dawson, and by the said Dawson willed to his wife Elizabeth, who intermarried with Thomas Davis, and by said Davis conveyed to me, as by a deed bearing date 27th day of January, 1801, will more fully appear; which plot, will, and deed, is now delivered to the Register of the Land Office east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by an "Act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803." To all which he begs leave to refer.

SETH DEAN,

Legal representative of John Dawson.

MARCH 31, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed the 3d day of October, 1776, by Elias Durnford, Surveyor General of West Florida.

The claimant exhibited part of a seal, and a small piece of paper, which appear to be remnants of a British grant, the writing being illegible, and no entire sentence remaining.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 531, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for
JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant produced a will and testament of John Dawson, bearing date the 6th day of December, 1790, duly executed and proven, in and by which will he devised to his wife Elizabeth Dawson all his right and title to the said tract of land; also, a deed from Thomas Davis, bearing date the 27th day of January, 1801, conveying all his right, title, interest, and claim in the said tract of land unto the said Seth Dean.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SETH DEAN's case, No. 152 on the docket of the Board, and No. 181 on the books of the Register.

Claim—Of one thousand acres, by virtue of a deed of conveyance from Francis Juzant.

The claimant presented his claim in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Honorable Board of Commissioners appointed to settle the claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

GENTLEMEN:

The annexed deed for a tract or two tracts of land, lying on the west side of the river Tombigbee, situated on both sides of Cedar creek, below Fort Stoddert, I purchased of Francis Juzant, heir-at-law of Peter Juzant, deceased, which land the said Peter Juzant obtained from the Spanish Government; which deed is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by the "Act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803." To which deed I beg leave to refer.

SETH DEAN,

Representative of Francis Juzant.

MARCH 31, 1804.

MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY:

This indenture, made this 25th day of December, in the year of our Lord 1802, and in the twenty-sixth year of American independence, between Francis Juzant of the one part, citizen of the Creek nation, and Seth Dean, of the territory aforesaid, of the other part, witnesseth: That the said Francis Juzant, for and in consideration of the sum of one hundred dollars to him in hand paid by the said Seth Dean, at and before the sealing and delivery of these presents, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, hath granted, bargained, sold, and confirmed to the said Seth Dean, his heirs and assigns, all that tract or tracts of land that was formerly the property of Peter Juzant, deceased, adjoining the west bank of the river Tombigbee, near or on both sides of the mouth of Cedar creek, supposed to contain one thousand acres of land, more or less: to have and to hold the above tract of land, with all and singular the improvements thereunto belonging, or in anywise appertaining, unto the said Seth Dean, his heirs and assigns, forever; and the said Francis Juzant, for himself, and his heirs and assigns, shall warrant and defend the right and titles of the beforementioned premises, against all persons lawfully claiming the same, unto the said Seth Dean, his heirs or assigns.

In witness whereof, he hath set his hand and seal, the day and year above written.

FRANCIS JUZANT.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

THOMAS BATES's case, No. 153 on the docket of the Board, and No. 187 on the books of the Register.

Claim—A donation of six hundred and twenty-eight acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning at a sassafras; thence, south, forty-four degrees west, eighty chains, to a pine; south, forty-seven chains, to a pine; thence, south, forty-four degrees east, eighty-chains, to a gum; thence, north, fifty degrees east, twelve chains, to the river; thence, with the river, to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed; containing six hundred and twenty-eight acres: is claimed by Thomas Bates, in and by virtue of the second section of the act, as a donation; and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

THOMAS T. BATES, his x mark.

MARCH 31, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed the 15th of March, 1804, by Natt Christmas. Sworn chain bearers, Wm. Vaughn and Robt Sharp. Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 551, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The said Vaughn and Sharp, chain carriers for the preceding survey, were sworn before James Farr, Justice of Peace.

Richard Hawkins and James Powell were presented as witnesses, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this claim; that Thomas Bates, the present claimant, did, before the year 1797, during that year, and ever since, inhabit and cultivate the land in question; and that he was at said time the head of a family, and twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

ANN LAWRENCE, representative of Moses Moore: case commenced in page 628.

James Bilbo and William Phelps, chain carriers for the survey in this case, were sworn before John Callier and R. Harwell, Esquires, Justices of the Peace.

James Powell and Thomas Bilbo, surveyors, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Powell deposed, that Moses Moore, deceased, did live upon and cultivate the land in question at the time of his death; that, after his death, Cornelius Rain, who was the son of the widow, did inhabit and cultivate the said land, and was in possession thereof on the 27th of October, 1795, (as the witness understood) under the authority and by the permission of the widow of said Moses Moore.

The said Bilbo testified, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question; that it was correct, according to his knowledge and belief; that he believed that the upper end of this claim was covered by a British grant in the name of John McIntosh, and that the lower end was embraced by a Spanish permission, in favor of Cornelius Rain; that the improvements, which were originally made by Moses Moore, deceased, were included within this survey.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES POWEL'S case: commenced in page 643.

James Dean, one of the chain carriers for the survey in this case, was sworn before Figures Lewis, Esq., Justice of Peace.

Cornelius Rain was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that, before the year 1797, throughout that year, and ever since, James Powel, the present claimant, had lived upon the land in question, and cultivated the same; and that, in the year 1797, he was the head of a family, and more than twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

CORNELIUS RAIN'S case: commenced in page 632.

James Dean and James Powel, chain carriers for the survey in this case, were sworn before R. Harwell, Justice of Peace.

Thomas Bates and James Powel were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim; that Cornelius Rain, the present claimant, as they believed, was a married man, and twenty-one years of age on the 10th day of June, 1795; and that he had inhabited and cultivated the land in question from that time to the then present time.

John Dease, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed and plotted the land in question, and believed it to be correct; that it included the improvements of the claimant; that he understood that this survey interfered with the claim of Mrs. Lawrence, but that it could not be run in any other form without excluding this claimant's improvements.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES FARR'S case, No. 154 on the docket of the Board, and No. 161 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of three hundred and forty-four acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

MARCH 29, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of the Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning on said river at a white oak, running thence, south, forty-seven degrees west, twenty chains, to a pine; thence, south, seventeen degrees west, sixty-nine chains, to a corner stake; thence, north, sixty-six degrees east, fifty-nine chains, to a corner stake; thence, north, thirty-six degrees west, fifty-four chains; thence, south, twenty-five degrees west, fourteen chains, to the river; thence, along the meanders of said river, to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing three hundred and forty-four acres: is claimed by Cornelius Rain, attorney in fact for James Farr, in and by virtue of the second section of this act, as a donation, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

CORNELIUS RAIN,

Attorney in fact for James Farr.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 23d March, 1804, by Thomas Bilbo. Chain carriers, John Johnston and Jacob Nealy.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 492, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The said chain carriers for the above survey were sworn before Figures Lewis and R. Harwell, Esquires, Justices of Peace.

James Powel was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that, in the spring of the year 1797, James Farr cultivated the land in question, and raised a crop upon it that year, and left it in the winter of the year following; that, at that time, he appeared to be twenty-one years of age, or upwards.

Thomas Bilbo, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct, and that it included the house and improvement of the claimant; that he, the witness, believed that the claim of John McIntosh, under a British grant, interfered on the lower side of this survey.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Adjourned until Tuesday the 10th instant.

TUESDAY, April 10th, 1804.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Ephraim Kirby, Robert C. Nicholas.

JAMES BILBO'S case, No. 155 on the docket of the Board, and No. 113 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of four hundred and seventy-nine acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

MARCH 24, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning at a beech, running thence, west, one hundred and four chains, to a corner swamp oak; thence, south, twenty-six degrees east, fifty-seven chains, to a post oak; thence, north, forty-eight degrees east, seven chains; thence, east, ninety-seven chains, to a corner water oak, on Sullivan's lake; thence, with the lake, to the beginning; containing four hundred and seventy-nine acres, having such forms and marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed; is claimed by James Bilbo, in and by virtue of the third section of the said act, as a pre-emption, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office, established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as by said act directed. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

JAMES BILBO.

Surveyed 22d March, 1804, by Thomas Bilbo. Chain carriers, James Dean and Amos Reed.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 348, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Thomas Bilbo, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the surveys and plots returned to the Board of Commissioners by the following claimants, to wit:

George Robbins, representative of Zadock Brashear, donation, six hundred and forty acres; George Brewer, representative of James Watkins and George Johnson, donation, six hundred and twenty acres; Young Gains, attorney for Joseph House, donation, six hundred and forty acres; Sampson Mounger, donation, six hundred and thirty-four acres; Anna Mounger, donation, five hundred and four acres; George Farrar, pre-emption, one hundred and sixty acres; James Bilbo, pre-emption, four hundred and seventy-nine acres; and John Johnson, Spanish warrant, four hundred acres; and that the said plots respectively contain true representations of the land therein described, according to the best of his knowledge and belief; that they included the plantations and improvements of the several claimants; and that he knew of no interfering lines or claims.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

GEORGE FARRAR's case, No. 156 on the docket of the Board, and No. 158 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of one hundred and sixty acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

MARCH 30, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee river, about two miles from the river, on a large creek called Bilbo's creek, in the county of Washington, beginning at a corner pine on the north side of said creek, running thence, south, six degrees west, forty chains, across said creek, to a corner pine; thence north, eighty-four degrees west forty chains to a corner pine; thence, north, six degrees east, forty chains, across said creek, to a corner stake; thence, south, eighty-four degrees east, forty chains, to the beginning, and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed; containing one hundred and sixty acres: is claimed by George Farrar, in and by virtue of the third section of this act, as a pre-emption, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

Surveyed 15th February, 1804, by Thomas Bilbo. Chain carriers, John Young and Joseph Lawrence.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 48, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Thomas Bilbo, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct, and that it included the plantation and improvements of the claimant; that the claim of James Huckaby covered near one-half of this survey, on the northwesterly side; that the claim of Byant and Brewer, perhaps, interfered in a small degree upon the southwesterly line.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES HUCKABY, representative of Matthew Robinson: case commenced in page 651.

Thomas Bilbo, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question; and believed it to be correct, and that it included the plantation and improvements of the claimant; that about one-half of this claim, on the east corner, was covered by the claim of Daniel Young, and knew of no other interfering claim.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

FRANCISCO FONTANILLA's case: commenced in page 634.

Young Gains, Jun. and David Gains, chain carriers for the survey in this case, were sworn before John McGrew, Esq., Justice of the Peace.

Thomas Bilbo, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; and that it contained the plantation and improvements of the claimant; that about one-third part of this survey, on the lower side, was covered by the claim of Doctor John Chastang; that he, Bilbo, understood that the donation claims of Julian De Castro, Peter Malone, William Coleman, and James Griffin, were also laid upon the upper part of this claim.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

DANIEL JOHNSON, representative of Daniel Spillard: case No. 159 on the docket of the Board, and No. 81 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to land south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

MARCH 30, 1804,

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning at a post oak, running south, seventy degrees west, fifty chains, to a stake; thence, south, twenty degrees east, one hundred and twenty eight chains, to a stake; thence, north, seventy degrees east, fifty chains, to a stake; thence, north, twenty degrees west, one hundred and twenty-eight chains, to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed; containing six hundred and forty acres: is claimed by Daniel Johnston, legal representative of Daniel Spillard, in and by virtue of the second section of this act, as a donation, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

DANIEL JOHNSTON.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 29th March, 1804, by Daniel Johnston. Chain bearers, Amos Reed and William D. C. Phelps.

The claimant exhibited two writings, in the following words and figures, to wit:

Know all men by these presents, That I, Archibald Reed, have bargained, sold, and delivered unto James Bilbo all my right, title, and claim of my improvement near Solomon Johnson, first improved by Daniel Shiler, for value received of him. Given under my hand, this 11th day of February, 1804.

ARCHIBALD REED.

Witness, WILLIAM D. PHELPS.

I endorse all my right and title of the above bill of sale to Daniel Johnston, for value received, of him: Witness my hand, this 25th March, 1804.

JAMES BILBO.

Witness, JOHN DEASE.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 237, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

John Dease, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed the land in question, but did not make the plot; that it was made by another person from his field notes, and that he believed it to be correct, and that it included the plantation and improvements of the claimant; that he knew of no interfering lines or claims, unless the northeast corner might interfere in a small degree with the claim of Wiley Barker; that it might also interfere in a small degree with Copeland's claim on the southeast corner.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

DANIEL JOHNSTON, representative of William Burke: case commenced in page 655.

John Dease, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct, and that it included the improvements of the claimant; that he believed that it covered nearly the whole of James Bilbo's pre-emption claim; that he believed that the claim of the representatives of James Copeland, deceased, also interfered on the north corner, and probably covered the improvement.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

BRIDGET BURKE, administratrix of William Burke, deceased: case commenced in page 656.

James Powel and James Dean, chain carriers for the survey in this case, were sworn before R. Harwell, Esquire, Justice of Peace.

John Dease, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; and that it contained the improvement of the claimant; that he knew of no interfering lines or claims; and that its present shape was in consequence of other claims which bound it on all sides but one.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

YOUNG GAINS's case: commenced in page 691.

Thomas Bilbo, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and that he believed it to be correct; that it included the improvements of the claimant; that he understood that the claim of George Brewer, Jr. interfered with this on the lower side, and Thomas Malone on the upper side, but in what manner did not know.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN CHASTANG, representative of John Talley: case commenced in page 616.

Thomas Bilbo, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; and that it contained the improvements of the claimant; that it adjoins the other claim of Doctor Chastang for four hundred and eighty acres, under a Spanish warrant, on the lower side thereof; that he knew of no interference.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN CHASTANG's case: commenced in page 614.

Thomas Bilbo, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; and that it contained the plantation and improvements of the claimant; that about two thirds of this survey, on the upper side, was covered by the claim of Francisco Fontanilla; and that the claim of James Griffin interfered upon the back end.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

DANIEL JOHNSON's case: commenced in page 620.

Amos Reed and James Deaa, chain carriers for the survey in this case, were sworn before Figures Lewis and John Callier, Esquires, Justices of the Peace.

John Dease, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; and that it included the improvements of the claimant; that the British claim of Alexander McCullagh covered about one-quarter part of this claim, on the south side; and had heard of a British grant, in favor of Adam Tate, which must also cover a part of this claim, on the north side.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES POWEL, executor of William Powel, deceased: case commenced in page 623.

John Dease, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; and that it contained the improvements of the claimant; that about one-third of this claim, on the north side, was included in the claim of the representative of Nathaniel Bassett, deceased; that he knew of no other interference.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES POWEL'S case: commenced in page 643.

John Dease, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; and that it included the improvements of the present claimant; that nearly the whole of this claim was covered by the claim of the representative of Nathaniel Bassett, deceased, except a small point on the river, at the upper corner, and also on the north end; that he knew of no other interference.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOSEPH CHASTANG'S case: commenced in page 650.

James Gordon, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; and that it included the dwelling-house and improvements of the claimant; that he knew of no interfering line or claim.

The claimant produced a deposition, taken in pursuance of an order of the Board, recorded in page 714: which deposition is in the following words and figures, to wit:

TUESDAY, April 3, 1804.

Personally appeared before me Simon Andry, and, being qualified agreeable to law, testifies as follows: that, some time in the year 1795, Ushan Chastang entered on the land in question with negroes, the property of Joseph Chastang, as he understood, and cultivated the said land until the American line was run, on both sides of the river; all of which time the said Joseph Chastang resided in Mobile; and, after the line was run, the said Joseph moved up, and has continued to cultivate and inhabit to the present day.

Sworn to before me,

JAMES CALLIER, J. P.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SIMON ANDRY'S case: commenced in page 624.

William Mitchel was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that he was not interested in this claim; that, before the year 1795, and ever since, Simon Andry had been settled upon and cultivated the land in question, by his slaves; but having an overseer there, and being there occasionally himself, he resided principally in Mobile, until about six or seven years ago; that he made this place his steady residence; and that he then was upwards of fifty years of age.

James Gordon, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; that this survey, together with another small one adjoining, which was claimed under a different title, included the buildings and improvements of the claimant, (part of the buildings coming within this plot, and part within the other;) that, on the north or upper side of this survey, the claim of John Baptist Trenier interfered to a very considerable extent.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SIMON ANDRY, representative of Charlotte Haurale: case commenced in page 625.

The testimony of William Mitchel, recorded in the preceding case in this page, was applied in this case; his knowledge being the same in both cases.

James Gordon, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; that the piece on the west side of the river, containing forty-one acres, included part of the buildings and improvements of the claimant; that he, Gordon, knew of no interfering lines or claims.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN BAPTISTE TRENIER'S case: commenced in page 617.

James Gordon, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; and that it included the dwelling-house and improvement of the claimant; but that the claim of Simon Andry included the said buildings and improvements, and the whole of this claim, except about thirty-five acres.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN CHASTANG'S case: commenced in page 614.

James Gordon, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; and that it included the dwelling and improvements of the claimant; that he, Gordon, knew of no interfering lines or claims.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES CALLIER, representative of Isabella Trouillet, the wife of Joseph Campbell: case commenced in page 650.

James Gordon, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believes that three of the lines which he run out, to wit, on the north end, west side, and south end, to be correctly delineated; but the line which pursues the meanders of the waters, and bounds thereon, he did not run, but laid the same down by conjecture.

Question by the claimant. Whether you did or did not make a correct plot of the land in question, according to the best of your knowledge at the time?

Answer. I did, as I was not able to take the meanders of the river.

Question by the claimant. Were you not instructed to run out this land so as not to include more than six hundred and forty acres?

Answer. I was instructed to run half a mile out, from the place of beginning, two miles down, and half a mile east, to the river.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES CALLIER'S case, representative of Joseph Anderson: commenced in page 607.

James Gordon, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; and that it included the improvements of the claimant: that it interfered with the claim of Thomas Carson, about one-half, on the north side.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES CALLIER and JOSEPH CAMPBELL, executors of Maria Josephia Narbone: case commenced in page 635.

James Gordon, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; and that it included the dwelling and improvements of the claimant; and that there were no interfering lines or claims.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Ephraim Kirby, Robert C. Nicholas.

YOUNG GAINS's case: commenced in page 621.

Adam Hollinger and Nathan Blackwell were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this claim; that according to their knowledge and belief, the land in question was inhabited and improved by a person of the name of Lucas, as early as the year 1790, and that it continued to be inhabited and cultivated by a person of the name of Burrows through the year 1795; but whether these persons were tenants to the present claimant or not, they did not know; that the present claimant was an inhabitant of the Mississippi territory on the 27th of October, 1795, before that time, and ever since; and that, on the 22d of October, 1787, he was more than twenty-one years of age.

Question by the claimant. Did you ever know or hear that Burrows ever offered to sell the land in question, or exercise any act of exclusive ownership?

Answer by both. We never did.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Adjourned until Monday, the 16th instant.

MONDAY, April 16, 1804.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Ephraim Kirby, Robert C. Nicholas, Joseph Chambers.

BENJAMIN FEW's case, No. 160 on the docket of the Board, and No. 170 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of five hundred acres, as representative of Turnbull and Joyce, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on Nanna Hubb bluff, on the west side of Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning at a stake at the old corner, said to be Turnbull's; running thence, with the river, south, fifty-two degrees east, thirty-two chains; thence, south, seventy-three degrees east, thirty-one chains, to a sassafras; thence, south, twenty-eight degrees west, eighty-one chains fifty links, to a stake; thence, north, sixty-two degrees west, sixty-three chains, to a stake; thence, north, twenty-eight degrees east, eighty-one chains fifty links, to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed; containing five hundred acres: is claimed by Benjamin Few, under the third section of the act, &c.: the said Turnbull claimed this land under a Spanish warrant, [which] is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

BENJAMIN FEW.

MARCH 30, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed March 28, 1804, by John Milliken. Chain bearers, James McConnell and Edmund Smith.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 507, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Natt Christmas, Richard Barrow, and John Milliken, surveyor, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Christmas deposed, that, some time in the year 1802, he as sheriff, was directed by Lemuel Henry, Esquire, attorney at law, to advertise and sell one hundred acres of land, lying, as he believed, within the lines of the plot or survey then exhibited to the Board, in virtue of an execution issued from the court of Washington county, Mississippi territory, in favor of Michael Milton, against the property of Turnbull and Joyce; that he did accordingly advertise and put said land to sale; at which sale, Colonel Benjamin Few was the highest bidder, and became the purchaser; that he, Christmas, gave him a sheriff's deed for the said one hundred acres of land; that, in two or three days after the sale, he put said Few in possession of said land; and that he had continued to inhabit and cultivate the same ever since.

The said Barrow deposed, that Colonel Benjamin Few had, according to his best belief, cultivated and inhabited on the land in question from the year 1802, and that Few was more than twenty-one years of age.

The said Milliken deposed, that he surveyed the land in question, and made the plot, but only measured the river, with its meanders, and plotted the other lines for complement of land; that said plot interfered with the claim of Howel Dupree, in or about the red dots; that Lemuel Henry's claim, as representative of John Turnbull, covered all of said land, except that part interfering with Dupree; that said Few inhabited and cultivated within the limits of this survey.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Adjourned until Tuesday, the 17th instant.

RICHARD HAWKINS's case, No. 161 on the docket of the Board, and No. 171 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situate on the west side of Tombigbee, on Barrow's lake, in the county of Washington, beginning at a cypress on the point where Barrow's creek empties into Barrow's lake, running thence, down the lake, south, thirty-four degrees west, fifty-two chains, to a cypress on the bank; thence, north, sixty-two degrees west, one hundred and twenty-five chains, to a stake; thence, north, forty-five degrees east, fifty-two chains, to a stake; thence to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing six hundred and forty acres: is claimed by Richard Hawkins, in and by virtue of the second section of the act, as a donation, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

RICHARD HAWKINS.

[Plot omitted.]

MARCH 31, 1804.

Surveyed March, — 1804, by Natt Christmas. Chain bearers, William Gibson and David Matthias.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 509, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Natt Christmas, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed the land in question; that the plot then exhibited gave a true and correct representation of the land claimed, with such marks, natural and artificial, as were therein laid down; that said Hawkins resided within the limits of this survey; that there was an interference between this claim and the claim of Simpson Whaley, on the line north, forty-two degrees east, somewhere near to the lake, as he had been informed.

The said Gibson and Matthias, chain carriers for the above survey, were sworn before William H. Hargrave, Justice of Peace.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOSEPH BATES, Junior's case: commenced in page 646.

Natt Christmas, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed the land in question, and that the plot exhibited gave a true and correct representation of the land claimed, with such marks, natural and artificial, as were therein laid down; that the claimant lived within the limits of said survey; that there was an interference of a few acres on the line north, sixty-two degrees east, on the branch which makes a part of said line, between this claim and the claim of Edward Creighton, representative of Benjamin King; that he only knew of said interference upon information.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

ADAM HOLLINGER's case, No. 162 on the docket of the Board, and No. 174 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of six hundred and twelve acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of an act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to land south of the Tennessee river, and east of the Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, lying west of the Tombigbee river, beginning on a stake, on the west bank of the said river, at the mouth of the Poll bayou, on the south side of the said creek, on Eason's corner; thence, running with his line, south, eighty-six degrees west, eighty chains, to a pine; thence, south, eleven degrees east, twenty-five chains, to a pine; thence, south, seventy-seven degrees west, twenty-eight chains, to a gum; thence, north, eleven degrees east, one hundred and five chains, to a pine; thence, north, eighty degrees east, seventy-one chains, to a stake, on the bank of the Tombigbee river; thence, down the river, to the beginning: is claimed by Adam Hollinger, under and by virtue of the third section of the above mentioned act of Congress. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot now delivered to the Register of the Land Office to be established east of Pearl river; which plot is herewith filed.

W. CARMAN,

Attorney in fact for Adam Hollinger.

FORT STODDERT, March 31, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed the 15th day of March, 1804, by Natt Christmas. Chain bearers, John Barnet and Goodwin Mirick.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 512, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Natt Christmas, surveyor, Joseph Bates, senior, and Lemuel Henry, were presented as witnesses, and being duly sworn, the said Christmas deposed, that there were two interferences with the lines of this survey, viz.: Thomas Bates, senior, and Seth Dean, both run over the line north, eleven degrees east, a considerable distance; Dean near three hundred acres, and Bates above two hundred acres.

The said Bates and Henry deposed that Adam Hollinger inhabited and cultivated the land in question on the third day of March, 1803, and before, and ever since that time; and that said Hollinger was, on the third day of March, 1803, the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SETH DEAN's case, No. 163 on the docket of the Board and No. 176 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, as representative of John Jacob Abner, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, viz.:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning at a corner stake, running north, seventy-two degrees west, eighty chains, to a lightwood stake; thence, south, eighty degrees west fifteen chains, to a pine; thence, north, fifteen degrees east, eighty chains, to a corner stake; thence, south, seventy-two degrees east, seventy-five chains, to the river; thence with the river to the beginning; having such shape, form and marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing six hundred and forty acres: is claimed by Seth Dean, representative of John Jacob Abner, in and by virtue of the second section of the said act, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

SETH DEAN,

Representative of John Jacob Abner.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SETH DEAN's case, No. 164 on the docket of the Board, and No. 178 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of six hundred and forty acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of the river Tombigbee in the county of Washington, beginning on the said river, running thence, north, eighty degrees west, ninety chains, to a corner stake; thence, north, sixty-six chains, to a stake; thence east, ninety chains, to a stake on said river; thence, to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed; containing six hundred and forty acres, is claimed by Seth Dean, in and by virtue of the third section of this act, as a pre-emption, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

SETH DEAN.

MARCH 24, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 516, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Natt Christmas, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the plot of the land in question, from his field notes of adjoining lines, and believed it to be correct; that it included an improvement originally made by the claimant, then in the occupancy of Mrs. Copeland; that this tract was claimed by Thomas Bates and Adam Hollinger, representatives of William Cheney, except a few acres on the west side; that the interference of Hollinger was on the south side about one half, and Bates' interference on the north more than one half, and extended on to the claim of Hollinger.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

GEORGE DICKEY's case, No. 165 on the docket of the Board, and No. 151 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of six hundred and forty acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed for adjusting claims and rights of lands south of Tennessee, and east of the Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the above survey is claimed by George Dickey, as a pre-emption lying and situated about three miles below the Sunflower, beginning on a sassafras, running west with Danley's line, until hindered by water; thence, returning back to the beginning; thence, meandering the river down, one hundred and fourteen chains fifty links, to a sassafras; thence, west, until hindered by water; claiming, by the said pre-emption, six hundred and forty acres; bounding on the north by Denley, and on other sides by vacant land or undefined claims.

JOHN DENLEY, for

GEORGE DICKEY.

[Plot omitted.]

MARCH 3, 1804.

Chain carriers, James Donley and Hiram Mounger. Partly surveyed on the 23d March, 1804, by Robert Ligon.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 480, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

John Denley was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that the claimant began to work on the land in question in the year 1801, and worked upon it at times ever since, but did not know that he had ever made a crop upon it, but believed that he had about six acres well cleared; that the land was low, and subject to inundation, and was unfit for a place of residence; that the claimant had not resided upon it; that George Dickey, the claimant, was the head of a family on the 3d of March, 1803.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

THOMAS SULLIVANT, Junior's case: commenced in page 658.

Natt Christmas, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the surveys and plots returned to the Board by the following claimants, to wit: Thomas Sullivant, junior, pre-emption, one hundred and ninety acres; Edmund Smith, pre-emption, four hundred and twenty-two acres; John Dease, pre-emption, fifty acres; heirs of Godfrey Helverston, donation, six hundred and forty acres; and Seth Dean, representative of John Wallace, pre-emption, six hundred and thirty-nine acres; and that the said plots respectively contained true representations of the land therein described, according to his best knowledge and belief; that they included the plantations and improvements of the several claimants; and that he knew of no interfering lines or claims.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

THOMAS BATES's case: commenced in page 687.

Natt Christmas, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey of the land in question, that the plot then exhibited gave a true and correct representation of the land claimed, with such marks, natural and artificial, as were therein laid down; that there were two interferences with the lines of this claim, viz.: the lines of Seth Dean's claim, and the lines of Adam Hollinger's claim, as representative of William Cheney; that Adam Hollinger's claim interfered with this claim, running from the line south forty-four degrees east, nearly with the crooked line, intended to represent a fence, to the river Tombigbee; that Dean's claim interfered with this claim, running with a line to the north-east of the fence, from the south line, forty-four degrees east, to the same river Tombigbee, as by the scratched line on the plot may better appear.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOSIAH SKINNER's case: commenced in page 605.

Natt Christmas, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed the land now in question; that the plot exhibited gives a true and correct representation of the land claimed, with such marks, natural and artificial, as were therein laid down; that the improvements of the claimant were within the lines of this survey; that he had been informed that James Callier, Esquire's, claim, as representative of Joseph Anderson, interfered with the whole of this land, except the narrow niche of land, which he knew run within the limits of Thomas Carson's claim, and which Skinner run by the consent of Carson, given in his, Christmas's, presence.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

EDWARD GATLAND's case, No. 166 on the docket of the Board, and No. 11 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of three hundred and six acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the waters of Mobile river, in the county of Washington, beginning at a gum, and running thence, south, ten degrees east, sixty chains, to a gum; thence, south, two degrees east, ten chains, to a gum; thence, south, seventeen degrees west, thirty-four chains fifty links, to a cypress corner; thence, north, seventy-eight degrees west, eighteen chains, to a live oak corner; thence, north, nine degrees west, ninety-three chains, to a gum corner; thence, to the beginning; containing three hundred and six acres, having such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed: which said tract of land is claimed by Edward Gatland, in and by virtue of the third section of the said act as a pre-emption, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to copy of the plot herewith filed.

EDWARD GATLAND.

FEBRUARY 29, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 27th February, 1804, by Natt Christmas. Chain bearers, Sterling Dupree and David Dupree, who were sworn before James Callier, Justice of the Peace.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 41, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Natt Christmas, surveyor, James Callier, and Joseph Bates, Sen. were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Christmas deposed, that he surveyed the land now in question; that the plot exhibited gave a true and correct representation of the land claimed, with such marks, natural and artificial, as were therein laid down; that a negro house and field of the claimant were within the limits of this survey; that there was an interference between the lines of this claim and the claim of Howel Dupree, to the extent of a straight line drawn from the two small crosses on the lines north, nine degrees west, and south, ten degrees east, and on the north end of this survey; that he only knew of this interference from information, but the fact, he believed, would more at large appear, reference being had to the survey of Howel Dupree's claim.

The said Callier and the said Bates deposed, that the claimant commenced to improve upon the land in question in the winter of the year 1802, and made a crop of corn thereon in the following year, and had continued to cultivate the same ever since; that this being swamp or low land, it was not a suitable place for a dwelling house; that they believed that the waters covered nearly the whole of this land, at some seasons of the year; that, on the 3d of March, 1803, and before, and ever since that time, the claimant was the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

HEIRS OF JAMES COPELEN: case commenced in page 657.

Natt Christmas, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the plot of the land then exhibited to the Board, and did actually survey and measure the same from the Three River lake, to the Boggy branch, but was prevented from the further survey and measurement by high waters; that he plotted the residue for complement, and also took the course of the lake from actual observation; that there were two interferences with the lines of this survey, viz.: George Brewer and Figures Lewis; that both those interferences were on the south side of this survey; that he only knew of those interferences from information that the fact will more at large appear, by referring to the plots of George Brewer, attorney for the heirs of Charles Brewer, and Figures Lewis's survey.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

LEMUEL HENRY, attorney in fact for Anthony Espaho: case commenced in page 633.

Joseph Bates, sen. and Natt Christmas were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this claim; and the said witnesses further deposed, that a man of the name of Alexander inhabited and cultivated the land in question in the year 1793; that his, Alexander's negroes, continued to cultivate on this land in the years 1794 and 1795; that, in those last years, the negroes were under his, Bates's, direction; that said cultivation and habitation were under the permission of John Turnbull, as he, Bates, was informed by Alexander, Joyce, and Turnbull; that after Alexander quitted the possession, a man by the name of Hartly contracted with John Turnbull for the purchase of said land; and, in full consideration therefor was to pay him three hundred dollars; that, in pursuance of said contract to purchase, said Hartly entered into possession of the premises in the winter of the year 1795, or spring of the year 1796, and continued to inhabit and cultivate thereon, until the fall or winter of 1799, when, having failed to make the payment of three hundred dollars, he told him, Bates, that he had given up the land to Turnbull again, and had cancelled his obligation to pay the said three hundred dollars; that he had also heard Joyce say that he had released Hartly from the payment of the three hundred dollars, in consequence of said Hartly's having given up the land, or rather the right he had acquired by said contract to purchase; that neither Turnbull nor Joyce were inhabitants within the Mississippi territory on the 27th of October, 1795, or since that time.

Question. Has the right to this land always been admitted to be in John Turnbull?

Answer. I have understood that the right was always admitted to be in John Turnbull, or persons claiming under him.

Question to said Christmas by the claimant's attorney. Did you or did you not see in the possession of Mr. Norwood an English grant for the land in question, in favor of John Turnbull?

Answer. I did never see any such grant.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

NATT CHRISTMAS's case, No. 167 on the docket of the Board, and No. 175 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of eighty-five acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of the river Tombigbee, on the bluff known by the name of Nanna Hubba, in the county of Washington; beginning on said river, running thence, north, three degrees west, twenty-one chains; thence, north, sixteen degrees east, twenty-three chains twenty-five links; thence, north, fifty-three degrees west, six chains; thence, north, five degrees west, twelve chains; thence, south, sixty degrees west, seventeen chains; thence, south, twenty-five chains; thence, north, eighty degrees east, thirty-two chains, to the beginning; containing eighty-five acres, and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by Natt Christmas, in and by virtue of the third section of this act, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

SETH DEAN's case: commenced in page 693.

Jesse Thomas and William Wallace were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this claim; that Seth Dean commenced to improve upon the land then in question in the year 1802, and that he did actually inhabit and cultivate the same on the 3d day of March, 1803; and that said Dean was, on said 3d day of March, the head of a family; and that Mrs. Copeland then lived on said land.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SETH DEAN's case, No. 168 on the docket of the Board, and No. 180 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of six hundred and thirty-nine acres, as assignee and legal representative of John Wallace, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed on the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of the river Tombigbee, in the county of Washington, beginning at a sassafras on said river, running thence south, forty-four degrees west, ninety chains, to a pine; thence, north, forty-six degrees west, eighty chains, to a stake on Bilbo's creek; thence, on said creek, north sixty-four degrees east, seventy-one chains, to a stake; thence north, fourteen degrees east, forty chains, to a gum; thence along the said river, to the beginning; having such shape, form, and marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by Seth Dean, legal representative of John Wallace, in and by virtue of the third section of this act, as a pre-emption, and now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

SETH DEAN,

Representative of John Wallace.

MARCH 31, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Chain bearers, William Vaughn and Robert Sharp. Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 519, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant produced a deed of conveyance from John Wallace, bearing date the 31st of October, 1803, duly executed, relinquishing and conveying to the said Seth Dean all the said Wallace's right and interest in or to the said tract of land, together with the improvements made thereon.

William Walton was presented as a witness, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed that he was not interested in this claim; that he saw John Wallace sign, seal, and deliver to Seth Dean the deed then presented to the Board, on the day and for the purposes therein mentioned, and that he subscribed thereto as a witness.

Edna Bilbo and Richard Hawkins were presented as witnesses, and being duly sworn, the said Bilbo deposed that John Wallace built and settled upon the land then in question before the 3d of March, 1803, and cultivated a garden only on said land the ensuing season; and that John Wallace was, on said 3d day of March, the head of a family.

The said Hawkins deposed, that John Wallace built and settled upon the land then in question before the 3d day of March, 1803, and that said Wallace was, on the said 3d day of March, the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SETH DEAN's case, No. 169 on the docket of the Board, and No. 179 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of six hundred and forty acres, as assignee and legal representative of James Lowe, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, viz.:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning on a corner stake, running thence, north, eighty degrees west, sixty-four chains, to Bates's creek; thence, along said creek, to Bilbo's creek, to a corner stake on said creek; thence, south, fifty-eight degrees west, thirty-eight chains, to a pine; thence, south, eighty-four degrees west, forty chains, to a corner pine; thence, south, six degrees east, one hundred chains, to a corner stake; thence, north, eighty degrees east, eighty-four chains, to the beginning, having such shape, form and marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by Seth Dean, representative of James Lowe, in virtue of the third section of the said act, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot annexed.

SETH DEAN,
Representative of James Lowe.

MARCH 31, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 31st March, 1804 by Seth Dean. Chain carriers, David Dupree and George Farrar.

The claimant exhibited a deed of conveyance from James Lowe, duly executed, bearing date the 9th day of February, 1804, conveying to the said Dean all the said Lowe's right, claim, and interest to the said tract of land.

Sherwood B. Bonner, Edna Bilbo, and Richard Hawkins, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this case; and said Bonner further testified, that he saw James Lowe with his own hand sign, seal, and deliver unto Seth Dean the instrument of writing then presented to the Board; and that he, Bonner, subscribed to said writing, when made, as a witness, as did also Aaron Grinage.

The said Bilbo and Hawkins further deposed, that James Lowe built a house, and lived upon the land in question, before the 3d of March, 1803, and did inhabit on said land on the said 3d day of March, and cultivated cotton and potatoes thereon the ensuing season; that James Lowe was, on the 3d day of March, 1803, the head of a family, and more than twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SETH DEAN's case, No. 170 on the docket of the Board, and No. 177 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of six hundred and forty acres, as legal representative of Jesse Thomas, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee, in the county of Washington, beginning at a corner pine, about a mile from the river; running thence, south, twenty degrees east one hundred and sixteen chains, to a corner; thence, north, forty degrees west, seventy chains, to a corner stake and pine; thence, south, fifty degrees west, sixty chains, to a corner stake; thence, north, twenty degrees west eighty-four chains, to a corner stake; thence, north, eighty degrees east, eighty-six chains to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing six hundred and forty acres: is claimed by Seth Dean, legal representative of Jesse Thomas, in and by virtue of the third section of this act, as a pre-emption, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl River, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

SETH DEAN,

Representative of Jesse Thomas.

MARCH 31, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed March 31, 1804, by Thomas Bilbo. Chain carriers, Jesse Thomas and David Dupree.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 515, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Jesse Thomas and William Walton were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this case; and said Thomas further testified, that he sold his claim to the land then in question to Seth Dean, for the consideration of forty-eight dollars; that he commenced his improvement in the year 1802, and had inhabited and cultivated on said land ever since, and did actually inhabit and cultivate the same on the 3d day of March, 1803; and was, on the said 3d day of March, the head of a family.

The said Walton deposed, that he knew that, on the 3d day of March, 1803, Jesse Thomas did actually cultivate and inhabit the said land; and that said Thomas was, on said 3d day of March, the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SETH DEAN, representative of John Dawson: case commenced in page 687.

Jesse Thomas was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that he saw Thomas Davis sign, seal, and deliver, with his own hand, unto Seth Dean, the deed or instrument of writing then presented to the Board; and that he did, at the same time, subscribe his name thereto as a witness, as did also C. Helber in his presence.

Thomas Bassett was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that John Dawson, during the possession of this country by the British Government, inhabited and cultivated on a tract of land, some distance above the mouth of the Three Rivers, and which land he supposed was represented by the plot then exhibited; that he did confidently believe that neither John Dawson, nor his legal representative or representatives, resided within the Mississippi territory on the 27th day of October, 1795.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SETH DEAN, representative of Francis Juzant: case commenced in page 687.

William Walton was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that he was not interested in this claim; that he saw Francis Juzant sign, seal, and deliver to Seth Dean the deed then presented to the Board, on the day and date therein mentioned, purporting to be a conveyance of one thousand acres of land, on the west side of the Tombigbee river, and on both sides of the mouth of Cedar creek; that he saw Robert Walton subscribe the same as a witness.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

RICHARD BARROW'S case: commenced in page 639.

Natt Christmas, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he run three lines of the survey of the land then claimed, and plotted the fourth line for complement; that the plot then exhibited, presents a true and correct view of the land claimed, with such marks, natural and artificial, as are therein noted; that there were no lines that interfered with this claim, nor did the lines of this claim interfere with that of any other, except with that of Hawkins's, as had been stated.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

NATT CHRISTMAS'S case: commenced in page 695.

John Milliken, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed the land then in question, and made the plot exhibited to the Board, which gave a true and correct view of said land, with such marks, natural and artificial, as were therein noted; that the houses and improvements of the claimant were within the limits of said survey; that there was a claim of Edward Creighton's, as representative of Benjamin King, that interfered with this claim, beginning at a corner stake, and running to the south of the spring branch, or the north line of said survey, in or about twenty acres; that the interference is represented by the dotted line; that Sterling Dupree's claim covered the whole of said land.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

THOMAS CARSON'S case, as representative of John Jacob Abner: commenced in page 606.

Natt Christmas, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed the land in question, and made the plot then exhibited to the Board, which gave a true and correct view of the land claimed, with such marks, natural and artificial, as are therein noted; that he had been informed by Mr. James Gordon that he run a line of the survey or claim of the representative of Joseph Anderson, over the south line of Carson's survey, to the extent of upwards of two hundred acres; that Josiah Skinner had also run over the south line of said survey, but, by the consent of Mr. Thomas Carson, given in his, Christmas's presence, that the original improvements of John Jacob Abner were within the limits of said survey.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES CALLIER'S case, as representative of Joseph Anderson: commenced in page 607.

Thomas Bates, Senior, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that Joseph Anderson inhabited and cultivated the land claimed in the year 1798, and continued to inhabit and cultivate on the same until about two years last past; that said land had been inhabited and cultivated since Anderson left it, by William Walton, as a tenant of Seth Dean, who purchased, as he Bates, understood and believed, Anderson's right to this claim; that Joseph Anderson was the head of a family in the month of February, 1798.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SAMUEL MIMS, representative of John Turnbull: case commenced in page 635.

Natt Christmas, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that upwards of one year ago he surveyed the land in question, and made the plot exhibited to the Board, in pursuance of an order to me issued from the court of Washington county; that the plot exhibited a true and correct view of the land then claimed, with such marks, natural and artificial, as were on the plot noted; that there were two men, one of the name of Causby, and the other of the name of Rogers, who were then living within the limits of this survey.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

STERLING DUPREE, representative of Emanuel Cheney: case commenced in page 596.

Natt Christmas, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he surveyed the land in question, and made plot exhibited to the Board, which gave a true and correct view of the land claimed, with such marks, natural and artificial, as were therein noted; that there was a claim in his own name that interfered with the line of the said survey, cornering on the margin of the Tombigbee river, represented by the cross on Dupree's plot, the extent of which interference would more fully appear by reference to the plot of his survey; that there was a claim of Edward Creighton's, as representative of Benjamin King, that interfered with the lines of this survey; that the extent of said interference will more fully appear by a reference to the plot of his survey, and the plot of the survey of said Creighton, representative of said King.

Edna Bilbo and Richard Hawkins were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim; that Emanuel Cheney settled upon the land in question late in the year 1798, but did not make any cultivation; that he inhabited and cultivated on said land in the year 1799, but the cultivation of this was a garden only.

The said Hawkins further deposed, that Earles built the house on said land in which Cheney lived, some time in the summer or fall of the year 1798; that said Earles told him he had sold the same to Emanuel Cheney.

The said Bilbo further testified, that Emanuel Cheney, in the year 1797, was the head of a family, and more, than twenty-one years of age; the said Hawkins also deposed, that said Cheney was, in the year 1798, the head of a family, and more than twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

ADAM SCOTT'S case, No. 171 on the docket of the Board, and No. 112 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of one hundred and sixty acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance to the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to land south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning at Barrow's lake, and runs down the river thirteen chains fifty links, to a holly; thence, west, twelve chains, to a pine; thence, south, thirty-seven chains twenty-five links, to a stake; thence, west, twenty-eight chains, to a stake; thence, north, fifty-one chains, to a stake; thence, east, forty-three chains, to the beginning; containing one hundred and sixty acres, and hath such marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by Adam Scott, in and by virtue of the third section of the act, as a pre-emption, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

ADAM SCOTT.

MARCH 29, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed by John Milliken. Chain bearers, Cordeal N. Daniels and William Patten.

Entered in record of claims, vol. —, page 347, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

John Milliken, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he began at a corner tree on Barrow's lake, and meandered the lake to a holly, a station tree, in or about a hundred yards to the north of the garrison burying ground, and continued the measurement of the line, west, twelve chains, and south, thirty-seven chains twenty-five links, to a stake; and plotted the other lines for complement; that there were no other lines that interfered with the lines of this survey that he knew of, except the lines of James Callier's survey, made by James Gordon; that the houses and improvements of the claimant were within the limits of this survey.

Godfrey Bartles and Richard Hawkins were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that Adam Scott, the claimant, inhabited and cultivated the land in question on the 3d day of March, 1803, and before and since that time; and that said Adam Scott was, on said 3d day of March, the head of a family, and more than twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN HAWKINS's case, No. 172 on the docket of the Board, and No. 172 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of one hundred and fifty-one acres, under the third section of the act.

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the third day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee, in the county of Washington, beginning on a gum, on a point of land between Barrow's lake and Mobile river, running thence, up the courses and distances, as laid down in the plot, to a willow on Richard Barrow's corner; thence west forty chains to a stake in Barrow's lake swamp; thence down the lake, as laid down in the plot, to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing one hundred and fifty-one acres: is claimed by John Hawkins, in and by virtue of the third section of said act, as a pre-emption, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

JOHN HAWKINS.

MARCH 31, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed March, 1804, by Natt Christmas. Chain bearers; Robert Lucas and Matthew Murry.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 510, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Natt Christmas, surveyor, Joseph Bates, and Richard Hawkins, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Christmas deposed, that he surveyed the land in question, and made the plot then exhibited, which gave a true and correct view of the land claimed, with such marks, natural and artificial, as were therein noted; that there were no lines that interfered with said survey that he knew of.

The said Bates and Hawkins deposed, that, before the 3d of March, 1803, and ever since, the land in question had been cultivated by the claimant, and for his use, but, being low land, subject to inundation, could not be made a place of residence; that John Hawkins, the claimant, was, on said 3d day of March, the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Adjourned until Thursday, the 26th instant.

THURSDAY, April 26, 1804.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Ephraim Kirby, Robert C. Nicholas, Joseph Chambers.

GEORGE FARRAR's case: commenced in page 689.

Richard Hawkins and Seth Dean were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, they deposed, that George Farrar inhabited and cultivated on said land before and ever since the 3d of March, 1803, and was, on said 3d of March, more than twenty-one years of age.

Question to said witnesses. Do you, or either of you, know that the present claimant was the owner, or did ever claim said land, or the improvements, on or before the 3d day of March, 1803?

Answer by both witnesses. He did not.

Question. Do you know under what pretensions the present claimant occupied and possessed the land and improvements now in question on the 3d day of March, 1803?

Answer. We know only that he lived there and made a crop on this land in that year, as a cropper.

The said Dean further deposed, that, on the day that this land was surveyed, he heard Mrs. Bilbo say, that, as she could not take in said land in her claim, George Farrar, the present claimant, might purchase it himself from the United States.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Adjourned until Friday, the 27th instant.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Ephraim Kirby, Robert C. Nicholas.

HEIRS OF JAMES MCGREW: case commenced in page 627.

Adam Hollinger was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed that he had no interest in this case; that James McGrew deceased, did inhabit and improve the land in question many years ago, he believed as much as fourteen years, and continued there until the time of his death, which was after the year 1795; that his widow and family continued at the same place until after the Americans took possession of this country, in the year 1799; and that said James McGrew was the head of a family, and more than twenty-one years of age, on the 9th of February, 1788.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

CONSTANT MCGREW's case: commenced in page 671.

John Baker and Young Gains were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed that they had no interest in this claim; and the said Baker further testified, that the widow Constant McGrew, the present claimant, had been in the occupancy of the land in question many years; that she lived upon it with her husband before the year 1794, about which time she became a widow, and had continued to inhabit and improve the same ever since.

The said Gains deposed, that he did not certainly know that Mrs. Constant McGrew inhabited and cultivated within the limits of the survey then exhibited in the year 1797, but his belief was that she did inhabit and cultivate on the said land in that year; that James McGrew died in or about the year 1797, as well as the witness recollected; that James McGrew, at the time of his leaving this country, and for some short time before his death, inhabited and cultivated on the place represented by Mr. Ligon to have been divided by the lower line of said survey, some distance from the river; that, in or about the year 1788, James McGrew lived at the improvement where Mr. Gahey lived, and near to the river; that Mrs. M'Grew was, in the year 1797, more than twenty-one years of age.

Adam Hollinger and Robert Ligon were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Ligon deposed, that he did not make the plot exhibited, but had retraced the lines from the lower line on the river, until he was prevented from pursuing the upper line to its junction with the river by high water; that Mrs. McGrew told him, at that time, that a stump, a line tree, was a corner to the piazza of the house in which she lived, and that the principal part of the house, or all, except a corner of the piazza, was in the limits of the Spanish grant, and that she intended to support the Spanish grant, in virtue of her habitation in that house; that the upper line of this tract run five chains within the limits of Doctor Chastang's claim; that Mrs. McGrew told him, Ligon, that she was glad that the line had left a sufficiency of the improvement within the limits of the donation, to support it, or to support her rights; that he did not exactly remember the words, but that they were to that effect.

The said Hollinger deposed, that Mrs. McGrew was, in the year 1797, more than twenty-one years of age.—Vide his deposition, in the case of the heirs of James McGrew, recorded in preceding case.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Adjourned until Saturday, the 28th instant.

SATURDAY, April 28, 1804.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Ephraim Kirby, Robert C. Nicholas.

CLARK MCGREW's case, No. 173 on the docket of the Board, and No. 166 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of an act of Congress passed the 3d of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of the State of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of the Tombigbee river, lying and being in Washington county, beginning near Tawler creek, on a black gum, and running north, thirteen degrees west, seventy chains, to a hickory; thence, north, nine degrees east, thirty-two chains, to a hickory; thence, north fifty-five degrees east, ninety-four chains, to a water oak; thence, south, forty-six degrees east, twenty-nine chains, to a persimmon; thence, to the beginning; is claimed by Clark McGrew, under and by virtue of the second section of the above recited act, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, for the purpose of being recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as well as to the plot herewith filed.

CLARK MCGREW.

MARCH 29, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 20th March, 1804, by Robert Ligon.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 499, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited a deposition, as follows, to wit:

WASHINGTON COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY,
April 26, 1804.

This day came Thomas Ettridge before me, one of the Justices assigned to keep the peace for said county, and made oath that, previous to 1797, and of the date of 1797, he saw Clark McGrew's tract of land in a state of improvement, about six acres of land in cultivation; and that Clark McGrew's negro resided on the tract of land in the year 1797, and has always continued the possession until the present year. And further this deponent saith not.

THOMAS ETTRIDGE.

Given under my hand and seal. Sworn to before JOHN CALLIER, Justice of Peace.

John McGrew, Esquire, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that, in the year 1796, there was a small piece of land claimed within the limits of this survey, and that Clark McGrew has continued to make a small crop every year since that time on the same; that he never had himself resided on said land more than two or three nights at a time, having made his, the said John's, house his home: that Clark McGrew was, in the year 1797, more than twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOSEPH WESTMORELAND's case, No. 174 on the docket of the Board, and No. 111 on the books of the Register. Claim.—A right of pre-emption of one hundred and ninety-three acres and thirty-six poles, as legal representative of Lewis Crane, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress, passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the Tombigbee river, butted on the west side said river, bounded on the southwest by a line dividing him, the claimant, and Raleigh Green, lying altogether within the lines of Robert Farmar's survey, beginning on a sassafras, Raleigh Green's southwest corner, and runs with their dividing line south, seventy degrees west, sixty chains fifty links, to a poplar corner; thence, south, twenty degrees east, thirty chains, to a pine with two wahoos, pointers; thence, north, seventy degrees east, sixty-eight chains, to a stake on the river bank; thence, the meanders of the river, to the beginning; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing one hundred and ninety-three acres thirty-six poles: is claimed by Joseph Westmoreland, legal representative of Lewis Crane, under and by virtue of a settlement bearing date the 3d day of March, 1803, and now exhibited unto the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

JOSEPH WESTMORELAND.

FEBRUARY 27, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 27th February, 1804, by T. Malone. Chain carriers, Raleigh Green and Elisha Simmons.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 345, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited a deed of conveyance from Lewis Crane, bearing date the 28th of March, 1803, relinquishing and conveying to the said Westmoreland all the said Crane's right and claim to said tract of land.

John Baker and James Davis were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that, in the year 1802, Lewis Crane lived upon the land in question, and raised a crop, and had a small house; that, in the spring of the year 1803, he sold his possession and improvement to Joseph Westmoreland, who moved on, and Crane moved off, but could not say the precise time when the exchange took place; that Westmoreland raised a crop on the land the last year; that Lewis Crane was the head of a family, and twenty-one years of age, on the 3d of March, 1803.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct, and that it included the dwelling-house and improvements of the claimant; that this claim was wholly included within the claim of Robert Farmar, under a British grant; that he knew of no other.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SIMON ANDREY's case: commenced in page 624.

James Callier and Wilson Carman were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this case; that part of the dwelling-houses and other buildings of the claimant stand on the land in question, and also his garden; that he resided there on the 3d of March, 1803, and ever since, and on said day was more than twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN FLOOD MCGREW's case: commenced page 671.

Levin Hainsworth and William McGrew were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this case; the said Hainsworth further deposed, that, when he came to this country, in the last part of the year 1799, and was looking out for a farm or plantation, John Flood McGrew showed him the land in question as belonging to himself; that there had at that time some labor been done upon it, but no house erected, nor the appearance of any crop in that year; that, about the year 1801, he put a family on said land, and some stock; that he, the witness, believed that, at the time first mentioned, the claimant was more than twenty-one years of age.

The said William further deposed, that, in the year 1798, the claimant began to work on the land by him then claimed, and did some work on the same every year, until the year 1801, when he put a family on, which had remained there ever since, and had raised crops.

John McGrew, Esq. was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that John Flood McGrew was, in the year 1797, more than twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

LEVIN HAINSWORTH's case, No. 175 on the docket of the Board, and No. 18 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of three hundred and ninety-six acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated below Sintabogue, on Pine Barren creek, butting and bounded as follows, to wit: beginning on a corner hickory; thence, running south, eighty-two degrees west, eighty-two chains fifty links, to a corner sassafras; thence north, twelve degrees west, forty-eight chains, to a corner sweet gum; thence, north, eighty-two degrees east, eighty-two chains and fifty links, to a corner stake; thence, south, twelve degrees east, forty-eight chains, to the beginning; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing three hundred and ninety-six acres: is claimed by Levin Hainsworth, under and by virtue of occupancy; he, the said Hainsworth, having inhabited and cultivated the tract herein specified on the 3d day of March, 1803, agreeable to an act of Congress, entitled "An act," &c. and likewise the said claimant occupied the said tract from the year 1801, until this day.

LEVIN HAINSWORTH, his + mark.

Witness: JOSEPH CHAMBERS.

FEBRUARY, 21st, 1804.

Surveyed by me, Robert Ligon. Chain carriers, William McGrew and John McGrew.

Entered in record of claims, volume 1, page 50, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

William McGrew was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that the claimant built two small cabins on the land in question in the year 1801, and made other improvements; that the Indians being troublesome, as this land was above the former Indian line, he did not reside there steadily; that, on the 3d of March, 1803, his people were there at work, and he was, at that time, more than twenty-one years of age.—Vide surveyor's testimony in this case, in page 670.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

PRISCILLA MILES's case, No. 176 on the docket of the Board, and No. 154 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of four hundred and fifty-six acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of the Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the waters of House's Mill creek, Washington county, butted and bounded on all sides by vacant land, beginning on a hickory, and runs south seventy-two degrees east, twenty-five chains fifty links, to a large pine corner; thence, south, eighty-six degrees east, ninety chains, to a stake with three pines, pointers; thence, north, four degrees east, forty chains, to a pine corner; thence, south, eighty-six degrees west one hundred and fifteen chains, to a stake corner, with two pines, pointers; thence, to the beginning; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing four hundred and fifty-six acres and twelve poles: is claimed by Priscilla Miles, of Washington county, Mississippi territory, under and by virtue of the third section of the above recited act, and now exhibited unto the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which she begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 463, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The above named chain carriers were sworn before John Callier, Esquire, Justice of Peace.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; that it included the dwelling and the greater part of the claimant's improvements, and that he, Malone, knew of no interfering line or claim, and believed there was none; that, in September, 1802, he was at said place, and the present claimant then lived there, had a dwelling house, some cleared land, and appearance of cultivation, and had continued there ever since; that she was at that time a widowed lady, considerably advanced in years.

James Callier was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that he was not interested in this case; that Priscilla Miles, the present claimant, lived upon and cultivated the land in question on the 3d of March, 1803, before that time, and ever since, and at that time was more than twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN PICKERING's case: commenced in page 647.

William McGrew was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that he had no interest in this claim; that, before the 3d of March, 1803, John Pickering had two houses partly built upon the land in question, and some ground cleared; that he raised a crop of eight or ten acres the ensuing season, and moved his family on at the beginning of the fall.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

EDWARD CREIGHTON's case, No. 177 on the docket of the Board, and No. 159 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, as legal representative of Isram Beard, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed on the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims south of the Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated about one mile from Nanna Hubba bluff, beginning on a line of Howel Dupree's, running north, thirty-four degrees east, to a tupelo gum; thence, north fifty-six degrees east, five chains, to a tupelo gum; from thence, south, fifty-six degrees west ninety-one chains, to a whortleberry; from thence, south, thirty-four degrees east, seventy-two chains and fifty links; and from thence, north fifty-six degrees east, ninety-one chains, to the beginning, including within the said lines six hundred and forty acres of land; bounded on the east by Howel Dupree's donation claim, and on all the rest by vacant land or undefined claims: this land is claimed by Edward Creighton, of Washington county, Mississippi territory, under and in virtue of a settlement made by Isram Beard, on or before the month of August, 1797, by him transferred to Jacob Miller, and by said Miller to this reporter, in July 21st, 1802, now delivered to the Register of the Land Office, to be established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

EDWARD CREIGHTON.

MARCH 14, 1804.

Surveyed 14th March, 1804, by Robert Ligon. Chain carriers, John Hines and Howel Dupree.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 489, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited a deed of conveyance from Jacob Miller, bearing date 21st July, 1802, assigning and conveying to the said Creighton all the said Miller's right and claim to said land, and the improvements thereon.

Rachel Helverson was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that she had not any interest in this claim; that Isram Beard settled upon the land in question in the year 1798, by building a house, and raised a small crop the year following, that he did not live there more than two years before he parted with his possession to Jacob Miller, who took peaceable possession of the same; that, at the time of the settlement above mentioned, Isram Beard was the head of a family.—Vide surveyor's testimony in page 670.

Richard Barrow was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that, in the latter part of the year 1798, Isram Beard settled upon the land in question, and, in the year 1799, cultivated thereon; that Isram Beard was the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM MCGREW's case, No. 178 on the docket of the Board, and No. 17 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and thirty-eight acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to land south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the south side of Tombigbee river, on the branch of Toller creek, called Coffee-house creek, or William McGrew's creek, butting and bounding as follows, to wit: beginning at a corner pine on the south side of said creek, thence running north, sixty degrees east, seventy chains and fifty links, to a corner chesnut; thence, north, thirty degrees west, ninety chains fifty links, to a corner chinque-pine; thence, south, sixty degrees west, seventy chains fifty links, to a corner stake; thence, south, thirty degrees east, to the beginning; having such forms and marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing six hundred and thirty-eight acres: is claimed by William McGrew, under and by virtue of occupancy, the said William McGrew having inhabited and cultivated the tract herein specified on the day of the evacuation of the Spanish troops, agreeable to an act of Congress, entitled, "An act regulating the grants of land, and providing for the disposal of the lands of the United States south of the State of Tennessee." The said land was likewise occupied previous, and ever since, unto this day, by the said claimant, who was above twenty-one years of age at the time required by the act, and claims no other land in the territory; and it does not appear to be claimed by any other person, &c. &c.

WILLIAM MCGREW.

FEBRUARY 21, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 13th February, 1804, by Robert Ligon-Chain carriers, Levin Hainsworth and John McGrew.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 49, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

John McGrew, Senior, and Levin Hainsworth were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this case.

The said Hainsworth also testified, that when he came to this country, in the latter part of the year 1799, William McGrew, the present claimant, showed him the land in question as his plantation; that it had the appearance of having been cultivated several years; that there were the remains of an old house and a temporary shed, and four or five acres under cultivation, part of which appeared to have had a crop on it the preceding summer.

The said John McGrew, Senior, further deposed, that he did not see the improvements of his son, the present claimant, upon the land in question, until several years after it commenced; that his own house was the frontier house, the said claimant a single man, and lived in the family with him; that, in the year 1797, the claimant commenced said improvement, as he believed; that he used to go regularly off to work, with working people and tools; and he, the witness, always understood from the claimant; that it was at said place, and fully believed that it was: that he continued to improve in this manner annually, until he was married, about two years ago, when he moved there to live; that the claimant was born in the year 1776.—Vide surveyor's testimony, in page 670.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

RICHARD HAWKINS's case: commenced in page 692.

Joseph Bates and John Hawkins were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this case; and the said Joseph also deposed, that, in the fall of the year 1797, the present claimant entered upon the land in question, erected a house, and began to clear the lands; that, by himself or his son, he had continued to inhabit and cultivate the same until the then present time, and raised crops regularly; and that he was, in the year 1797, more than twenty-one years of age.

The said John further deposed, that, in January, 1798, he came into this country, and found his father Richard Hawkins, living upon the land in question, and that he had there lived and cultivated ever since, except about two years, when the claimant resided at Tensaw; and his improvements on the land in question were occupied by another person in his behalf.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN MCGREW, Junior, representative of Alexander McGrew: case commenced in page 668.

James McGrew and John McGrew, Esquires, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this case; and the said James also deposed, that he helped Alexander McGrew to build a house, and to plant a little corn on the land in question, as he, witness, believed, in the year 1798; that Alexander McGrew had done some labor on the land before that time, but that he did not inhabit the land, nor did any person live there in his behalf.

The said John deposed, that he knew that Alexander McGrew was, in the year 1797, more than twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JULIAN DE CASTRO's case, No. 179 on the docket of the Board, and No. 60 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that a certain tract of land, lying on the Tombigbee river, and containing six hundred and forty acres, bounded as follows: beginning at a whortleberry on said river, and running south, twenty-seven degrees west, to a stake corner; thence, south, sixty-four degrees east, to a hickory corner; thence, north, twenty-seven degrees east, to a stake on said river; thence, along the meanders of said river, to the place of beginning: is claimed by Julian de Castro, by virtue of a certificate setting forth the same, and which tract will more particularly appear from a plot and survey thereof herewith filed; he therefore prays that this claim may be recorded.

JULIAN DE CASTRO.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed, 16th of February, 1804, by T. Malone. Chain carriers, Thomas Barker, and — Pie.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 178, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

William McGrew was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that according to the best of his recollection, Julian de Castro, the present claimant, lived on the land in question in the year 1789; and about that time moved off to another place about three miles distant, where he resided about three years; and he then moved with his family out of the territory, and did not return until the year 1801.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; and that it included the dwelling house and improvements of the claimant; that this claim included the claim of Peter Malone altogether; also, some part of the claim of James Griffin; also, a part of John Baker's one thousand six hundred acres claim; that it also covered about half a mile front of the claim of Edward Lloyd Wailes, and of William Coleman; that it probably included about half the front of the claim of Doctor Chastang.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

EDWARD LLOYD WAILES's case, No. 180 on the docket of the Board, and No. 191 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of four hundred and eighty acres, as assignee and legal representative of John Baker, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the west side of Tombigbee river, near Fort St. Stephen's, in the county of Washington, beginning at Doctor John Chastang's upper line, on a small iron-wood, standing on the river bank, and runs with his line south, twenty-five degrees west, eighty chains, to a stake; thence, north, sixty-five degrees west, sixty chains, to a stake; thence north, twenty-five degrees east, eighty chains, to a stake; thence, with the meanders of the river to the beginning; containing four hundred and eighty acres, and hath such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by Edward Lloyd Wailes, assignee of John Baker, legal representative of John Berry, who purchased the said land at sheriff's sale, and has had the same in possession from the 5th of October, 1801, until the present time; and claims the right of purchasing the said land, under the third section of the said act, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

EDWARD LLOYD WAILES,
Representative of John Baker.

MARCH 30, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed by T. Malone.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 2, page 6, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for
JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited a deed from Elijah Powel, as deputy sheriff for said county, duly executed, acknowledged, and recorded, bearing date the 5th of October, 1801, conveying to the said John Baker the said tract of land; which deed was given in consequence of a writ of attachment against the lands and tenements of John Berry, in virtue of which writ, directed to the said Powel, by the county court in said county, to execute and return according to law, he sold at public auction, and deeded said land as above stated.

On the back of said deed is written as follows, to wit: I hereby assign all my right, title, interest, claim, and demand of the within deed, and all the right, title, interest, and claim of the land therein mentioned, to Edward Lloyd Wailes, his heirs and assigns, and I do warrant and defend the said land unto the said Edward Lloyd Wailes, against myself and my heirs only.

JOHN BAKER.

Witness, OTTO T. V. BARBERIE.

The claimant also produced three other instruments of writing, as follows, to wit:

I, Pleasant Rose, have received in possession, for John Baker, or his heirs, eight hundred acres of land, including a certain improvement made by John Berry, and adjoining Fort St. Stephen's, and sold by virtue of a writ of attachment, by the sheriff of Washington county, to the said Baker; the said eight hundred acres to be returned upon demand to the said Baker, except one lot, to include the house that the said Rose now lives in, which said house and lot the said Rose is to continue in for and during the term of two years, and pay unto the said Baker one dollar per annum; and for the true performance, the said Rose doth oblige himself to forfeit and pay to the said Baker, or his heirs, in case of refusal, the sum of fifty thousand dollars.

Given under my hand and seal, this 16th day of September, 1802.

PLEASANT ROSE.

Witness, WILLIAM BREWER.

I, John Baker, do hereby oblige myself and heirs to pay unto Pleasant Rose for all the improvements he shall make upon a lot rented him, where he now lives, for two years, after the expiration of the said term, the said improvements to be valued and paid in cotton, or country produce.

Given under my hand, this 16th day of September, 1802.

JOHN BAKER.

Witness, WILLIAM BREWER.

JUNE 20, 1803. Received of John Baker one hundred dollars in full satisfaction for improving and cultivating the aforesaid land.

PLEASANT ROSE.

EMANUEL CHINEY, his \times mark.

Joseph Westmoreland and James Davis were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had not any interest in this case; that Pleasant Rose did live on the land in question some short time before the 3d of March, 1803, and, as they understood, as a tenant to John Baker; but, whether he, or any other person, was there on said 3d of March they could not certainly say; that the improvements were two small cabins; that a small garden was made since the 3d of March, 1803.

Question by the claimant. Do you not know that John Murrel did live on another part of this land on the 3d of March, 1803?

Answer by both. John Murrel did live on a part of the land now claimed on the 3d of March, 1803, and raised a crop there the last year; that the place where Murrel lived was two or three hundred yards from the place first spoken of, where Rose lived.

Question to J. Westmoreland. Did you ever hear Pleasant Rose say that John Baker had settled with him, and paid him for the labor which he did on said land?

Answer. I heard Rose say that Baker had settled with him, and paid him for work which he had done for Baker, part of which I understood to be on this land.

Question. Was John Baker twenty-one years of age on the 3d of March, 1803?

Answer by both. He was.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the plot of the land in question from his minutes of an adjoining line which he had surveyed, and believed it to be correct; that it included the house and improvements where Pleasant Rose lived, and also the house and improvements where John Murrel lived; that, on the southeast corner, there was a small interference with the claim of James Griffin; that he, Malone, believed that the greater part of this survey was included in the lines of John Baker's one thousand six hundred acres claim; that the greater part, if not the whole, of Peter Malone's claim, was included in the lines of this, and also the greater part of the claim of William Coleman; that the east side of this also included about half a mile of the front of Julian de Castro's donation claim.

George Robbins and Thomas Ettridge were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Robbins deposed, that Pleasant Rose inhabited and built a house on the land in question in the year 1802; that John Baker told him that he had settled Pleasant Rose at said place, to sell spirits for account of Baker; that he believed that Rose continued on said land until the month of March, 1803, but could not say certainly that he did do so.

The said Ettridge deposed, that he knew that Pleasant Rose inhabited upon the land in question on the 3d of March, 1803; that he had a small garden of about thirty feet square, on which he, Ettridge, saw six or seven stalks of corn growing; that Rose told him that he had never received any thing for building the house.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Adjourned until Monday the 30th instant.

MONDAY, April 30, 1804.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Ephraim Kirby, Robert C. Nicholas.

JOHN CALLIER, representative of Adam Hollinger: case commenced in page 629.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, James Dean, and Nathan Blackwell, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Malone deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct, and that it included the dwelling house and improvements of the claimant; that he understood that a British claim, in the name of Hoggatt, was within this survey on the east or lower side.

The said Dean deposed, that he always understood and heard Wilford Hoggatt say that the place he lived on, and which John Callier now claims as his representative, was his own, and had heard said Wilford Hoggatt also say, that he had obtained a Spanish grant, in favor of his brother James Hoggatt, for eight hundred acres of land, next adjoining below the place he then lived on.

The said Blackwell deposed, that he was present when Leonard Marbury tendered the last payment for the consideration money of the purchase of the tract of land in question, at which time said Marbury presented a bond to him, Hoggatt, purporting as he, the witness, understood, to require that Wilford Hoggatt would indemnify him, Marbury, against all other claims; that Hoggatt flew into a passion, and refused to sign it, but he, witness, understood that, some short time afterwards, he did consent, received the payment, and did actually sign said bond; that Marbury, on quitting this country, made and authorized John Joyce to be his agent, and that he, Joyce, acted as such, without any person questioning his authority so to do, as well in conveying the land in question to Adam Hollinger, as in transferring other property belonging to the said Marbury; that Hollinger gave to Callier, in his, Black-well's, presence, at Mobile, the bill of sale of the same land, as he understood, from John Joyce, as agent to Leonard Marbury, to him, Hollinger, and that Callier appeared to be well satisfied therewith.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

FRANCIS STRINGER'S case: commenced in page 619.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made surveys and plots returned to the Board of Commissioners by the following claimants, to wit: Francis Stringer's donation, six hundred and forty acres; Thomas Malone's pre-emption, three hundred and thirty acres; John Dunn's pre-emption, three hundred and ninety-one acres; William Morgan's pre-emption, three hundred and nineteen acres; Peter Cartwright's pre-emption, one hundred and fifty-nine acres; and Priscilla Miles's pre-emption, four hundred and fifty-six acres; and that the said plots respectively contain true representations of the land therein described, according to the best of his knowledge and belief, and did include the plantations and improvements of the several claimants; that he knew of no interfering lines or claims.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM MURRELL'S case: commenced in page 643.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct, and that it included the dwelling house and improvements of the claimant; that the principal part of said survey on the north was included in the claim of Elisha Simmons; that a small corner on the south was included in the claim of James Huckaby.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

THOMAS MALONE'S case, No. 181 on the docket of the Board, and No. 186 on the books of the Register.

Claim—Of four hundred and eighty acres, as assignee and legal representative of John Arnot, by virtue of a Spanish warrant, or order of survey, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented her claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of the Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situate on the westside of Tombigbee, beginning on a sweet gum corner of Flood McGrew's claim, and runs with his line south, twenty-four degrees west, one hundred and twenty-four chains forty-nine links, to a stake corner; thence, north, sixty-six degrees east thirty-seven chains, and twenty links, to a corner stake; thence, north, twenty-four degrees east, one hundred and twenty-eight chains, forty-nine links, to a corner sweet gum on the bank of the river; thence, the meanders of the river, to the beginning first mentioned; having such marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed, containing four hundred and eighty acres of land: is claimed by Thomas Malone, representative of John Arnot, under and by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, bearing date the — day of — and now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as is directed by said act. All of which he begs leave to refer to, as also to the copy of the plot annexed, &c.

For THOS. MALONE,
EDWIN LEWIS.

MARCH 31, 1804.

Surveyed March, 1804, by T. Malone. Chain carriers, John Dean and George Brewer.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 547, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited a Spanish warrant of survey, in the following words and figures, to wit:

His Excellency DON ESTEVAN MIRO, Colonel of the Royal Army, Governor General of the city and province of Louisiana.

John Arnot, inhabitant in the jurisdiction of Mobile, with the greatest respect for your excellency, represents and says, that there is in the river Tombigbee a tract of forty acres of land, of which ten or twelve acres was formerly owned by a Doctor Dallas, situated on the east side by Benjamin James's land, and on the west side by the said land of the above mentioned Doctor Dallas, which was abandoned by him in the year 1779, and until this present has not been reclaimed by the proprietor, nor by any person by him empowered, (with an intention of what has been expressed, as also to the petitioner,) he, with a few head of cattle and hogs for his support, expects from your excellency's generosity the favor of granting him the above petition, with titles from the Secretary of Government, which correspond with the concession; for which favor from your excellency, he will be forever thankful.

JOHN ARNOT.

MOBILE, 26th June, 1787.

MOBILE, June 27, 1787.

Don Vincent Folch, captain in the fixed regiment of Louisiana, commandant civil and military of this district, certifies that the land which the petitioner solicits is vacant, from information taken for that purpose.

VINCENT FOLCH.

NEW ORLEANS, July 2, 1787.

The Commandant of the post of Mobile, shall establish the petitioner upon the twelve acres of land, with the profounder, as customary, of forty, at the place he solicits, being vacant, not causing prejudice, upon the precise condition of making the road and clearing regularly, in the space of one year; and if at the end of three years, the land is not settled, during which period it cannot be alienated, this grant to remain null; under which supposition, the business of settling the same is to be carried on in the tract, and remitted me to provide the interested party with titles in form.

ESTEVAN MIRO.

This is a copy of the original, which exists in the archives under my charge, remitted to me.

JOAQN. DE OSORNO. [L. s.]

John Baker and Doctor John Chastang were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Baker deposed, that he had compared this translation with the Spanish original or grant hereto attached; and that, to the best of his understanding, it was truly and correctly translated, as to names, dates, and quantity of acres.

The said Chastang deposed, that the foregoing is a true translation of the Spanish warrant or order of survey hereto annexed, according to the best of his knowledge and belief.

The claimant produced a deed of conveyance from John Arnot, bearing date the 18th day of December, 1794, duly executed, conveying to Tobias Reams all the said Arnot's right, claim, and title to the said tract of land, and the improvements thereon.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the said land, and believed it to be correct, and that it included the house and other improvements made under the original claimant, except about lengths of fence. That the claim of Cornelius McCurtin interfered with this, on the east side, about half way in front; thence, towards the southwest corner, so as to include something more than half of this tract; that he also understood that a claim of Young Gains ran diagonally across this, a little south of the house, so as to include the greater part of said survey on the south; and knew of no other interfering lines or claims with this.

John McGrew and John Baker were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this case; that John Arnot settled upon the land in question, in the year 1787, and continued to inhabit and cultivate thereon for some time; that John Arnot was, on the 2d July, in the year 1787, more than twenty-one years of age; and that they believed that said land had been inhabited and cultivated by him, or some person under him, ever since that time; that Arnot had told them that he had sold his right to one Tobias Reams, and that they knew that Reams entered into and enjoyed the peaceable possession thereof, under his purchase from Arnot.

John Callier and James Callier were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said John deposed, that he was authorized, by a letter from his brother Thomas Callier, to cancel the bargain or purchase of land, which he had made with Tobias Reams, for his, Thomas's use, and account, and which he, witness, accordingly did; and in pursuance of that power re-conveyed the land to Reams, in the manner endorsed on the Spanish writing.

The said James deposed, that he saw a letter; and had understood that Thomas Callier authorized John Callier to cancel the bargain or purchase of land, which he had made for his account with Tobias Reams, and that said John Callier did accordingly do so, by reconveying said land to said Tobias Reams, in the manner endorsed on said Spanish writing.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

THOMAS GOODWIN's case, No. 182 on the docket of the Board, and No. 97 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of two hundred and eighty-six acres, as legal representative of Daniel Kannada, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of the Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice that the following tract of land, situated on the waters of Bassett's creek, in the county of Washington, beginning at a hornbeam, and running north, forty degrees east, eleven chains, to a lake; forty chains, to a beech corner; thence, north, fifty degrees east, twenty chains, to a hickory; thence, south, forty degrees east, fifty-five chains to an elm corner; thence, south, forty chains, on Brewer's line, to a stake corner; south, sixty-seven degrees west, twenty-nine chains, to a red oak; thence, north, twenty-seven degrees west, forty chains, to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing two hundred and eighty-six acres: is claimed by Thomas Goodwin, legal representative of Daniel Kannada, in and by virtue of the third section of the said act, as a pre-emption, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

THOMAS GOODWIN,

Legal representative of Daniel Kannada.

MARCH 26, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Chain carriers, Ambrose Miles and Hezekiah Carter. Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 296, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited a deed from John Kannada, bearing date the 14th day of August, 1803, duly executed, conveying to Nathaniel Ross all the said Kannada's right, title, and claim to said tract of land, and the improvements thereon made. On the back of which deed is an assignment as follows, to wit:

MARCH 6, 1804.

I endorse all my right and title to Thomas Goodwin, of the within mentioned: as witness my hand and seal.

NATHANIEL ROSS.

Test, STEPHEN CLAY.

Benjamin Baldwin was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, he deposed that he had no interest in this case; that Daniel Kannada purchased the improvements upon the land in question, about the last of December, 1803, or beginning of January, 1803; and was in possession on the 3d of March, 1803; and raised a crop of about one hundred bushels of corn the following season, by the cultivation of a tenant, having about twelve acres under improvement; that there was no dwelling house upon the land, it being low land and generally subject to inundation every year. That Daniel Kannada was more than twenty-one years of age on the 3d of March, 1803.

William Gilliam, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey in question, and believed it to be correct; and that it included the cultivated field of the claimant: that he, Gilliam, knew of no interfering lines or claims.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN BAKER's case: commenced in page 640.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; and that it included part of the improvements of the claimant; that his dwelling house and other improvements were on adjoining land, claimed by him under another warrant; that the southwestwardly side of this tract interfered with the donation claim of John McGrew, Sen.; that it also interfered with the claims of Peter Malone, Julian de Castro, James Griffin, William Coleman, Doctor Chastang, and Edward Lloyd Wailes.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN BAKER's case: commenced in page 641.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; and that it included the dwelling house, and part of the improvements of the claimant; that, on the east side, it interfered with the claim of John McGrew, senior, but in what manner he could not say.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES MORGAN, representative of John Burney: case commenced in page 594.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct, and that it included the dwelling house and improvements of the claimant; that this was principally included in the donation claim of John McGrew, junior, representative of Alexander McGrew, on the northeast side, which was distinguished by a dotted line on the plot; that there might be a strip of something more than two hundred yards wide, which was not included.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

RANSOM HARWELL's case: commenced in page 642.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct, and that it included the dwelling house and improvements of the claimant; and that he believed that this survey was wholly included in the survey and claim of Elisha Simmons.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM ROGERS's case: commenced in page 597.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct, and that it included the dwelling house and improvements of the claimant; that, from the best of his information and belief, there was no interference with this claim.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES CALLIER, representative of Bryant and Snelgrove: case commenced in page 598.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct, and that it included the dwelling house and improvements made by Henry Snelgrove; that the claim in the name of the heirs of Jas. McGrew, under a Spanish warrant, intersects a small corner of this on the northeast; that the claim of Constant McGrew, for a donation, comprehends the whole front of this survey, and extends back within nineteen chains of the rear.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

RICHARD LEE, representative of Jordan Morgan: case commenced in page 602.

George Dickey, John Callier, and William Vardeman, were presented as witnesses, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this case. And the said Dickey testified, that he came to this country from South Carolina in the year 1799, and one of the first houses which he went to was Jordan Morgan's on the land in question; that it appeared to have been erected in the winter preceding; that he had, at the same time, a smith's shop erected, and the tools of his trade, and but small cultivation; that, some time after, Morgan went out of possession, and William Vardeman came in; that, at a subsequent period, Vardeman went out, and the place was afterwards improved by the tenants of Esquire Lee, the present claimant, and had been so continued to that time.

Question by the claimant. When you came to the house of Jordan Morgan, as you have mentioned, was he not married to Mr. Wheat's daughter, and had a child?

Answer. He was married, and had a child at that time.

The said Callier deposed, that he sold William Vardeman's claim to the land in question to Richard Lee, and paid to him, Vardeman, the consideration money, which he received, and confirmed his Callier's bargain and sale to Lee; that he, Callier, had always understood, and did believe, that Lee entered into the peaceable and quiet possession of said land, in virtue of said sale, and continued quietly to possess the same without opposition, until lately, as he understood, some person or persons had set up claim or claims to all or a part of said land.

The said Vardeman deposed, that, in May, 1799, he purchased and settled upon the land in question, and continued thereon until some time in the latter part of that year, or beginning of the year 1800, when he removed therefrom, and rented another place; that, some time afterwards, Colonel Callier, in his, Vardeman's, behalf, and for his account, sold his right or claim to the improvements and land to Richard Lee; which bargain and sale he, Vardeman, confirmed; that neither Jordan Morgan, nor any other person, set up claim to said land at that time, that he knew of, nor had they since, until very lately; that Jordan Morgan inhabited on said land at the time that he, Vardeman, purchased his claim and improvements.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM WILLIAMS'S case : commenced in page 651.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; that it included the dwelling house and improvements of the claimant; that from his knowledge of the natural marks referred to in the survey of Edward Young for a donation, and from an inspection of his plot returned to the Board, the whole of this claim was included within that survey.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

PETER MALONE, representative of John Woods: case commenced in page 639.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; that it included the dwelling house and improvements of the claimant.

George Harris and Siddie Harris were produced as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this case; that they knew that Peter Malone inhabited and cultivated on the land in question, before and since the 3d day of March, 1803, and that they believed that he actually did inhabit thereon on the said 3d day of March; and that Peter Malone was at that time the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

MICAJAH WALL'S case: commenced in page 602.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; that it included the dwelling house and improvements of the claimant; that this survey was wholly included in the claim of John McGrew, junior, as the representative of Alexander McGrew, and that he knew of no other interference.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

MATTHEW SHAW'S case: commenced in page 598.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; that it included the dwelling house and improvements of the claimant; and that he knew of no interference.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM COLEMAN, representative of Simon Favre: case commenced in page 654.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question; and believed it to be correct; that it included the improvements of the claimant, but not his dwelling house, which was several miles off from the land claimed; that this survey included the whole of Peter Malone's claim; that the east side of this comprehends the greater part of the claim of Edward Lloyd Wailes, and that John Baker's one thousand six hundred acres' survey runs from south to north diagonally across this, and included a great part of it; that the claim of Julian de Castro for a donation interfered nearly in the same manner as did said Wailes's claim.

Augustin Rochon was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that Simon Favre was an interpreter of the Choctaw language for the Spanish garrison at Fort Confederation, on the Tombigbee river, until that garrison was evacuated by the Spanish troops in the year 1796 or 1797; that said Favre was then attached to the garrison of Fort St. Stephen's, on the same river, as an interpreter, and continued in this service at said post until it was evacuated by the Spanish troops; that he then removed to New Orleans, and there acted as interpreter for the Spanish Government, in which service and capacity he still continued.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

ANN LAWRENCE'S case: commenced in page 656.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; that it included the dwelling house and improvements of the claimant; that this claim embraced almost the whole of the claim of Noah Kenner Hutson, except a little on the river at the northeast corner; that the south corner interfered with the claim of James Callier, under Anthony Hoggatt: and knew of no other interference.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES CALLIER, representative of Anthony Hoggatt: case commenced in page 617.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he carried the compass part of the way in making a survey of the land in question, and that Mr. Bilbo carried the compass the remaining part; and that, from his own minutes, and those of Mr. Bilbo, he made this plot, and believed it to be correct; that it included the dwelling and improvements of the claimant; that, from the best of his knowledge and information, the claim of William Vardeman, under a British grant to John Lott, covered the whole width of this claim on the front, but how far back he was not able to say.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

GEORGE BREWER, JUNIOR'S, case: commenced in page 661.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; that it included the dwelling house and improvements of the claimant; that the claim of Young Gains, under a Spanish warrant, included more than half the front of this, and running diagonally, intersected the west line of this survey, about half way back from the river, so that it embraced the northwest corner; that he had understood that a British grant, in the name of Abrahams, interfered with some part of this, but in what manner he did not know.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

BENJAMIN KING'S case, No. 183 on the docket of the Board, and No. 194 on the books of the Register.

Claim—Of three hundred and fifty acres, by virtue of a deed of conveyance from William Jackson to Israel Folsome, pre-supposing a British grant to said Jackson, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of the Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the waters of the Tombigbee, in the county of Washington, beginning at Stewart's old line; south, twenty-five degrees west, one hundred and ten chains, to a red oak corner; thence, south, sixty-five degrees east, thirty-one chains, sixty links, to a stake; thence, north, twenty-five degrees east, one hundred and fifteen chains fifty links, to the river; and thence, with the river, to the beginning; containing three hundred and fifty acres: is claimed by Benjamin King, legal representative of Israel Foalsome, and now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office to be established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

BENJAMIN KING,
Representative of Israel Foalsome.

Surveyed 24th February, 1804. Chain carriers, Peter Nelms and Benjamin King.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 2, page 15, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for
JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant produced deeds of lease and release from William Jackson, bearing date the 3d and 4th days of March, 1780, duly executed, conveying to Israel Foalsome all the said Jackson's right, title, and interest in or to said tract of land.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN DENLEY's case, No. 184 on the docket of the Board, and No. 143 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of six hundred and forty acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, viz.:

To the Commissioners appointed for adjusting claims and rights of land south of the Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the above survey is claimed by John Denley, as a pre-emption, lying and situated about two miles below the Sunflower, beginning on a red elm on the west side of Tombigbee, running west, until hindered by water; thence, returning to the beginning; thence, meandering the river down, until it intersects with George Dickey; thence, west, till hindered by water; claiming by the said pre-emption six hundred and forty acres, binding on the south by George Dickey, and on all other sides by vacant land or undefined claims.

JOHN DENLEY.

MARCH 28, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 23d March, 1804, by Robert Ligon. Chain carriers, Hiram Mounger and James Donley.

Entered in record of claims, vol. 1, page 470, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for
JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

George Dickey was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that he had no interest in this claim; that the present claimant began to work on said land in the year 1801; that, in the year 1803, he raised a crop of about five acres of corn and pumpkins on it; that he was, on the 3d of March, 1803, twenty-one years of age; but being an unmarried man, lived in the family with his father, and had no dwelling house or other houses on said land.—Vide surveyor's testimony, in page 670.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

NATHANIEL ROSS's case, No. 185 on the docket of the Board, and No. 89 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of one hundred and sixty-four acres and thirty-six poles, as representative of Henry Slaughter, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to land south of the Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the waters of Bassett's creek, in the county of Washington, beginning at a red oak on Isaac Ryan's line; running, thence, north, twenty degrees east, fifteen chains, to a water oak; thence, north, sixty-five degrees east, thirty-three chains, to a gum; thence, north, thirty degrees west, thirty-five chains, to a red oak; thence, south, fifty-two degrees west, thirty-five chains, to a red oak; thence, south, sixteen degrees west, thirty chains, to a red oak sapling; thence, south, sixty-three degrees east, twenty-one chains fifty links, to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing one hundred and sixty-four acres and thirty-six poles, is claimed by Nathaniel Ross, representative of Henry Slaughter, in and by virtue of the said act, as a pre-emption, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The above named chain carriers were sworn before William H. Hargrave, Esq., Justice of the Peace.

Benjamin Baldwin was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that he had no interest in this claim; that Daniel Kannada purchased the improvements on said land, together with the improvement in the swamp, now claimed by Thomas Goodwin of Henry Slaughter; and he understood that Daniel Kannada sold the whole to his brother, John Kannada, who sold the same to Nathaniel Ross; that said Ross sold the swamp part to Thomas Goodwin, as he, witness, had heard, and retained the upland, which is now in question; that on this part there was a cabin, but there was no cultivation in the year 1803, nor was it inhabited by any body on the 3d of March in that year, nor until the close of the year; Thomas Goodwin resided there a short time; that Nathaniel Ross, Daniel Kannada, and John Kannada, were each of them twenty one years of age on the 3d of March, 1803.

William Gilliam, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; that it included the dwelling house and improvements of the claimant; that he had not heard of any interfering lines or claims.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Adjourned until Tuesday, the 1st of May next.

WILLIAM H. HARGRAVE's case: commenced in page 661.

William Gilliam, surveyor, was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot in question, and believed it to be correct; that it included a small improvement of the claimant; that he knew of no interfering lines or claims.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

THOMAS SULLIVANT's case: commenced in page 658.

William Gilliam, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the plot of the land in question, from a survey which he had previously made, and believed it to be correct; that it included the dwelling-house and improvements of the claimant; that he knew of no interfering lines.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM GILLIAM, representative of John Clark: case commenced in page 649.

William Gilliam, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot of the land in question, and believed it to be correct; that it contained the dwelling-house and improvements of the claimant; that he knew of no interfering claim.

SETH DEAN, representative of Charles Walker: case commenced in page 686.

Thomas Bassett was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that more than twenty years ago, he saw negroes belonging to Charles Walker clearing ground on the west side of Tombigbee river, opposite the cut-off, just below the mouth of the creek, as well as he recollected; that he believed neither Charles Walker nor his legal representative or representatives, resided within the Mississippi territory on the 27th day of October, 1795; that he had understood that Joel Walker, nephew to Charles Walker, inherited the whole of the estate of his uncle, Charles Walker, deceased.

William Coleman was presented as a witness, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that he had no interest in this claim.

Question. Do you know the widow of Joel Walker, nephew of Charles Walker?

Answer. I did know her, and her name was Mary, to the best of my recollection; she had a child, and I have heard that it was dead. I have heard from the brothers of Joel Walker, William and David Walker, that this child was dead; and I believe that this child died between the years 1798 and 1801.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

FRANCIS COLEMAN, representative of Charles Walker: case commenced in page 683.

John McGrew, Sen., was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that he had no interest in this case; that he knew that Charles Walker settled upon the land in question in or about the year 1778, built a house and made two or three crops on said land; that he believed that Walker died in the year 1780; that neither Charles Walker, nor his representative or representatives, resided within the Mississippi territory on the 27th day of October, 1795; that he thought Walker had cleared, and under cultivation, within the limits of said land, about forty acres.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Adjourned until Monday, the 7th instant.

MONDAY, May 7, 1804.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Ephraim Kirby, Robert C. Nicholas, Joseph Chambers.

JAMES CALLIER and JOSEPH CAMPBELL, executors of Maria Josephia Narbone, deceased: case commenced in page 635.

The following deposition, taken pursuant to an order of the Board, recorded in page 699, was exhibited, to wit:

Question. Have you any interest, direct or indirect, in the establishment of this claim?

Answer. I have no interest, direct or indirect.

Question. How long have the lands now claimed been in the occupancy and possession of the present claimants, and those under whom they hold?

Answer. About forty-five years.

Question. Have these persons held an uninterrupted possession, holding out all others therefrom, and no other person claiming any right thereto?

Answer. They have held an uninterrupted possession of the lands now claimed, holding out all others therefrom, and no person or persons have made any claim thereto.

Question. When did Anthony Narbone, the husband of Maria Josephia Narbone, die?

Answer. About ten years since.

Question. Did he die in possession of the premises?

Answer. He died in possession of the premises, and on the lands now claimed.

Question. Did Maria Josephia Narbone, his widow, continue to inhabit and possess the same until her death, and at what-time did she die?

Answer. Maria Josephia Narbone, the widow of Anthony Narbone, deceased, did continue to inhabit and possess the said land until her death; and that she died about eighteen months ago, on the said premises.

Question. Have the premises been inhabited and cultivated by the heirs of Maria Josephia Narbone since her death, and, if so, by which of them?

Answer. The premises have been inhabited and cultivated by one of the heirs of said deceased, viz.: Isabella Campbell.

Question. What kind of cultivation has been made on the land in question, from your first knowledge of the place, until the present time?

Answer. Corn, pease, potatoes, rice, and sometimes tar.

SIMON ANDRY.

Personally appeared before me, James Farr, Esquire, one of the Justices of the Peace for the county of Washington, in the Mississippi territory, Simon Andry, and, being duly sworn to make true and correct answers to such questions as should be proposed to him, did, on oath, make the answers to the abovementioned questions, as above stated.

Sworn before me, this 27th day of April, 1804.

JAMES FARR, J. P.

John Chastang and Augustin Rochon were presented as witnesses, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this case.

The said Chastang further deposed, that, when he first came into this country, which was in the year 1765, Mr. Anthony Narbone, now deceased, was settled upon the land in question, and, from appearance, and as he then understood, had been settled there many years before; that he continued to live there until the time of his death, which happened about the year 1794; and that Maria Josephia Narbone, his widow, lived there until she died, about eighteen months since; and that one of her heirs, to wit, Isabella Campbell, had resided there ever since.

The said Rochon also deposed, that, as long ago as he could remember, to wit, about the year 1781, Anthony Narbone lived on the land in question; that, for a time, the Indians became so troublesome, that Mr. Narbone was compelled to quit his plantation, and remove into Mobile; but as soon as the danger was over, [he returned to it,] and lived there until he died; that his widow lived there until she died, and, since her death, her daughter Isabella, the present wife of Joseph Campbell, had resided at the same place.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN CHASTANG'S case: commenced in page 614.

The following notice, plot, and testimony, were produced by the claimant, as a part of said case, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of an act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to land south of the Tennessee river and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land lying east of Mobile river, butting and bounding on the north by lands claimed by Peter Juzant, on the south by lands claimed by Baptist Trenner, on the west by said river and on the other side by vacant land: is claimed by John Chastang, under and by virtue of a Spanish grant or order of survey, granted to the said John Chastang, as may appear by the original grant now delivered to the Register of the Land Office to be established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act.

To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

CHASTANG, JEUNE.

[Plot omitted.]

FORT STODDERT.

Surveyed 29th February, 1804, by James Gordon. Chain bearers, Joseph Campbell and Gabriel Tisrah.

The deposition of Simon Andry, taken pursuant to an order of the Board, was exhibited, as follows, to wit:

Question. Are you, directly or indirectly, interested in the establishment of the claim in question?

Answer. I am not interested, directly or indirectly, in the claim.

Question. Did Doctor John Chastang, the present claimant, inhabit and cultivate the land now by him claimed on the 22d of October, in the year 1795; and, if so, what kind of cultivation?

Answer. Doctor John Chastang did inhabit and cultivate the land in question on the 22d of October, 1795, on both sides of the river, and that he has so continued to inhabit and cultivate the said lands to the present time, and that he made corn, pease, rice, and potatoes thereon.

Question. Was Doctor Chastang the head of a family, or twenty-one years of age, on the 18th of January, 1785? Answer. He was the head of a family, and twenty-one years of age, at that time.

SIMON ANDRY.

Personally appeared before me, James Callier, Esquire, one of the Justices of the Peace for the county of Washington, in the Mississippi territory, Simon Andry, and, being duly sworn to make true and correct answers to such questions as should be proposed to him, did, on oath, make the answers to the above mentioned questions, as above stated. Sworn before me, the 27th day of April, 1804.

JAMES CALLIER, J. P.

Augustin Rochon was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that Doctor Chastang established himself on the land in question in the year 1795, by building upon the same, and putting a number of his negroes there; that, some time after, probably in the year following, he removed from his upper plantations, near Fort St. Stephen's, to this place, where he had resided ever since.

Simon Andry was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that, at the time Doctor Chastang petitioned for the land whereon he now lives, the old fields on the opposite side of the river extended the whole length of his concession on the west side, commencing on the east, or opposite side of that channel of the river from that whereon said Chastang resides, and running up the bank of the said channel of the river, until nearly opposite the mouth of Cedar or Cambey creek, and, in extent from the river, in and about three acres.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

HEIRS OF AUGUSTIN ROCHON, deceased, two cases: one commenced in page 681, and the other in page 682.

The deposition of Simon Andry, taken pursuant to an order of the Board, was exhibited, as follows, to wit: Question. Are you, directly or indirectly, interested in the claim in question?

Answer. I am not interested directly or indirectly.

Question. Did you know Augustin Rochon, deceased, and at what time did he die?

Answer. I did know Augustin Rochon, deceased, before his death, and he died about the year 1780.

Question. Did he, at any time before his death, reside within this territory, and cultivate any of the lands which are now claimed by his heirs or executors?

Answer. Augustin Rochon, deceased, did reside in this territory before his death, and cultivate the lands now claimed by his executors or heirs.

Question. Do you know whether his widow or either of his heirs resided within the Mississippi territory throughout the year 1795, and whether either of them cultivated any of the lands of said deceased within said territory?

Answer. The son of Augustin Rochon, deceased, did live on and cultivate the lands of the said deceased throughout the year 1795.

Question. What kind of cultivation did he make?

Answer. Corn, pease, potatoes, and rice in the summer; in the winter he made tar.

SIMON ANDRY.

Personally appeared before me, James Callier, Esquire, one of the Justices of the Peace for the county of Washington, in the Mississippi territory, Simon Andry, and, being duly sworn to make true and correct answers to such questions as should be proposed to him, did, on oath, make the answers to the above mentioned questions, as above stated. Sworn before me, this 27th day of April, 1804.

JAMES CALLIER, J. P.

Doctor John Chastang was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that, before the death of Augustin Rochon, deceased, he saw his laboring people working upon and cultivating the lands now claimed by his heirs; that he could not say from positive knowledge that Augustin, the son of the deceased, continued to do the same after the death of his father, but that he knew that his people were here in the year 1795; and believed that he resided here also during a part of said year.

ROBERT SORREL, Senior's case: commenced in page 643.

Thomas Bassett was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that he had no interest in this claim; that Robert Sorrel, Sen., was living on the land in question, had land cleared and corn growing last spring was a year since; and, from the quantity of labor that appeared to have been done, he must have lived there previous to the 3d day of March, 1803; and was, at that time, more than forty years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES FRAZIER's case: commenced in page 623.

John McGrew was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that James Frazier settled and commenced to improve upon the land in question, in the fall of the year 1788 or 1789, and made four or five crops thereon, and then removed to Natchez, and from thence to Chickasaw nation, where he had resided ever since; that when Frazier quitted said land he told him to take care of the same for him; that he, McGrew, put on a man by the name of Stilly, who made a crop thereon in the year 1795; and that James Frazier was, on the 31st of July, 1787, more than twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES FARR's case: commenced in page 688.

Daniel Johnson was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that he was not interested in this claim; that, in the year 1795, the land in question was settled upon and cultivated by Cornelius Rain, as well as he, Johnson recollected; that he had understood that James Farr cultivated and inhabited said land, in the year 1797, in the employment of Cornelius Rain.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

EDWIN LEWIS's case, as representative of William Green: commenced in page 648.

John McGrew, Esquire, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that he had no interest in this case; that William Green settled, built houses, and improved upon the land in question, about two years last past, and continued thereon until last fall; and was, on the 3d of March, 1803, more than twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

EDWIN LEWIS's case: commenced in page 648.

John McGrew, Esquire, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that Edwin Lewis settled upon the land in question before the 3d of March, 1803, built houses, and cultivated last summer one or two acres of land; that he had resided thereon before and ever since the 3d of March last; and was, he, McGrew, thought, more than twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

HEIRS OF JOHN McINTOSH: case commenced in page 676.

John McGrew, Esquire, and Thomas Bassett were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this claim. And the said McGrew deposed, that John McIntosh had land cleared, and negroes working on said land, in the year 1780 or 1781; and that it was said that the land was cultivated, at that time, for the account of John McIntosh.

The said Bassett deposed, that he knew that said land was inhabited and cultivated, at the time that the British held this country, by his, McIntosh's, negroes and overseer.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOSHUA HOWARD, representative of Arthur Moore and wife: case commenced in page 663.

John McGrew, Esquire, and Thomas Bassett were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that they knew that Arthur Moore inhabited and cultivated on the land in question, when the British held possession of this country. And the said McGrew also deposed, that said Moore conveyed said land to Joshua Howard; that he had understood, and did believe, that said Howard did reside within the Mississippi territory on the 27th day of October, 1795.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES HOGGATT's case, as representative of William Wall and wife: commenced in page 685.

John McGrew, Esquire, and Thomas Bassett were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said McGrew deposed, that James Hoggatt lived at or near the land, near to where Colonel Callier now lives, in the year 1780; that Hoggatt had a plantation and barn on the said place; that he, McGrew, understood from William Wall and James Hoggatt, that the land thus inhabited and cultivated by James Hoggatt, in the year 1780, was the same which Hoggatt purchased from said Wall; that he did not know whether or not James Hoggatt, or his legal representative, resided within the Mississippi territory on the 27th day of October, 1795; that he knew that Wilford Hoggatt resided one year at or near the same place, in the low grounds where James Hoggatt lived, and afterwards removed from the low grounds, or swamp, to the pure lands, some distance from the river; that Marbury entered upon this land after Wilford Hoggatt quitted it; that, after Marbury quitted the possession Adam Hollinger entered thereon; that Wilford Hoggatt first came to this country after the conquest of it by the Spaniards, which was before the year 1795, at which time, he said he had come to get his and his brother's land; that Wilford Hoggatt removed from this country to the Mississippi river, near to the town of Natchez, where he had resided ever since, as the witness believed.

The said Bassett deposed, that he knew that James Hoggatt lived, in the year 1789, or before that time, in or about the same place, on the river Tombigbee, where Colonel Callier now lives; that he asked Wilford Hoggatt, as well as he, Bassett, recollected, some time in the year 1791, why he settled upon the land claimed by his brother, James Hoggatt, and whereon he had formerly lived; he said that his own place, or land, was entirely wood land, and as the place of his brother had considerable quantity of land that had been formerly cleared, it was much easier to clear up again; and that when his brother James Hoggatt came to this country, if he came at all, he might clear him, Wilford Hoggatt, as much land, and he would give him up his land again; that he, Bassett, believed that Wilford Hoggatt resided within the Mississippi territory on the 27th of October, 1795.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

HEIRS OF ROBERT FARMER, deceased, two cases: commenced in pages 673 and 674.

John McGrew, Esq. was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that, soon after the Americans took possession of this country, Colonel John McKee came to his house, and requested him to get some persons to settle upon Major Robert Farmer's land, and said that he would pay for whatever labor they might do; that he, McGrew, accordingly agreed with Elijah Simmons and William Rogers to settle upon the lower tract, for account of the representatives of Farmer; that he had since understood that their settlements were made without the limits of Farmer's claim, which happened from his, McGrew's not being well acquainted with the lines of Farmer's land; that McKee gave him, McGrew, the plot of the said lower tract only.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Adjourned until Thursday, the 17th instant.

THURSDAY, May 17, 1804.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Ephraim Kirby, Robert C. Nicholas, Joseph Chambers.

JAMES SCOTT's case, representative of Gabriel Burrows: commenced in page 608.

John Smith was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that he had no interest in this claim; that Gabriel Burrows moved, built, and cleared ground, on the place in question, in the year 1797, and in that year cultivated about one acre in corn, and planted peach trees; that Burrows resided and cultivated on said land; one or two years after that, sold it to James Scott, the present claimant, who had resided on the same ever since Burrows quitted it; and that he, Smith, always understood that Burrows had sold his claim to Scott; that, in the year 1797, Gabriel Burrows had a wife and family of three children.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

ELIHU HALL BAY's three cases, in two of which he claims, as representative of William Fradgley, the other, as representative of John Sutherland, the two first cases commenced in pages 677-678, the other case in page 679. In each of these cases the Board adjudged as follows, to wit:

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported agreeably to the articles of agreement and cession between the United States and the State of Georgia, and the said claimant is not confirmed in his title to said land.

HEIRS OF JOHN MCINTOSH, deceased: case commenced in page 676.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported agreeably to the articles of agreement and cession between the United States and the State of Georgia, and the said claimants are not confirmed in their title to said land.

JAMES HOGGATT, representative of William Wall and wife: case commenced in page 685.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported agreeably to the articles of agreement and cession between the United States and the State of Georgia, and the said claimant is not confirmed in his title to said land.

HEIRS OF ROBERT FARMER, deceased; two cases, commenced, one in page 673, the other in page 674; in each of which cases the Board adjudged as follows, to wit:

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported agreeably to the articles of agreement and cession between the United States and the State of Georgia, and the said claimants are not confirmed in their title to said land.

BENJAMIN KING, representative of Israel Foalsome: case commenced in page 705.

Claim.—Three hundred and fifty acres, founded on a deed of conveyance from William Jackson to Israel Foalsome, presupposing a British grant to said Jackson; but no such grant being produced, or proved ever to have existed, the Board, on due consideration, is of opinion that this claim is not supported, and the claimant is not confirmed in his claim to said land.

HEIRS OF AUGUSTIN ROCHON, deceased; two cases, commenced, one in page 681, the other in page 682; in each of which cases the Board adjudged as follows, to wit:

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is supported agreeably to the articles of agreement and cession between the United States and the State of Georgia, and the said claimants are confirmed in their title to said land.

SETH DEAN, representative of Francis Juzant: case commenced in page 687.

Claim.—One thousand acres, by virtue of a deed of conveyance from Francis Juzant, pretending to be the son and heir of Peter Juzant, deceased: this claim is founded on a supposed British grant to the said Peter Juzant; but no such grant being produced, nor any evidence that it ever existed, the Board, on due consideration, is of opinion that this claim is not supported, and the claimant is not confirmed in his claim to said land.

SETH DEAN, representative of John Dawson: case commenced in page 687.

On careful inspection of the paper produced, as the original patent or grant, in support of this claim, the same being mutilated, illegible, and altogether unintelligible; on due consideration, the Board is of opinion that the said paper, claimed to be the original patent, or grant, is destitute of the parts essential to its validity, and, therefore, the said claimant is not confirmed in his claim to said land.

SETH DEAN, representative of Charles Walker: case commenced in page 686.

On due consideration, and careful inspection of the original patent or grant produced in support of this claim, the Board is of opinion that the said patent or grant is not legally and fully executed, and, therefore, the said claimant is not confirmed in his title to said land.

FRANCIS COLEMAN's two cases, commenced, one in page 683, as representative of Charles Walker, the other case in page 684, as representative of Abraham Little; in each of which cases the Board adjudged as follows, to wit:

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported agreeably to the articles of agreement and cession between the United States and the State of Georgia, and the said claimant is not confirmed in his title to said land.

ALEXANDER McCULLAGH, representative of Alexander McCullagh, deceased: case commenced in page 672.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported agreeably to the articles of agreement and cession between the United States and the State of Georgia, and the said claimant is not confirmed in his title to said land.

WILLIAM VARDEMAN, representative of John Lott, Jun.: case commenced in page 675.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported agreeably to the articles of agreement and cession between the United States and the State of Georgia, and the said claimant is not confirmed in his title to said land.

ROBERT ABRAHAM's case: commenced in page 685.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and the said claimant is not confirmed in his claim to said land.

JOSHUA HOWARD, representative of Arthur Moore and wife: case commenced in page 663.

Claim.—Two hundred and fifty acres, founded on deeds of conveyance from Arthur Moore, and Mary Moore his wife, pre-supposing a British grant to said Arthur Moore, of the lands claimed; but no such grant being produced, nor any evidence that it ever existed, the Board, on due consideration, is of opinion that this claim is not supported, and the claimant is not confirmed in his title or claim to said land.

THOMAS BASSETT, son and heir of Thomas Bassett, deceased: case commenced in page 612.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that the existence and subsequent loss of the said grant from the British Government of West Florida to said Thomas Bassett, deceased, is proved, and that this claim is supported agreeably to the requirements of law; and the Board doth confirm to the lawful heirs of the said Thomas Bassett, deceased, their title to the said land, to be located as follows, to wit:

Beginning on the west side of the Tombigbee river, on the margin thereof, at a cotton tree; thence, north, sixty-seven degrees west, with the line of the old British survey, seventy-nine chains fifty links; thence, south, twenty-three degrees west, eighty-three chains sixteen links; thence, south, sixty-seven degrees east, two hundred and twenty-three chains, to the margin of Tombigbee river; thence, up the same, with the meanders thereof, to the place of beginning.

THOMAS BASSETT, administrator of Nathaniel Bassett, deceased: case commenced in page 609.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that the existence and subsequent loss of the said grant from the British Government of West Florida to said Thomas Bassett, deceased, is proved, and that this claim is supported agreeably to the requirements of law; and the Board doth confirm to the lawful heirs of the said Thomas Bassett, deceased, their title to said land, to be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning on the west margin of the Tombigbee river, about three quarters of a mile above McIntosh's bluff, at a sassafras, being the corner of the old British survey, and also the corner of lands granted by the British Government to Alexander McCullagh; thence, north, eighty-seven degrees west, one hundred and twenty-five chains seventy-five links, in the said old line; thence, south, three degrees west, fifty-nine chains, twenty-eight links, in said old line; thence, south, eighty-seven degrees east, ninety-two chains, in said old line, to the river; and thence up the margin of the same to the place of beginning.

JAMES CALLIER and JOSEPH CAMPBELL, executors of Maria Josephia Narbone, deceased: case commenced in page 635.

On full investigation of the circumstances attending this case, and on due consideration thereof, the Board is of opinion that the long uninterrupted possession of such part of the lands now claimed as is hereafter described, under several successive Governments, affords as high evidence of a complete and perfect title as a grant from either of said Governments fully executed. Although this claim is not brought within the literal provisions of the act of Congress of the 3d of March, 1803, the Board is of opinion that it is well supported within the spirit and intent of said act; and doth, thereupon, confirm to the lawful heirs or legatees of the said Maria Josephia Narbone, deceased, title to the following tracts of land, to wit:

Beginning on the west margin of the west branch of the Tombigbee, or Mobile river, ten chains above the present dwelling house of Joseph Campbell; thence, down the margin of said river sixty-three chains twenty-five links; thence, due south, seven chains fifty links; thence, up the course of said river, sixty-three chains, twenty-five links, keeping, in all places, seven chains and fifty links therefrom; thence, due north, to the place of beginning; also, beginning on the east side of the west channel of said river, opposite the place of beginning before mentioned; and thence, running from the east margin of said west channel due north, seven chains fifty links; thence, down the course of the said margin, sixty-three chains twenty-five links, keeping, in all places, seven chains fifty links therefrom; thence, due south, to the margin of said channel, and up the same to the place of beginning; containing forty acres of land on each side of said west channel of said river. And the Board doth order, that a certificate be granted to them accordingly.

Adjourned until Friday the 25th instant.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN B. TRENNIER's case, No. 186 on the docket of the Board, and No. 192 on the books of the Register.

Claim—Of nine hundred and ninety-nine acres and nine-tenths of an acre, by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the east side of the west channel of the Mobile river, in the county of Washington, beginning at John Chastang's corner, running thence, east, one hundred and fifteen chains fifty-six links, to a stake; thence, south, nine degrees west, seventy-nine chains; thence, west, one hundred and fifteen chains fifty-six links to a red oak, on the bank of the said river; thence up the meanders of the river to the beginning; containing nine hundred and ninety-nine acres and nine-tenths of an acre, having such shape, form, and marks as are represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by Nicholas Weeks, attorney, for said John Baptist Trennier, in and by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey; and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

NICHOLAS WEEKS,
Attorney for John B. Trennier.

March, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 3d March, 1804, by James Gordon. Chain bearers, James Callier, Hartwell Hardaway.

MOBILE, September 20, 1793.

His Excellency the Governor and Intendant General:

John Baptist Trennier, for him, and in his name, as lawful attorney for him, Simon Andrey, both inhabitants of this place, with the greatest respect represents, and lays before your excellency, and says, that there is a tract of land vacant, situate on the east side of Tombigbee river, containing twenty-five acres front, bounded on the north side by a creek called Hardrick, and on the south side by land the property of the petitioner; and as there never appeared any proprietor until now, he begs your excellency to grant him the above tract of land, it being vacant; and he being necessitated for such a tract of land, after his retire from the service as interpreter at Natchez, and that he may have some place of his own to retire to, and having slaves in number sufficient to cultivate the same, he begs your excellency to grant him the above petition, with papers of titles necessary which may correspond with the grant, for which favor he will be forever thankful.

SIMON ANDRY.

MOBILE, October 11, 1793.

His Excellency the Governor and Intendant General:

The person who petitions, in the name of John Baptist Trennier, is duly authorized and empowered as his lawful attorney, who has charge of all his property ever since he was named interpreter for the Walnut Hills. I next was informed, by some of the oldest inhabitants, that the land the above petitioner solicits is vacant, and that he has slaves sufficient to cultivate the same. Your excellency may dispose as it may seem best.

MANUEL DE LANZOS.

NEW ORLEANS, October 14, 1793.

The surveyor general, or any individual named by him for that business, shall establish that part of twenty-five acres front which the petitioner solicits, with forty in the profounder back as customary, not causing prejudice to neighbors, with the precise conditions of making the road, and clearing regularly in the peremptory space of one year; and if at the precise space of three years the land is not settled, during which period it cannot be alienated, this grant to remain null, under which supposition the business of settling the limits will be carried on in the tract, and remitted me, to provide the interested party with titles in form.

THE BARON DE CARONDELET.

Don Pedro Olivier, Captain in the Louisiana regiment of infantry, and commandant, civil and military, of Mobile and its jurisdiction, certifieth, that the above concession of land is copied here exact from the original in these archives under my charge, for which I sign these presents, at Mobile, this thirty-first day of October, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-five.

PEDRO OLIVIER.

The above was compared exact with the original, by me.

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Simon Andrey was presented as a witness, and, being sworn, deposed, that he was agent for John Baptist Trennier, and did, with his negroes, cultivate the land in question, on the 27th day of October, 1795; that said Trennier did at that time reside at, or near, the town of Natchez, and within the Mississippi territory, and that he was, in the month of October, 1793, more than twenty-five years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SIMON ANDREY'S case, No. 187 on the docket of the Board, and No. 193 on the books of the Register.

Claim—Of forty-nine acres and nine-tenths of an acre, by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of an act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of the Tennessee river, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, lying east of the Mobile river, butting and bounding as follows, viz.: beginning at a stake on the bank of the river, running south fifty-five degrees, east, four chains seventy-four links, to a stake on Charlotte Heral's line; thence, south, fifty degrees east, seven chains fifty links; thence, south, fifty-two degrees east, six chains; thence, south, fifty-four degrees east, seven chains fifty links; thence, south, forty-four degrees east, nine chains; thence, south, eighty degrees east, thirteen chains fifty links; thence, south, eighty-nine degrees east, twenty chains fifty links; thence, north, sixty-eight degrees east, three chains fifty links; thence, north, sixty-three degrees east, seven chains twenty links; thence, north, forty-two degrees east, ten chains fifty links; thence, north, twenty degrees east, five chains; thence, north, fifteen degrees east, five chains; thence, north, one degree west, five chains; thence, north, eight degrees west, one chain; thence south, eight degrees east, four chains seventy-four links, to a stake on the river; thence, down the meanders, to the beginning corner, bounded southwardly by Charlotte Heral's land: is claimed by Simon Andrey, under and by virtue of a Spanish warrant, or order of survey, granted to the said Simon Andrey, as may appear by the original grant now delivered to the Register of the Land Office, to be established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

CHASTANG, JUN.,

Acting for Simon Andrey.

MOBILE, January 18, 1793.

Seignior Governor and Intendant General:

Simon Andrey, inhabitant of this district, with the greatest respect, represents to your excellency and says, that the land whereon he now lives, and for which he has a grant, is of no further use to him than for building his houses and keeping his stock or cow-pen; the land being very poor, and not fit for cultivation, he begs your excellency to grant him on the east side of the river Tombigbee, opposite the place whereon his house now stands, which land is suitable for cultivation; but there not being more than one and a half acres back from the river that is tillable land, after which it is a low, boggy, over-flowing land not to be inhabited, and in consequence of the narrow limits on the bank of the river not fit for cultivation, he begs your excellency to grant him thirty-two acres front on the river, as above mentioned in this petition, for which favor he will be forever thankful.

SIMON ANDREY.

Seignior Governor General of this Province, &c.

I have been informed by several inhabitants of this river, who confirm the above lands petitioned for to be vacant lands, and that the back part being inhabitable, is, as it is represented; but the front on the river being good tillable land, he having slaves in number sufficient to maintain and cultivate the same, he begs your excellency in favoring his petition, for which he will forever pray.

MANUEL DE LANZOS.

MOBILE, January 19, 1793.

NEW ORLEANS, February 2, 1793.

The commandant of Mobile shall establish that part of thirty-two acres of land front, on the river, as mentioned in the petition, with its back or profunder of one and a half acres, as is mentioned in the above memorial, as it proves to be vacant land, without causing any detriment whatever, with these conditions precisely, of clearing roads and making lawful improvements within the term of one year: but should it be neglected for the term of three years, the same land shall again become vacant; and, during the above term of three years, the petitioner shall not convey, bargain, or sell any part of the above lands, or cause it to be done, but shall give information of his fulfilling the above obligation within said term of time, that it may correspond with the titles given in regular form.

THE BARON DE CARONDELET.

The above is a true copy of the original in this office under my charge, which I certify in Mobile.

MANUEL DE LANZOS.

Beginning at a stake at Simon Andry's fence, on the bank of the river Mobile; thence, down the west margin of said river, so far as to make fifty-one chains in a due south line; thence, south, sixty-four degrees west, so far that a line therefrom, due north shall strike the southwest corner of John Baptist Trennier's three hundred and twenty-seven acre tract; thence, with the line of tract, north, fifty-one degrees east, to the southwest corner of Simon Andry's twenty-four acre pre-emption tract; thence, with the line of said tract, to the place of beginning. And the Board doth order that a certificate be granted to him accordingly.

RICHARD BRASHEAR, representative of Patrick Brewer: case commenced in page 601.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported; but that, upon the evidence exhibited, the said Richard Brashear is entitled, under the third section of said act, to a right of pre-emption to six hundred and forty acres of land, to be located as follows, to wit:

Beginning on Hiram Mounger's line, at the southwest corner of William H. Hargrave's three hundred and twenty acre pre-emption, in the right of Stephen Williams; thence, with said Mounger's line, due west, to his northwest corner and in the same course, seventy-one chains; thence, due north, ninety chains; thence, due east, seventy-one chains, to said Hargrave's line; and thence, with the line of said Hargrave, due south, to the place of beginning. And the Board doth order that a certificate be granted accordingly.

JAMES CALLIER, representative of Joseph Anderson: case commenced in page 607.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported; but that, upon the evidence exhibited, the said James Callier is entitled, under the third section of said act, to a right of pre-emption to six hundred and forty acres of land, to be located as follows, to wit:

Beginning on the west bank of the Tombigbee river, at the southeast corner of Thomas Carson's donation; and thence, with said Carson's lower line, south, eighty-six degrees west, one hundred and sixty chains; thence, south, eleven degrees east, forty chains; thence, north, eighty-six degrees east, to the west margin of the river Tombigbee; thence, up the margin of said river, to the place of beginning. And the Board doth order that a certificate be granted to him accordingly.

JAMES CALLIER, representative of Isabella Trouillet: case commenced in page 650.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported; but that, upon the evidence exhibited, the said James Callier is entitled, under the third section of said act, to a right of pre-emption to six hundred and forty acres of land, to be located as follows, to wit:

Beginning on the west bank of the river Mobile, on the bluff near where Alexis Trouillet now lives, so that a due west line therefrom will leave said house twenty-five links on the south side of said line; thence, running due west eighty chains, or one mile, and thence, due south, so far that a due east line therefrom to the west bank of the sluice, or bayou, which puts out from the Mobile below Fort Stoddert, and thence, up the margin of said bayou and river, to the place of beginning, shall include six hundred and forty acres, exclusive of one half of an acre fronting on the river bank, where the cotton house now stands, and extending back so as to leave said house as nearly central as may be, which said half acre is reserved for the future use and disposition of the United States. And the Board doth order that a certificate be granted to him accordingly.

JORDAN MORGAN's case: commenced in page 649.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported; but that, upon the evidence exhibited, the claimant is entitled, under the third section of said act, to a right of pre-emption, to six hundred and forty acres of land, to be located as follows, to wit:

Beginning on the west margin of the Tombigbee river, at a sassafras, at the mouth of Steep Gut, being the place called Ward's old corner, and is also the northeast corner of Nicholas Perkins's three hundred and six acre tract, claimed under Thomas Wheat's Spanish warrant, and the southeast corner of James Denley's one thousand acre tract, claimed under Daniel Ward's Spanish warrant; thence with said Denley's line, due west, one hundred and twenty-six chains forty-nine links; thence, due south, so far that a due east line therefrom to the line of said Perkins above mentioned, and thence, with said Perkins's line, to the place of beginning, shall include six hundred and forty acres. And the Board doth order that a certificate be granted accordingly.

SOLOMON WHEAT's case: commenced in page 601.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported; but that, upon the evidence exhibited, the claimant is entitled, under the third section of said act, to a right of pre-emption to two hundred acres of land, to be located as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the northeast corner of James Scott's three hundred and twenty acre tract; thence, with the line thereof, due west, fifty chains; thence, due north, forty chains; thence, due east, fifty chains; thence, due south, to the place of beginning. And the Board doth order that a certificate be granted to him accordingly.

SOLOMON JOHNSON's case: commenced in page 726.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported, but that, upon the evidence exhibited, the claimant is entitled, under the third section of the act, to a right of pre-emption to one hundred acres of land, to be located as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the northeast corner on the north side of a branch of Johnson's creek, so far from the present dwelling house of the said Johnson, as to leave his said dwelling house in the centre of said tract; thence, due south, thirty-one chains seventy-five links; thence, due west, thirty-one chains, seventy-five links; thence, due north, thirty-one chains seventy-five links, thence, due east to the place of beginning, containing one hundred acres. And the Board doth order that a certificate be granted to him accordingly.

HEZEKIAH CARTER, representative of Robert Jones: case commenced in page 646.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported; but that, upon the evidence exhibited, the claimant is entitled, under the third section of the act, to a right of pre-emption to three hundred and twenty acres of land, to be located as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the northeast corner of Hardy Wootton's six hundred and fifteen acre donation, in the right of William Hunt; thence, with said Wootton's line, due west, eighty chains; thence, due north, forty chains; thence, due east, eighty chains; thence, due south, to the place of beginning. And the Board doth order that a certificate be granted to him accordingly.

JOHN BAPTIST TRENNIER's case: commenced in page 720.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and that the claimant is entitled to a patent for one thousand acres, to be located in the following manner, to wit:

Beginning on the east bank of the west channel of the Mobile river, opposite to the mouth of Groghall creek, at the lower corner of land confirmed to Doctor John Chastang, then running down the margin of said river, so far as to make seventy-nine chains in a straight line; thence, due east, so far that a line drawn from the extreme point of this line to the east point of a line due east, from the place of beginning, shall include one thousand acres. Provided, nevertheless, That this tract shall not extend down the river so far as to interfere with the lines of the land confirmed to Simon Andrey. And the Board doth order that a certificate be issued to him, the said claimant, accordingly.

SIMON ANDREY's case: commenced in page 721.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and that the claimant is entitled to a patent for forty-eight acres of land, to be located in the following manner, to wit:

Beginning at a stake on the east bank of the west channel of the Mobile river, at the place where the plot returned by this claimant to the Register commences; and thence, following down the east margin of said river, one hundred and one chains and twenty links; thence, east, so far that a corresponding line with the margin of said river, to a point due east from the place of beginning, shall include forty-eight acres. And the Board doth order that a certificate be granted to him accordingly.

WILLIAM COLEMAN, representative of Simon Favre: case commenced in page 654.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and the claimant is not entitled to a patent for the land by him claimed, in the manner and form aforesaid.

YOUNG GAINS's case: commenced in page 621.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and the claimant is not entitled to a patent for the land by him claimed, in the manner and form aforesaid.

EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, representative of John Baker: case commenced in page 701.

Joseph Westmoreland and Elijah Simmons were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, they deposed, that they were acquainted with the hand writing of Pleasant Rose, and having inspected two papers then before the Board of Commissioners, the one purporting to be an agreement made by said Rose with John Baker, respecting the possession and occupancy of the land in question, dated the 16th day of September, 1802, and the other a receipt to said Baker for one hundred dollars, in satisfaction for improvements made on said land, dated June 20, 1803, that they verily believed that the name of Pleasant Rose, subscribed to said papers, was written by said Rose, and that the same was his genuine signature; that Emanuel Cheney, one of the subscribing witnesses to said writings, was dead, and that William Brewer, the other subscribing witness, did not reside within this territory. The said Westmoreland further testified, that since he gave his former testimony in this case, he had recollected several circumstances, from which he was fully convinced that the said Pleasant Rose was in the occupancy and possession of the land in question after the 3d of March, 1803, as well as before that time; that he verily believed that said Rose resided there on said 3d of March.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claimant is entitled to a right of pre-emption to six hundred and forty acres of land, to be located as follows, to wit:

Beginning at the northeast corner of James Griffin's six hundred and eighteen acre donation tract, on the line of John Chastang; thence, with said line, due north, eighty chains; thence, due west, eighty chains; thence, due south, eighty chains; thence, due east, eighty chains, to the place of beginning; and the board doth order that a certificate be granted to him accordingly.

SOLOMON JOHNSON's case, No. 188 on the docket of the Board, and No. 30 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures, following, viz.:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the waters of Johnson's creek, in the county of Washington, beginning at a white oak, and running south, fifty degrees west, fifty-five chains, to a red oak; thence, south, thirty-three degrees west, forty-five chains, to a pine; thence north eighty-three degrees west, sixty-five chains, to a dogwood; thence, north, seventy degrees west, eighty-two chains, to a pine; thence, with Johnson's creek, to the beginning; containing six hundred and forty acres, having such shape, form and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by Solomon Johnson, in and by virtue of the second section of said act, as a donation, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

The Board of Commissioners convened at this place. Present: Robert C. Nicholas, Joseph Chambers.

NICHOLAS WEEKS, executor of Dominique de Olive; case No. 189 on the docket of the Board, and No. 2 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—Of eleven hundred and ninety-nine acres and six tenths of an acre, by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of the river Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the east side of the Mobile river, in Washington county, beginning at a gum, and running thence, south, sixty-two degrees east, one hundred and thirty-six chains and thirty-nine links, to a stake; thence, north, eight degrees east, ninety-four chains eighty links, to a stake; thence, south, sixty-two degrees east, one hundred and thirty-six chains thirty-nine links, to a beech; thence, with the river, to the beginning; containing one thousand one hundred and ninety-nine acres and six-tenths of an acre, having such shape, forms, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed: which said tract of land is claimed by Nicholas Weeks, executor of Dominique de Olive, in and by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of a plot herewith filed.

NICHOLAS WEEKS,

One of the Executors of Dominique de Olive.

MARCH 10, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed March 8, 1804, by James Gordon. Chain bearers, William Weathers, John Burgess.

In support of this claim a Spanish warrant was exhibited in the words and figures following, to wit:

MOBILE, December 6, 1793.

To his Excellency the Governor General of these provinces:

Dominique de Olive, an old inhabitant of this place, with the most profound respect due to your excellency, lays before you, that, at the end of the year 1791, or a the commencement of 1792, he solicited, through the means of the commandant of Mobile, at that epoch, a cession of land of thirty acres front, with the ordinary depth of forty, bounded on the north with a tract belonging to M. Narcis Broutan, and on the south by another belonging to M. Augustin Rochon, the same that was then found vacant, having no proprietor; the aforesaid commandant knowing this, permitted him to clear, labor, and cultivate the land, it being so that it is more than five years ago since he possessed it, gathering therefrom his victuals, without any one appearing to reclaim it; and having solicited the copy of the original cession, it was not to be found in the archives of this place, therefore he humbly begs of your excellency to grant him another cession of the same tract for security at all times, for which he will be forever thankful.

DOMINIQUE DE OLIVE.

MOBILE, December 6, 1794.

To his Excellency the Governor General of these provinces:

There is no doubt remains with me in what the petitioner relates to your excellency; but, in order to be more certain, I listened to other old inhabitants of probity, who have assured me of the same, and the original document could have been very easily mislaid in these archives, and it seems to me that no prejudice will occur by granting another cession; but your excellency's benevolence will dispose of it for the best.

MANUEL DE LANZOS.

NEW ORLEANS, December 26, 1794.

The Surveyor General of this province, or the person named for this purpose, will settle the above named petitioner upon the thirty acres of land in front that he solicits, with the ordinary depth of forty acres, in the place that the preceding memorial describes, being vacant, and not causing any prejudice to the neighbors, with the precise conditions of making the road, and clearing regularly, in the peremptory space of one year; and if, at the precise space of three years, the land is not settled, (during which period it cannot be alienated,) this grant to remain null; under which supposition, the business of settling the limits will be carried on in the tract, and remitted me, to provide the interested party with titles in form.

BARON DE CARONDELET.

MOBILE, January 10, 1804.

Copy of the original grant that remains in the archives of this place commanded by me, the which I certify.

JOAQUIN-DE OSORNO. [L. s.]

I, Thomas Price, of the post of Mobile, English interpreter for his Majesty the King of Spain, do solemnly swear by the Almighty God, and by the Holy Cross, that this is a true and faithful translation of the Spanish grant or writing hereto annexed.

BENJAMIN FEW's case, No. 190 on the docket of the Board, and No. 84 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of six hundred and forty acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed to settle and adjust claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of the Pearl river.

GENTLEMEN:

The annexed plot represents a tract of land situated on the east of the Mobile river, about one mile below the forks of the Alabama and Tombigbee rivers, containing six hundred and four acres; is claimed by the subscriber in virtue of the third section of the act of Congress, passed the 3d day of March, 1803, which plot is now delivered to the Register of the Land Office, to be recorded agreeably to the aforesaid act of Congress. To all which he begs leave to refer.

NICHOLAS WEEKS, executor of Dominique de Olive: case commenced in page 728.

John Baker and Gabriel Tisrah were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Baker deposed, that in the year 1795, and for several years before and after, Dominique de Olive cultivated on the land in question; that he resided on said land in the summer season, and at Mobile, with his family in the winter; that he left a negro or two on the plantation in the seasons of winter, and took therefrom his other negroes, as was customary among French planters, during the winter months; that on the 26th day of December, 1794, Dominique de Olive was more than twenty-one years of age.

The said Tisrah deposed, that Dominique de Olive cultivated and lived, in the summer season, on the land in question, in the year 1795, and continued thereon, with about ten negroes, until after Fort Stoddert was built; that he was an old man on the 26th of December, 1794, and the head of a family.

JOSEPH THOMPSON, representative of Adam Hollinger; case, No. 191 on the docket of the Board, and No. 6 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right to seven hundred and thirty acres, by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, viz.:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to land south of the Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the east of the Tombigbee, fronting on the Alabama river, in the county of Washington, beginning on the Alabama river, on John Randon's line, running south, twenty-three degrees east, seventeen chains, to a cypress; thence, south, fifty-six degrees west, eleven chains, George Weekley's corner, which is a cotton tree; thence, south, thirty-seven degrees west, five chains, to a stake, on Weekley's line; south, fifty-six degrees west, thirty-six chains to a gum corner; thence due west, with Phillips's line, ninety chains, to a stake; thence, north, five degrees west, seventy-seven chains, to Mimms's line, to a stake; thence, south, seventy degrees east, seventy chains fifty links to a sassafras corner; thence, with the river to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing seven hundred and thirty acres: is claimed by Joseph Thompson, legal representative of Adam Hollinger, in and by virtue of a Spanish warrant and survey, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office, established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

Surveyed March 24, 1804, by John Milliken. Sworn chain bearers, James McConnell and William Thomas.

In support of this claim, a Spanish warrant of survey was exhibited in the words and figures following, to wit:

His Excellency Don ESTEVAN MIRO, Colonel of the Royal Army, Governor civil and military of the city and province of Louisiana, &c.

Adam Hollinger, inhabitant of Mobile jurisdiction, with the greatest respect to your excellency, represents and says, there is found on Tensaw river, twenty acres of land, on an island by the name of Nanna Hubba; the said land until now never had any proprietor: he begs your excellency to grant him the above petition, with papers of titles necessary, from the Secretary of Government, which may correspond with the concession, for which favor he will be forever thankful.

ADAM HOLLINGER.

MOBILE, October 10, 1787.

Don Vicent Folch, captain of the Louisiana regiment of infantry, commandant civil and military of the place of Mobile, and its district, certifies, that the land the petitioner solicits is vacant, by information from the different inhabitants, who are knowing to the said place of land, above mentioned. Mobile, the day and date above mentioned.

VICENT FOLCH.

NEW ORLEANS, October 22, 1787.

The Surveyor General of this province, Don Carlos Laveau Tredeau, shall establish that part of land of twenty acres front, with its profunder of forty acres, as customary, as it is vacant, not causing any prejudice to any neighbors, at the same place mentioned in the above petition, with the precise conditions of making the road and clearing regularly, in the peremptory space of one year; and if, at the precise space of three years, the land is not settled, during which period it cannot be alienated, this grant to remain null; under which supposition the business of settling the limits will be carried on in the tract, and remitted to me to provide the interested party with titles in form.

ESTEVAN MIRO.

JOAQN. DE OSORNO. [L. s.]

I, Thomas Price, of the post of Mobile, English interpreter to His Majesty the King of Spain, do solemnly swear by the Almighty God, and by the Holy Cross, that this is a true translation of the Spanish grant or writing hereto annexed.

THOMAS PRICE.

Subscribed and sworn, before the Board, March 21, 1804.—Attest: DAVID PARMELEE 2d, Clerk.

Entered in record of claims, (east of Tombigbee,) vol. 1, page 30, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

William Pierce and John Mills were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, they deposed, that the land now claimed was cultivated by Joseph Thompson, the present claimant, on the 27th day of October, 1795, who had continued to cultivate the same ever since; that, in consequence of the said land being situated in an island, and being occasionally covered by the water, it was an improper and unhealthy situation for a dwelling-house; that the principal cultivation made by said Thompson, for the support of himself and family, had been on the land in question.

Question. Was Adam Hollinger on the 22d of October, 1787, twenty-one years of age?

Answer. Adam Hollinger was, on the 22d of October, 1787, as they believed, more than twenty-one years of age.

Question. Are you, or either of you, interested, or to be interested, in the establishment of this claim?

Answer. We are not.

On the back of the said Spanish warrant of survey is an endorsement in the words and figures following, to wit:

FORST STODDERT, March 26, 1804.

For a valuable consideration, I hereby assign and make over to Joseph Thompson, Esquire, all my right, title, interest, and claim, of and unto the within Spanish warrant of survey, to him, his heirs and assigns, forever.

In witness whereof I hereunto set my hand and seal, the day and year above written.

ADAM HOLLINGER, his X mark.

Witness, EDWARD LLOYD WAILES.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOSEPH THOMPSON's case, No. 192 on the docket of the Board, and No. 78 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, viz.:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to land south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the east side of the Alabama river on Hollow creek, adjoining Samuel Mimms on the south, and James Randon on the north, containing six hundred and forty acres: is claimed by Joseph Thompson, in and by virtue of the second section of said act, as a donation, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimants exhibited a deed of conveyance from Jeremiah Phillips, bearing date the 27th of April, 1805, duly executed and duly proven, conveying to William and John Pierce, all his said Phillips's right, title, and claim to said tract of land, and the improvements thereon made.

John Mills and George Weekley were presented as witnesses, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed that they were not interested in this claim; that the land in question was situated in Nanna Hubba island; that it could not be inhabited, by reason of its being frequently covered with water, and that the said land was actually cultivated, by the said Jeremiah Phillips, in the year 1797; that he was at that time twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOHN MILLS's case, No. 194 on the docket of the Board, and No. 30 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of three hundred and fifty-five acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of an act of Congress, passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of the Tennessee river, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the east side of Tombigbee in Nanna Hubba island, in the county of Washington, beginning at two willows, thence, up the Alabama river, north, twenty-one degrees west, to three cotton trees; thence, across said island, south, thirty degrees to a corner maple, on said river; thence, down said river, to the beginning, south, fifty-five degrees east; containing three hundred and fifty five acres, having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by John Mills, in and by virtue of the second section of this act, as a donation, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Joseph Thompson and Moses Stedham were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim; that John Mills, the present claimant, cultivated the land in question in the year 1797, and had continued in the occupancy and cultivation thereof ever since; that they believed that the said Mills was, in the year 1797, more than twenty-one years of age, and that he was the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

FRANCIS KILLINGWORTH, representative of William Mills: case No. 195 on the docket of the Board, and No. 38 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the east side of Tombigbee and Alabama rivers, in the county of Washington, beginning on a pine corner; running thence, south, seventy-five degrees east, nine chains; thence, north, twenty degrees east, twenty-four chains, to a pine corner; thence, north, seventy-five degrees east, eighty-two chains, to a pine corner; thence, south fifteen degrees, east, sixty-four chains, to a stake corner; thence, south, seventy-five degrees west, one hundred and five chains, to a stake corner; thence, to the beginning; and hath such shape, forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing six hundred and forty acres: is claimed by Francis Killingworth, legal representative of William Mills, in and by virtue of the second section of this act, as a donation, purchased of said William Mills, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

In support of this claim, the last will and testament of Thomas Hudson, deceased, was exhibited, bearing date the 25th day of February, 1800, duly executed and proven; in and by which the said Hudson devised and bequeathed to Sarah Hall, (the daughter of Charles Hall,) all his estate, both real and personal, "by her freely to be possessed and enjoyed."

A certificate was also exhibited, in the following words, to wit:

I do hereby certify that I joined in matrimony William Mills and Sarah Hall, agreeable to the laws of this territory. Given under my hand, 17th March, 1800.

JAMES THOMPSON, J. P.

A writing in the words following was also exhibited, viz.:

This obligation witnesseth, that I have this day bargained and sold a certain tract of land formerly the property of Thomas Hudson, deceased, and now the property of William and Sarah Mills, to Francis Killingworth, for the sum of two hundred dollars; and I do further obligate myself to quit claim of the said land for the two hundred dollars. As witness my hand, this 4th day of February, 1804.

WILLIAM MILLS.

Witness, JOHN MILLS.

Joseph Thompson and John Mills were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim; that the land now claimed by Francis Killingworth was inhabited and cultivated in the year 1797, by Thomas Hudson; and that said Hudson was, in the year 1797, more than twenty-one years of age; that the same Francis Killingworth, in whose name this claim is filed, was dead.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

GEORGE WEEKLEY, representative of Michael Skipper; case No. 196 on the docket of the Board, and No. 28 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right to one hundred and sixty-one acres, by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Honorable Commissioners appointed to settle claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

MARCH 23, 1804.

GENTLEMEN:

Please to take notice, that I claim one hundred and sixty-one acres of land, on the east side of the river Tombigbee, and on the west side of the river Alabama, by virtue of a Spanish warrant, in the name of Michael Skipper, dated the 9th February, 1788, which is now delivered to the Register of the Land Office to be recorded, to which I beg leave to refer, as also to the within plot.

GEORGE WEEKLEY.

The claimant exhibited a Spanish warrant of survey, in the words and figures following, to wit:
His Excellency Don ESTEVAN MIRO, Colonel of the Royal army, Governor civil and military of the city and province of the Louisiana, &c. &c. &c.

MOBILE, January 18, 1788.

Michael Skipper, inhabitant of Mobile jurisdiction, with the greatest respects, represents to your excellency, and says, that there is, on Tenshaw river, twelve acres of land that never had any proprietor until this present time; he begs your excellency to grant him the said land, with the profounder as customary; with papers of titles from the Secretary of Government, which may correspond with the concession; for which favor he will be forever thankful.

MICHAEL SKIPPER.

Don Vicent Folch, captain of the fixed Louisiana regiment, commandant, civil and military, of Mobile and its district, certify, that the land the petitioner solicits is vacant, by information from the different inhabitants of note, who are knowing said land; to which I sign these presents, the above day and date.

VICENT FOLCH.

NEW ORLEANS, February 9, 1788.

The surveyor of this province, Don Carlos Laveau Tredeau, shall establish that part of land of twelve acres front, with the profounder of forty acres, as customary, as it is vacant, not causing any prejudice to any neighbors, at the same place mentioned in the above petition, with the precise conditions of making the road, and clearing regularly, in the peremptory space of one year; and if, at the precise space of three years, the land is not settled, during which period it cannot be established, this grant to remain null, under which supposition, the business of settling the limits will be carried on in the tract, and remitted me, to provide the interested party with titles in form.

The claimant exhibited a deed of conveyance, in Spanish, from Michael Skipper, purporting to convey to John Joyce all the said Skipper's right, title, and claim to said tract of land; on the back of which deed of conveyance there are two endorsements or assignments, in the following words and figures, to wit:

MOBILE, March 2, 1792.

I do hereby assign unto Cornelius Dunn, his heirs and assigns, all my right and title to the tract of land, houses, &c. mentioned on the other side, having received the full consideration money agreed upon between Mr. Cornelius Dunn and me.

JOHN JOYCE.

TENSAW, November 1, 1796.

I do hereby assign unto George Weekley, his heirs and assigns, all my right and title to the tract of land, houses, &c. mentioned, on west side of Alabama river, having received the full consideration agreed upon between Mr. George Weekley and me.

CORNELIUS DUNN.

John Randon and Cornelius Dunn were brought forward as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim; that the land in question was cultivated and inhabited by Cornelius Dunn, on the 27th day of February, 1795; and that Michael Skipper was at that time twenty-one years of age.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

NARCISO BROUTIN's case, No. 197 on the docket of the Board, and No. 17 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right to eight hundred acres, by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

WASHINGTON COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY,

March 20, 1804.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the east side of the Alabama river, beginning at a stake corner, running north, thirty-four degrees east, seventy-two chains, to a stake corner; thence, south, fifty-six degrees east, sixty-three chains and twenty-four links, to a corner stake; thence, south, twenty-seven degrees west, one hundred and twenty-seven chains, to a corner stake on Olive Donie's line; thence, north, sixty-three degrees west, forty-seven chains, on the aforesaid line, to the river; thence, with the river, to the beginning; containing eight hundred acres: is claimed by Narciso Broutin, having such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed. The said land is claimed in and by virtue of the first section of the said act of Congress, by a Spanish grant, bearing date the 10th January, 1794, and now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office, to be recorded, as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot hereunto annexed.

Surveyed 19th March, 1804, by Thomas Bilbo. Chain carriers, John Johnson, Esquire, and Joseph Lawrence.

The claimant exhibited a Spanish warrant of survey, in the following words and figures, to wit:

MOBILE, December 22, 1793.

His Excellency the Governor and Intendant General:

Don Narciso Broutin, lieutenant of militia, of this place, with the greatest respects to your excellency, represents and says, that, between the two rivers Tombigbee and Alabama, there is a tract of twenty acres of land front, limited on the north by vacant land, and on the south the same, which land is vacant and King's commons, and, being desirous of cultivating the same, begs your excellency to grant him the above petition, with papers of titles necessary, which may correspond with the cession, for which favor he will be forever thankful.

NARCISO BROUTIN.

MOBILE, December 23, 1793.

His Excellency the Governor and Intendant General:

By information from the inhabitants of this jurisdiction, the land abovementioned is vacant, having no claimant, and his intention is to cultivate the same. Your excellency may dispose as it may seem best.

MANUEL DE LANZOS.

NEW ORLEANS, January 10, 1794.

The Surveyor General, or some individual named by him for that business, shall establish that part of twenty acres front, with the profounder of forty acres, as customary, as it is vacant, not causing prejudice to any person, at the same place mentioned in the above petition, with the precise conditions of making the road, and clearing regularly, in the peremptory space of one year; and if, at the precise space of three years, the land is not settled, during which period it cannot be alienated, this grant to remain null; under which supposition, the business of settling the limits will be carried on in the tract, and remitted me, to provide the interested party with titles in form.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 10th February, 1804, by John Milliken. Chain bearers, James Mills and Francis Killingworth. The claimants exhibited a Spanish warrant of survey, in the following words and figures, to wit:

His Excellency ESTEVAN MIRO, Colonel of the Royal army, Governor civil and military of the city and province of the Louisiana, &c. &c.

John Linder, Jun. inhabitant of Mobile jurisdiction, with the greatest respect to your excellency, petitions and says, there is found on the Tensaw river, twenty acres of vacant land, situate on the west side of said river, which said land, until this present, never had any proprietor: he prays your excellency to grant him, as proprietor of said land, with the profounder as customary, and deliver him, through the Secretary of Government, the corresponding titles of concession, for which favor from your excellency the petitioner will be forever thankful.

JOHN LINDER, JUN.

Don Vicent Folch, captain in fixed Louisiana regiment, commandant civil and military of Mobile place and its jurisdiction, certifies, that the land the petitioner solicits is found vacant by information taken to that effect, from several inhabitants who are well knowing to the said land, for which I sign these presents the day and date above.

VICENT FOLCH.

NEW ORLEANS, May 2, 1788.

The commandant will inform me the reasons of the above petitioner's soliciting that tract of land, and whether he is in great necessity for it or not.

MIRO.

NEW ORLEANS, June 3, 1788.

The commandant of Mobile shall establish this individual on the twenty acres of land front he solicits, with the profounder, as customary, of forty, at the same place mentioned in the above petition, as it is vacant, not causing prejudice to neighbors, with the precise conditions of making the road and clearing regularly, in the peremptory space of one year; and if, at the precise space of three years, the land is not settled, after which period it cannot be established, this grant to remain null, under which supposition the business of settling the limits will be carried on in the tract, and remitted me to provide the interested party with titles in form.

THOS. PRICE.

Subscribed and sworn the Board, March 21st, 1804.—Attest: DAVID PARMELEE 2d, Clerk.

Entered in record of claims, (east side,) vol. 1, page 50, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Joseph Thompson and Moses Sedham were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim; that the land claimed by the heirs of John Linder, Junior, was inhabited and cultivated by them on the 27th day of October, 1795, and that it had been inhabited and cultivated ever since; that they, the deponents, believed that John Linder, Junior, in whose name the land in question is claimed, was, on the 3d day of June, 1788, the head of a family, and twenty-one years of age.

Question. Does or does not the improvement, made by John Linder, Jun. in his life-time, and by his heirs since his death, extend from the dwelling houses to a point on the Alabama river, next adjoining the head of the Tensaw lake, where it makes out of the Alabama.

Answer by both. It does.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

MARCH 26, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed February 11th, 1804, by John Milliken. Chain bearers, Francis Killingworth and James Mills.

The claimant exhibited a Spanish warrant in support of this claim, in the words and figures following, to wit:

His Excellency Estevan Miro, Colonel of the Royal army, Governor civil and military of the city and province of the Louisiana, &c. &c.

John Linder, father, inhabitant of Mobile jurisdiction, with the greatest respects to your excellency, petitions and says, there are found on Tensaw river twenty acres of vacant land, situate on the east side of said river; said land, until this present, never had any proprietor. He prays your excellency to grant him as proprietor of said land, with the profounder, as customary, and order the despatches from the Secretary of Government, the corresponding titles of concession; for which favor from your excellency the petitioner will be forever thankful.

JOHN LINDER.

MOBILE, April 23, 1788.

Don Vicent Folch, captain in the fixed Louisiana regiment, commandant civil and military of this place and its jurisdiction, certifies, that the land the petitioner solicits is found vacant, by information taken to that effect from several inhabitants, who are well knowing the said land; for which I sign these presents, the day and date above.

VICENT FOLCH.

NEW ORLEANS, May 2d, 1788.
The commandant will inform the reasons the above petitioner solicits the above tract of land, and whether he was in great necessity for it or not.

MIRO.

NEW ORLEANS, June 3d, 1788.
The commandant of Mobile shall establish this individual on the twenty acres of land front he solicits, with the profunder, as customary, of forty, at the same place mentioned in the above petition, as it is vacant, not causing prejudice to any neighbors, with the precise conditions of making the road, and clearing regularly, in the preceptory space of one year; and if at the precise space of three years the land is not settled, after which period it cannot be established, this grant to remain null; under which supposition, the business of settling the limits will be carried on in the tract, and remitted me, to provide the interested party with titles in form.

ESTEVAN MIRO.

The above compared with the original, from which this copy was drawn, existing in these archives under my charge, which I certify.

MANUEL DE LANZOS.

MOBILE, May 14th, 1798.

The above is a copy of the Spanish grant.

THOMAS PRICE.

The above compared exact with the original in this office, under my charge, by me.

JOAQUIN DE OSORNO.

I, Thomas Price, of the post of Mobile, English interpreter for His Majesty the King of Spain, do solemnly swear by the Almighty God, and by the Holy Cross, that this is a true translation of the Spanish grant or writing hereto annexed.

THOMAS PRICE.

Subscribed and sworn before the Board, March 21st, 1804.—Attest: DAVID PARMELEE 2d, Clerk.

Entered in record of claims, (east of Tombigbee,) vol. 1, page 85, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited a deed of conveyance from John Linder, Senior, bearing date the 6th day of November, 1800, conveying to John Mills and Mary, his wife, all the said Linder's right and title to the land described in said Spanish warrant. A deed was also exhibited, from John Mills, bearing date the 21st day of May, 1803, conveying to Lemuel Henry all the said John Mills's right and title to five hundred acres of the aforesaid tract of land, fronting on the Alabama river, with the improvements made thereon.

William Pierce and Moses Stedham were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this claim; that John Linden, Senior, in whose name the land in question is claimed, cultivated the same on the 27th day of October, 1795; that they believed that he inhabited the same on the same day and year; that they well recollected that he resided in the Mississippi territory on the 27th day of October, 1795; and that they did believe that John Linder, Senior, was, on the 3d day of June, 1788, more than twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

William Pierce and Joseph Stiggins were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this claim; that the land in question was actually inhabited and cultivated by Samuel Trend, in the year 1797; and that he was, at that time, twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family; that the lands claimed by the heirs of Francis Killingworth interfere with this claim.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM BUFORD, representative of Conrad Selhoof; case No. 227 on the docket of the Board, and No. 25 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right to eight hundred acres, by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, viz.:

To the Register appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for recording claims to the south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the east side of the river Tombigbee, bounded to the south and southwest by Tensaw river, and hath such natural marks as are represented by a Spanish warrant of survey hereunto annexed; containing eight hundred acres, or twenty acres front on said river, and forty back; granted to Conrad Selhoof, and transferred, by legal conveyances, to the present claimant William Buford. The Register will further please to take notice, that the said tract of land, including Piney island, is at this time so covered by water, that an accurate survey cannot be made on the same; and that, when a proper board shall be appointed for adjusting the claims to lands lying in that part of Washington county, the claimant will exhibit the necessary plot and other documents to establish the said claim.

W. BUFORD, Claimant.

MARCH 31, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

The claimant exhibited a Spanish warrant in the words and figures following, viz.:

His excellency Don Estevan Miro, Colonel of the royal army, Governor civil and military of the city and province of Louisiana, &c.

Conrad Selhoof, inhabitant of Mobile jurisdiction, with great respect to your excellency, says, that there is found a tract of land on Tensaw river, containing twenty acres, by the name of Pine island; which land, until now, never had any proprietor; he begs your excellency to grant him the above petition, and deliver him the titles necessary from the Secretary of Government, which may correspond with the concession; for which favor he will forever be thankful.

CONRAD SELHOOF.

MOBILE, January 15, 1788.

Don Vicent Folch, captain in the Louisiana regiment of fixed, commandant civil and military of said place and its jurisdiction, certified, that the land the petitioner solicits is vacant, by information taken from different inhabitants, who are well informed of said place, for which I sign at said place the day and date above mentioned.

VICENT FOLCH.

NEW ORLEANS, February 9, 1788.

The surveyor of this province, Don Laveau Trudeau, shall establish that part of land of twenty acres front, which the petitioner solicits, with its profunder of forty, as customary; as it is vacant, not causing prejudice to any neighbors, at the same place mentioned in the above petition; with the precise conditions of making the road and clearing regularly, in peremptory space of one year; and if, at the precise space of three years, the land is not settled, after which period it cannot be established, this grant to remain null; under which supposition, the business of settling the limits will be carried on in the tract, and remitted to me to provide the interested party with titles in form.

ESTEVAN MIRO.

Upon the back of said order of survey, there are two writings or conveyances in the words and figures following, to wit:

Know all men by these presents, that I, Cornelius McCurtin, by virtue of a power of attorney to me given by the widow Colate, of New Orleans, have made over unto John Linder, Esquire, his heirs or assigns, forever, the within grant, with all the rights and titles of said Madam Colate. Given under my hand this 10th day of March, 1791. As by power of attorney from the widow Colate.

CORNELIUS McCURTIN.

Know all men by these presents, that I, John Linder, Esquire, Senior, have hereby bargained and sold unto John Linder, Junior, the within premises, or his heirs, executors, administrators, and assigns, forever, for which I hereby warrant and defend against all persons whatsoever, or my heirs, executors, administrators, or assigns, for value received; as witness my hand and seal, this 11th day of June, 1798.

JNO. LINDER.

Witnesses, JAMES McALPINE,
JOHN MILLS.

Entered in record of claims, (east side,) vol. 1, page 91, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for
JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited a deed from John Linder, duly executed, and bearing date the 24th day of October, 1803, conveying to William H. Buford all the right, title, and interest, of the said Linder in said tract of land, and the improvements thereon made.

Reuben Dyer, Joseph Stiggins, and Richard Coleman, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim. The said Stiggins also deposed, that he knew nothing of this claim but from hearsay.

The said Dyer also deposed, that Mr. Collett, many years past, lived upon the land in question; that he, Dyer, knew of no person, either by the name of Collett or Selhoof, being on said land, in the year 1795; that the person called Collett was, when he knew him, an elderly man; and that the said Collett died on the land in question; and that an inventory of his estate was taken by Robert Lard.

The said Coleman also deposed, that, as well as he recollected, John Linder, Senior, in the year 1795, informed him that he had the land in question in cultivation, but that he, Coleman, did not know it of his own knowledge.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Adjourned until Saturday, the 18th instant.

SATURDAY, May 18, 1805.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Robert C. Nicholas, Joseph Chambers.

ADAM HOLLINGER's case, No. 228 on the docket of the Board, and No. 16 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right to nine hundred and ninety-nine acres and five-tenths of an acre, under the first section of the act, by virtue of a Spanish warrant or order of survey.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of an act of Congress passed the 3d of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of the Tennessee river, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, lying east of the river Tombigbee, butting and bounding as follows, viz.: beginning at a tupelo gum, on the bank of the Cut-off, thence, down the meanders, to the mouth of said Cut-off, to a willow; thence, down the river Tombigbee, to a maple corner; thence, north, eighty-six degrees east, one hundred and twenty-six chains, fifty-three links; thence, a straight line, to the beginning; bounded by Tombigbee river on the west, and northwardly by the Cut-off, on the other sides by vacant land: is claimed by Adam Hollinger, under and by virtue of a Spanish grant or order of survey granted to Adam Hollinger, as may appear by the original grant now delivered to the Register of the Land Office, to be established east of Pearl river, to be recorded agreeably to that act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

W. CARMAN,
Attorney for Adam Hollinger.

FORT STODDERT, March 21, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Said warrant of survey was exhibited in the words following, viz.:

MOBILE, December 24, 1794.

His Excellency the GOVERNOR GENERAL:

Adam Hollinger, inhabitant of this jurisdiction, with the most profound respect, represents before your excellency and says, that, within the district of Tombigbee exists and is twenty-five acres of vacant land, on a creek called Boukanonga, and on the right hand of said creek, up the river. Said land has no proprietor; and having slaves in number sufficient to cultivate the same, he begs your excellency to grant him the above petition, with papers necessary from the Secretary of Government, which may correspond with the concession, for which favor he will be forever thankful.

ADAM HOLLINGER.

MOBILE, December 27, 1794.

His excellency the Governor General of these provinces, by information from the old settlers of said river, it appears that the land the above petitioner solicits is vacant, and has no proprietor, and the number of slaves in possession of the above petitioner, it suffers no difficulty in granting the above petition, as it may seem best.

MANUEL DE LANZOS.

NEW ORLEANS, January 30th, 1795.

The surveyor of this province, Don Carlos Lavau Trudeau, or some other named by him, shall establish the petitioner on the twenty-five acres of land front, with the profounder, as customary, of forty acres back, as it appears vacant, and not causing any prejudice to any neighbors, with the precise conditions of making the road and clearing regularly, in the peremptory space of one year; and if, at the precise space of three years, the land is not settled, during which period it cannot be alienated, this grant to remain null; under which supposition the business of settling the limits will be carried on in the tract, and remitted me to provide the interested party with titles in form.

THE BARON OF CARONDELET.

MOBILE, February 16, 1795.

Registered. Certifieth the above is a copy of the original concession, that remains in these archives, under my charge.

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

John Jacob Abner and Joseph Bates, senior, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim; that, in the year 1795, a man by the name of Watkins cultivated the land in question, as a tenant at will of Adam Hollinger; that, in the same year, in the month of August, Adam Hollinger commenced a clearing on the land, by his overseer and hands, and in the latter end of the same year removed himself and family to the place where he now lives; that the said land had been cultivated by the said Hollinger ever since, and that Adam Hollinger was, at that time, twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family.

The Board ordered the case to be postponed for consideration.

JOSEPH BATES, Senior's case, No. 229 on the docket of the Board, and No. 26 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right to one thousand acres, by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, viz.:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress, passed the 3d of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the east bank of Tombigbee river, beginning on a cedar post on said east bank; running thence with Thomas Bates, Junior's, line, south, forty-five degrees east, eighty chains, to a stake; thence, north, forty-five degrees east, sixty-four chains, to a stake; thence, south, forty-five degrees east, eighty chains, to a stake; thence, south, forty-five degrees west, eighty chains, to a stake; thence, north, forty-five degrees west, eighty chains, to a stake; thence, north, fifteen degrees east, sixteen chains, to a stake; thence, north, seventy-five degrees west, eighty chains, to a cedar post on the bank of the river; thence up the river the courses and distances, as laid down in the plot, to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing one thousand acres: is claimed by Joseph Bates, Senior, in and by virtue of a Spanish grant, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office, established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

JOSEPH BATES, Senior.

Surveyed March 19th, 1804, by Natt Christmas. Chain bearers, Sterling Dupree and Thomas Bates.

The claimant exhibited an order of survey as follows, to wit:

MOBILE, July 20th, 1795.

His Excellency the GOVERNOR GENERAL:

Joseph Bates, inhabitant of this district, with the greatest respect to your excellency, represents and says, there is a tract of vacant land, situate on Tombigbee river, in distance about eighteen leagues from this place, limited on the north by land of John Turnbolls, and on the south by vacant land facing my own plantation; and, being necessitated for land to cultivate, begs your excellency to grant him twenty-five acres front, with its profunder of forty, as customary; the said land never had any proprietor. He begs your excellency to grant the above petition, with orders to the Secretary to deliver him the corresponding concession; for which favor he will be forever thankful.

JOSEPH BATES.

MOBILE, July 27th, 1795.

His excellency the Governor General of this province, by information from the inhabitants of that settlement, the land is vacant, and of consequence King's commons: not causing any prejudice to any neighbors, you may dispose as it may seem best.

NEW ORLEANS, August 18, 1795.

The Surveyor General of this province, or some individual named by him for that business, shall establish that part of land, of twenty-five acres front, with its profunder of forty acres, as customary, as it is vacant, not causing prejudice to any neighbors, at the same place mentioned in the above petition, with the precise conditions of making the road and clearing regularly in the peremptory space of one year; and if, at the precise space of three years, the land is not settled, during which period it cannot be alienated, this grant to remain null: under which supposition, the business of settling the limits will be carried on in the tract, and remitted me to provide the interested party with titles in form.

Subscribed and sworn before the Board, March 21st, 1804.—Attest: DAVID PARMELEE 2d, Clerk.

Entered on record of claims, (east of Tombigbee) vol. 2, page 95, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Natt Christmas, surveyor, was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the plot exhibited to the Board by Joseph Bates with his Spanish warrant of survey, which included the improvement and cleared lands of the claimant; that an actual survey of the river or front of this land was made, and a few chains on the upper and lower lines running out from the river; that, in consequence of high water, it was impossible to complete the survey, except by plotting the same.

Adam Hollinger and John Jacob Abner were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim. The said Abner testified further, that, in the year 1791, he was at Joseph Bates, Senior's, and saw considerable improvements and cultivation on the land in question; that he, the said Bates, had continued to cultivate thereon ever since; that he was, on the 18th day of August, 1795, twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family.

The said Hollinger also deposed, that Joseph Bates, Senior, cultivated the land in question in the year 1795; and had continued to cultivate the same ever since; that, on the 18th day of August, 1795, he was twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

RICHARD TURVIN's case, No 230 on the docket of the Board, and No. 20 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, viz.:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to land south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the east side of Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning on a maple standing on the bank of Tombigbee river, at Adam Hollinger's corner, running down the bank of said river, south, forty degrees east, thirty-eight chains, to a lake; continued two chains further to an oak corner; thence, along the banks of the river south, nine degrees east, twenty chains; thence, south, nine degrees west, fifteen chains; thence, south, forty-nine degrees west, five chains; south, forty-two degrees west, seven chains and fifty links, to a swamp oak corner; thence, to Thomas Bates, Junior's, line; thence, south, forty-five degrees east, thirteen chains, to an ash station at the edge of the swamp, continued in all eighty-four chains, to a stake; thence, north, forty-five degrees east, seventy-seven chains and fifty links, to a stake; thence, north, forty-five degrees west, eighty-nine chains, to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing six hundred and forty acres; is claimed by Richard Turvin, in and by virtue of the second section of the said act, as a donation, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river. To all which he begs leave to refer, and to be recorded as directed by said act; also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

Entered in record of claims, (east side,) vol. 1, page 74, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

John Jacob Abner and Adam Hollinger were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim; that the land in question was not cultivated until the year 1798.

The Board ordered the case to be postponed for consideration.

SAMUEL MIMS's claim, No. 231 on the docket of the Board, and No. 85 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to land south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the east side of the Tombigbee river, in the county of Washington, beginning on the Alabama river, or Cut-off, at a sweet gum; south, five degrees east, one hundred and nine chains; south, eighty-five degrees west, seventy-one chains, at a stake; north, five degrees west, eighty chains, at a stake; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing six hundred and forty acres: is claimed by Samuel Mims, in and by virtue of a donation, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office, established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

William Pierce and Adam Hollinger were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this claim; that Samuel Mims did, in the year 1797, actually cultivate the land in question, lying in Nanna Hubba Island; that he was at that time twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family; and that they knew of no interfering claim.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES CALLIER, representative of Joseph Campbell: case commenced in page 738.

Joseph Bates, Sen. and John Jacob Abner, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim; and the said Bates testified, that the land in question was cultivated in the year 1797, by hands belonging to Isabella Trouillet, widow of Peter Trouillet; that he did not know whether Mrs. Trouillet resided on the bluff, opposite the land in question at that time, or whether she was then living in the town of Mobile; that Alexis Trouillet informed him that he was the overseer of Mrs. Trouillet, and was cultivating the land to her use, and that she was at that time, as he, Bates, believed, twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family. The said Abner also testified, that he did not see the land in question in the year 1797, but from seeing the hands of Mrs. Trouillet pass to and from the place in question, and from being told by Alexis Trouillet, that he was the overseer of Mrs. Trouillet, he had reason to believe that the land was cultivated to her use, and that she was, at that time, as he believed, twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

NATT CHRISTMAS, representative of Michael Hartly: case commenced in page 738.

Joseph Bates, Sen., Adam Hollinger, and Richard Turvin, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this claim; the said Bates and Hollinger testified, that the land in question was cultivated by Michael Hartly in the year 1796, 1797, and 1798; that the situation of the land was such as would not admit of being inhabited, and that said Hartly was, in the year 1797, twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family. The said Turvin also testified, that Michael Hartly cultivated the land in question in the years 1797 and 1798; that, from the low situation of the land, it would not admit of being inhabited; that said Hartly was, in 1797, twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

BENJAMIN FEW's case: commenced in page 729.

Adam Hollinger was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, he deposed, that Benjamin Few had raised three successive crops, independent of the one now growing on the land in question; and that he was, on the 3d day of March, 1803, twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

LEMUEL HENRY, representative of Michael Hartly; case, No. 232 on the docket of the Board, and No. 86 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Honorable the Board of Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d of March, 1803, for the adjusting of claims to land south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that Lemuel Henry, legal representative of Michael Hartly, claims a tract of land of six hundred and forty acres, as a donation, situate on the lower end of the Nanna Hubba Island, beginning at a cedar post, on the east bank of the Tombigbee river, running north, fifty-seven degrees east, five hundred poles, to the Alabama river, and down both rivers for complement, as by the plot herewith filed will more fully appear.

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited a deed, bearing date the 22d day of April, 1805, from Michael Hartly, conveying to Lemuel Henry all the said Hartly's right to said tract of land.

Adam Hollinger, Joseph Bates, Senior, and Richard Turvin, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim. The said Bates and Hollinger testified, that the land in question was cultivated by Michael Hartly in the years 1796, 1797, and 1798; that the situation of the land was such as would not admit of being inhabited; and that the said Hartly was, in the year 1797, twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family. The said Turvin testified, that Michael Hartly cultivated the land in question in the years 1797 and 1798; that, from the low situation of the land, it would not admit of being inhabited, and that said Hartly was, in 1797, twenty-one years of age and the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SAMUEL MIMS, representative of William Clark; case, No. 233 on the docket of the Board, and No. 66 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right to one hundred and seventy-four acres, by virtue of a British grant, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed, in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated about eighty miles from the town of Mobile, in the county of Washington, bounded on the west by the river Alabama, and on the other sides by a lagoon, and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing one hundred and seventy-four acres: is claimed by Samuel Mims, legal representative to William Clark, in and by virtue of a British grant, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office, established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

A. GINDRAT.

Entered in record of claims, (east side,) vol. 1, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited a deed from A. Gindrat, bearing date the 27th day of May, 1801, conveying to Jesse McCall, Esq., all the said Gindrat's right and title to said land; also a deed from Jesse McCall, bearing date the 23d day of September, 1801; conveying to Samuel Mims all the said McCall's right, title, and interest in said tract of land.

Adam Hollinger and William Pierce were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim. The said Hollinger also testified, that the land in question was cultivated by Samuel Mims in the year 1795; that said land adjoined the land on which he resided, and that his principal support was had from his cultivation on this land. The said Pierce also deposed, that the land in question was cultivated in the year 1795, by Samuel Mims, and that, from a conversation which he heard between the said Mims and William Clark, he was induced to believe that said land was then the property of said William Clark, and that Mims was tenant at will of him, said Clark; and that he, Clark, was an inhabitant and resident in the State of Georgia on the 27th day of October, 1795; that the land in question was adjoined to that on which the said Mims resided, and that his principal support was had from this land.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SAMUEL MIMS, representative of William Clark; case No. 234 on the docket of the Board, and No. 67 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right to three hundred and fifty acres, by virtue of a British grant, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

GEORGE THE THIRD, by the grace of God, of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, defender of the faith, &c. To all to whom these presents shall come, greeting:

Know ye, that we, of our special grace, certain knowledge, and mere motion, have given and granted, and by these presents, for us, our heirs and successors, do give and grant, unto William Clark, his heirs and assigns, all that tract of land situated on the east side of Alabama river, bounded west by said river and by a lagoon, and on all other sides by vacant land, in our province of West Florida, and having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot thereof annexed, as drawn by our Surveyor General of lands, which said tract of land contains three hundred and fifty acres, and is bounded as by the further certificate hereunto likewise annexed, under the hand of our said Surveyor General of lands, in our said province, may more fully and at large appear; together with all woods, underwoods, timber, and timber trees, lakes, ponds, fishings, waters, water courses, profits, commodities, hereditaments, and appurtenances whatsoever thereunto belonging, or in anywise appertaining; together, also, with privilege of hunting, hawking, and fowling in and upon the same, and all mines and minerals, reserving to us, our heirs and successors, all mines of gold and silver: to have and to hold the said tract of land, and all and singular the premises, hereby granted, with the appurtenances, unto the said William Clark, his heirs and assigns, forever, in free and common socage, yielding and paying unto us, our heirs and successors, or to the Receiver General of our quit-rents for the time being, or to such other officer as shall be appointed to receive the same, a quit-rent of one halfpenny sterling per acre, at the feast of St. Michael every year, the first payment to commence on the said feast of St. Michael which shall first happen after the expiration of ten years from the date hereof, or within fourteen days after said feast annually. Provided, always, and this present grant is upon condition, nevertheless, That this grant shall be duly registered in the Register's Office of this Province, within six months from the date hereof, and also that a docket thereof shall be entered in the Auditor's Office within the same time, if such establishment shall take place in this province. And provided, also, That if the said William Clark, his heirs or assigns, do not in all things fully comply with, and fulfil the condition herein above set forth, for the registering of this grant, within the time herein above limited for the completion thereof; or, if the said William Clark, his heirs or assigns, shall not pay to us, our heirs and successors, or to the Receiver General of our quit-rents, or to the proper officer appointed to receive the same, the said quit-rent of one halfpenny sterling per acre, on the said feast of St. Michael, or within fourteen days after, annually, for every acre contained in this grant, that then, and either of these cases respectively, this grant shall be void, any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithstanding; and the said lands, tenements, hereditaments, and premises, hereby specified, and every part and parcel thereof, shall revert to us, our heirs and successors, fully and absolutely, as if the same had never been granted.

Given under the great seal of our province of West Florida: Witness our trusty and well beloved Peter Chester, Esq., our Captain General, and Governor-in-chief in and over our said province, at Pensacola, this sixth day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and seventy-eight, and in the eighteenth year of our reign.

[G. s.] PETER CHESTER.

Passed the Secretary's Office.

PH. LIVINGSTON, JUN., Dep. Sec.

WEST FLORIDA :

Pursuant to a fiat from his excellency Peter Chester, Esq., Captain General and Governor-in-chief in and over His Majesty's province of West Florida, &c. to me directed, bearing date the sixth day of August, 1778, I have perused and inspected the within letters patent, and do hereby certify that there is no error therein apparent to me.

E. R. WEGG, Attorney General.

AUDITOR'S OFFICE, August 6, 1778.

A docket of the within grant is entered in book B, folio 42.

J. LORIMER, Deputy Auditor.

PENSACOLA, Secretary's Office.

I do hereby certify that the within letters patent, Surveyor General's certificate, together with the certificate of the Attorney General, are recorded in the Secretary and Register's Office of the province of West Florida, in liber A, No. 4, page 44. Examined and compared with the said record by

PH. LIVINGSTON, JUN., Deputy Secretary.

Entered in record of claims, (east side,) vol. 1, page 136, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited two deeds, one from A. Gindrat, bearing date the 16th day of June, 1801; conveying to Jesse McCall all the said Gindrat's right, title, and interest, in and to said tract of land; the other deed from Jesse McCall, bearing date the 23d of September, 1801, conveying to Samuel Mims all the said McCall's right, title, and claim, to said land, and the improvement thereon.

Adam Hollinger and William Pierce were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this claim; Adam Hollinger further testified, that the land in question was cultivated and inhabited by Samuel Mims. The said Pierce also deposed, that in the year 1795, the land in question was cultivated by Samuel Mims; that, from a conversation which he heard between the said Mims and William Clark, he was induced to believe, that the land was then the property of the said Clark, and that he, the said Mims, was the tenant at will of him, the said Clark, and that said Clark was an inhabitant and resident in the State of Georgia, on the 27th day of October, 1795.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOSEPH STIGGINS, representative of John Johnson: case No. 235 on the docket of the Board, and No. 83 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right to eight hundred acres, by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit :

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of an act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to land south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, lying east of the Mobile river, bounded on the east by lands belonging to the United States, south, by Mrs. Steel's donation, west, by the Tensaw lake, and north, by a donation of Joseph Stiggins, representative of Coleman and others, is claimed by Joseph Stiggins, representative of John Johnson, Esq. by virtue of the first section of said act, under a Spanish warrant, bearing date the 9th February, 1788. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

JOSEPH STIGGINS,
Representative of John Johnson, Esq.

May 11, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

It appearing from the files in this case, that there was no plot with the notice, which was filed with the Register on the 11th June, 1804, John Milliken, the surveyor, was duly sworn, and did depose, that, to the best of his recollection and belief, he filed a plot with said notice, on the 11th day of June, 1804; that the plot which he filed with the Register was afterwards brought to him by Stiggins; and that he, Milliken, made out a plot different from the one originally filed, and gave it to Stiggins; but whether he filed the altered plot or the original with the Register he could not say, but believed he did file the same, as amended, previous to the first of May, 1805, and that the plot now filed was conformable to the one amended by him for Stiggins.

The claimant exhibited a Spanish warrant of survey, in the words and figures following, to wit :

Don Estevan Miro, Colonel of the army, Governor of the province of Louisiana :

MOBILE, January 14, 1788.

John Johnson, inhabitant within the jurisdiction of Mobile, with all due respect, represents to your excellency, that there is on the bank of the Tensaw river a vacant piece of land of twenty acres, which to this period never has had any proprietor, he therefore humbly expects that the generosity of your excellency will grant him the property of said land, with the ordinary depth, giving orders to the Secretary of Government, of your city, for the concession of the said titles; therefore he entreats your excellency to grant him this favor.

JOHN JOHNSON

Don Vicent Folch, captain of the regiment of Louisiana and commandant of Mobile. I certify that the land which is solicited is vacant, according to the information that has been taken from several inhabitants, and in witness whereof I sign this, the date as above.

VICENT FOLCH.

NEW ORLEANS, February 9, 1788.

The surveyor of this province, Don Carlos Laveau Trudeau, will establish this petitioner on the twenty acres of land of front, which is solicited, with the common depth of forty acres, in the place indicated in the antecedent memorial, the same being vacant, and causing no prejudice to any one whatever, under the precise condition of making the road, and the regular clearing in the term of a year; and this concession to be null if, at the expiration of three years, the ground be not established, and until that time not to be alienated; after the fulfilment of which conditions the regular titles of property will be made out and granted.

ESTEVAN MIRO.

MOBILE, March 10, 1788.

I certify that the antecedent copy is equal to its original, which is in the archives of this place.

SANTIAGO DE LA SAUSSAYE.

PENSACOLA, February 22, 1804.

I do certify that the above is, to the best of my knowledge and judgment, a faithful translation of a Spanish document, transmitted to me by Mr. Joseph Stiggins, inhabitant of Tensaw.

JAMES INNERARITY.

The claimant exhibited three deeds or writings, that is to say, a deed from John Johnson, bearing date the 8th day of January, 1796, conveying to Arthur Rials, all right, title, and interest, which the said Johnson had to said tract of land, and the improvements thereon; a deed from Samuel Lyons, bearing date the 8th day of November, 1796, conveying to Joseph Stiggins all the said Lyons's right and title to said land and the improvements; also a deed from Arthur Rials, bearing date the 11th day of November, 1796, conveying to Joseph Stiggins all the said Rials's right, title, and claim to the aforesaid tract of land, and the improvements thereon made.

Reuben Dyer and Benjamin Pyburn were presented as witnesses, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim; that, as well as they recollected, the land in question was cultivated on the 27th day of October, 1795, by James Upton or William Hillis, and that the said land was cultivated for a considerable time before the year 1795, to the use of John Johnson, and continued in cultivation until it went into the possession of the said Upton or Hillis; that the said Johnson was, on the 9th day of February, 1788, twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family; that the cultivation of the said land, by the said Upton or Hillis, was to the use of Samuel Lyons.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Adjourned until Tuesday, the 21st instant.

WILLIAM WEBBER's case: commenced in page 739.

William H. Buford was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the plot and survey of the land in question; that the land lay in the county of Washington, and that the Indian claims to the whole of the said land had been extinguished; that it included the improvements of the claimant; and that he, Buford, knew of no interfering claim.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

HEIRS OF VALENTINE DUBROCA's case, No. 236 on the docket of the Board, and No. 49 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and thirty-nine acres and nine tenths of an acre, under the second section of the act.

The claimants presented their claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of an act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of the Tennessee river, and east of the Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, lying east of the Mobile river, bounded northeastwardly by lands claimed by Joseph Campbell, as the legal representative of Augustin Rochon, westwardly by the Mobile river, and on the south, by vacant land, is claimed by Martin Dubroca, widow, for the use and benefit of the heirs to the estate of Valentine Dubroca, deceased, the said Marton Dubroca being his widow, and acting for said estate, under and by virtue of the second section of the above mentioned act of Congress, for granting donation lands. To all which she begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot now delivered to the Register of the Land Office, to be established east of Pearl river, which plot is herewith filed.

FORT STODDERT, March 31, 1804.

MILAINE DUBROCA,
Acting for Marton Dubroca.
[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed March 26, 1804, by James Gordon.
Entered in record of claims, (east side,) vol. 1, page 120, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Adam Hollinger and Richard Barrow were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this claim. The said Barrow testified, that the land in question was cultivated by negroes, said to be the property of Dubroca, and superintended by a young man, son of said Dubroca, in the year 1797; but whether he cultivated to the use of the claimants, or to his own use, he did not know. The said Hollinger also testified, that Valentine Dubroca, by his negroes and one of his sons, cultivated a tract of land near the Sunflower.

Question. Do you know of more than one person by the name of Dubroca, who was the head of a family in the year 1795, 1796, or 1797?

Answer. I did not.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOSEPH CAMPBELL, representative of AUGUSTIN ROCHON AND LOUISA ROCHON; case No. 237 on the docket of the Board, and No. 65 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right to two thousand three hundred thirty-seven acres and five tenths of an acre, by virtue of two Spanish warrants of survey, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, viz.:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of an act of Congress passed the 3d of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of the Tennessee river, and east of the Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, lying east of the Mobile river, bounding northwardly by a bayou, which divides it from lands surveyed for the estate of Dominique, on the east by vacant land, southwardly, by lands known by the name of Daniel Ward's lands, and on the west, by the said river; is claimed by Joseph Campbell, legal representative of Augustin Rochon, said Rochon having sold said lands, or the titles thereof, to the said Joseph Campbell, under and by virtue of two Spanish grants or orders of survey, granted to Louisa Rochon and the said Augustin Rochon. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plots, now delivered to the Register of the Land Office to be established east of Pearl river, which plots are herewith filed, and the grants entered.

JOSEPH CAMPBELL.

Surveyed 8th March, 1804, by James Gordon. Chain bearers, John Burgess, William Weathers.

Entered in record of claims, (east of Tombigbee,) vol. 1, page 129, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Adam Hollinger and Richard Barrow were presented as witnesses, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this claim; that Augustin Rochon cultivated the land in question, from about the year 1793 until the evacuation of the Spanish troops in the year 1799; that they believed he was at that time, twenty-one years of age. That Augustin Rochon continued to cultivate the land in question, with the hands of Louis Rochon, (his mother,) and his own, from the year 1793, until the evacuation of the Spanish troops, which took place in the year 1799.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

THOMAS BATES, JUNIOR's, case, No. 238, on the docket of the Board, and No. 19 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the following words and figures, viz.:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of the Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the east side of Tombigbee, in the county of Washington, beginning on a cedar post in a field on the bank of Tombigbee river, running up the river bank, north, eighty-six degrees east, thirty chains; thence, north, sixty-eight degrees east, ten chains; thence, north, fifty-five degrees east, fifteen chains; thence, north, eighty-five degrees east, ten chains; thence, north, seventy-five degrees east, fifteen chains, to a swamp oak corner, to Richard Turvin on the bank of the river; thence, south, forty-five degrees east, seventy-five chains, crossing a cypress swamp to a stake; thence, south, sixty-two degrees west, eighty-six chains and fifty links, to a stake; thence, to the beginning; containing six hundred and forty acres, and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by Thomas Bates, Junior, in and by virtue of the second section of said act, as a donation, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

THOMAS BATES, JUN.

MARCH 23, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed February 23, 1804, by Natt Christmas-Chain bearers, John Barnett, John Hawkins.

Entered in record of claims, (east side) vol. 1, page 73, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Joseph Bates and Richard Barrow were presented as witnesses, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim. The said Bates testified, that before the year 1797, throughout that year and ever since, Thomas Bates, Jun., the present claimant, had inhabited and cultivated the land in question, and that in the month of April, 1797, he arrived at the age of twenty-one years.

Question. What kind of cultivation and improvement hath the claimant made on the land by him claimed?

Answer. Being an unmarried man, he lived near by the land, in my family, but carried on business by himself. The first year he cleared about seven acres, and in the year 1797 had a crop on the same; he has since regularly increased his improvements, to about forty acres now under cultivation; his buildings are a horse stable and corn house.

Question to the said Barrow. Who cultivated the land in question in the year 1797?

Answer. I do not know.

Question. Was Thomas Bates, Jun. twenty-one years of age in 1797?

Answer. I do not know, but I have reasons to believe he was.

Question. How many acres has the said Bates in cultivation?

Answer. I suppose about twenty acres at this time.

Natt Christmas, surveyor, was duly sworn, and did depose, that Thomas Bates, Junior's, donation claim exhibited to the board included the larger part of his improvements and cleared land; that an actual survey was made on the river or front of the land, and a few chains on the line above and below running out from the river; that in consequence of high water it was impracticable to complete the survey, except by plotting the same.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES CALLIER, representative of Joseph Campbell: case commenced in page 738.

Henry Weathers and Richard Barrow were presented as witnesses, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim; that the land in question was cultivated to the use of the widow Trouillet in the year 1797, and that she was at that time the head of a family. The said Weathers also deposed that, in the year 1797, he was hired by the widow Trouillet to work on the land in question; that at that time she lived in the town of Mobile, as well as he recollected. The said Barrow further deposed, that he did believe that the widow Trouillet was living on the bluff, nearly opposite the land in question, in the year 1797.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

NATT CHRISTMAS and LEMUEL HENRY's case: the former commenced in page 738, the latter in page 745; each of whom claim as representative of Michael Hartly.

Rebecca Hartly and William Hartly were presented as witnesses, May 15th, 1805, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, the said Rebecca deposed, that she should be richer if Natt Christmas got the land than if Mr. Henry got it, but also said, that it made no difference with her, whether Natt Christmas obtained a right to the land or not, as he was to pay the same amount in either case; that, as well as she recollected, about three weeks ago, on Sunday, young Mr. Henry came to the dwelling house of Michael Hartly, and asked her if Mr. Hartly was at home; that she answered that he was not, and then asked him, Henry, if he was acquainted with Hartly; he said he was not, to which she replied, that Hartly had just taken his gun and walked out, and that he would return home in a short time; that Mr. Henry said he had come to qualify Mr. Hartly about a piece of land, opposite to Nanna Hubba Bluff, in the Nanna Hubba Island; that she told Henry that Mr. Hartly could swear nothing in his behalf; he said that made no difference, that he had come to qualify him, Hartly, to what he knew about the land, and nothing else; that Mr. Henry then accompanied her to the cow-pen, where she went to milk the cows; that they had no more conversation about the land until some time after dark, but, that, before this time, Mr. Henry and Mr. Hartly, her husband, had both returned to the house; that Mr. Henry then stated to her husband, that he, Henry, did not know what to do about the land, and wished that his brother had come himself, as he knew more about these things: but, that he would write down what he, Hartly, would swear to about the land, and take it and show it to his brother, and that he might then do as he pleased; that Mr. Henry then wrote down, as he read to them, that Michael Hartly had cultivated the land in Nanna Hubba Island, in the year 1797, for his own use, or words to that effect; that to that writing her husband made his mark. The conveyance made by Hartly to Henry being read to Mistress Hartly, she said, that she well recollected that Henry read from the beginning of the writing as far as the words in the year 1797, before and afterwards; but, that the words from thence to the end of the instrument, she did not recollect to have heard before, nor did she believe that it ever was read to her or to her husband; that she had heard read a copy of the instrument written by Henry. The said William deposed, that he was not interested in this claim; that he heard read a writing that John Henry wrote, and which his father, Mr. Hartly, made his mark to, but that it only stated, as well as he recollected, that his father cultivated the land in Nanna Hubba Island, in the year 1797, before and afterwards, that he had since heard read a copy of the writing made by John Henry, to which his father made his mark; that Henry said that he had come to qualify his father, that he would take the writing to his brother; that he did not think it would be of any account, but his brother might do with it as he pleased.

Joseph Bates, Senior, Thomas Bates, Junior, Henry Weathers, John Henry and Adam Hollinger were this day, 25th of May, presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim.

Question to John Henry. Did you subscribe your name to the instrument of writing from Michael Hartly to Lemuel Henry?

Answer. I did.

Question. Did you make this instrument of writing?

Answer. I did?

Question. Did you read the whole of this writing to the said Michael Hartly within his hearing?

Answer. I did, in the presence and hearing of him, his wife, and son.

Question. What consideration did you, or were you to give the said Hartly for the land conveyed by this instrument of writing?

Answer. I believe the principal consideration, or object of Mr. Hartly, was to prevent Antonio Espaho from obtaining the land in question, and twenty dollars, which I promised should be given to him by Lemuel Henry, in case he should obtain said land.

Question. Was you instructed by Lemuel Henry to get Michael Hartly, in case you should obtain any instrument of writing relative to the land in question, to certify in the body of the same, the time of cultivating the said land?

Answer. I was.

Question. When you found that Hartly refused to say or do any thing in support of Espaho's claim, did not Hartly anxiously embrace the opportunity of doing any thing in his power for the support of his own claim, whereby said Espaho might be defeated, and he, Hartly, obtain the sum of twenty dollars?

Answer. He said he would do any thing in his power.

Question. From the conversation which passed in Hartly's family, was it or not generally and well understood what was the contents and substance of the instrument of writing from said Hartly to said Henry?

Answer. It appeared to be well understood.

Question. From the instructions you received, were there any rational motives for you to commit a fraud?

Answer. None.

Question. Did you or not tell Mr. Hartly, that it was two years too late for him to get the land in question?

Answer. I told Mr. Hartly that it was two years too late for him to get a pre-emption.

Question. Did you not tell Mr. Hartly, after obtaining the instrument in writing, that it was of no account, but that you would take it to your brother, and he might do as he pleased with it?

Answer. I told him my brother would support Turnbull's claim if he could, and if he did, that this instrument in writing would die of course.

Question. Did you not tell Mr. Hartly that your brother had possession of the land in question; and that it was impossible for him, Hartly, to get the same?

Answer. I told him my brother had the land in possession, and would continue to hold it under Espaho's claim if he could; that my brother wished to avoid disputes, and had sent me to get his, Hartly's right if he had any.

Question. Why did you not get Mrs. Hartly, or her son William Hartly, to witness this instrument of writing?

Answer. Because they lived below the line, and I knew of no way of getting them above.

Question. Did you not get the paper on which this writing was made, from Mrs. Hartly?

Answer. I did not; the paper on which this writing was made I took with me in my pocket book. Mrs. Hartly did give a piece of paper, on which I began the instrument of writing, but found the ink spread on it in such a manner that it would not do, and I then took the paper from my pocket book on which the same is made.

Question. Did you not endeavor as much as in your power to keep Mr. Hartly ignorant of the value of his title?

Answer. I did not explain the law to him, and told him I did not think his claim very good, in consequence of Turnbull's claim to the same.

Question. Did you not tell Mr. Hartly that you would make Espaho pay you fifty dollars for riding down there to do his business?

Answer. I told him that Espaho ought to pay for my doing his business below the line, as I had understood by the contract between him and my brother, he was to do all that might be necessary below the line.

The said Weathers deposed, that he saw Michael Hartly sign the deed of conveyance from him to Natt Christmas, dated the 27th of April, by making his mark and acknowledging the same, and that he, Weathers, witnessed the same by making his mark thereon; that said deed was executed, as well as he recollected, on Sunday.

Question. Did any other person than yourself sign the instrument of writing from Hartly to Christmas, as a witness?

Answer. I do not recollect, I cannot read writing, and do not know whether there was any other witness or not, but the paper appears the same as when I made my mark thereto. Mr. Milliken wrote my name, and was present when I made my mark.

Question. Was Major Christmas present at the making of this contract?

Answer. He was not.

Question. Did you hear the contract made?

Answer. I did, and Mr. Milliken gave his note for one hundred dollars, as a consideration therefor.

Question. Who went down for you as a witness?

Answer. Mr. Milliken.

Question. What was he to give you for coming up?

Answer. Nothing at all; I had business of my own at the Bluff.

Question. Did Mr. Milliken tell you it was absolutely necessary you should come up as a witness?

Answer. He told me that he wanted me to come and prove the deed which I had witnessed.

The said Thomas Bates, Jun., deposed, that he heard Mr. Milliken say that he was to give Mr. Hartly one hundred dollars, if he, Milliken, should hold the land in question.

Question. Did you hear Mr. Hartly say whether he was to have any thing for coming to the Board of Commissioners to testify to the instrument of writing from him to Natt Christmas?

Answer. I heard him say he was to have twenty-five dollars, and was to be paid on his return from the Board of Commissioners.

Question. Did you not hear Mr. Milliken say, that he told Mr. Hartly, if he had signed any other instrument of writing, conveying the land in question, not to sign the one to Natt Christmas?

Answer. He said he told him over and often, and that Hartly said that he had not signed any other writing.

The said Joseph Bates, Sen., deposed, that he heard Mr. Hartly say that he was to have one hundred dollars for the land in question, and twenty dollars for his coming up to the Board of Commissioners, as a witness in support of the claim of Natt Christmas.

The said Hollinger deposed, that he heard Mr. Milliken say that he had bought the land in question of Mr. Hartly, for Natt Christmas, and that said Christmas was to pay said Hartly one hundred dollars for the same, in case he, Christmas, should obtain it.

Question. Do you or not believe that, if a stranger was to apply to Mr. Hartly to purchase the land in question, that he would again sell it?

Answer. I do expect he would, although I know no harm of the man.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

ANTONIO ESPAHO, representative of John Turnbull: case No. 239 on the docket of the Board, and No. 15 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right to eight hundred acres, by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, viz.:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to land south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situate on the east side of Tombigbee river in the county of Washington, beginning at a post on said river, being Bates's lower corner, and running north, twenty-seven degrees east, one hundred and twenty-three chains and fifty links, to a stake corner; thence, south, sixty-three degrees east, sixty-three chains, to a stake corner; thence, south, twenty-seven degrees west, one hundred and twenty-three chains fifty links, to the river; thence, up the said river, as plotted, to the beginning; and as such form and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing eight hundred acres: is claimed by Lemuel Henry, attorney in fact for Antonio Espaho, legal representative of John Turnbull, in and by virtue of a Spanish warrant, or order of survey, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

LEMUEL HENRY,

Attorney in fact for Antonio Espaho.

MARCH 30, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Chain bearers, James McConnell and Edmund Smith. Surveyed March 28th, 1804, by J. Milliken.

A Spanish warrant of survey was exhibited as follows, to wit:

His Excellency Estevan Miro, Brigadier of the Royal army, Governor and Intendant General of the province of Louisiana and West Florida, &c. &c.

John Turnbull, inhabitant in the jurisdiction of Mobile, most respectfully solicits and declares, that there is on the Tombigbee river twenty acres of vacant land, situate opposite to land belonging to him, called la Nannahaba, the which, until now, has not had a possessor; therefore, he hopes you may grant him the proprietary, and that your excellency may give orders unto the Secretary of Government to render him the necessary titles, to the end that he might be put in actual possession, and which favor he will ever bear in mind.

JOHN TURNBULL.

MOBILE, January 2, 1790.

MOBILE, January 4, 1790.

Don Vincente Folch, Captain of the Louisiana regiment, civil and military Commandant of Mobile and its district, certifies that the result of an inquiry made of several inhabitants, is that the land remains vacant, that the above named solicits, and as he has sufficient force to improve it, your excellency may make the cession if found suitable.

VINCENTE FOLCH.

NEW ORLEANS, January 14, 1790.

The Surveyor General of this province, Don Carlos Trudeau, will establish the above named petitioner on twenty acres of land in front, with the ordinary depth of forty, in the place above mentioned in the foregoing memorial, it not being prejudicial to any person, under which supposition the measurement will be extended in continuation and remitted to me, that I may forward to the party interested the corresponding titles in favor.

ESTEVAN MIRO.

MOBILE, March 6, 1804.

Don Joaquin de Osorno, Captain of regiment of infantry of Louisiana, Commandant civil and military of Mobile, certifies, that the above writing is a true copy of the original in the archives at my charge.

JOAQ. DE OSORNO.

The above is a copy of the Spanish grant.

THOMAS PRICE.

The above was compared exact with the original in this office, under my charge, by me,

JOAQ. DE OSORNO.

I, Thomas Price, of the post of Mobile, English interpreter for His Majesty the King of Spain, do solemnly swear by the Almighty God, and by the Holy Cross, that this is a true and faithful translation of the Spanish grant or writing hereto annexed.

THOMAS PRICE.

Subscribed and sworn before the Board, March 21, 1804.—Attest: DAVID PARMELEE 2d, Clerk.

Entered in record of claims, (east of Tombigbee,) vol. 1, page 58, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Adam Hollinger, Richard Barrow, and Joseph Bates, Sen. were presented as witnesses, and being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this claim. The said Bates also deposed, that the land in question was cultivated in the years 1793, 1794, and 1795, by a man by the name of Alexander; that John Turnbull informed him, Bates, on Nanna Hubba bluff, that he, Turnbull, had permitted the said Alexander to cultivate the same, and that said Alexander informed him, Bates, that he was on the place by permission of said Turnbull, and that the said Turnbull was, on the 14th day of January, 1790, more than twenty-one years of age.

Question. Where did said Turnbull live in the year 1795?

Answer. I believe that he lived in the town of Mobile, but I am not confident.

Question to the said Barrow. Did John Turnbull cultivate the land in question, in the year 1795?

Answer. He did not; a man by the name of Alexander cultivated said land in the years 1794 and 1795.

Question. To whose use did Alexander cultivate this land?

Answer. To his own use, I believe.

Question. Did you ever hear Alexander say, that he cultivated this land for John Turnbull?

Answer. I did not, to my recollection.

Question. Did you ever know of Alexander's paying any rent to Turnbull?

Answer. I did not, but that John Turnbull was, on the 14th day of January, 1790, more than twenty-one years of age.

The said Hollinger deposed, that John Turnbull did not cultivate the land in question in the year 1795; that said land was, at that time, cultivated by a man of the name of Alexander, but whether to his own use or Turnbull's, he knew not; that on the 14th day of January, 1790, John Turnbull was more than twenty-one years of age.

John Milliken, surveyor, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot returned to the Board of Commissioners, by Lemuel Henry, attorney in fact for Antonio Espaho, under a Spanish warrant of survey; that this claim interfered with the claim of Joseph Bates, Senior's, Spanish warrant, Natt Christmas's donation claim, as representative of Michael Hartly, Thomas Bates, Junior's, donation claim, and Lemuel Henry's donation claim, as representative of Michael Hartly, as represented in the general map of the Nanna Hubba Island, presented to the Board by said Milliken.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Adjourned until Wednesday, the 29th instant.

WEDNESDAY, May 29, 1805.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Robert C. Nicholas, Joseph Chambers.

Adjourned until Saturday, the 1st day of June next.

SATURDAY, June 1, 1805.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Robert C. Nicholas, Joseph Chambers.

John Milliken, surveyor, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the surveys and plots, returned to the Board of Commissioners, by the following claimants, to wit:

James Mills, representative of John Linder, Senior, Spanish warrant of survey; Lemuel Henry, representative of John Linder, Senior, Spanish warrant of survey; heirs of Michael Milton, donation claim; John Mills, donation claim; Moses Stedham, donation claim; Jesse Ross, representative of Abraham Walker, donation claim; John Randon, donation claim; William McDaniel, representative of George Phillips, donation claim; Joseph Stiggins, donation claim; Jordan Proctor, donation claim; Richard Coleman, donation claim; Reuben Dyer, donation claim; James Cockaram, representative of Samuel Lyons, donation claim; John Weekley, representative of James Farr, donation claim; William Collins, representative of Charles Conway, donation claim; George Weekley, donation claim; Francis Steel, donation claim; William Buford, representative of George Weekley, Senior, donation claim; Cornelius Dunn, pre-emption claim; William Weekley, pre-emption claim; and Simeon Wilks, donation claim; that said plots respectively contained true representations of the land therein described, according to the best of his knowledge and belief, and did include the plantations and improvements of the several claimants; that he knew of no interfering lines or claims; that the plot exhibited to the Board, in the case of Joseph Stiggins, representative of John Johnson, was made and surveyed in part by him, Milliken; that he believed that it gave a correct view of the land claimed by said Stiggins, and included his houses and cleared land; and that it did not interfere with any other claim.

The Board ordered that these cases be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM SHIELDS'S case: commenced in page 738.

John Milliken, surveyor, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot in this case; that he did not make an actual survey of this plot, further than twenty-five chains on the river bank, beginning on cotton tree, and plotted the balance of the survey; that this survey, as laid down in the general map of the Nanna Hubba Island, he believed to be a more correct representation of the land claimed; that it included the improvements of the claimant.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOSIAH FLETCHER'S case: commenced in page 734.

John Milliken, surveyor, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot in this case; that this claim interferes with the claim of Joseph Thompson, under a Spanish warrant of survey, as described in the general map of the Nanna Hubba Island, which he made and presented to the Board.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

BENJAMIN FEW'S case: commenced in page 729.

John Milliken, surveyor, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot in this case; that from information, he believed that this claim was entirely covered by the claim of Dominique de Olive, presented to the Board by Nicholas Weeks, executor of Dominique, under a Spanish warrant.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SAMUEL TREND'S case: commenced in page 742.

John Milliken, surveyor, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot in this case; that the larger part of this claim is included within the lines of the donation claim of Francis Killingworth, as described in the plot of this claimant.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOSEPH THOMPSON, representative of Adam Hollinger: case commenced in page 729.

John Milliken, surveyor, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot in this case; that this claim interfered with the donation claim of Samuel Mims, and the donation claim of Josiah Fletcher, as described in the general map of the Nanna Hubba Island which he presented to the Board.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

GEORGE WEEKLEY, representative of Michael Skipper: case commenced in page 731.

John Milliken, surveyor, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot in this case; that this claim interfered with the donation claim of Moses Stedham, as described in the general map of Nanna Hubba Island, which he presented to the Board.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

HEIRS OF JOHN LINDER, JUN.: case commenced in page 733.

John Milliken, surveyor, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot in this case; that this claim interfered with the donation claim of Benjamin Hooven, and included his buildings and nearly all of his cleared land, as described in the plot of this claim.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

FRANCIS KILLINGWORTH, representative of William Mills: case commenced in page 731.

John Milliken, surveyor, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot in this case; that this claim interfered with the donation claim of Samuel Trend, as described in the plot of the two surveys.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

BENJAMIN HOOVEN'S case: commenced in page 733.

John Milliken, surveyor, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot in this case; that this claim interfered with the claim of Linder's heirs, under a Spanish warrant, as described in the plot of this claimant.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JAMES RANDON'S case: commenced in page 735.

John Milliken, surveyor, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot in this case; that this claim interfered with the donation claim of Joseph Thompson, as described in the plot of this claimant.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

SAMUEL MIM'S case: commenced in page 744.

John Milliken, surveyor, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot in this case; that this claim interfered with the donation claim of Joseph Thompson, as described in the general map of the Nanna Hubba island, which said Milliken presented to the Board.

BENJAMIN STEDHAM'S case: commenced in page 736.

John Milliken, surveyor, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot in this case; that this claim interfered with the donation claim of Francis Ballard, as described in the general map of the Nanna Hubba island, which said Milliken presented to the Board.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

JOSEPH THOMPSON'S case: commenced in page 730.

John Milliken, surveyor, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey and plot in this case; that this claim interfered with the donation claim of James Randon, as described in his plot.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM PIERCE and JOHN PIERCE, representatives of Jeremiah Phillips: case commenced in page 730.

John Milliken, surveyor, being duly sworn, deposed, that he made the survey, and Clinch Gray made the plot in this case; that the plot, laid in by the claimants, did not represent the land in question, as would more fully appear, by referring to said plot, and the general map of the Nanna Hubba island, presented to the Board by said Milliken; that the interferences would appear on the said general map, where the plot was altered, so as to give a true representation of the land claimed.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM PIERCE and JOHN PIERCE, representatives of Francis Ballard: case commenced in page 737.

John Milliken, surveyor, being duly sworn, deposed, that the plot exhibited to the Board in this case, was, as he believed, an exact copy of the one filed in the claim of William and John Pierce, as representatives of Jeremiah Phillips.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

Adjourned until Wednesday, the 5th instant.

WEDNESDAY, June 5, 1805.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Robert C. Nicholas, Joseph Chambers.

SATURDAY, June 8, 1805.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Robert C. Nicholas, Joseph Chambers.

THOMAS BATES, Junior's case: commenced in page 749.

Michael Hartly was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, deposed, that he had no interest in this claim; that, in the spring of the year 1797, he helped Thomas Bates, Jun., the present claimant, to roll his logs on the land in question, and that said Bates cultivated the same, in that year, to his own use; that he was at that time twenty-one years of age, as he, Hartly was informed by the family of the claimant.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM BUFORD, representative of Conrad Selhoof: case commenced in page 742.

Richard Coleman and Thomas Marshall were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim; the said Coleman further deposed, that, as well as he recollected, in the year 1795, he saw Mr. John Linder, and a Mr. Lott, who was in the employment of said Linder, hauling corn to the house of said Linder, which corn, they both told him, they had brought out of Piney island, a plantation on the land in question; the said Marshall also deposed, that some time in the latter end of the year 1794, he came to Tensaw to live; that in the year 1795, he was on the land in question, at that time known as Collett's island; that he was on the island, and saw the hands of John Linder and his overseer, Mr. Lott, cultivating the land in question; that he got roasting ears out of the fields, and that he well recollected that these circumstances took place after the death of Townsen.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

NATT CHRISTMAS, representative of Michael Hartly: case commenced in page 738.

Michael Hartly appeared in person before the Board, and acknowledged the instrument of writing, or deed of conveyance, which is noted in page 738, to be his free and voluntary act, and for the uses and to the purposes mentioned in said deed.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

NATT CHRISTMAS's case, No. 240 on the docket of the Board, and No. 87 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right of pre-emption of one hundred and sixty acres, under the third section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of an act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to land south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, lying in the island known by the name of Nanna Hubba, formed by the Cut-off of the rivers Tombigbee and Alabama, in the county of Washington, beginning on a cedar stake, being Joseph Bates's lower corner, near the bank of the river; running thence, north, seventy-five degrees east, eighty chains; thence, south, to the river Tombigbee; thence, up the margin of said river to the beginning; containing one hundred and sixty acres: is claimed by Natt Christmas, as a pre-emption, by virtue of the third section of said act, and is now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office east of Pearl river, to be recorded agreeably to the directions of said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to a copy of the plot herewith filed.

NATT CHRISTMAS.

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

James Callier and William Buford were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed that they were not interested in this claim; that they believed that Natt Christmas, the claimant, cultivated the land in question, on the 3d of March, 1803, before and afterwards, and that he was at that time twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM McDANIEL, representative of George Phillips; case No. 241 on the docket of the Board, and No. 39 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and thirty-two acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the east side of Tombigbee, on Major's creek, in the county of Washington, beginning at an iron wood, and running north, seventy-five degrees east, seventy-seven chains, to a stake; thence, north, fifteen degrees west, forty-five chains, to a stake; thence, south, sixty-one degrees east, one hundred and forty-five chains, to a stake; thence, south, twenty chains, to a black gum; thence, north, eighty-four degrees east, seventy-two chains, to a pine; thence, north, sixty degrees west, thirty-five chains, to Major's creek; and thence, with the creek, to the beginning; containing six hundred and thirty-two acres, having such shape, form and marks, natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot annexed: is claimed by William McDaniel, legal representative of George Phillips, in and by virtue of the second section of said act, as a donation, and now exhibited to the Register of the Land Office, east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the plot herewith filed.

WILLIAM McDANIEL,

Legal representative of George Phillips.

MARCH 27, 1804.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed March 23, 1804, by John Milliken. Chain bearers, James McConnell and Levi Qualls.

Entered in record of claims, (east side Tombigbee,) vol. 1, page 113, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for
JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Richard Coleman and William Buford were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they had no interest in this claim; the said Coleman testified, that, as well as he recollected, George Phillips inhabited and cultivated the land in question, in the year 1797, and continued thereon until his death; that he was, in the year 1797, twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family; that he, Coleman, believed that the land had been in cultivation ever since, to the use of the claimant; that he knew that the present claimant had derived his title to the land in question, from Wyseman Walker, the second husband of the wife of George Phillips; that said Phillips left, when he died, two children, a son and a daughter; the said Buford testified, that he had heard Wyseman Walker, the present husband of the late wife of George Phillips, deceased, say, that he, Walker, had sold said land to William McDaniel; that Mrs. Walker, late Mrs. Phillips, had two children by George Phillips, her first husband.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM BUFORD, representative of George Weekley, Sen.; case No. 242 on the docket of the Board, and No. 53 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A donation of six hundred and forty acres, under the second section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress, passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the east side of the river Tombigbee, bounded to the north, by the Major's creek and John Mills's lands, to the south by Conrad Selhoof, and to the west by Glade Rasley's claim, and hath such marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed, containing six hundred and forty acres: is claimed by William Buford, under and in virtue of a donation right, now delivered to the Register of the Land Office, established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

W. BUFORD.

[Plot omitted.]

Surveyed 22d March, 1804, by John Milliken. Chain bearers, James McConnell and Levi Qualls.

Entered in record of claims, (east side,) vol. 1, page 123, by EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, for
JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

Richard Coleman, Thomas Marshall, and John Milliken, were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, they deposed, that they were not interested in this claim; the said Coleman testified that, as well as he recollected, in the year 1797, the land in question was cultivated by Peter Rolly, a Spanish commandant, by permission of John Linder, Sen. who continued thereon until the evacuation of the Spaniards in 1799; that, as he, Coleman, believed, said Linder was, in the year 1797, twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family.

Question. Has said land been cultivated ever since the evacuation of the Spaniards or not?

Answer. I do not recollect to have seen the place evacuated.

Question. Has this land been constantly cultivated to the use of John Linder, Sen?

Answer. I know of no other claimant.

Question. By whom was this land cultivated on the 3d day of March, 1803?

Answer. I do not recollect.

The said Marshall deposed, that as well as he recollected, he came to live on the land in question, with Peter Rolly, a Spanish commandant, who was the tenant of John Linder, Senior; that said Rolly cultivated a considerable garden on said land, in that year; that, in the same year said Linder removed from the place in question, below the present boundary line, to a place called Honeycut's bluff.

The said Milliken deposed, that he had reason to believe that Arthur Patton resided on, and cultivated the land in question on the 3d of March, 1803; that he saw Mr. Patton on the place in the fall of the same year; and saw a crop on the land.

Lemuel Henry being duly sworn, deposed, that he always understood and did believe, that Arthur Patton inhabited and cultivated the land in question, on the third day of March, 1803, by and under the permission of John Mills, executor of John Linder.

JOSEPH CAMPBELL, representative of Augustin Rochon and Louisa Rochon; case commenced in page 748.

The claimant exhibited two Spanish warrants of survey, in the words and figures following, to wit:

MOBILE, December 31, 1793.

His Excellency the GOVERNOR GENERAL:

Mr. Augustin Rochon of this place, and Lieutenant of its militia, with respect, lays before you that there is on the river of Tombigbee twenty acres of vacant land, bounded on the south by a tract that the widow Rochon petitioned for, and on the north by a bayou without name, that divides it; and not having had until now any owner, and the petitioner having sufficient force for the cultivation, he respectfully prays that the proper titles may be passed through the Secretary's Office of Government; a favor he hopes to receive from your excellency

AUGUSTIN ROCHON.

MOBILE, February 20, 1794.

His Excellency the GOVERNOR GENERAL:

By the information I have taken from several planters in this jurisdiction, the twenty acres of land petitioned for as above is proved to be vacant, and belonging to the King; therefore, if your excellency thinks proper, the titles of concession may be passed the Secretary's Office of Government.

PEDRO OLIVIER.

NEW ORLEANS, March 9, 1794.

The Surveyor General of this province, or whoever may be so appointed, will settle the petitioner on ten acres of land in front, out of the twenty petitioned for, with the ordinary depth of forty acres; situated in the place expressed in the preceding memorial, and not to injure the neighbors; with the precise conditions of making a road and regular clearing, in the precise space of one year; and to remain null this concession, if, at the expiration of the precise space of three years, the land shall not be found settled, and not in a situation to be alienated: under which proposition the survey will be made and remitted to me, in order to furnish the interested the proper title in form.

BARON DE CARONDELET.

MOBILE, December 31, 1793.

His Excellency the GOVERNOR GENERAL:

The widow Rochon of this place, with due respect, appears before you and says, that, on the Tombigbee river, there are thirty acres in front with the corresponding depth, of vacant land, having no proprietor: bounded on the north by a tract belonging to Mr. Augustin Rochon, and on the south by another that belonged formerly to Mr. Daniel Ward; and as it is desired that the petitioner has sufficient force for its cultivation, respectfully prays your excellency, that the corresponding titles of right may be passed through the Secretary's Office of Government; a favor she hopes to receive from your excellency.

Widow ROCHON.

MOBILE, January 20, 1794.

His Excellency the GOVERNOR GENERAL:

By the information I have taken from several planters in this jurisdiction, the land petitioned for as above is proved to be vacant; and if your excellency thinks proper, the titles of concession may be passed.

PEDRO OLIVIER.

NEW ORLEANS, March 9, 1794.

The Surveyor General of this province, or whoever may be so appointed, will settle the petitioner on ten acres of land in front out of the thirty acres petitioned for, with the ordinary depth of forty acres; situated in the place pointed out in the preceding memorial, being vacant, and not to injure the neighbors; with the precise condition of making a road, and regular clearing in the precise space of one year; and to remain null this concession, if, at the end of the precise space of three years, the land shall not be found settled, and not in a situation to be alienated; under which proposition the survey will be made and remitted to me, in order to furnish the interested with titles in form.

J. GORDON.

Subscribed and sworn before the Board, June 14, 1805.—Attest: DAVID PARMELEE 2d, Clerk.

On the back of the said Spanish orders of survey are two endorsements, in the words and figures following, to wit:

I do assign the within title papers or warrants to Joseph Campbell, for value received; as witness my hand and seal, this 27th day of February, 1804.

AUGUSTIN ROCHON. [L. s.]

Attest: R. H. GILMER, NICHOLAS WEEKS.

I do assign the within title papers or warrants to Joseph Campbell, for value received; as witness my hand and seal, this 27th day of February, 1804.

AUGUSTIN ROCHON.

Attest: R. H. GILMER, NICHOLAS WEEKS.

The claimant exhibited a power or letter of attorney from the widow Rochon, bearing date the 26th February, 1804, authorizing Augustin Rochon to do, in her behalf, as he might think fit in all things respecting her lands in the county of Washington, in the Mississippi territory.

Simon Andrey being duly sworn, deposed, that the lands now claimed under the Spanish warrants of survey, one in the name of Augustin Rochon, and the other in the name of the widow Rochon, were inhabited and cultivated on the 27th day of October, 1795, by said Augustin Rochon; that the cultivation was made by his slaves, and the slaves of the widow Rochon, his mother; and that she was twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family, on the 9th day of March, 1794.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

BENJAMIN STEDHAM's case: commenced in page 736.

Benjamin Hooven was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn and interrogated by the Board, he deposed, that he was not interested in this claim; that the land in question was cultivated on the 3d of March, 1803, by Moses Stedham; but whether he cultivated to his own use or to the use of the claimant, he Hooven, did not know: that Moses Stedham was, on the 3d of March, 1803, twenty-one years of age, and the head of a family.

NARCISO BROUTIN's case commenced in page 732.

The claimant exhibited a deposition in the words and figures following, viz.:

PENSACOLA, February 12, 1805.

His Excellency the GOVERNOR GENERAL:

Mr. James Innerarity of this place, agent for Mr. Young Gains, planter, in the district of Tombigbee, with the greatest respect appears before you and sets forth, that the said Gains, in order to assure to himself the possession of some lands which he has bought of Narcissus Broutin, in said district, when he was under the dominion of His Catholic Majesty, stands in need of the legal testimony of Geraud, of this place, in order to prove that the said lands were sowed and cultivated before the American Government took possession of the district; therefore, he prays your excellency to call before your tribunal the said Geraud, and make him deliver on oath what he knows of the following points: If he remembers having ascended the river Tombigbee in the month of October, in the year 1795? If afterwards, he observed a plantation situated at the conflux of the rivers Tombigbee and Alabama, on the east bank? If he knew to whom belonged that plantation before mentioned, and if the owner of it was a Spanish subject? If said plantation was cultivated and sowed at that time, and if there were houses built upon it? And after these declarations are made that the original may be returned for the purposes intended, which is a favor I hope to merit from the known justice of your excellency.

JAMES INNERARITY.

PENSACOLA, February 13, 1805.

In order to legalize the declaration of Felix Geraud, for want of a notary, I named for the purpose Mr. Mathias Cervera and Francisco A. Navarro, the which they accepted, and offered to fulfil the charge preferred, in order to legalize the oath; and in due form presented themselves and signed with me.

VICENTE FOLCH,
FRANCISCO A. NAVARRO,
MATHIAS CERVERA.

On the same day, month, and year, Felix Geraud presented himself before me and the assisting witnesses: and it was demanded if he swore by God and the Cross to say the truth to the interrogatory set forth in this notice; he said, yes, he swore.

It was demanded by the tenor of it, the which was tated to him, and that he should make a true declaration of all. He said, that he remembered to have ascended the river Tombigbee in the year past of 1795; and that he saw there was a plantation between the rivers Tombigbee and Alabama, on the east bank, and that it belonged to Mr. Narcissus Broutin, a Spanish planter; that he had houses, &c.; that, in the time of which he spoke, his negroes were clearing the land of the plantation, and that he knew the said Broutin then sowed the said plantation; that is all he has to say on the business, the which he affirms and ratifies under the oath given; that he is in years, and signs this with me and the assisting witnesses.

FELIX GERAUD, FOLCH,
FRANCISCO A. NAVARRO.
MATHIAS CERVERA.

I, Joseph Cordon, do solemnly swear by the ever-living God, that this is a true and faithful translation of the Spanish affidavit or writing hereto annexed, according to my best knowledge and belief.

JAMES CARPENTER, heir at law to Richard, Caleb, and Joseph Carpenter: case, No. 243 on the docket of the Board, and No. 1 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right to one thousand acres, by virtue of a British grant, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, viz.:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of an act of Congress passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, lying east of the Alabama river, butted and bounded to the south and southwest on the lands of Jacob Blackwell, on the north by the river, and on all other sides vacant, about forty-five miles from Mobile town, is claimed by James Carpenter, of Adams county, Mississippi territory, under and by virtue of a British patent granted to Richard, Caleb, and Joseph Carpenter, as may appear by the original patent, now delivered to the Register of the Land Office, to be established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by that act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

JAMES CARPENTER,

Heir at law to Richard, Caleb, and Joseph Carpenter.

WEST FLORIDA, ss.

GEORGE THE THIRD, by the grace of God, of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, defender of the faith, &c. To all to whom these presents shall come, greeting:

Know ye, that we, of our special grace, certain knowledge, and mere motion, have given and granted, and, by these presents, for us, our heirs and successors, do give and grant, unto Richard, Caleb, and Joseph Carpenter, their heirs and assigns, all that tract of land, situated on the east side of the Alabama river, butting and bounding to the south and southwest on the land of Jacob Blackwell, and on the northwest side on the river, and on all other parts by vacant land, about forty-five miles from Mobile town, in our province of West Florida, and having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot thereof hereunto annexed, as drawn by our Surveyor General of lands; which said tract of land contains one thousand acres, and is bounded as by the further certificate hereunto likewise annexed, under the hand of our said Surveyor General of lands, in our said province, may more fully and at large appear; together with all woods, underwoods, timber, and timber trees, lakes, ponds, fishings, waters, watercourses, profits, commodities, hereditaments, and appurtenances whatsoever thereunto belonging, or in anywise appertaining; together also with privilege of hunting, hawking, and fowling, in and upon the same, and all mines and minerals, reserving to us, our heirs and successors all mines of gold and silver: to have and to hold the said tract of land, and all and singular the premises hereby granted, with the appurtenances, unto the said Richard, Caleb, and Joseph Carpenter, their heirs and assigns forever, in free and common socage, yielding and paying unto us, our heirs and successors, or to the Receiver General of our quarters for the time being, or to such other officer as shall be appointed to receive the same, a quit-rent of one half-penny sterling per acre, at the feast of St. Michael every year, the first payment to commence on the said feast of St. Michael, which shall first happen after the expiration of two years from the date hereof, or within fourteen days after the said feast annually: Provided, always, (and this present grant is upon condition,) nevertheless, That the said Richard, Caleb, and Joseph Carpenter, their heirs or assigns, shall and do, within three years after the date hereof, for every fifty acres of plantable land hereby granted, clear and cultivate three acres at least in that part thereof which he or they shall judge most convenient and advantageous, or else do clear and drain three acres of swampy or sunken ground, or do drain three acres of marsh, if any such shall be contained therein; and shall further, within the time aforesaid, put and keep upon every fifty acres thereof, accounted barren, three neat cattle, and continue the same thereon until three acres for every fifty acres be fully cleared and improved: and if it shall so happen that there be no part of the said tract of land fit for present cultivation, without manuring and improving the same, if the said Richard, Caleb, and Joseph Carpenter, their heirs or assigns, shall, within three years from the date hereof, erect, on some part of the said tract of land, one good dwelling-house, to contain at least twenty feet in length, and sixteen feet in breadth; and put on the said tract of land the like number of three neat cattle, as aforesaid, on every fifty acres therein contained; or otherwise, if any part of the said tract of land shall be rocky or stony ground, not fit for culture or pasture, shall and do, within three years as aforesaid, besides erecting the said house, begin to employ thereon, and continue to work for three years then next ensuing, in digging any stone quarry or mine, one good and able hand for every hundred acres thereof, it shall be accounted a sufficient cultivation and improvement: Provided, also, That every three acres which shall be cleared and worked, or cleared and drained, as aforesaid, shall further be accounted a sufficient seating, planting, cultivation, and improvement, to save forever from forfeiture fifty acres of land in any part of the tract hereby granted: and the said Richard, Caleb, and Joseph Carpenter, their heirs and assigns, shall be at liberty to withdraw their stock, or to forbear working in any quarry or mine, in proportion to such cultivation and improvements aforesaid, as shall be made upon the plantable lands, swamps, sunken grounds, or marshes therein contained: Provided, also, That this grant shall be duly registered in the Register's Office of this province within six months from the date hereof; and, also, that a docket thereof shall be entered in the Auditor's Office within the same time, if such establishment shall take place in this province: Provided, always, That the said Richard, Caleb, and Joseph Carpenter, their heirs and assigns, at any time hereafter, having seated, planted, cultivated and improved the said land, or any part thereof, according to the directions and conditions abovementioned, may make proof of such seating, planting, cultivation, and improvement, in the general court, or in the court of the county, district or precinct, where the said land lieth, and have such proof certified to the Register's Office, and there entered with the record of this grant, a copy of which, duly attested, shall be admitted on trial to prove the seating and planting of said land: Provided, always, nevertheless, That if the said Richard, Caleb, and Joseph Carpenter, their heirs and assigns, do not in all things fully comply with and fulfil the respective directions and conditions herein above set forth, for the proper cultivation of the said land, within the time herein above limited for the completion thereof: or, if the said Richard, Caleb, and Joseph Carpenter, their heirs or assigns, shall not pay to us, our heirs and successors, or to the Receiver General of our quit-rents, or to the proper officer appointed to receive the same, the said quit-rent of one halfpenny sterling per acre, on the said feast of St. Michael, or within fourteen days after, annually, for every acre contained in this grant, that then, and in either of these cases, respectively, this grant shall be void, any thing herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding; and the said lands, tenements, hereditaments, and premises hereby specified, and every part and parcel thereof, shall revert to us, our heirs and successors, fully and absolutely, as if the same had never been granted.

Given under the great seal of our province of West Florida: Witness our trusty and well beloved Monfort Brown, Esquire, our Lieutenant Governor, and Commander-in-chief in and over our said province, at Pensacola, this 22d day of July, in the year of our Lord 1769, and in the ninth year of our reign.

MONFORT BROWNE.

A deposition was also exhibited in the following words and figures, viz.:

Be it known to all men by these presents, that, on the 23d day of March, Anno Domini 1804, before me, Israel E. Trask, duly commissioned and qualified notary public in and for the city of New Orleans, personally came and appeared Mr. Stephen Watts of the city of New Orleans, who, being duly sworn, did depose and say, that he was personally knowing to the residence of the late Mr. Richard Carpenter, at Baton Rouge, in the province of West Florida, at the time that said province was surrendered to the arms of Spain; and also that the said Richard Carpenter afterwards moved to the district of Natchez, then under the sovereignty of Spain, where the said Richard continued, and died a Spanish subject.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name, and affixed my seal, the day and year aforesaid.

ALEXANDER MACULLAGH, representative of Thomas Underwood; case, No. 244 on the docket of the Board, and No. 90 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right to five hundred acres, by virtue of a British grant to Thomas Underwood, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, without any plot, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands within the Mississippi territory south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river, by virtue of an act of Congress passed the 3d of March, 1803.

GENTLEMEN:

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situate, lying, and being within the Mississippi territory, is claimed by Alexander Macullagh, nephew and heir at law of Alexander Macullagh, formerly of Pensacola, in the province of West Florida, deceased, who died intestate; and that the indenture, or deed of conveyance, mentioned in the following statement, and now delivered unto the Register of the Land Office, opened under and by virtue of said act, for lands lying east of Pearl river, will evince his right and title to the same. To all which for greater certainty, reference is hereby made.

ALEXANDER MACULLAGH.

This is a tract of five hundred acres of land, situate about sixty-five miles above the town of Mobile, on the east side of the Alabama river, butting and bounding west on said river, and all other sides by vacant land. The title to this tract will appear, first, by an indenture, or deed of conveyance, bearing date 1st January, 1779, from Thomas Underwood to Alexander Macullagh, for five hundred acres of land, the quantity now claimed. The original grant, or patent, to Thomas Underwood is lost or mislaid, but your claimant hopes that, reference being had to the British records of West Florida, it will appear to have existed; he therefore trusts, by such documents, the said claim will be satisfactorily established, should your honorable Board think the same sufficient.

Entered in record of claims, (on the east side,) vol. 1, page 246.

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited a deed of conveyance from Thomas Underwood, bearing date the 1st of January, 1779, legally and fully executed, and duly recorded, conveying to Alexander Macullagh all the said Underwood's right, title and claim in and to the said tract of land.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

ABRAHAM HUNT, representative of Augustin Rochon; case, No. 245 on the docket of the Board, and No. 89 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right to one thousand acres, by virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, under the first section of the act.

The claimant presented his claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, viz.:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress, passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, situated on the east side of the Tombigbee river, beginning ata live oak tree, nearly opposite to Fort Stoddert, running south, sixty-two degrees east, one hundred and twenty-six chains, fifty-three links, to a stake; thence, north, twenty-eight degrees east, seventy-eight chains seventy-five links to a stake; thence, north, sixty-two degrees west, one hundred and twenty-six chains fifty-three links, to a stake on the bank of the river; thence, down the said river, with its meanders, to the beginning: is claimed by Abijah Hunt, in and by virtue of a deed of conveyance from Joseph Campbell, who claims by virtue of a Spanish warrant, or order of survey, given by the Spanish Government to Augustin Rochon, and by him transferred to the said Joseph Campbell. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the plot annexed.

NICHOLAS PERKINS,
Agent for Abijah Hunt.

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimant exhibited a deed from Joseph Campbell and Isabella Campbell, bearing date the 16th day of December, 1801, conveying to Abijah Hunt all the said Joseph's and Isabella's right, and title in and to the said tract of land.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

HEIRS OF ROBERT FARMER; case No. 246 on docket of the Board, and No. 5 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right to five hundred and forty-two acres, by virtue of a deed from Francis Daran, under the first section of the act.

The claimants presented their claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress, passed the 3d day of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting claims to lands south of Tennessee and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land or island, situated on the east side of Tombigbee river, eleven leagues from Mobile, on the Tensaw river and lake, first beginning on Tensaw lake, at three water oaks; thence, south, twenty degrees west, nine chains; thence, south, forty degrees west, thirty-six chains, to a white hickory, on the Tensaw river; thence, down said river, south, thirty-five degrees east, eighty chains; thence, south, fifteen degrees east, fifty-seven chains; thence, north, forty-five degrees east, nineteen chains; thence, north, eighty degrees east, forty-two chains, to a small water oak; thence, up Brier's creek, or Tensaw lake, north, thirty-five degrees west, thirty-eight chains; thence, north, sixty degrees west, thirty-one chains; thence, north, twenty-five degrees west, thirty-two chains; thence, north, forty-two degrees west, twenty-four chains; thence, north, thirty-nine degrees east, twenty chains fifty links; thence, north, four degrees west, twenty chains, to a large cypress; thence, through Dyer's Cut-off, north, thirty-one degrees west, seven chains; thence, north, seventy degrees west, eight chains; thence south, seventy-five degrees west, ten chains, to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed; containing, in the whole island, five hundred and forty-two acres, more or less: is claimed by Otto V. G. Barberie, of New York, attorney in fact, for the heirs of Major Robert Farmer, under and in virtue of a deed of conveyance, from Francis Daran to Robert Farmer, dated Mobile, West Florida, on the eleventh day of June, 1764, now delivered to the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. To all which he begs leave to refer, as also to the copy of the plot herewith filed.

JOSEPH CHAMBERS, Register.

The claimants presented a writing in the following words and figures, to wit:

We, Peter Hannibal Develle, chevalier of the order royal and military of St. Louis, late lieutenant of the King at Mobile, certifies that the deceased, Mr. Boissy, when living, an officer of the infantry, has laid out and established, fifteen years past, with the approbation of the governors and ordinators of the province of Louisiana, a plantation, situated at Tensaw, about eleven leagues from Mobile, containing seventy arpents of front; besides, there is comprised a low point of wood, bounded to the southeast by the river, and to the north by a bay, which land Madam Populus has held and possessed for some years past by inheritance of the said deceased Boissy, her husband. In faith of which, we have delivered the present certificate, for to serve him, and to validate the titles of property of the said land and its dependencies.

DEVELLE.

MOBILE, December 9, 1763.

Subjoined to the foregoing certificate is another writing in the French language, unaccompanied with any translation, purporting to be a certificate, bearing date the 9th day of December, 1763, from the then Governor of New Orleans, under his hand and seal, and countersigned by the Secretary of Government, certifying that the aforesaid land and its dependencies belonged to Madam Populus. Another writing in the French language, without any translation of the same, was exhibited; bearing date the 28th day of December, 1763, purporting to be a bill of sale from Madam Populus to Daran, conveying to him the land above mentioned.

The claimants also exhibited a deed from Francis Daran, bearing date the 11th day of June, 1764, conveying to Robert Farmer, Esquire, all the said Madam Populus's right and title to said land, and the buildings and improvements thereon.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

HEIRS OF ROBERT FARMER: case No. 247 on the docket of the Board, and No. 4 on the books of the Register.

Claim.—A right to five hundred and twenty acres, by virtue of a deed from Peter Deforge, under the first section of the act.

The claimants presented their claim, together with a surveyor's plot of the land claimed, in the words and figures following, to wit:

To the Commissioners appointed in pursuance of the act of Congress passed the 3d of March, 1803, for receiving and adjusting the claims to lands south of the Tennessee, and east of Pearl river.

Please to take notice, that the following tract of land, on the north end of an island, situate on the east side of Tombigbee river, on the Tensaw river, about eleven leagues from Mobile; first beginning on the Tensaw river at a small water oak; thence, up said river, north, thirty-five degrees west, sixty-five chains, to an elm and the forks of the lake and river; thence, up a creek, south, thirty-eight degrees west, twenty-eight chains; thence, south, seventy-seven degrees west, thirteen chains; thence, north, fifty-two degrees west, nineteen chains; thence, north, nineteen degrees west, seven chains; thence, south, seventy-five degrees west, thirteen chains fifty links, to a mulberry on the creek Saborbin; thence, down said creek, south, five degrees west, fourteen chains, to a gut; thence, south, thirty degrees west, forty chains; thence, south, twenty-four degrees east, eighty chains, to an ash; thence, across the island, north, seventy-nine degrees east, one hundred and ten chains, to the beginning; and hath such forms and marks, both natural and artificial, as are fully represented in the plot annexed; containing five hundred and twenty acres, more or less: is claimed by Otto V. T. Barberie, of New York, attorney in fact for the heirs of Major Robert Farmer, under and in virtue of a deed of conveyance from Peter Deforge to Robert Farmer, dated 1st of November, 1768, now delivered unto the Register of the Land Office established east of Pearl river, to be recorded as directed by said act. The claimants exhibited a deed from James Lucian, bearing date the 25th day of March, 1767, conveying to Peter Deforge all the right and title of the said Lucian to his plantation, situated at Tensaw, bounding with the plantation of Lafrance.

Deeds of lease and release were also exhibited from Peter Deforge, bearing date the 1st day of November, 1768, conveying to Robert Farmer, Esquire, all the said Deforge's right, title, and interest in and to the said five hundred and twenty acres of land, and to the buildings and improvements thereon made.

The Board ordered that the case be postponed for consideration.

WILLIAM BUFORD, representative of Conrad Selhoof: case commenced in page 742.

The claimant returned the following order and affidavit, viz.:

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS, WASHINGTON COUNTY,
Friday, May 24, 1805.

William Buford having appeared before the Board, and, on solemn oath, declared that he has a claim pending before the said Board, in his own behalf, as representative of Conrad Selhoof, for eight hundred acres of land, on the east side of the Alabama river, founded upon a title derived under a Spanish warrant of survey dated at New Orleans the 9th day of February, 1788; and that Mary Mills, wife of Major John Mills, and Mary Coleman, wife of Richard Coleman, are material and important witnesses in support of his said claim, and that they, he verily believes, and each of them are now in such a state of health, occasioned by severe sickness or personal inability, that it is impracticable for them, or either of them, personally to appear before the Board, to give their or either of their testimony in the premises.

W. H. BUFORD.

Whereupon, it is ordered by the Board that the said Mary Mills, wife of Major John Mills, and Mary Coleman, wife of Richard Coleman, be duly qualified before some lawful magistrate of the county, who is not interested in the case, to give true and correct answers to the interrogatories hereto subjoined, and to such other interrogatories as may be proposed to them or either of them; and their and each of their answers shall be certified to this Board, by the magistrate taking the same, in due form of law.

By order of the Board.

Attest: DAVID PARMELEE 2d, Clerk.

Question. Have you or either of you any interest in or by the establishment of the present claim?

Answer. I have no interest in the establishment of the present claim.

Question. How long has the land now claimed been in the occupancy and possession of the present claimant, and those under whom he holds?

Answer. It has been in the occupancy of Selhoof, or the man commonly called Collet, sixteen years, and in the possession of Buford, the representative of Selhoof, about eighteen months.

Question. Have these persons held an uninterrupted possession, holding out all others therefrom, and no other person claiming any right thereto?

Answer. They have held an uninterrupted possession, and no person whatever, within my knowledge, has claimed any right thereto.

Question. Was the land now claimed by William Buford, as representative of Conrad Selhoof, inhabited and cultivated on the 27th day of October, 1795, and for whose use and benefit?

Answer. In January, 1798, Selhoof, or commonly called Collet, departed this life; then, the heirs of Selhoof or Collet sold it to John Linder, senior, who cultivated it for one year, or perhaps more.

Question. Was Conrad Selhoof on the 9th day of February, 1788, the head of a family, or twenty-one years of age?

Answer. He was, on the 9th of February, 1788, the head of a family, and twenty-one years of age.

Question. What kind of cultivation and improvement was made on the land in question?

Answer. Corn and rice were cultivated on the land in question.

Question (by Mr. Buford.) Do you know Selhoof to be the man commonly called Collet?

Answer. He was commonly called Collet, but he, at all times signed his name Selhoof.

Question (by Mr. Buford.) Do you know of Cornelius McCurtin having power of attorney from the widow of Selhoof or the man called Collet?

Answer. Cornelius McCurtin at all times acted as the attorney in fact for the widow of Selhoof or the man commonly called Collet.

GEORGE THE THIRD, by the grace of God, of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, King, defender of the faith, &c. To all to whom these presents shall come, greetings:

Know ye, that we, of our special grace, certain knowledge, and mere motion, have given and granted, and by these presents, for us, our heirs and successors, do give and grant, unto Peter Deforge, his heirs and assigns, all that tract of land, situated on the west side of the river Tensaw, bounded on the southeast by land belonging to Robert Farmer, Esq., northeast by the river Tensaw, and on the other sides by vacant land, distant from Pensacola about seventy miles, in our province of West Florida, and having such shape, form, and marks, both natural and artificial, as are represented in the plot thereof, hereunto annexed, as drawn by our Surveyor General of lands; which said tract of land contains one hundred and eight acres, and is bounded as by the further certificate hereunto likewise annexed, under the hand of our said Surveyor General of lands, in our said province, may more fully and at large appear; together with all woods, underwood, timber and timber trees, lakes, ponds, fishings, waters, watercourses, profits, commodities, hereditaments, and appurtenances whatsoever thereunto belonging, or in anywise appertaining; together, also, with privilege of hunting, hawking, and fowling in and upon the same, and all mines and minerals, reserving to us, our heirs and successors, all mines of gold and silver: to have and to hold the said tract of land, and all and singular the premises hereby granted, with the appurtenances, unto the said Peter Deforge, his heirs and assigns, forever, in free and common socage; yielding and paying unto us, our heirs and successors, or to the Receiver General of our quit-rents for the time being, or to such other officer as shall be appointed to receive the same quit-rent of one halfpenny sterling per acre, at the feast of St. Michael every year; the first payment to commence on the said feast of St. Michael which shall first happen after the expiration of two years from the date hereof, or within fourteen days after the said feast annually: Provided always, (and this present grant is upon condition,) nevertheless, That the said Peter Deforge, his heirs or assigns, shall and do, within three years after the date hereof, for every fifty acres of plantable land hereby granted, clear and cultivate three acres, at least, in that part thereof which he or they shall judge most convenient and advantageous, or else do drain and clear three acres of swampy or sunken ground, or do drain three acres of marsh, if any such shall be contained therein; and shall further, within the time aforesaid, put and keep upon every fifty acres thereof, accounted barren, three neat cattle, and continue the same thereon until three acres for every fifty acres be fully cleared and improved: and if it shall so happen that there be no part of the said tract of land fit for present cultivation, without manuring and improving the same, if the said Peter Deforge, his heirs or assigns, shall, within three years from the date hereof, erect on some part of the said tract of land one good dwelling-house, to contain at least twenty feet in length, and sixteen in breadth, and put on his said land the like number of three neat cattle, as aforesaid, on every fifty acres therein contained; or, otherwise, if any part of the said tract of land shall be stony or rocky ground, not fit for culture or pasture, shall and do, within three years as aforesaid, besides erecting the said house, begin to employ thereon, and continue to work for three years then next ensuing, in digging any stone quarry or mine, one good and able hand for every hundred acres thereof, it shall be accounted a sufficient cultivation and improvement: Provided, also, that every three acres which shall be cleared and worked, or cleared and drained, as aforesaid, shall further be accounted a sufficient seating, planting, cultivation, and improvement, to save forever from forfeiture fifty acres of land in any part of the tract hereby granted; and the said Peter Deforge, his heirs and assigns, shall be at liberty to withdraw his or their stock, or to forbear working in any quarry or mine, in proportion to such cultivation and improvements aforesaid as shall be made upon the plantable lands, swamps, sunken grounds, or marshes therein contained: Provided, also, That this grant shall be duly registered in the Register's Office of this province, within six months from the date hereof; and, also, that a docket thereof shall be entered in the Auditor's Office, within the same time, if such establishment shall take place in this province: Provided, always, That the said Peter Deforge, his heirs and assigns, at any time hereafter, having seated, planted, cultivated, and improved the said land, or any part thereof, according to the conditions and directions, above mentioned, may make proof of such seating, planting, cultivation, and improvement, in the general court, or in the court of the county, district, or precinct where the said land lieth, and have such proof certified to the Register's Office, and there entered with the record of this grant, a copy of which, duly attested, shall be admitted on trial, to prove the seating and planting of the said land: Provided always, nevertheless, That, if the said Peter Deforge, his heirs and assigns, do not in all things fully comply with and fulfil the respective directions and conditions herein above set forth, for the proper cultivation of the said land, within the time herein above limited for the completion thereof; or, if the said Peter Deforge, his heirs or assigns, shall not pay to us, our heirs and successors, or to the Receiver General of our quit-rents, or to the proper officer appointed to receive the same, the said quit-rent of one halfpenny sterling per acre, on the said feast of St. Michael, or within fourteen days after, annually, for every acre contained in this grant, that then, and in either of these cases, respectively, this grant shall be void, any thing contained therein to the contrary notwithstanding; and the said lands, tenements, hereditaments, and premises, hereby specified, and every part or parcel thereof, shall revert to us, our heirs, and successors, fully and absolutely as if the same had never been granted.

GEORGE WEEKLEY, representative of Michael Skipper: case commenced in page 731.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and the claimant is entitled to a patent for so many acres of land as may be included in the following limits, to wit: Beginning, at the mouth of a bayou or gut, on the west margin of the Alabama river, in the Nanna Hubba island, on two willows, it being the beginning corner as described in the claimant's plot, entered in the office of the Register, it being also the lower corner of John Randon's donation claim, in his own right, running from thence, north, thirty-five degrees west, until it intersects with the line of Joseph Thompson's claim, in virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, in the name of Adam Hollinger; thence, with Thompson's said line, south, fifty-six degrees west, twenty-eight chains and fifty links; thence, south, thirty-five degrees east, to the margin of the Alabama river; and thence, up the west margin of said river, to the beginning.

JOSEPH THOMPSON, representative of Adam Hollinger: case commenced in page 729.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and the claimant is entitled to a patent for seven hundred and thirty acres of land, to be located as follows, to wit: Beginning, on the west margin of the Alabama river, in the Nanna Hubba island, at a willow, in a gut, being the beginning corner described in the claimant's plot, entered in the Office of the Register, and being also the upper corner of John Randon's donation claim, in his own right; running thence, south, twenty-three degrees east, seventeen chains; thence, south, fifty-six degrees west eleven chains; thence, south, thirty-seven degrees west, five chains; thence, south, fifty-six degrees west, thirty-six chains; thence, due west, ninety chains; thence, north, five degrees west, so far that a line drawn from the extreme point of the same, to the place of beginning, shall include seven hundred and thirty acres of land.

HEIRS OF JOHN LINDER, Junior: case commenced in page 733.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and the claimant is entitled to a patent for eight hundred acres of land, provided so many acres be included within the following limits, to wit: Beginning at the mouth of the Tensaw lake, where it puts out of the Alabama river, at an ash and maple, being the beginning corner described in the claimant's plot, entered in the Office of the Register, and also the beginning corner of Lemuel Henry's four hundred and ninety-one acre tract, in virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey in the name of John Linder, Senior; running from thence, north, seventy-five degrees east, one hundred and twenty-seven chains; thence, return to the ash and maple, the place of beginning, before mentioned; and runs therefrom, up the margin of the Alabama river, to the mouth of Boggy gut, described in the aforesaid plot; and thence, up the margin of said gut, so far as to make sixty-three chains, in a straight line, from the ash and maple; thence, a line to be drawn from the termination of this line, to run north-eastwardly, so as to leave the house and principal improvements of Benjamin Hooven on the north side thereof; this line to be continued so far that a line drawn from the extreme point thereof, running south fifteen degrees east, shall join the said line of one hundred and twenty-seven chains, at its termination.

JAMES CARPENTER, heir at law to Richard, Caleb, and Joseph Carpenter: case commenced in page 755.

An affidavit was exhibited in the words and figures following, viz.:

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS, WASHINGTON,
Mississippi Territory, Monday, March 11, 1805.

Witness, Daniel Whitaker, sworn, says, that Richard Carpenter, the patentee, died previous to the 27th of October, 1795; and that his son, James Carpenter, the devisee and claimant, was a resident in the Mississippi territory on the 27th of October, 1795.

I do certify, that the above is a true extract from the journal of the Board of Commissioners, for lands west of Pearl river, in the claim of James Carpenter, under a Spanish patent to his father, legally and fully executed.

R. CLAIBORNE, Clerk of the Board.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is supported agreeably to the articles of agreement and cession between the United States and the State of Georgia, and that Richard, Caleb, and Joseph Carpenter, or their heirs or devisees, are confirmed in their title to said land.

Adjourned until Thursday, the 11th instant.

THURSDAY, July 11, 1805.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that the present claim is not supported agreeably to the requirements of the second section of said act, but the same is supported agreeably to the requirements of the third section of said act, and the claimant is entitled to a right of pre-emption to one hundred and thirty-three acres of land, to be located as follows, viz.: Beginning at the lower corner of George Weekley's one hundred and sixty-one acre tract, in virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, in the name of Michael Skipper, on the west margin of the Alabama river, in the Nanna Hubba islands; running from thence, with said Weekley's line, north, thirty-five degrees west, sixty-four chains; thence, in a direct line, to the Alabama river; and thence, up the said river, as it meanders, to the beginning; to include one hundred and thirty-three acres of land.

JOSEPH THOMPSON's case: commenced in page 730.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and the claimant is entitled to a patent for six hundred and forty acres of land, to be located as follows, to wit: Beginning at a white oak, on the east margin of Hollow creek, being the beginning corner described in the claimant's plot entered in the Register's Office; running from thence, south, eighty-eight degrees east, eighty chains; thence, north, so far that a line from the termination of the same, to run north, eighty-eight degrees west, to the east margin of said creek; thence, down the east margin thereof, to the beginning, shall include six hundred and forty acres of land.

WILLIAM and JOHN PIERCE, representatives of Jeremiah Phillips; case commenced in page 730.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and the claimants are entitled to a patent for six hundred and forty acres of land, to be located as follows, viz.: Beginning at the upper corner of John Mills's donation tract, in his own name, at three cotton trees, thence, up the west margin of the Alabama river, to the lower corner of Benjamin Stedham's pre-emption tract, thence, with the said Stedham's line, until it strikes the line of Joseph Thompson's tract, in virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, in the name of Adam Hollinger; thence, westwardly, with said Thompson's line or lines, until it strikes the line of Samuel Mims's donation tract, in his own right; thence, with said Mims's line, so far that a direct line from the termination thereof to the margin of the Alabama river, and, up the margin of the same, to the lower corner of John Mills's donation tract; and thence, with said line, to the beginning, shall include six hundred and forty acres of land.

NATT CHRISTMAS, representative of Michael Hartley; case commenced in page 738.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and the claimant is entitled to a patent for six hundred and forty acres of land, to be located as follows, viz.: Beginning at a cedar post on the east margin of the Tombigbee river, being the beginning corner of Joseph Bates's tract of one thousand acres, in virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, in his own name; thence, with said Bates's line, north, seventy degrees east, one hundred and twenty-six chains forty-nine links; thence, return to the beginning cedar post; thence, down the east margin of the Tombigbee river, to its junction with the Alabama river; and, up the west margin thereof, so far that a direct line therefrom to the termination of the first mentioned line shall include six hundred and forty acres.

Adjourned until Friday, the 19th instant.

FRIDAY, July 19, 1865.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Robert C. Nicholas, Joseph Chambers.

THOMAS BATES, Junior's, case: commenced in page 719.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported agreeably to the requirements of law, inasmuch as the land covered by this claim is within the limits of a Spanish warrant of survey in the name of Joseph Bates, the father of the claimant, allowed by the Board; and, therefore, the claimant is not entitled to a patent in manner and form aforesaid.

WILLIAM BUFORD, representative of George Weekly, senior; case commenced in page 753.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and the claimant is not entitled to a patent in manner and form aforesaid.

NATT CHRISTMAS's case: commenced in page 753.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and the claimant is not entitled to a right of pre-emption to the land by him claimed, inasmuch as a donation claim in the name of this claimant, as representative of Michael Hartley, was allowed by the Board, and includes within its limits all the improvements and land included within the lines of this claim.

BENJAMIN FEW's case: commenced in page 739.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported agreeably to the requirements of law, inasmuch as there is a Spanish warrant of survey in the name of Dominique de Olive, supported agreeably to law, for the whole of the land included within the lines of this claim, and the same is therefore rejected.

WILLIAM WEEKLEY's case: commenced in page 735.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and the claimant is entitled to a right of pre-emption to one hundred and thirty-nine acres of land, to be located as follows, to wit:

Beginning at a pine, being the beginning corner described in the claimant's plot entered in the Register's Office, running from thence, north, sixty-six degrees west, fifty-two chains; thence, south, twenty-four degrees west, twenty-two chains; thence, south, fifty degrees east, twenty-seven chains; thence, east, so far that a direct line from the termination of the same to the beginning shall include one hundred and thirty-nine acres of land, and the improvements of the claimant.

Adjourned until Monday, the 22d instant.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Robert C. Nicholas, Joseph Chambers.

CORNELIUS DUNN's case: commenced in page 734.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and the claimant is entitled to a right of pre-emption to two hundred and fifty-two acres of land, to be located as follows, to wit:

Beginning at an elm on the south margin of Hollow creek, being the beginning corner described in the claimant's plot, entered in the Register's Office; running from thence, south, twenty-four chains, thence, east, so far, that a line drawn from the termination of the same, due north, to the margin of Hollow creek, and thence, down the margin thereof to the place of beginning, shall include two hundred and fifty-two acres of land, and the improvements of the claimant.

SIEMON WILKS, representative of James Proctor; case commenced in page 738.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and the claimant is entitled to a patent for six hundred and forty acres of land, to be located as follows, viz.: Beginning at a hickory, being the beginning corner described in the claimant's plot entered in the Register's Office; thence, north, eighty degrees east, eighty chains; thence, south, ten degrees east, eighty chains; thence, south, eighty degrees west, eighty chains; thence, in a direct line, to the beginning; to include six hundred and forty acres of land, and the improvements of the claimant.

REUBEN DYER's case: commenced in page 740.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and the claimant is entitled to a patent for six hundred and forty acres of land, to be located as follows, viz.: Beginning at a water oak, nearly opposite to the confluence of Tensaw river and lake, being the beginning corner described in the claimant's plot entered in the Register's Office; running from thence up the margin of the Tensaw river, as it meanders, so far that a direct line therefrom to the place of beginning shall include six hundred and forty acres of land, and the improvements of the claimant.

JOSEPH STIGGINS's case: commenced in page 741.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and the claimant is entitled to a patent for six hundred and thirty-five acres of land, to be located as follows, viz.: Beginning at a white oak, on Coleman's or Tensaw lake, being the beginning corner described in the claimant's plot entered in the Register's Office; running from thence, north, thirty-two degrees west, ten chains; thence, north, ten degrees west, eighteen chains, to the margin of Tensaw lake; thence, up the margin of said lake, with its meanders, so far that a line from the termination thereof, south, fifty-five degrees east, twenty-four chains; thence, a direct line therefrom, to the beginning, shall include six hundred and thirty-five acres of land, and the improvements of the claimant.

LEMUEL HENRY, representative of Michael Hartly; case commenced in page 745.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and the claimant is not entitled to a patent in manner and form aforesaid.

THEODORE GAILLARD, representative of Allen Grant: case commenced in page 760.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported agreeably to the articles of agreement and cession between the United States and the State of Georgia, and that the title to this land is not confirmed.

GEORGE BURDON's two cases; one commenced in page 759, the other in page 761, in each of which cases the Board adjudged as follows, viz.:

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported agreeably to the articles of agreement and cession between the United States and the State of Georgia, and the claimant is not confirmed in his title to said land.

HEIRS OF ROBERT FARMER's two cases; commenced in page 757, in each of which cases the Board adjudged as follows, viz.:

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported agreeably to the articles of agreement and cession between the United States and the State of Georgia, and the claimants are not confirmed in their claim to the said land.

Adjourned until Saturday, the 27th instant.

WILLIAM MCDANIEL, representative of George Phillips: case commenced in page 753.

Jeremiah Phillips was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that George Phillips, his brother, moved upon, built a house, and cleared some ground upon the land in question, in the month of December, 1797; that said George Phillips died in the spring of the year 1798; that his widow, or William McDaniel, had inhabited and cultivated this land, as he, the deponent, believed, until this time, and that said McDaniel inhabited and cultivated said land on the third of March, 1803.

Question. Did George Phillips, deceased, leave a will?

Answer. He did.

Question. Did he make any disposition of this land in his will?

Answer. He did not, for in that day it was not considered he had any right to the land.

Question. Did your brother leave any children?

Answer. He did leave two, a boy and a girl, the girl is married, and the boy is an infant, under twenty-one years of age.

Question. Do you know whether they have transferred their right in this land to William McDaniel?

Answer. John Phillips, the son of George Phillips, eighteen or nineteen years of age, and James Farr, the husband of George Phillips's daughter, have transferred their right in said land to William McDaniel, as I have heard them both say.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is supported agreeably to the requirements of the act, and the claimant is entitled to a patent for six hundred and thirty-two acres of land, to be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning at an ironwood, being the beginning corner described in the claimant's plot, entered in the Register's Office; thence, north, seventy-five degrees east, seventy-seven chains; thence, north, fifteen degrees west, forty-five chains; thence, south, sixty-one degrees east, fourteen chains; thence, south, twenty chains; thence, north, eighty-four degrees west, seventy-two chains; thence, north, sixty degrees west, to Major's creek; thence, along the margin of said creek and its branches to the beginning, shall include six hundred and thirty-two acres.

WILLIAM BUFORD, representative of Conrad Selhoof: case commenced in page 742.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion, that this claim is supported agreeably to the requirements of the act, and the claimant is entitled to a patent for eight hundred acres of land, to be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning on the east margin of the Tensaw river at a water oak; thence, down the margin of said river, so far as to make sixty-three chains, when reduced to a straight line; thence, south, seventy degrees east, one hundred and twenty-seven chains; thence, north, twenty degrees east, sixty-three chains; thence, direct to the beginning, shall include eight hundred acres; this land lying within the limits of Piney or Collet's island.

WILLIAM SHIELDS's case: commenced in page 738.

Jeremiah Phillips and William Buford were presented as witnesses, and, being duly sworn, the said Phillips deposed, that he did not know of his own knowledge that William Shields inhabited and cultivated this land in the year 1797; but, that it was in cultivation on the third day of March, 1803, or the year 1803, for the use of William Shields; the said Buford deposed, that he well remembered that the land in question was cultivated on the 3d of March, or in the summer of 1803, for the use of William Shields.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is not supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and the claimant is not entitled to a patent in manner and form aforesaid.

Adjourned until Tuesday, the 13th instant.

TUESDAY, August 13, 1805.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Robert C. Nicholas, Joseph Chambers.

ABIJAH HUNT, representative of Augustin Rochon: case commenced in page 756.

Elijah Smith was produced as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he saw Joseph Campbell, and Isabell Campbell, sign, seal, execute and deliver their deed, for the purposes therein mentioned, bearing date 16th December, 1801; purporting to convey one thousand acres of land to Abijah Hunt, his heirs and assigns; also, that he subscribed his name thereto as a witness, and that Wilson Carman likewise subscribed his name thereto, as a witness, in the presence of him, the said Smith.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion, that this claim is not supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and the claimant is not entitled to a patent in manner and form aforesaid.

JOHN PICKERING's case, PETER CARTWRIGHT's case: the former commenced in page 647, and the latter in page 665.

Thomas Malone, surveyor, being duly sworn, deposed that he made the survey of the claim of Peter Cartwright, and having followed the upper line of the heirs of Robert Farmer's claim, of one thousand acres, under a British grant, that he verily believed that a part of Cartwright's claim is within the lines of said Farmer's claim; also, that he believed that the greater part of the claim of John Pickering was also included within the limits of said Farmer's claim, and that the said Pickering told him that the greater part of his claim was actually within the limits of the said Farmer's said tract.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that a part of said Cartwright's claim, and a greater part of said Pickering's claim, is interfered with by the claim of Robert Farmer's heirs, in virtue of a grant, from the British Government of West Florida to Robert Farmer, for one thousand acres, bearing date the 6th day of August, 1778.

NOAH K. HUTSON, representative of Henry Nail: case commenced in page 653.

Thomas Bilbo, surveyor, being duly sworn, deposed, that the claim of John Lott, Jun., under a British grant, interfered with the southeast corner of Noah Kenner Hutson's donation claim.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.: Beginning on the west margin of the Tombigbee river, at the upper corner of James Callier's claim, as representative of Anthony Hoggatt; thence, south, thirty-three degrees west, ninety-one chains; thence, north, seventy-two degrees west, so far that a line to be drawn from the termination of the same, north, fifteen degrees east, to the margin of said river, and with the same to the place of beginning, shall include three hundred and twenty-nine acres of land: Provided, nevertheless, that the said claimant first obtain before a court of competent jurisdiction, a judicial decision in his favor, against the adverse claim, by virtue of a grant from the British Government of West Florida, to John Lott, Jun., of three hundred acres, bearing date the 16th February, 1778; and the Board doth order, that a certificate be issued to him accordingly.

Adjourned until Friday the 16th instant.

FRIDAY, August 16, 1805.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Robert C. Nicholas, Joseph Chambers.

JOHN MCGREW, Senior's case: commenced in page 663.

Stephen Hogg, surveyor, being duly sworn, deposed, that to his best belief and information, John McGrew, Senior's, donation tract, if located adjoining to the upper line of John Baker's tract of four hundred acres, in virtue of a Spanish warrant, will interfere with a grant of one hundred acres of land from the British Government of West Florida, to Abraham Little, also a grant of five hundred acres of land, from said Government, to Charles Walker.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion, that this claim be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning on the west margin of the Tombigbee river, at the upper corner of John Baker's tract of four hundred acres, in virtue of a Spanish warrant or order of survey, in his own right; thence, with Baker's said line, south, to the corner thereof; thence, west, so far that a line from the termination thereof, to run north to the west margin of the Tombigbee river, and down the same margin to the beginning, shall include six hundred and forty acres: Provided nevertheless, that the said claimant first obtain, before a court of competent jurisdiction, a judicial decision in his favor, against the adverse claim by virtue of a grant from the British Government of West Florida, of one hundred acres, to Abraham Little, bearing date the 16th day of February, 1778; also, against the adverse claim by virtue of a grant from said Government, to Charles Walker, of five hundred acres, bearing date the 27th day of January, 1777.

JOHN CALLIER, representative of Wilford Hoggatt: case commenced in page 629.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning on a hackberry, on the bank of the Tombigbee river, being the beginning corner described in the claimant's plot, entered in the Register's Office; thence, to run south, fifty degrees west, so far that a line drawn from the termination thereof, south, forty-three degrees east, sixty-three chains and twenty-four links; thence, north, fifty degrees east, to the margin of the Tombigbee river; thence, up the river, as it meanders, to the beginning, shall include eight hundred acres of land.

ANN LAWRENCE's case: commenced in page 656.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning on the west margin of the Tombigbee river, at the upper corner of Noah Kenner Hutson's donation tract, in right of Henry Nail; thence, south, fifteen degrees west, to the northwest corner of said Hutson's tract; thence, north, seventy-two degrees west, so far that a line drawn from the termination thereof, north, fifteen degrees east, to the margin of said river; and thence, down the river, with its meanders, to the beginning, shall include four hundred and forty-five acres of land.

GEORGE BREWER, Junior's, case: commenced in page 661.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning on the west margin of the Tombigbee river, at the upper corner of Ann Lawrence's donation tract, in her own right; thence, south, fifteen degrees west, one hundred and twenty-two chains; thence, north, sixty-six degrees west, so far that a line drawn from the termination of the same, north, fifteen degrees east, to the west margin of said river; thence, down the same, with its meanders, to the beginning, shall include six hundred and twenty-nine acres of land.

THOMAS MALONE, representative of John Arnot: case commenced in page 703.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning on the west margin of the Tombigbee river, at the upper corner of George Brewer, Junior's, donation tract, in his own right; thence, south, fifteen degrees west, one hundred and twenty-six chains forty-nine links; thence, north, seventy-eight degrees west, so far that a line therefrom, north, fifteen degrees east, to the margin of said river; thence, down the margin of the same, to the beginning, shall include four hundred and eighty acres of land.

JOHN F. MCGREW AND CLARK MCGREW, representatives of Julian de Castro: case commenced in page 632.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning on the west margin of the Tombigbee river, at the upper corner of Thomas Malone's claim, in virtue of a Spanish warrant, in the name of John Arnot; thence, south, fifteen degrees west, one hundred and twenty-six chains and forty-nine links; thence, north, seventy-eight degrees west, so far that a line drawn from the termination thereof, north, fifteen degrees east, to the margin of the Tombigbee river, and thence, down the margin of the same, to the beginning, shall include four hundred acres of land.

HEIRS OF JAMES MCGREW: case commenced in page 627.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning on the west margin of the Tombigbee river, at the upper corner of John Flood and Clark McGrew's claim, in virtue of a Spanish warrant, in the name of Julian de Castro; thence, south, fifteen degrees west, one hundred and twenty-six chains forty-nine links; thence, north, seventy-six degrees west, so far that a line drawn from the termination thereof, north, fifteen degrees east, to the margin of said river, and down the margin of the same, to the beginning, shall include four hundred acres of land.

GEORGE BREWER, Jun., representative of James Watkins: case commenced in page 605.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning at the southwest corner of Noah Kenner Hutson's donation tract, in the right of Henry Nail, and on the line of James Callier's claim, in virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, in the name of Anthony Hoggatt; thence, north, seventy-two degrees west, until it intersects the lower line of George Brewer's donation tract, in his own right; thence, south, fifteen degrees west, with said Brewer's said line, so far that a line drawn from the termination thereof, south, sixty-six degrees east, shall intersect the upper line of James Callier's claim, before mentioned, and with the same, to the beginning, shall include six hundred and twenty-acres of land.

SAMPSON MOUNGER's case: commenced in page 600.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning at the northwest corner of George Brewer, Junior's, donation tract, in his own right; thence, south, fifteen degrees west, eighty chains; thence, south, sixty-six degrees east, so far that a line from the termination thereof, north, fifteen degrees east, shall intersect the western boundary line of George Brewer, Junior's, donation tract in the right of James Watkins; thence, with said line, north, sixty degrees west, until it intersects the line of said Brewer's claim, in his own right; thence, with said Brewer's line or lines, to the place of beginning, shall include six hundred and thirty-four acres of land.

THOMAS GOODWIN, representative of Hiram Mounger: case commenced in page 650.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning at a cedar post, set up by the claimant, and branded with the initials J. M. and B. H.; thence, north, thirty degrees west, thirty-five chains and thirty links; thence, south, sixty degrees west, eighteen chains; thence, south, thirty degrees east, so far that a line from the termination thereof, north, sixty degrees east, eighteen chains, and a line to be drawn from the termination of this line, to the beginning, shall include one hundred and twenty acres of land.

SOLOMON WHEAT's case: commenced in page 601.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning at a point on the south line of the tract of Thomas Goodwin, in the right of Hiram Mounger, twenty chains eighteen links from the southwest corner of said tract; thence in the course of and with said line, south, thirty degrees east, forty-one chains and eighty links; thence, south, sixty degrees west, twenty-four chains; thence, north, thirty degrees west, so far that a line from the termination of the same, direct to the beginning, shall include one hundred acres of land.

BENJAMIN HARRISON, representative of Jacob Miller: case commenced in page 649.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning at a cedar post, set up by the claimant, branded J. M. and B. H., being also the beginning corner of Thomas Goodwin's claim, in right of Hiram Mounger; from thence, north, thirty degrees west, so far that a line from the termination thereof, north, sixty-five degrees east, eight chains and thirty-one links; thence, south, fifty-eight degrees east, eighty three chains; thence, north, fifty degrees east, to a sweet gum corner on the margin of Ryan's lake, return to the beginning cedar post, and run therefrom south, thirty degrees east, so far that the whole length of the line, beginning at the cedar post, and running north, thirty degrees west, and south, thirty degrees east, shall be one hundred and seventy-three chains; thence, from the termination of this line, north, sixty degrees east, forty chains and fifty links; thence, north, twenty-seven degrees east, sixty-five chains; thence, north, forty degrees east, to the south margin of Ryan's lake; and thence, up the margin of the lake, to the sweet gum corner, shall include six hundred and forty acres of land.

PETER MALONE, representative of John Woods: case commenced in page 639.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning at the upper or northwest corner of John Chastang's tract of four hundred and eighty acres, in virtue of a Spanish warrant, or order of survey, in his own name; thence, with Chastang's line, fourteen chains; thence, west, one hundred and fifteen chains; thence, north, twenty-eight chains; thence, east, one hundred and fifteen chains; thence, direct to the beginning, to include three hundred and twenty acres, exclusive of one square acre adjoining his upper line, to include the store and dwelling-house of Edwin Lewis, in which Judge Toulmin now resides: Provided, nevertheless, That the said claimant first obtain, before a court of competent jurisdiction, a judicial decision in his favor against the adverse claim, by virtue of a grant from the British Government of West Florida to John Sutherland, bearing date the 22d day of October, 1779; and the Board doth order that a certificate be granted to him accordingly.

JAMES GRIFFIN's case: commenced in page 596.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning on the line of John Chastang's tract of four hundred and eighty acres, in virtue of a Spanish warrant, or order of survey, in his own right, at the southeast corner of Peter Malone's pre-emption tract of three hundred and twenty acres; thence, in the line of said Chastang, south, eighty chains; thence, west eighty chains; thence, north, eighty chains; thence, direct to the beginning, shall include six hundred and forty acres of land.

EDWIN LEWIS's case: commenced in page 638.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.: Beginning on the west margin of the Tombigbee river, at the mouth of a bayou or gut, near to the upper end of the bluff on which Fort St. Stephen's stands; thence, up the west margin of said bayou, so far as to make eight chains in a straight line; thence, in a direct line, to the northeast corner of Peter Malone's pre-emption of three hundred and twenty acres; thence, with said Malone's upper line, east, so far that one square acre on the south side thereof shall include the dwelling-house and store of the claimant, they being the same in which Judge Toulmin now resides; this east line to be continued so far on the line of said Malone, as to make twenty-eight chains; thence, north, forty degrees west, so far that a direct line therefrom to the west margin of the said river, and down the same, as it meanders, to the place of beginning, shall include one hundred and sixty acres, exclusive of five acres, to include, in the centre thereof, the cantonment at present occupied by the troops of the United States; the right of said five acres being reserved to the United States for their future use and disposition; and the Board doth order, that a certificate be issued accordingly.

EDWARD LLOYD WAILES, representative of John Baker: case commenced in page 701.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.: Beginning at the point where the line that runs north, forty degrees west, of Edwin Lewis's pre-emption tract of one hundred and sixty acres, leaves the upper line of Peter Malone's pre-emption tract of three hundred and twenty acres; thence, with said Lewis's line, north, forty degrees west, to the corner thereof; thence, north, twenty chains; thence, west, so far, that a line from the termination of this line, to run south, until it intersects the upper line of said Malone's said tract; and thence, with said line, to the beginning, shall include four hundred and eighty acres of land: Provided, nevertheless, That the claimant first obtain, before a court of competent jurisdiction, a judicial decision in his favor against the adverse claim, by virtue of a grant from the British Government of West Florida, to John Sutherland, bearing date the 22d day of October, 1779; and the Board doth order that a certificate be issued accordingly.

WILLIAM ROGERS's case: commenced in page 597.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.: Beginning at a sassafras, on the west margin of the Tombigbee river, being the beginning corner described in the claimant's plot, entered in the Register's Office, being also the upper corner of a tract granted by the British Government of West Florida to Robert Farmer, for one thousand acres; thence, south, seventy degrees west, fifty-five chains; thence, north, twenty degrees west, so far that a line from the termination of the same, north, seventy degrees east, to the margin of the Tombigbee river, and down the said margin to the place of beginning, shall include three hundred and eighty-eight acres of land.

MATTHEW SHAW's case: commenced in page 598.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.: Beginning on the west margin of the Tombigbee river, at the upper corner of William Rogers's pre-emption tract of three hundred and eighty-eight acres; thence, south, seventy degrees west, one hundred and six chains; thence, north, thirty degrees west, so far that a line from the termination of the same, north, seventy degrees east, to the west margin of the Tombigbee river, and down said margin to the place of beginning, shall include three hundred and thirty-three acres of land.

WILLIAM WILLIAMS's case: commenced in page 651.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.: Beginning at a sycamore, on the west margin of the Tombigbee river; thence, south, sixty degrees west, twenty chains and fifty links; thence, north, twenty-five degrees west, so far that a line from the termination of the same, north, fifty-six degrees east, to the west margin of the Tombigbee river, and down the said margin to the place of beginning, shall include one hundred and one acres of land.

GEORGE ROBBINS, representative of Zadock Brashear: case commenced in page 616.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.: Beginning at a sycamore on the west margin of the Tombigbee river, being also the beginning corner of William Williams's pre-emption tract of one hundred and one acres, and the same sycamore described in the claimant's plot, entered in the Register's Office; thence, south, sixty degrees west, fifty chains; thence, south, thirty degrees east, so far, that a line from the termination of the same, north, sixty degrees east, to the west margin of the Tombigbee river, and up the said margin to the place of beginning, shall include two hundred and twenty acres of land.

RAWLEY GREEN's case: commenced in page 666.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.: Beginning at a sassafras, being the beginning corner described in the claimant's plot, entered in the Register's Office; also, the beginning corner of William Rogers's pre-emption of three hundred and eighty-eight acres; thence, south, seventy degrees west, seventy-four chains; thence, south, forty degrees east, so far that a line from the termination of the same, north, seventy degrees east, to the west margin of the Tombigbee river, and up the said margin to the place of beginning, shall include two hundred and one acres.

JOSEPH WESTMORELAND's case: commenced in page 699.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning on the west margin of the Tombigbee river, at the upper corner of Francis Boykin's tract of eight hundred acres, in virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, in the name of Adam Hollinger; thence, north, sixty-seven degrees west, to the said Boykin's line one hundred and twenty chains; thence, north, twenty-three degrees east, so far that a line from the termination thereof, south, sixty-seven degrees east, to the margin of the Tombigbee river, and down the margin of said river, as it meanders, to the beginning, shall include six hundred and forty acres of land.

JOHN DUNN'S case: commenced in page 656.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning on the west margin of the Tombigbee river, at the upper corner of Nathan Blackwell's donation tract, of six hundred and forty acres; thence, north, sixty-seven degrees west, in the course of said Blackwell's line, eighty chains; thence, north, twenty-three degrees east, so far, that a line therefrom, south, sixty-seven degrees east, to the west margin of the Tombigbee river, and down the said margin to the beginning, shall include three hundred and twenty acres of land.

FRANCIS STRINGER'S case: commenced in page 619.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.:

That a square tract of one hundred and sixty acres, running due north, due east, due south, and due west, shall include the present gin-house of the claimant in the centre thereof.

Adjourned until Monday, the 19th instant.

MONDAY, August 19, 1805.

The Board met according to adjournment. Present: Robert C. Nicholas, Joseph Chambers.

THOMAS MALONE'S case: commenced in page 657.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning on the west margin of the Tombigbee river, at the lower corner of John Callier's tract of eight hundred acres, in virtue of a Spanish warrant of survey, in the name of Wilford Hoggatt; thence, in the course of said Callier's line, south, fifty degrees west, eighty chains; thence, south, forty degrees east, so far that a line from the termination thereof, direct to the west margin of the Tombigbee river, and up the margin of the same, to the beginning, shall include three hundred and twenty acres of land.

WYCHE WATLEY'S case: commenced in page 603.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning at the northwest corner of William H. Hargrave's pre-emption tract of three hundred and twenty acres; thence, west, seventy-one chains; thence, south, twenty-two chains; thence, east, to said Hargrave's line, and with said line, north, to the beginning, to include one hundred and fifty-six acres of land.

RICHARD BRASHEAR'S case: commenced in page 601.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning at the southeast corner of Wyche Watley's one hundred and fifty-six acre pre-emption tract on the line of Hargrave; thence, west, with Watley's line, forty chains; thence, south, forty chains; thence, east, to Hargrave's line, and with said line to the beginning, shall include one hundred and sixty acres of land.

HIRAM MOUNGER'S case: commenced in page 599.

On further investigation and consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning at the southwest corner of James Denley's tract of two hundred and eighty acres, in virtue of a Spanish warrant or order of survey, in the name of Solomon Johnston; thence, west, ninety chains; thence, south, fifty chains; thence, east, sixty chains; thence, south, thirty-three chains seventy-five links; thence, east, so far that a line from the termination thereof, north, to said Denley's line, and with said line west, to the place of beginning, shall include six hundred and forty acres of land.

NARCISO BROUTIN's case: commenced in page 732.

Augustin Rochon was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that in the year 1795, said Narciso Broutin, with some negroes, inhabited and cultivated a crop of corn on the land in question; that the family of Mr. Broutin resided in Mobile, but that he made the corn to provision his family.

Solomon Johnston (August 12) was presented as a witness, and, being duly sworn, deposed, that he knew the land claimed; that it lay just below the mouth of the Alabama river, nearly opposite to the upper end of a small island; that said land was inhabited and cultivated by Broutin's negroes, but at what time he could not say, but he knew that the negroes were Broutin's.

Question. Do you know whether Narciso Broutin, about the time you mention to have been on his place, cultivated any other land?

Answer. I do not know.

On due consideration, the Board is of opinion that this claim is supported agreeably to the requirements of law, and that the claimant is entitled to a patent for eight hundred acres of land, to be located as follows, viz.:

Beginning on the east margin of the Mobile river, at the upper corner of a tract of one thousand two hundred acres, confirmed to the heirs of Dominique de Olive, in virtue of a Spanish warrant, or order of survey, in the name of said Dominique de Olive, dated New Orleans, 26th of December, 1794; thence, up the east margin of the Mobile and the Alabama rivers, so far as to make sixty-three chains twenty-four links, in a straight line; thence, south, sixty-two degrees east, so far that a direct line from the termination thereof shall strike the northeast corner of said Olive's tract; and thence, with his upper line, to the beginning, on the margin of the Mobile river, so as to include eight hundred acres.

MISSISSIPPI TERRITORY, Washington County,
August 3, 1805.

SIR: In a private communication from a member of the Board of Commissioners, the Tensaw settlement was mentioned as being left in an unpleasant predicament. Upon further reflection, we have thought it our duty to advise you officially and more particularly on this subject.

As the ascertainment of the rights of persons to land on the east side of Tombigbee river, was not included in the provisions of the act of the 3d March, 1803, the inhabitants there conceived it optional with them, whether or not to enter their claims with the Register of the Land Office, by the 31st March, 1804. On the recommendation of the commissioners, the claims were perhaps generally, though not entirely, entered; but it is probable, and indeed certain, that many important documents necessary to correct adjudication on these claims, have not, in consequence of the abovementioned construction of the law, been entered. It is conceived that no Board which may be authorized to decide upon these claims, can do justice if the claimants are barred from completing their entries at the Register's Office. The act of the 27th March, 1804, supplementary to the act of the 3d of March, 1803, contains no provisions applicable to this object.

We looked a long time for official information that Congress had passed an act to enlarge the commissions which issued under the act of the 3d of March, 1803, declaring that the commissioners should, by virtue of those commissions, take cognizance of the claims east of Tombigbee river, but no communication of any kind, touching this subject, was received. Since the termination of the judicial business of the Board, namely, on the 26th July, the Register received a newspaper copy of the supplementary act referred to above. Had this act been announced in time, still it does not appear to contain any declaration investing the commissioners, heretofore appointed, with additional powers.

Both the acts abovementioned exclude from the jurisdiction of the commissioners all claims to land where the Indian title has not been extinguished. On inspection of the confirmation of the boundary line between the United States and the Choctaw nation, executed the 31st August, 1803, by General Wilkinson on the one part, and Mingo Poos-Coos and Alafala Hoomah on the other part, we find the limits thus described: beginning in the Hatcha Comisa or War river, where the limits between the United States and Spain cross the same; thence, up the channel of said river, to the confluence of Chickasaw Hay and Buckatannee rivers; thence, up the channel of the Buckatannee, to Bogue Hoomah, or Red creek; and thence, with the various courses in said instrument written, to the main branch of the Sintee Bogue or Snake creek; and thence, with said creek to the Tombigbee river; thence, down the main channel of the Tombigbee and Mobile rivers, to the abovementioned line of limits between the United States and Spain, and with the same to the point of beginning.

By report only we are informed that General Wilkinson, in behalf of the United States, run, marked, and confirmed a line of demarcation between the United States and the Creek Indians: beginning on the east side of the Tombigbee river, and on the north or upper side of the bayou, by the name of the Cut-off, (which flows between the Alabama and Tombigbee alternately as either of those rivers are the highest,) and thence, as specified in the said treaty. The island formed by these waters, called Nanna Hubba, containing about twenty thousand acres of the first quality of land, has been recently claimed by the Choctaw nation. These Indians refer to the beforementioned lines, settled on the 31st of August, 1803, as evidence of their never having relinquished their right to Nanna Hubba island. It is, however, certain, that, during the times when the British and Spanish Governments held the jurisdiction of this country, the island in question was in the occupancy and exclusive possession of their respective subjects; and has, in like manner, continued in the possession of the American citizens since the jurisdiction has been surrendered to the United States. It is believed that the Indian title was extinguished by the British, and that the same will appear by the field notes of Mr. Purcell, an English surveyor, and that these notes are, or were in the possession of General Wilkinson; and it is also said that General Wilkinson was fully of opinion that this island belonged to the United States. However satisfactory these circumstances may be, in the formation of private opinions, a judicial tribunal cannot proceed on such loose grounds; it must require official documents to justify its judgment. Any Board which may be appointed to adjust the claims on the east side of the Tombigbee, will find insuperable difficulties, unless the Government is pleased to furnish such official documents and other evidence as may lead to a correct decision.

On the 16th of July all the judicial business of the Board of Commissioners, which could come under its cognizance, by virtue of the law from which its appointment and authority were derived, was closed. Nothing remained to be done, but that the signature of a majority of the members be affixed to the certificates which have been adjudged to be issued; and, also, to report on the subject of British grants fully executed, required by the seventh section of the act. Under these circumstances, Mr. Nicholas, one of the commissioners, requested the consent of his colleagues to retire; the Board, considering that the object of its appointment was effected, and all the services to which it was particularly commissioned, draw near to the ultimate point, was of opinion that Mr. Nicholas might, with propriety, retire; and he has accordingly taken his departure for Kentucky.

We have the honor to be, with the greatest respect, your obedient servants,

EPHRAIM KIRBY,
JOSEPH CHAMERS,

Commissioners for adjusting claims to lands east of Pearl river.

HON. ALBERT GALLATIN, Esq.

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS, EAST OF PEARL RIVER,
Hobuckintoopa, Sept. 21, 1805.

SIR:

We have the satisfaction to communicate to you that on this day we finished the business of the Board, and adjourned sine die.

Uncontrollable circumstances have protracted the completion of this tedious and complex business much longer than had been anticipated by you.

Since the meeting of the Board at this place on the 1st day of May last, many complaints have been presented against the locations (previously made) of lands lying on the west side of the Tombigbee river; and in all cases where the party complaining convinced us more justice might be done by a revision of the case, we either made a new location, or so modified the old one as to us seemed right.

The locations, in every instance, have been effected, and the certificates issued, without any survey having been made under the authority of the United States. From this circumstance, we have experienced much perplexity, as we were compelled to act either from such doubtful information as we could obtain, from the witnesses and the private surveyors, presented by the claimants, or to postpone issuing the certificates until the respective claims might be surveyed under the authority of the United States. To the latter course, intrinsic objections presented themselves; and in adopting the former, difficulties in identifying the point or place at which certain tracts were to begin, unavoidably intervened. Hence it is our opinion, that it might more certainly establish the rights of individuals, as well as facilitate the progress of the business of the Surveyor of Public Lands, if he, or those acting under his authority, should be empowered by law to administer oaths, compel the attendance of witnesses, and take their testimony, in order to identify such points or places of beginning as could not, for want of the necessary information, be described with certainty in the certificates issued by the Board.

We have the honor to be, Sir, with perfect respect and esteem, your most obedient servants,

ROBERT C. NICHOLAS,
JOSEPH CHAMBERS.

The Honorable ALBERT GALLATIN, Esq.,
Secretary of the Treasury.

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS, EAST OF PEARL RIVER,
September 14, 1805.

SIR:

Enveloped herewith you will receive the report (of British grants, legally and fully executed, and duly recorded) required from this Board by the 7th section of an act entitled "An act regulating the grants of land, and providing for the disposal of lands of the United States south of the State of Tennessee," passed on the 3d day of March, 1803.

We have the honor to be, Sir, with perfect respect and esteem, your most obedient servants,

ROBERT C. NICHOLAS,
JOSEPH CHAMBERS.

The Honorable ALBERT GALLATIN, Esq.,
Secretary of the Treasury.

Adjourned until Tuesday, the 17th instant.

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS, EAST OF PEARL RIVER,
Hobuckintoopa, Sept. 21, 1805.

SIR:

Enclosed you will receive a certificate, stating the day on which the clerk of this Board entered upon the duties of his office, and also the day on which the Board adjourned sine die.

The vouchers for all the incidental and contingent expenses to which this Board has been subjected, are certified by us, in duplicate, and will be presented for settlement by the clerk, Mr. Parmelee.

We have the honor to be, Sir, with perfect respect and esteem, your most obedient servants,

ROBERT C. NICHOLAS,
JOSEPH CHAMBERS.

The Honorable ALBERT GALLATIN, Esq.,
Secretary of the Treasury.

The Board ordered that the clerk take into his possession and safe keeping the books and papers, and cause them to be transmitted to, and lodged in the office of the Secretary of State, agreeably to a requisition in the sixth section of the act of Congress of the 3d of March, 1803, entitled "An act regulating the grants of land, and providing for the disposal of the lands of the United States south of the State of Tennessee."

Attest: DAVID PARMELEE 2d,
Clerk of the Board.

Adjourned sine die.

LAND OFFICE WEST OF PEARL RIVER, February 2, 1820.

SAMUEL L. WINSTON, Register.

RELIEF TO PURCHASERS, REDUCTION OF THE PRICE, AND REPEAL OF THE CREDIT SYSTEM, IN THE SALE OF PUBLIC LANDS.

COMMUNICATED TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES JANUARY 19, 1809.

Mr. JEREMIAH MORROW, from the Committee on Public Lands, to whom were referred a number of petitions from purchasers of public lands in the State of Ohio, and also a resolution directing an inquiry into the expediency of reducing the price of the public lands, and of abolishing the credit upon the sales thereof, made the following report:

The petitioners state, that they have purchased lands of the United States, have paid part of the purchase money, and many of them have made valuable improvements thereon; that, at the time of making their purchases, they had a confident expectation of making payment on the terms offered by the United States, but that, by the general suspension of commerce, and, in many of the individual States, the intervention of legal impediments to the recovery of debts, they are deprived of the means of fulfilling their engagements with the United States, as thereby they have lost a market for the produce of their farms, and are unable to collect the money due to them in the States from whence they emigrated. They pray,

1st. That the forfeitures of interest which have been incurred, or which may be incurred during the existence of the laws laying an embargo, may be remitted.

2d. That the time for completing the payment of the purchase money on lands heretofore purchased may be extended. On the first subject of the prayer of the petitioners, the committee would observe, that, by the act passed the 10th of May, 1800, interest, at the rate of six per cent. a year, was charged on the three last instalments from the date of the purchase, the interest thereby virtually making a part of the purchase money. The provision of the act is as follows: "Interest, at the rate of six per cent. a year from the day of sale, shall be charged on the three last payments, payable as they respectively become due." Under the operation of this provision, it did appear that there was not sufficient inducement afforded by the law to individuals to make punctual payment of their instalments when they became due; and to remedy the evil, as the committee believe, it was enacted by the eleventh section of an act passed the 26th of March, 1804, "That no interest shall be charged on any instalment which may hereafter become due: Provided, That such instalment shall be paid on the day on which the same shall become due; but the interest shall be charged and be demanded, in conformity with the provisions heretofore in force, from the date of the purchase, on each instalment which shall not be paid on the day on which the same shall become due." The committee are of opinion that it would be improper to remit the forfeitures of interest which have been incurred under the above-recited provisions, as thereby delinquent purchasers would be placed on an equal or in a better situation than those purchasers who have made punctual payment of their instalments; and to dispense with the forfeitures of interest in future, would be to withdraw the principal inducement from the purchasers to make payment of their instalments when they shall become due.

3d. In considering the statement made by the petitioners in support of their claim to an extension of time for completing their payments on lands heretofore purchased, the committee are impressed with the opinion, that, unless relief is afforded, numerous instances will occur of failure in individuals to complete their payments within the term prescribed by law. This opinion is supported by circumstances of general notoriety. In several of the States laws have been passed restricting the usual means for the recovery of debts, by which the collection of money is rendered difficult, and a speedy recovery impracticable; nor can money be obtained with much greater facility where such restrictions have not been adopted; for, with the suspension of foreign commerce, has ceased that demand for domestic produce, and that exchange of produce for specie, so necessary to produce a general circulation of it, that whilst a redundant moneyed capital has accumulated in the commercial towns and cities, its circulation is proportionally diminished in the interior and remote parts of the country.

From the statement (C) annexed to the last financial report of the Secretary of the Treasury, it appears that, on the 1st of October last, the total balance due by individuals for lands purchased of the United States was \$2,041,673 00 $\frac{3}{4}$, of which sum \$586,817 05 $\frac{1}{4}$ remained due from the last year, and \$651,778 02 $\frac{1}{4}$ becoming due in the present year on preceding sales, the sums remaining due from the last, and becoming due in the present year, form an aggregate of \$1,238,595 67 $\frac{3}{4}$. From these considerations and facts results the opinion that numerous cases of delinquency will occur. In case a tract of land be not completely paid for within five years from the date of the purchase, it is to be sold at public vendue, by the Register of the Land Office, for a price not less than the whole arrears due thereon, with the expenses of sale; the surplus, if any, is to be returned to the purchaser; but if the sum due, with interest, be not bidden and paid, the land is to revert to the United States, and all moneys paid for the land are forfeited. The delinquencies that take place under the existing laws are evidently produced by the inability of the purchasers to make punctual payment; the forfeiture of interest on the three last instalments charged for the five years, would average fifteen per cent. per annum from the time the instalments become due, until the period when the land would be sold, or would revert to the United States on account of non-payment. The purchaser could not employ the money so as to replace such forfeiture: hence, by enforcing the law, the receipts from individuals would not be much increased, but the lands of a great number of inhabitants, encumbered with the occupancy of the purchaser, would revert to the United States, or a great quantity of improved lands offered at public vendue for the arrears due by delinquent purchasers (in most instances at a price less than that charged on the public lands) might give employment to a capital not possessed by the agricultural class of our citizens, and thereby encourage speculation, and produce a state of things unfavorable to the improvement and prosperity of the country. From a full view of the subject, the committee do not hesitate to recommend a conditioned extension of time for making payment on land heretofore purchased.

As to the abolition of the credit upon the sales, and the reduction of the price of the public lands, there are considerations which seem strongly to recommend such a modification of the present system.

1st. By the abolition of the credit, the interest of every subsequent purchaser will at once become identified with that of the Government; whereas, under the present system, as long as a purchaser continues indebted to the United States, he holds an interest to the amount of what he may owe adverse to that of the Government.

It is not conceived to be sound policy to pursue a system which may thus give to any portion of the community an interest inimical to the Government, and which may tend to weaken their attachment to the Union.

2dly. The abolition of the credit would facilitate the collection of the money proceeding from the sales of the public lands. The demand for lands has been heretofore, in some measure, supplied by the vacant lands held by States or individuals, and which have been sold at a lower price than those of the United States; but, as the quantity of vacant lands held by States or individuals has greatly diminished, and, in a few years more will become entirely exhausted, it is not unreasonable to suppose that the demand for the lands of the United States will increase to such a degree that the majority of the people, in some considerable sections of the country, may become at the same time indebted to the Government. This would render the collection of the money extremely difficult, if not utterly impracticable.

3dly. The abolition of the credit will destroy every occasion of future applications for indulgences, which, under the operation of the present system, will, in all probability, be repeatedly made; and it will consequently hereafter preclude that necessity of legislative interposition upon the subject.

4thly. It will prevent that private distress which men, seduced by the temptation which the credit holds out to them, bring upon themselves, by extending their purchases beyond their means of payment; and those sources of discontent and disquietude which will unavoidably result from the measures necessary to enforce the payment, in cases of failure, will be, by the contemplated change, removed.

As to the reduction of the price, it seems naturally to result from the abolition of the credit.

It is believed that the price of the lands of the United States is considerably higher than that at which the States have sold their vacant lands; and it is not thought that a moderate reduction of the price of the public lands would diminish the revenue derived from that source, or that it would encourage speculation; while, at the same time, it might enable every honest, industrious man, though poor, to purchase.

The policy of extending the time for the completion of the payments on preceding sales of the public lands, and that of abolishing the credit on sales hereafter to be made, having a mutual dependence, the committee have supposed it advisable to include these two subjects in the same report; and, under this impression, have determined to ask leave of the House to report a bill to embrace these two subjects, which they herewith submit to the consideration of the House.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, December 29, 1808.

SIR: The statement (C*) annexed to the annual financial report of this year contains all the official information of this Department respecting the sums due by the purchasers of public lands, and connected with their petitions for an extension of credit on those purchases.

That such extension will, to a certain degree, affect the revenue, cannot be doubted; and you are perfectly aware of the necessity under which the United States now are of availing themselves of all their resources. Yet as, on the other hand, a portion of the money which would, in the ordinary course of things, be applied to the payment of former purchases, would, if the time shall be extended, be paid for new purchases, the actual receipts may not be materially diminished, and the danger of an increasing balance due by individuals be avoided; provided that the two following provisions be made part of the system:

1. That the extension of credit, instead of being absolute, be conditioned on partial annual payments. Thus, supposing that two additional years of credit be given to former purchasers, let it be on the express condition of their paying, before the time when the land would become liable to be sold for non-payment of the balance due, one-third part of such balance, and the other two-thirds in two equal annual payments: the land to be liable to be sold in case of failure in paying either instalment.

2. Let credits be altogether abolished in all future sales, reducing, in consideration thereof, the price of lands to one dollar and a half or one dollar and a quarter per acre; fixing the price low enough to enable every industrious actual settler to become a purchaser, and leaving it sufficiently high to prevent land monopolies. I have, on several former occasions, expressed my decided approbation of that plan. It is important, if practicable, that the body of the people should not, in any quarter of the Union, be debtors of the General Government. It will, generally speaking, be more advantageous for the new settlers to purchase only what they can at the time pay for.

I have the honor to be, with the greatest respect,
Sir, your obedient servant,
ALBERT GALLATIN.

RECLAIMED LANDS IN THE ORLEANS TERRITORY.

COMMUNICATED TO THE SENATE FEBRUARY 13, 1809.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States:

The memorial of the inhabitants of the parish and county of Pointe Coupée, in the Territory of Orleans, most respectfully and humbly sheweth: That, from time immemorial, until about thirty years from this period, a quantity of land situate on the Great Bayou, and Bayou Maringouin, in the said parish, has been annually inundated, and unsuitable for cultivation; that the said inhabitants did, at great trouble and expense, levee the bank of the Mississippi river, whereby they have rendered the said lands suitable and fit for pastures and cultivation; that, at the time the said lands were subject to be inundated, and before the making or erecting the said levee, several of the inhabitants owned, and yet do own, small tracts of land adjacent to the said lands, reclaimed by their labor and industry, &c. each of which is not of a quantity or extent sufficient for cultivation to support a family; that, at the period when the said inhabitants put themselves to the trouble and expense to prevent the said lands from future inundations, and to render them fit for cultivation, they then, and ever since that time, hoped that Government would grant unto them the said lands as a compensation or an indemnification for their expenses and trouble, and as an appendage to their small tracts of land adjoining the lands formerly inundated; that, in full faith and confidence that the Government would reward their care and industry, thus exerted and rendered for the general benefit of the public, they have, for the said thirty years, kept the said levee in repair. The quantity of land thus rescued from inundation, and made valuable by the industry, care, and expense of the said inhabitants, will, if divided between the claimants, give to each of them but a small portion or dividend; and although the share of each claimant will be small, yet that addition will be of great importance to the proprietors of small tracts, and will render their scanty pittance sufficiently large to support their families by cultivation, &c.

Your memorialists being warmly attached to the Constitution and Government of the United States, by principle, duty, inclination, and interest, and in full confidence that their just claim to the said lands will be ratified by the United States in Congress convened:

Therefore, your memorialists pray that the said lands may be secured unto them by a law of Congress, to be passed or enacted for that purpose, either granting to your memorialists the said lands as a donation or compensation for the industry, care, and expense they have been at in rendering the said lands suitable for cultivation; or, that the honorable the Senate and House of Representatives will grant to the said inhabitants the right of pre-emption to the said land; setting the price per acre to a low and reasonable rate, &c.

And your memorialists, as in duty bound, will ever pray, &c.

2d SESSION.

MILITARY BOUNTY LAND WARRANTS FRAUDULENTLY OBTAINED.

COMMUNICATED TO THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES FEBRUARY 27, 1809.

Mr. JEREMIAH MORROW, from the Committee on the Public Lands, to whom were referred the several petitions of Job Sheldon, Willam Irwin, and Richard Long, made the following report:

The petitioners state that they were soldiers in the revolutionary war, and in consequence of their services entitled to military bounty lands, out of which they have been defrauded; land warrants having issued to satisfy them for their services before they made application, without their knowledge, and to persons not authorized to receive them.

The petitioners pray that an inquiry may be instituted in order to devise a mode of relief.

The committee cannot doubt but that, in some instances, the soldiers of the revolutionary war have been defrauded out of their bounty lands. But they believe that it is now as difficult to provide a safe remedy for such wrongs, as it was formerly to adopt regulations entirely to prevent them; had a degree of evidence been required by law to be produced by persons claiming bounty lands, so as entirely to have prevented impositions, the effect must have been to render it difficult, and, in some instances, impracticable, for persons rightfully entitled to have substantiated their claims. It is not the opinion of the committee that the regulations on the subject were insufficient or defective, or that the Government are accountable for the frauds that may have been committed.

The committee are informed that numerous applications are made at the War Office for land warrants on claims which it appears by the records have been already satisfied. To authorize a second warrant to be issued whenever it is alleged by the original claimant that the first had not issued by his order, or to his assignee, would be to sanction the principle that the public record is not conclusive evidence; the admission of which principle would expose the public to extensive impositions. Nor do the committee believe a legislative provision necessary to afford a remedy in the cases stated by the petitioners, inasmuch as the military land warrants are designated by numbers; they can ascertain the number of the warrants issued on their respective claims, the person to whom issued, and the lots on which they have been located, and, by resorting to a court of competent jurisdiction, obtain full and complete relief against the fraud practised upon them. From the foregoing view of the subject, the committee respectfully submit the following resolution:

Resolved, That the petitioners have leave to withdraw their several petitions.
